In an article in the New York Times on "The Cultivation of Choral Music," Olin Downes, the eminent music critic, mentions Mr. Griffith Jones, director of our Temple Choir, as one of the outstanding choral directors in the United States. Mr. Jones is Chorus Master of the Cleveland Symphony Chorus, as well as a teacher in Glenville High School and the School of Education.

Course Books Going Fast

The sale of subscription books for the Course is going on very rapidly. We wish to call to the attention of our members that the sale this year is limited to the actual seating capacity. Just enough books have been printed to provide every subscriber with a seat. Not a single book will be sold beyond this number.

Severance Hall has been engaged for the appearance of Vicente Escudero and Company, Spanish dancers, who open the Course, on Tuesday, October 25th.

The boxes at Severance Hall will be reserved for patrons who have sold fifteen or more subscription books. October 20th has been set as the dead line for the closing of all accounts.

Members of the junior clubs, (ages 10, 11 and 12), will hold their third annual outing Sunday afternoon, October 16th. Plans for the outing are being prepared by Mr. Howard Whitman and Miss Elsie Kleinman.

Read and Reflect

Silence and Speech

"Silence is never the loser; in speaking there's always regret; 'tis far better to be silent and still, than to babble and be nearer to sin.

"At all times keep this rule in mind: there's something still better than silence, 'tis this—to speak the truth.

Nothing is of greater honor to a man than the word fitly and rightly spoken; it setteth a golden crown upon his head, and placeth the chain of gold around his neck.

Answer the wise in a fair, honest way when they discuss a matter with knowledge and wisdom; give ear to such, and they will become thy benefactors, for truth is a thing to be loved, desired, and received with favour; and even though our friend be a Plato, great and exalted, and renowned for his learning, the right of our judgment we claim in the matter of truth, for Truth is to us a friend dearer by far than aught.

"Speak the truth without favour, and respect not old age; Truth is older, strong in years as the world."

Yom Kippur—The Day of Atonement

October 10th is observed as Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, by the Jews throughout the world. This is the greatest fast of the Jewish year. From sunset of the 9th till sunset of the 10th the observant Jew neither eats nor drinks, but devotes the day to fervent worship. Yom Kippur is distinctive among Jewish holidays, for it is not associated with nature or with history. It is a day for the searching of the heart to find peace with God.

The fast originated in biblical times, and is described in the sixteenth chapter of the Book of Leviticus. In those days the people fasted and afflicted themselves while the high priest made atonement for the entire house of Israel. This atonement was made in ancient fashion by sacrifices, and especially by the symbolic rite of driving the scapegoat into the wilderness to bear away the sins of the people.

Now prayer takes the place of sacrifice. In modern Judaism prayer is the right form of approaching God. Jews devote the Day of Atonement to prayers for the forgiveness of their sins. They avoid all ordinary and sordid interests on this Sabbath of Sabbaths. The fasting is abrogated, however, for children, old people and the sick, or in times of famine and pestilence, or such contingencies as are incident to the deprivations of war.

The aim of Yom Kippur is atonement through prayer and repentance. These contain no element of mediation through either a redeemer or a sacrifice. The only true repentance comes through change of heart and an effort to do better. Each human being stands before his Maker seeking in honesty to make his record clean.

A feature of Yom Kippur is the Memorial service. Men and women think of their dear departed and of the great and good who served mankind. Fervor animates these prayers by which the memory of those who have gone is honored and their ideals are preserved.

The Niggardly Giver

The Gastininer Rabbi sent out two adherents to solicit donations for a deserving cause. One wealthy man gave him a very small contribution and the collectors reported this to the Rabbi with much indignation. The Rabbi replied: "If the Lord has granted you a generous and good heart, do not make use of it for anger against your fellow-man."
