Mr. Benjamin Sellinger, Principal of the Religious School, conducted two conferences under the auspices of the School of Religious Education of the Hebrew Union College, on the subject of "Audio-Visual Aids in the Jewish Schools." The first conference on February 8th, held at Union Temple in Brooklyn, included religious school teachers, rabbis and school committee members of Brooklyn, Queens and Long Island schools. The second conference on February 15th at the Free Synagogue in Manhattan, was attended by similar groups from the Bronx, Manhattan and Westchester schools.

Parents are urged to attend and visit in their children's classes on February 29th, when the Religious School will hold an Open School Sunday.

The children of the Religious School are again participating in the Annual Children's Community Assembly, conducted by the Jewish Education Committee, on February 23rd, 1948. The theme of the Assembly this year is "The Jewish State" and will be highlighted by a panel discussion in the morning at the Spanish-Portuguese Synagogue. After a tour of the Synagogue, the delegates will have lunch and then proceed to the Hunter College auditorium where they will join other participants at the Community Assembly. An interesting program has been arranged by the Jewish Education Committee.
