Funeral service, Park Avenue Synagogue [3]. 6 July 1992.

M1:

O God, exalted and full of compassion, grant there be peace in your sheltering presence among the holy and pure for the soul of Rabbi Marc Tanenbaum who has gone to his eternal home. Master of mercy, we beseech you, remember all the worthy and righteous deeds that he performed in the land of the living. May his soul be bound up in the bond of life. The Lord is his portion. May he rest in peace. And let us say amen. The interment will take place at the New Montefiore Cemetery in Pinelawn, Long Island. The family will receive calls of condolence during the shiva period at 45 East 89th Street, [01:00] Apartment 18F. The entrance is on Madison Avenue. Services each evening will be held at 6:30 p.m. The name of Rabbi Marc Tanenbaum will be read at services here in the Park Avenue Synagogue. Services this Friday starting at 6:15 p.m. and on Shabbat morning, Saturday morning, services starting at 9:15 a.m. The honorary pallbearers are Rudolph Giuliani, Lester Crystal, [Lawrence Phillips?], Dr. Jeffrey Matos, [Morton Siegler?], Robert DeVecchi and Richard Smith. They will walk in front of the coffin. The pallbearers are Herb Scherr, Adam Scherr, [02:00] [Andy Tanen?], [Gary Phillips?] and [Tibor Freund?].
