Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel wrote: "What does a person expect to attain when entering the synagogue? In pursuit of learning one goes to a library; for esthetic enrichment, one goes to the art museum; for pure music, to the concert hall. What then, the purpose of going to the synagogue?"

As we prepare to gather here at our synagogue in the days ahead, I imagine that in some fashion, we all ask ourselves Heschel's question. "Why am I here?" "What draws me, and so many of my fellow Jews to this place at this time?" Perhaps Heschel himself gives a bit of the answer as he continues: "Many are the facilities which help us acquire the important worldly virtues, skills, and techniques. But where should one learn about the insights of the spirit? Many are the opportunities for public speech; where are the occasions for inner silence? It is easy to find people who will teach us to be eloquent; but who will teach us to be still? It is surely important to have a sense of reverence."

We come together in the days ahead to welcome a New Year. These days are not about acquiring "worldly virtues, skills, and techniques." They are not about public speeches or eloquence (though every rabbi I know has been hard at work in this area.) These days are about inspiration and awe, about reverence and the spirit -- our respective spirits.

The words of our machzor - the Gates of Repentance, the haunting melodies chanted by our Cantor and choir; the timeless words we shall read and study from the Torah; and yes, even rabbinic attempts at eloquent speech -- all are gearing towards motivating our spirits. We come to the synagogue because we believe that there is something mystical, magical and even powerful that can happen. But I caution you: do not look for such mystical, magical, power in grandiose manifestations. We have become attuned to Hollywood-style majesty. Hence, we often expect too much from our synagogue moments. But the most important element in creating a meaningful, majestic, powerful High Holy Day (and for that matter, Shabbat) experience is beyond the control of Rabbi, Cantor, Choir, and readers. Only as individuals can we, sitting in the midst of a congregation at prayer, reach inward to draw forth inner silence, stillness, and a sense of reverence. The external conditions may be all in place -- but it is each of us who must draw that inner sense of awe and reverence and allow it, and all that goes on around us, to water our soul.

Come prepared to play an active, if sometimes still role in making our celebration of the coming of a New Year a powerful and meaningful experience for us all -- one that will draw us back together again and again, throughout the year 5755! Laura, Benjamin, Sarah and Aaron join me in sending the best of wishes for a Shanah tovah u-m'tukah - a sweet and good year! A year, we all pray, will be filled with health, blessing and Shalom!

BARJ ENROLLMENT OPEN FOR 94/95 SCHOOL YEAR

The Bergen Academy of Reform Judaism (BARJ) is now accepting applications for student enrollment for September 1994. BARJ is an academic program open to students in grades 8-12. Classes meet Wednesday evenings from 7-9 pm at Temple Emeth. A shuttle bus service is available.

BARJ offers courses in varied areas of Liberal Judaism including Holocaust studies, Israel and Zionism, Teacher Training, Comparative Religions, Family Ethics and Values, and Mitzvot. Students' independence and growth are encouraged as they choose their courses, and have a voice in deciding future classes. Students are also invited to participate in our exciting and innovative weekend programs, which are developmentally designed for each grade to get the most possible out of their events.

The BARJ faculty is among the finest anywhere, and teachers are constantly challenged to expand their own knowledge by the vast resources available in the area. Students are encouraged to register early, deadline for registration is September 1, and many classes fill up early.

For more information, or to receive an application by mail, please call the BARJ office at 599-9068 and ask for Juliet Barr, Educational Director or Maddy Greenspun, BARJ Administrator.

Tanks, But No Tanks.

■ Turn your water heater tank down to 140 degrees - hot enough to kill bacteria and still save energy.

■ Insulate your water heater with a pre-fab "blanket" making sure not to block off air vents (on gas heaters). Insulating is important, especially if it's in an unheated space. So you can save 7 to 8% of the energy you've been using.

■ Every two months, drain about two quarts of water from the valve faucet located at the bottom of the water tank. This helps prevent accumulation of sediment and improves heater efficiency.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Summer seems to be coming to a premature end as the holiday season is almost upon us. I hope that summer has given you some time for vacation or at least a somewhat different pace than usual. At Temple Emeth all the planning and preparations normally associated with the holidays are well underway.

Our annual Circle of Friends campaign is also underway. Our goal this year is $75,000. Some of you might already have received calls asking for your pledges for the coming year. Most of these calls will be made between Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur. As always, I hope that you will be as generous as you can be. The extent and variety of Temple Emeth's programming depends on the success of this campaign.

We will, of course, have some new members of our professional staff this year. I know that you will all want to join me in welcoming Cantor Ellen Zvulun and Lisa Barzalai, our new Temple Educator. Jonah Pesner will also be with us in his new capacity as Rabbinic Intern, where his broadened responsibilities will still include his being adviser to Senior League and teaching in our expanded and exciting adult education program.

I look forward to greeting you all at Temple on Rosh Hashana. My wife, Dru, joins me in wishing you and your families a year of growth, contentment and peace.

MESSAGE FROM THE RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

L'shanah Tovah! A Happy and Healthy New Year to all. Welcome back from summer. I hope that everyone had a relaxing and enjoyable time. The summer flew by quickly here. If you come into the school office you will notice many changes. Laura Schneider now has her own office and Barbara Sabella is ready to greet you when you walk in the door. Our office is brighter and we are finally getting ourselves organized.

I am looking forward to meeting all of you and beginning my first school year at Temple Emeth. I have enjoyed meeting with the teachers and the parents who have dropped by. My door is always open should you have a suggestion or a concern regarding your child or the school.

I believe that we have a terrific year in store for the students, parents and teachers. As you know by now, we have had a dramatic change in the schedule. I know that it will take some time to make the adjustment, but it will be a change for the better.

By enrolling your child at Temple Emeth Religious School we have entered into a partnership. Together we will be teaching your child about being a Jew. The school cannot do this alone; it is not enough that you bring your child here. You must also make the commitment to show your child that her/his Jewish education is important, significant and meaningful. Take an active role by asking your child what was discussed in class, bring the subject taught into your home, be sure to come to family education programs, Shabbat services and dinners, choose to study for yourself. Don't let your child's Jewish education begin and end with the doors of the temple. Together we can make a difference.

B'shalom,

MUSEUM COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES EXHIBITION

"The Dreyfus Affair: Commemorating the Centennial" Saturday, August 27 thru Sunday, October 23.

To mark the centennial of the "The Dreyfus Affair" the exhibition will chronicle the life of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, a Jewish officer in the French Army, who was wrongly accused of treason in 1894. His court-martial, conviction, incarceration, retrial, ultimate exoneration and honorable reinstatement in 1906 developed into a political event that divided France.

In addition to the exhibit, educational programs including guided tours, films, and lectures are being planned.

Organized by the Museum Committee, chaired by Sharon Vatsky, the exhibition will include original documents from the collection of Lorraine and Martin Beitler.

HOLD THE DATE! SUNDAY, OCTOBER 30

The Ninth Annual Brotherhood-Sisterhood Brunch will take place at 1 pm on October 30 at the Marriott Glenpointe Hotel in Teaneck. Co-sponsored by the Jewish Community Relations Council of United Jewish Community, the Jewish Community Relations Committee of the Jewish Federation of North Jersey, the Bergen County Council of Churches, the Black Clergy Council of Englewood, Teaneck vicinity, the Catholic Vicariate of Bergen County, the Dar-ul-Islah Muslim community, Arya Samaj, Hindu community and the Baha'i community of Bergen County, this interfaith event has become an inspiring tradition. Kosher food will be provided. For further information or reservations, please contact the JCRC, at 488-6800.

Dear Friends, I'm writing to thank you for all of your words and gestures of sympathy at the time of my father's passing.

I feel truly blessed to be part of a congregation that can provide the kind of warmth and caring so necessary at times of great loss as well as great joys.

Ours is the kind of congregation that I always hoped to be part of one day. It has given me and my family members support since we became members and has become part of my extended family.

My entire family joins me in thanking you for easing the pain and being a source of comfort and peace. B'Shalom

TRASH TO TREASURES DAY AT TEMPLE EMETH

What a fun and interesting day we had on June 26th at our Temple's yard and rummage sale!

In addition to getting Sam to help empty our basement, and some financial gain, there was the sense of deep pleasure in knowing that my unused things were finding new homes. The huge brass plate I no longer loved, was going to the Phillipines with a woman who happily declared it to be her souvenir from her trip to America. The potato baker and French fryer I no longer used pleased a woman who would carry them back to Canada to a friend.

Judy Yablonka loved my Delft pitcher and I was so busy that when I went back for Helen and Ed Shalfi's gleaming, white, covered soup tureen, it was gone!

Stu and Betsy Silverman tolerated our constant need for their pen since we couldn't find ours, although they did threaten to charge us for each use.

The best part of the whole day was that we didn't have to take anything home. Maybe a flea market next time if Amy Stern who chaired the event and pushed the rolling snack bar with husband Bill's help, has the strength to pull together another event. Elaine Kotkin and Pauline Hecht were on rummage sale duty all day long with Stan Kotkin helping them. The rest of Elaine's able and hardworking staff included Pauline Hecht, Fran Hyman, Sy and Beverly Lazar, Joy and Dan Firshein, Cathy Bicofsky, Eley Kohn, Barry Obut, and Carrie and Marc Golden. Green plastic bags were filled to the brim by customers who indeed proved that one man's trash is another's treasure!

SOCIAL ACTION NOTES

Your responsibility is not to complete the task, but neither are you free to desist from it.

Rabbi Tarfon, Avot 2:21

Mitzvah Pledges: Can you do one thing this year for tikkun olam? If it's buying food for the food of the month program, or sleeping one night at our homeless shelters; all we ask is each family contribute one activity this year.

Social Action is not about overextending yourself to the point of resentment, but about acknowledging our obligations as Jews. Please sign up for one thing on our Mitzvah Pledge sheet-coming in the next mailing.

Advocacy Network: If you agree with the suggested letters of our Advocacy Alert, we encourage you to send them to your legislators. Our sources for these issues are; the UAHC's Religious Action Center, the Interreligious Fellowship for the Homeless, and Center for Food Action. We will shortly be sending information on joining the UAHC's national advocacy group. If you have any questions, or would like to get involved, please call Vicky Farhi at 343-2506.

Food Drive: This year, as is our custom, we begin with the High Holy Days Food Drive. Last year, you were generous enough to donate over 480 bags of quality food. We hope you'll be as generous this year.

Vicky Farhi

BAZAAR

We are in need of: Men's/women's/children's wear, shoes, handbags, toiletries, jewelry, linens, gift items, fabrics, notions, handcrafted items, art work, stationery, books, records/tapes/ videos, toys, groceries, housewares/ appliances, lamps/shades, greeting cards, giftwrap and any other new merchandise.

If you do not have access to sources for any of the above, but want to contribute, - a cash donation will be most welcome to purchase needed supplies.

We will also need food items for the snack bar, as well as home made baked goods.

A PENNY FOR MY THOUGHTS

When Bob Spiewak asked me to write a short column for the Bulletin and suggested the title, I was delighted to be able to explain why I'm called Penny. It's not short for Penelope. Sam gave me the name for charmingly romantic reasons and to his family and our friends, I am Penny. But legally and to my family and before Sam friends, I am Ruth. Actually, I answer to both names which sometimes confuses people. The only other person I ever met whose nickname had a totally different first consonant is Ted Greenwood, who kindly gave me permission to reveal his birth name which was Ronald. His story is really interesting!--ask him. Anyway, to quote the famous bard, What's in a name? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet. Penny Allar

MAZON: A JEWISH RESPONSE TO HUNGER

Yom Kippur is an appropriate time to start a new fund raising effort to relieve hunger, not only in our country but around the globe.

Here in Bergen County the Center for Food Action in Englewood is a recipient of a MAZON grant.

Think of the people in the California disasters, victims of the Colorado fires, the Georgia floods.

Rwanda, Bosnia, Yemen - just a few examples conjuring up horrible sights of starvation...

MAZON is there with the grants, but only providing that they received contributions - our contributions.

Mail your checks directly to: MAZON, 2940 Westwood Blvd, Suite 7, Los Angeles, CA 90064 -, or of course, to Temple Emeth.

TROUBLE WITH GRANDFATHERS

by Bob Spiewak

A Jewish Choral Festival
(at the Concord...July 24-28)

It sounded like a sing-along, so we went to see
Since we're both in love with song,
My wife, Estelle and me

She joined in the singing as I just listened in
When the singing was too much for me,

I went out to swim

I'd looked around and thought, "Oh Lord
I'm sure that I'll be sorry

And know I'll be completely bored"
I didn't have to worry

Told that we'd become members of a choir
With a little practice, all it would require
Was that we read notes on sight,

The cantors there could do it
And to Estelle's pure delight,

She found she was up to it

The voices were 300 strong,

They blended to give pleasure

There was a bonding

All of us could treasure

Was it worth our going?

It surely was, you bet!

We had a great experience

That we will ne'er regret

The harmony in music

Was just a little touch

The harmony with people

Was more than twice as much

The joy that music brought this crew
Was in their song and faces

(Most everyone was Jewish, too
Not found in many places)

And then came the news release

Israel and Jordan had made peace!

News that filled us with elation

And capped a great 4-day vacation.

BAR AND BAT MITZVAH GIFTS HELP JEWISH CHILDREN IN RUSSIA

A gift of $100 in the name of your Bar or Bat Mitzvah will match that child with a Russian child of similar age. Your child will receive the name and address of the Russian child and learn about his or her life, while your money provides educational materials not readily available in Russian Jewish schools - from simple pens and colored paper to notebooks, posters, tape recorders, musical instruments and textbooks. These items, which we take for granted, are rarely seen in the newly emerging Jewish communities in Russia and are urgently needed.

Currently there are nearly 100 participants from throughout the US and Canada. For a brochure, please contact the World Union for Progressive Judaism, 838 5th Avenue, NY, NY 10021; phone 212-249-0100, ext. 502.

United Jewish Community urgently needs volunteers to tutor the newly arrived Russian Jews in English. Their successful integration into our community very much depends on their ability to communicate well in English. If you are available to help, please contact:

Gilda Spinat, Director
UJC Resettlement Program
Telephone: 201-488-6800, Ext. 228

JEWES FLEEING RWANDA NEED YOU

As Jews we cannot sit silently and watch the appalling tragedy building each day in Rwanda.

The Union of American Hebrew Congregations has joined with Israeli humanitarian Abie Nathan, and a broad coalition of Jewish organizations to build a Refugee Center to provide housing, food, and medical care to thousands of Rwanda's refugees. The project has the cooperation of the United Nations High Commissioner on Refugees and the government of Tanzania, where the project will be based. It will be administered by the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee.

So far, we have raised over $300,000 for this project. But, we need to raise $700,000 more. Each day that we delay in giving, lives literally hang in the balance.

We urge that you contribute today! Your tax-deductible contribution should be made out to the UAHC Rwanda Relief Fund, and sent to 838 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10021-7964.

YOUNG, ACTIVE RETIREES NEEDED AS VOLUNTEERS AT UJC CENTER FOR OLDER ADULTS

Active retirees can put their skills to excellent use by volunteering at the UJC Center for Older Adults at the Jewish Center of Teaneck.

You can help provide both nutritional sustenance and social, cultural, and educational activities to older adults. Over 20,000 hot, kosher meals are served at the Center every year.

"People who volunteer at the Center find it a very rewarding experience because they are helping to enrich the lives of older adults. Our volunteers also make a lot of new friends and enjoy the warm, upbeat feeling at the site," said Susan Charton, director of the Center.

The Center is located at 70 Sterling Place. For more information, please call Susan Charton at 837-1422.

Dear Friend,

As you may know, the youth group of our temple has been awarded the honor of hosting the 1994 NFTY - New Jersey Region New Member Conclave - North. This important event will take place at Temple Emeth from Friday, October 28th through Sunday, October 30th. Over the course of that weekend, more than one hundred Reform Jewish kids from all over northern New Jersey will converge to celebrate their Jewish identities.

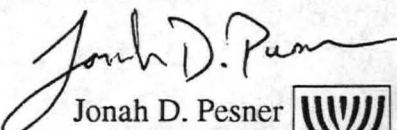

Senior League has the privilege and responsibility of directing the entire weekend. We will be creating programs, writing services, running activities, and much more. We are turning to you, the members of Temple Emeth for one important role: to act as a host family. Will you consider opening your home to visiting Jewish teenagers for one weekend this fall?

Hosting for this event requires the following:

- * Providing a place for participant(s) to sleep (neither private bedrooms nor beds are necessary).
- * Transportation to and from the temple throughout the weekend.
- * Providing two or three meals at your home during the weekend (other meals will be provided at the temple).
- * Providing a safe and comfortable environment for participants. All participants are required to sign the NFTY code of conduct (copies available at Temple Emeth). House parties, drugs, and alcohol are all unacceptable; they violate both the code of conduct and the spirit of the event.
- * To help each participant feel welcome and to give them a wonderful experience.

Your support would be greatly appreciated. Please return the enclosed form to Temple Emeth as soon as possible. We look forward to sharing this exciting event with the entire Temple Emeth family. If you have any questions, please feel free to call me at the temple, our President Rachel Liebster at 833-4231 or our event Chairperson Stacey Butler at 476-0147.

May your High Holidays be full of peace and love.

JEWISH SINGLES DIRECTORY

Jewish singles now have a new way to meet other Jewish singles. The Jewish Singles Directory, a non-profit project of the Reform Movement has formed an innovative introductory network.

The Directory officially opened on June 1 and is growing on a daily basis. The service invites Jewish singles of all ages to register for the Directory by filling out a questionnaire and sending a recent photo. The Directories are available in more than ten temples throughout the region. Registered singles can look through the Directory and send pre-printed postcards of introduction to those they are interested in meeting. The registration fee is $36 for the year.

We are about to welcome the year 5755 and to celebrate the Days of Awe!

If you are considering conversion or have recently chosen Judaism this time can be as sweet as the apples dipped in honey. All of your studies will come to life in technicolor and stereo. Take part in the pageantry of the holidays, ask questions, pass along your enthusiasm.

If you are involved in an interfaith relationship or are intermarried it can be a time for learning and new experiences. Use the opportunity of the High Holy Days as a challenge to taste the sweetness that is Judaism.

If you are a parent of a child who is intermarried you can do that extra mitzvah this year. Open your arms and heart to the person your child has chosen to love. This is your chance to give the gift of knowledge, your own special love of Judaism, to the newcomer to your family.

If you are a child of intermarried parents, take this opportunity to understand all it means to live Jewishly. Discuss your feelings with your parents and ask them about theirs.

From Reform Jewish Outreach to you
L'shana Tova!

U.S. INTERRELIGIOUS LEADERSHIP DELEGATION TO THE MIDDLE EAST October 23 - November 4

A delegation of American Jewish, Christian and Muslim leaders will travel together to Israel, the West Bank/Gaza, Egypt, Jordan and Syria. The delegation will depart from NY's JFK Airport on Sunday evening, October 23 and return early Friday morning November 4.

The purpose of the trip is to explore current and future challenges of building peace between the Arab states, Israel and the Palestinians. Coming a little more than a year after the Israel-P.L.O. Declaration of Principles and at a time when a breakthrough between Syria and Israel may be imminent, the trip provides a unique and timely opportunity to hear diverse Arab and Israeli viewpoints about the Peace Process, crucial issues still to be negotiated, the role of the United States and the role of religion in relation to human rights and the search for peace.

Costs for the trip will be approximately $3,000 to 3,400 (double or single) per person, including round trip trans-Atlantic airfare and ground transportation. For further information call 1 - (215) 333-7720.

During this year's High Holy Days services, you will be given a special card affording you the opportunity to invest in Israel Bonds. When you pick up that card, you will have in your hands the key to participation in Israel's future.

To date, the Bonds program has provided Israel with more than $14 billion in loan capital. As the nation looks ahead to the 21st century, Israel views continued loan funds generated by Israel Bonds investments as one of the primary cornerstones of a new era.
