Dear Mr Mandel,

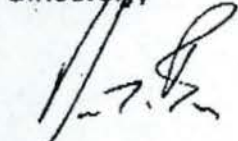

I was honored to receive your request to serve as a trustee for CIJE. It is without hesitation that I accept your invitation.

As you know, we at the Helen Bader Foundation are trying to make an impact on Jewish education. We realize that no foundation can address complicated problems without partners. The solutions will only come about when funders, federations, schools, parents, students, and government work together to address complex issues. CIJE is an excellent example of a collaborative, comprehensive attempt to address the complexities of Jewish Education.

I have already made plans to be at the CIJE annual meeting in New York. I will, however, be returning to Milwaukee on a 4:30 pm flight in order to attend the first Commission meeting of the Milwaukee CIJE project. I should be able to attend a good part of the board meeting and still make it to the airport on time.

I look forward to serving as a active member of the CIJE Board of Trustees. I will see you in New York.

Sincerely,

Daniel J. Bader
President

JEWISH PROJECTS RECEIVE $244,000

(Milwaukee, WI)

The Board of Directors of the Helen Bader Foundation, Inc. recently met and approved $244,000 for Milwaukee Jewish Education and Jewish Philanthropy. Through its commitment to strengthen Jewish heritage, the Foundation attempts to enhance lives of the Jewish population.

The following grants funded by the Foundation in the area of Milwaukee Jewish Education will remain within the Milwaukee area.

- The Jewish Community Center of Milwaukee (JCC) will receive a $90,000, two-year grant to hire a director of Adult Judaic Education increasing its capabilities to provide Jewish adult educational programming.
- A $12,500 grant has been awarded to the Milwaukee Association for Jewish Education (MAJE). The funding will allow a second year of instruction at the Teachers Institute, which provides a forum for teachers to increase the level of their substantive knowledge, teaching techniques and strategies. Teachers who attend these courses will acquire a better understanding of what it takes to be effective teachers in a Jewish school.

- Wisconsin Institute for Torah Studies (WITS) received a $11,500 grant to update its math and science textbooks. These new materials will be compatible with the school's existing computer system.

- Jewish Family Services, Inc. has been awarded a $5,000 grant to increase teacher effectiveness in preschool Judaica and Hebrew education at its Child Development Center. The funding will provide for new computer hardware and software, along with other educational materials.

Newly resettled Jewish immigrants face both short-term and long-term challenges. The Jewish Philanthropy area of the Foundation emphasizes its focus on the long-term development of the new immigrants.

- North American Conference on Ethiopian Jewry, Inc. has received a $75,000 grant for a preschool enrichment program to improve children's physical health conditions and school readiness. The Ethiopian children of Ma'agalim (a barren trailer site), between ages three and five, need to be prepared to enter public school on the same level as other Israeli children. Through a hot lunch program, recreational and educational activities, many of the children are successfully able to do so.

This year, Milwaukee will celebrate the 150th Anniversary of its Jewish community. In support of this occasion, a $50,000 grant has been awarded for the Sesquicentennial

- more -

Celebration coordinated by the Milwaukee Jewish Council and the Milwaukee Jewish Federation. The funds will allow for an exhibit which will enlighten the public about the history and traditions of the Milwaukee Jewish community.

The Helen Bader Foundation annually allocates $6 million in its focus areas of Alzheimer's Disease and Related Dementia, Families and Children at Risk, Milwaukee Jewish Education and Jewish Philanthropy. Awards in the areas of Milwaukee Jewish Education and Jewish Philanthropy total $1,750,000 each year.

The Helen Bader Foundation, Inc., established in 1991, is a living legacy of Helen Bader. Helen Bader, a businesswoman and social worker, devoted her life to helping disadvantaged individuals. The Helen Bader Foundation supports innovative pilot projects that are research based, have strong evaluation components and involve community collaboration.

The Foundation's next grant deadline date for accepting proposals of May 3, 1993 is quickly approaching. For further information about the Foundation, please call (414)224-6464.
