ETHICS OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICS

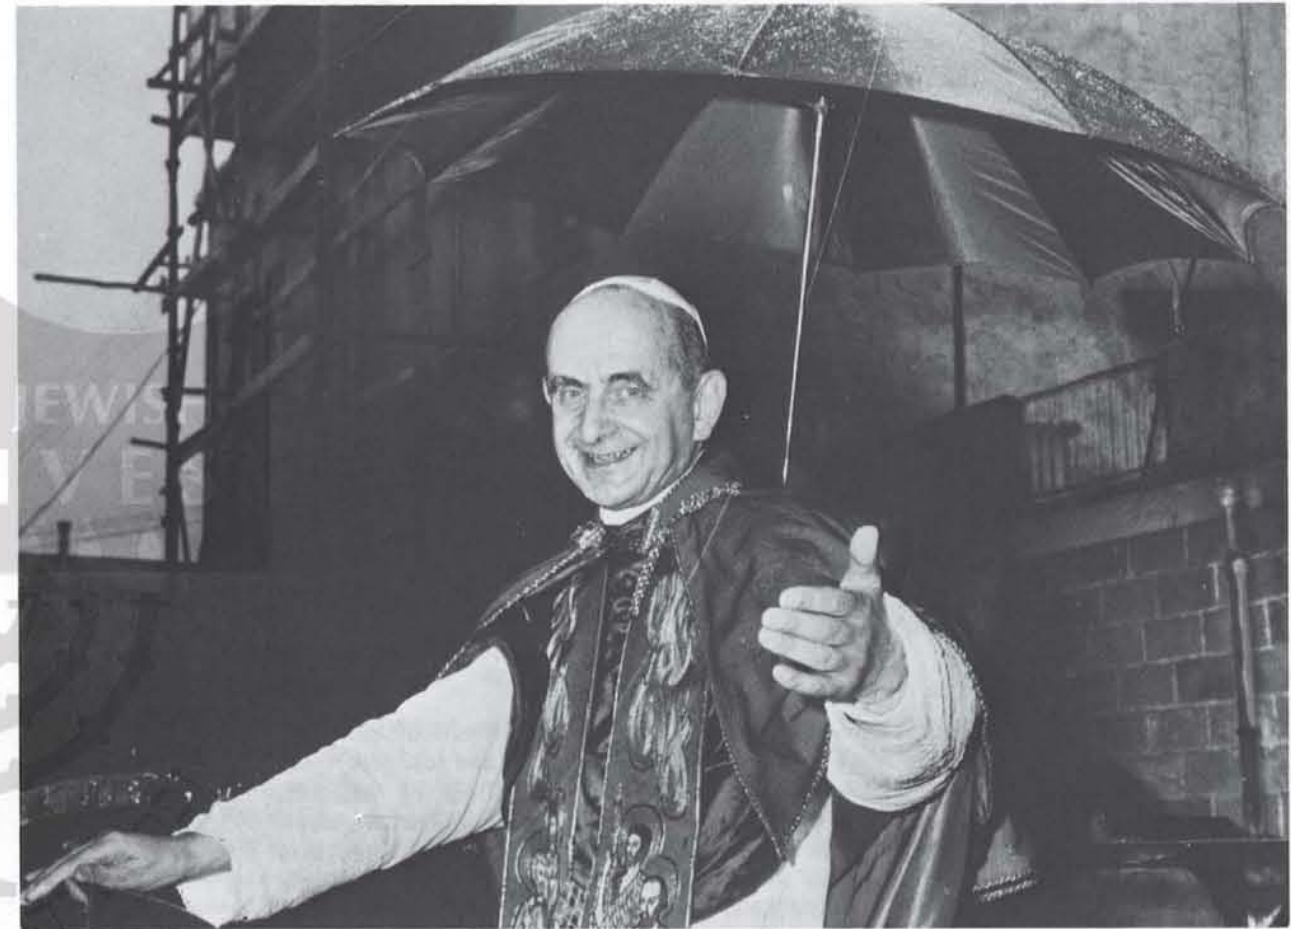

Dedication

TO PAUL VI

for his inspired, undaunted and unremitting action in continuing and developing the work of his predecessors,
Leo XIII, Pius XI, John XXIII and Pius XII, shedding the light of the Gospel
on the socio-economic and socio-political problems of contemporary man.

The development of peoples has the Church's close attention... A renewed consciousness of the demands of the Gospel makes it her duty to put herself at the service of all, to help them grasp their serious problem in all its dimensions, and to convince them that solidarity in action at this turning point in human history is a matter of urgency... Freedom from misery; the greater assurance of finding subsistence, health and fixed employment; an increased share of responsibility without oppression of any kind and in security from situations that do violence to their dignity as men; better education—in brief, to seek to do more, know more and have more in order to be more: that is what men aspire to now when a greater number of them are condemned to live in conditions that make this lawful desire illusory... Local and individual undertakings are no longer enough. The present situation of the world demands concerted action based on a clear vision of all economic, social, cultural and spiritual aspects. Experienced in human affairs, the Church, without attempting to interfere in any way in the politics of states, "seeks but a solitary goal: to carry forward the work of Christ himself under the lead of the befriending Spirit"... Sharing the noblest aspirations of men and suffering when she sees them not satisfied, she wishes to help them attain their full flowering, and that is why she offers men what she possesses as her characteristic attribute: a global vision of man and of the human race... To wage war on misery and to struggle against injustice is to promote, along with improved conditions, the human and spiritual progress of all men and therefore the common good of humanity... International collaboration on a worldwide scale requires institutions that will prepare, coordinate and direct it, until finally there is established an order of justice which is universally recognized... We are all mutually involved in this progress toward God... At stake are the peace of the world and the future of civilization.

Progressio Populorum, March 26, 1967

Pope Paul VI

Salute

FATHER ANGELO A. DELLA PICCA

Summer 1975 marks the fifth milestone of the annual Ecumenical Institute of Religious Education of which the Reverend Angelo A. della Picca is director and founder. Head of the department of theology and religious education at the College of Mount St. Joseph, Father della Picca teaches in two areas of specialization, ethics and musicology. A native of Udine, Italy, he took a M.A. degree in theology at the seminary there, pursued graduate studies in canon and civil law at the Lateran University and received a doctorate in music at the Pontifical Institute of Music in Rome. After 11 years of teaching, chiefly in the graduate seminary of Udine, he came to the States to become choir director at St. Francis de Sales Church, Philadelphia, and at the Cathedral in Allentown, Penna., serving as director of music in the diocese of Allentown. He received a M.A. degree in classical languages at Villanova University and made further studies at the University of Pennsylvania before joining the Mount faculty in 1965. He is currently a Ph.D. candidate in musicology at the University of Cincinnati. His musical compositions include several major choral pieces and numerous contributions to hymnals, published by the World Library of Sacred Music. His interest in bioethics and ecoethics has resulted in team teaching and institutes in these subjects and a projected handbook of bioethics. Added to his memberships in a number of professional organizations are nominations to Who's Who in America, Outstanding Educators of America, Who's Who in Religion and Who's Who in Catholic Education. A salute to Father della Picca from the entire Institute family!

Speakers

MONSIGNOR GENO BARONI

Monsignor Geno Baroni is president and founder of the National Center for Urban Ethnic Affairs, an affiliate of the U.S. Catholic Conference. Ordained in 1956, he served working class parishes in Altoona and Johnstown, Pa., and a predominantly black parish in Washington, D.C. before his appointment there in 1965 as executive secretary of the Archbishop's Committee on Community Relations. In 1967 he became director of the Office of Urban Affairs of the Archdiocese of Washington and in 1970 director of program development for the Task Force on Urban Problems of the U.S. Catholic Conference. In 1974 he was instrumental in founding the Catholic Conference of Ethnic and Neighborhood Affairs. He is co-chairman and founder of the National Racial/Ethnic Bicentennial Conference and is currently Fellow at Harvard University, Kennedy School of Government and the Institute of Politics. Monsignor Baroni has served as consultant for the State Department, the Civil Rights Commission, the National Credit Union Movement, the Departments of Health, Education and Welfare and of Housing and Urban Development, as well as for various foundations, universities, religious and community organizations. He is member of the board or of special committees for groups ranging from the National Urban Coalition and the Corporation of Public Broadcasting to the National Center for Legal Services and Common Cause. Added to a spate of honors, awards and citations was his recent listing in Time magazine as one of 200 young American leaders, "the faces of the future," selected for their social or civic impact.

REV. JOSEPH M. CHAMPLIN

Familiar to a nationwide audience through his weekly syndicated column, Know Your Faith, Father Champlin is author of numerous articles and several pamphlets on liturgy, pastoral theology, love and marriage, and has written half a dozen books, several of which have been published in Spain, England and Australia. He has been featured speaker on CBS television and on a NBC radio series. He is author and narrator of the cassette series, Learning About the Liturgy. He has lectured on liturgy in over 100 dioceses since 1969 and was visiting lecturer in liturgy at Princeton Theological Seminary, winter 1973. Father Champlin studied at Yale and Notre Dame, and at St. Andrew's and St. Bernard's seminaries in Rochester, N. Y. Among many positions he has held are Diocesan Director of Vocations and Secretary and Chairman of the Diocesan Liturgical Commission. He was appointed Associate Director, Secretariat, Bishops' Committee on Liturgy, Washington, D. C., in 1968, and in 1974 was named Honorary Prelate by Pope Paul VI.

COLIN GRANT CLARK

Fellow of the Faculty of Economics and Fellow of Mannix College, Monash University; Fellow of the Econometric Society and of the Royal Statistical Society; Fellow of Brasenose College, Oxford, where he received the Master of Arts and Doctor of Letters degrees; holder of an M.A. degree from Canterbury and a degree in chemistry; recipient of an honorary doctorate in science from the University of Milan, and economics from the University of Tilbury, Colin Clark was director of the Institute for Research in Agricultural Economics at Oxford, 1953-69. He is a member of the Academy of Agriculture, France, and served on the Pope's Commission on Population. Dr. Clark was one-time assistant to the late Professor Allyn Young of Harvard, was university lecturer in statistics at Cambridge and visiting professor at the University of Chicago. Among his principal publications are his books, The Economics of Subsistence Agriculture, The Economics of Irrigation, Population Growth and Land Use, Starvation or Plenty?, Why Prices Rise, The Value of Agricultural Land and National Income and Outlay, in addition to numerous pamphlets and articles in economic periodicals.

REV. JAMES J. DI GIACOMO, S.J.

Father Di Giacomo is chairman of the Religious Studies department of Fordham Preparatory School. He earned the Diplome de Lumen Vitae from the International School of Religious Formation in Brussels in 1965 and since that time has served as adjunct professor of Religious Education in Fordham University's Graduate Institute. He has similarly served in Loyola (Chicago) University's Institute of Pastoral Studies and in the Pius XII Religious Education Center of Detroit University's summer school of theology and is presently on the staff of the Religious Studies summer institutes at the University of St. Thomas in Houston, Texas. To his frequent lecturing at religious institutes and conventions (he has addressed audiences in 38 states and five provinces of Canada since 1965), he has added extensive publication in educational and popular journals. Father Di Giacomo is senior author of Holt's Conscience and Concern, a high school religion series, for which he has produced accompanying written and audio-visual materials. His We Were Never Their Age, co-authored with Edward Wakin, was Catholic Book Club selection for January 1972.

DR. THOMAS FRANCOEUR

London-born Francoeur received his early education in schools of London and Montreal, and took his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Montreal. His M.A. in Clinical Psychology from the University of Ottawa is enhanced with internships in Clinical Psychology at the Douglas Hospital, Montreal, and the Child Guidance Clinic, University of Ottawa. Dr. Francoeur holds certification from the Corporation of Psychologists and the Corporation of Guidance Counselors, Province of Quebec, and from the Ontario Board of Examiners in Psychology. He is chairman of the Department of Catholic Studies at McGill University; consultant in Religious Education and professor of Religious Psychology at Divine Word Centre, London, Ontario; counseling psychologist, St. Peter's Seminary, London, Ontario; and private practitioner in Clinical Psychology, Montreal. Music, gardening and the poetry of Gerard Manley Hopkins are hobbies of this well-known leader of retreats and renewal workshops to religious throughout the United States and Canada.

REV. ANDREW M. GREELEY

Father Greeley's sociological interests are primarily religion, higher education and ethnic groups. As a working sociologist he reflects on the pastoral ministry of the church chiefly from the sociological perspective. He took a Ph.D. degree in sociology at the University of Chicago in 1961 and has served there as lecturer in sociology and program director of the National Opinion Research Center and director of the Center for the Study of American Pluralism. He is also professor of sociology of education at the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle and consultant of the Hazen Foundation Commission. He is author of a syndicated column and articles in professional journals. His books include Why Can't They Be Like Us?, Ethnicity in the United States, The Denominational Society: A Sociological Approach to Religion in America, A Future to Hope In and The New Agenda. He has received the Catholic Press Award for "the best book for young people," 1933, the Thomas Alvin Edison Award for Radio Broadcast, 1963, and the Thomas More Award "for the most distinguished contribution to Catholic Literature," 1972. He is a member of the American Sociological Association, American Catholic Sociological Society, the Society for the Scientific Study of Religion and the Religious Research Society.

REV. BERNARD HÄRING

A religious thinker who has been appraised as the "most creative Catholic mind in the past 100 years," Rome-based Father Bernard Häring is visiting professor of The Catholic University of America and at the Joseph Kennedy Institute for Bioethics at Georgetown University. Regularly professor of moral theology at the Academia Alfonsiana of Lateran University, Rome, he has been visiting professor of Yale Divinity School and at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and has taught at Brown and Princeton universities and at the Lumen Vitae in Brussels. Father Häring was a peritus during Vatican Council II and served on the commission for preparation of Schema XIII, "The Pastoral Constitution of the Church in the Modern World." Internationally known in the fields of pastoral and moral theology, he has authored many books on contemporary movements and developments in the Church. His magistral work, The Law of Christ, has appeared in eight languages. At the University of Tübingen he studied under such notables as Karl Adam and Romano Guardini. He spent four years as chaplain in World War II with the medical corps, most of the time on the Russian front. His work reflects a rich background of theological studies and great treasures of understanding mellowed by personal and pastoral experience.

DR. STANLEY HAUERWAS

Dr. Hauerwas, Assistant Professor of Theology at the University of Notre Dame, is an ethicist who has published on the problems of abortion, euthanasia and the retarded. He is a graduate of the Yale Divinity School and the Yale Graduate School and had taught at Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois, before joining the Notre Dame faculty in 1970. He became Director of Graduate Studies there in 1973. He is a member of the American Society of Christian Ethics and the American Academy of Religion, and has read papers before the College Theological Society, the American Academy of Religion and the American Society of Christian Ethics. His publications include "Abortion and Normative Ethics" in Cross Currents (1971); "Situation Ethics, Moral Notions and Moral Theology" in the Irish Theological Quarterly (1971); "Politics, Vision and the Common Good" in Cross Currents (1970); "The Ethics of Population and Pollution" in The Cresset (1970); and "Messianic Pacifism" in Worldview (1973). Two books appeared in 1974, Vision and Virtue: Essays in Christian Ethical Reflection and Character and the Christian Life: A Study in Theological Ethics.

ROSEMARY HAUGHTON

Author Haughton's list of books now exceeds 30, and there will be more, issuing from the Scottish stronghold, Lothlorien, off the main line from London to Glasgow, where the Haughtons are creating a "sharing community." This venture in community-making, established by Rosemary, her husband, a schoolmaster for 25 years, and their family, aims to offer its members educational, social and artistic alternatives to the current system. Composition of the community represents a cross-section of age levels—a desideratum of Rosemary, who sees the project as a "rediscovery of reality." Groups of young people are welcome for camping holidays, discussion sessions and workshops in drama, music and crafts. During their stay, members become involved in every phase of the community's growth and development. Through all this Rosemary will continue her career of writing, illustrating and lecturing, in her intent to help people discover what theology is about, to show theology as experience, as the meaning of life. Helping to achieve this purpose are such of her books as On Trying to be Human, Transformation of Man, Act of Love, Why Be a Christian? and Knife-Edge Experience.

DR. RUSSELL KIRK

In the thick of the intellectual controversies of the past 10 decades, Russell Kirk has come to be regarded as one of America's leading thinkers. He writes and speaks on political thought, education theory, literary criticism, foreign affairs, moral questions and many other themes. He is heard weekly on National Public Radio's network program, "All Things Considered." His column, "To the Point," is syndicated by the Los Angeles Times in more than a hundred daily newspapers. More than a million copies of his books have been sold, among them the recent Eliot and His Age: T.S. Eliot's Moral Imagination in the Twentieth Century. Probably the best-known of all his works is The Conservative Mind (1953), which is considered the classical work on conservative political theory and has been translated into several languages. He has contributed to monthly and quarterly journals in seven countries, is editor of the quarterly University Bookman and was founder of the quarterly Modern Age. Dr. Kirk has received five honorary doctorates. He earned degrees at Michigan State University and Duke University. He is the only American to hold the highest arts degree of the senior Scottish University, the Doctor of Letters of St. Andrews.

REV. THOMAS F. McMAHON, C.S.V.

Father McMahon is an associate professor at Loyola University of Chicago, where he teaches a course on the social responsibilities of business corporations in the graduate program of the School of Business Administration. Born in 1928, Father McMahon was a student at the Angelicum in Rome, receiving from the University of St. Thomas Aquinas a Doctor of Sacred Theology degree in 1962. He received a Master of Business Administration degree from George Washington University in 1970. He has done research in business ethics and social obligation of business corporations. He is associate editor of the American Ecclesiastical Review and has written articles on the subject of ethics. Among his publications are his contributions to The New Concilium, notably "The Moral Aspects of Power" (No. 90), in which he treats the drama of power under three significant aspects: 1) the moral determination of power; 2) the obligation to acquire power; 3) the relationship between power and justice. Father McMahon is a member of the Clerics of St. Viator, Viatorian Fathers.

MARY REED NEWLAND

"Since people who write are inevitably asked to lecture—I was, and I did," comments Mary Reed Newland on her career in writing—that began as a family financing need—and lecturing—that has made her known to radio, television and live audiences throughout the country. Credentials for her present position as chairman of the Committee on Adult and Home Education for the Diocese of Albany include her authoring of articles and books on family life, spiritual training of children, scripture and liturgy, and her lecture appearances before such groups as parish, school, college and university audiences, national and regional congresses of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, the National Liturgical Conference, the Catholic Art Association, various ecumenical groups, clergy conferences and Bible story hours for children. Among her titles are We and Our Children, The Year and Our Children, The Saints and Our Children, Our Children Grow Up and Youth—What Happened? She has also illustrated a number of children's books. Mrs. Newland has three times been awarded the honorary Doctor of Humane Letters, and she has also received the Elizabeth Seton Medal of Seton Hill College, Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

MICHAEL NOVAK

Michael Novak has won an international reputation as writer, educator, political philosopher and social critic. At present assistant director in the humanities program at the Rockefeller Foundation, he has taught at Harvard, Stanford and Union Theological Seminary. His books and articles have appeared in every major western language. His titles include Belief and Unbelief, The Experience of Nothingness, The Rise of the Unmeltable Ethnics and Choosing Our King. He is associate editor of Christian Century, Christianity and Crisis and the Journal of Ecumenical Studies, and he contributes to Commentary, Harper's, The New Republic, and several scholarly journals. He was one of the judges for the National Book Awards for 1971 and for the Dupont Awards in Broadcast Journalism from 1971 to 1973. Novak lived in Italy during Vatican Council II, traveled through South Vietnam during the 1967 Vietnamese elections, was active in Vietnam and visited American deserters in Paris and Stockholm. Publisher's Weekly says Novak "combines the long view of the philosopher with the intuitive insights of the poet."

DR. JAROSLAV PELIKAN

The page of Who's Who in America bearing the name of educator/author Jaroslav Pelikan glitters with a listing of honorary and earned degrees after his name. Son of an Akron, Ohio minister, Pelikan taught at Valparaiso University, Indiana; Concordia Seminary, St. Louis; and the University of Chicago. In 1962 he joined the faculty at Yale University as Titus Street Professor of Ecclesiastical History, becoming Sterling Professor of Religious Studies there in 1972, and acting dean of the graduate school in 1973. Dr. Pelikan is a member of the American Historical Association, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and other learned societies, having served officially on the Foundation for Reformation Research and the American Society of Church History. He is recipient of the Pax Christi Award, St. John's University, Collegeville; the John Gilmary Shea prize of the American Catholic Historical Association; and the National Award, Slovak World Congress (1973). He is author of more than a dozen titles ranging from his 1950 publication, From Luther to Kierkegaard, to his Historical Theology published in 1971. He is also editor of Luther's Works, Makers of Modern Theology and Twentieth Century Theology in the Making.

RABBI MARC TANENBAUM

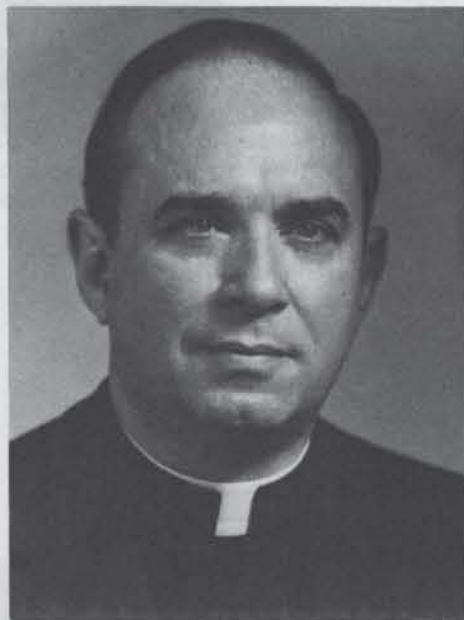

Rabbi Marc Tanenbaum, religious historian and authority on Judaism and Jewish-Christian relations, is national director of Interreligious Affairs for the American Jewish Committee at the Institute of Human Relations in New York City. Ordained in 1950, Marc Tanenbaum studied at Yeshiva University, at Jewish Theological Seminary of America, where he received a master of Hebrew Literature degree, at Johns Hopkins University and at the New School of Social Research. He has served on the staff of Eternal Light radio program, as TV writer and panelist, as correspondent and columnist with Overseas News Agency, as writer, narrator and director of religious films, as editor of Interreligious Newsletter and Trend of Events, news weekly. Rabbi Tanenbaum was appointed to the White House Conferences on Children and Youth and on the Aging. He is a member of the religious advisory committee of U.S. National Commission for UNESCO and member of the Committee on International Economic Growth. He holds three honorary doctorates and has received a number of awards including the Coronet Award of St. Edward's University and the Religious Heritage of America special award for outstanding religious and humanitarian contributions. He has authored and co-authored several books and has written articles for religious publications.

REV. ANTHONY ZIMMERMAN, S.V.D.

An authority on demography, Father Zimmerman, S.T.D., is professor in the department of theology at Nanzan University, Nagoya, Japan. He is former chairman of the Japan Catholic Population Research Association. He participated in the First Asian Population Congress at New Delhi, the UN Second and Third World Population Conferences in Belgrade and Bucharest, and meetings of the International Federation of Catholic Physicians Associations in Manila, Washington and Barcelona. Among his writings are papers delivered at international conferences published in their proceedings; over 75 articles in magazines such as the American Ecclesiastical Review, World Justice (Louvain), Pax Romana, and in several Japanese periodicals. His four books are Overpopulation: A Study of Papal Teachings on the Problem, With Special Reference to Japan; Catholic Viewpoint on Population (translated into Japanese and Korean); Nihon No Kazoku Seikatsu (Japan's Family Life: Looking Ahead); and Dansei to Josei (Man and Woman Achieving True Fulfillment). Father Zimmerman's memberships include the International Union for the Scientific Study of Population; Japan Association of Demographers; Japan Kristo Kyo Gakkai; Japan Catholic Theological Association; and the Toshi Mondai Kenkyukai.

ARCHBISHOP JOSEPH L. BERNARDIN

The Most Reverend Joseph L. Bernardin, Archbishop of Cincinnati since December 1972, had served for more than six years as Auxiliary Bishop of Atlanta and for almost five years as General Secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops before his appointment to the Queen City See. In 1973 he was named member of the Holy See's Sacred Congregation for Bishops. He was elected by the National Conference of Bishops to be one of the four United States delegates to the World Synod of Bishops held in Rome in 1974, and at that meeting he was chosen by Synod delegates to the Permanent Council of the Synod of Bishops. In November 1974 Archbishop Bernardin was elected president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops for a three-year term. He is chairman of the United States Catholic Conference Communication Committee. He was recently appointed by President Ford to the Advisory Committee of the United States Bicentennial Committee.

REGISTRATION

Sunday, June 15, 2:00-10:00 p.m.
Monday, June 16, 7:00-9:30 a.m.

CREDIT FOR INSTITUTE

Application for credit (graduate or undergraduate) must be made before 6:00 p.m., Monday, June 16.

ADMISSION

Admission to the sessions is by Institute identification badge, on a first-come, first-serve basis.

FIRST AID

Contact switchboard operator in case of an emergency.

EXHIBITS

Exhibit Center will be open in the Residence Hall, ground floor, Tuesday to Thursday, inclusive.

LIBRARY

The library will be open daily to make available Institute-related reading materials.

BOOKSTORE

The College Bookstore, lower level, Administration Building, will be open Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., and on Saturday, 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Books authored by Institute speakers are in supply. There are several shopping centers within two or three miles of the College.

TAPING OF LECTURES

Contracts with publishers prohibit taping of a few of the speakers. Information about taping will be given in advance of the lectures. These tapes will be available to Institute participants at a special price.

MEALS

Breakfast, 7:00-8:15 a.m.; lunch, 11:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m.; dinner, 5:00-7:00 p.m.
Participants in 11:15 session-lunch, 12:30
Participants in 12:30 session-lunch, 11:00

SNACK SERVICE

Snack service will be provided in the recreation center, Seton Hall, lower level, daily from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. This Center will serve as dining area for non-residents who may wish to carry their lunch.

Coffee Shop, off Seton Lobby, will be open daily from 11:00 a.m. until 11:00 p.m. There will be coffee breaks in administration and theatre lobbies between morning sessions. Coca-Cola and Pepsi vending machines are accessible. A number of good eating places are within a mile or two of the College.

MESSAGES AND MAIL

Switchboard operators will post messages on the Message Board in the residence hall and in administration and theatre lobbies. Mail will be on tables in Seton Hall lobby.

RECREATION

The swimming pool will be open Sunday evening through Friday evening, 7:00 to 11:00. Tennis courts will be open from 7:00-9:00 a.m. and 4:30-7:30 p.m. (except Wednesday evening). At other times courts are rented. There is an air-conditioned recreation center with TV and games on the ground floor of Seton Hall.
