WELCOME

The year of activities begins anew. We trust that you have all had a restful and healthful summer.

As the New Year dawns on what we hope will be a more cheerful outlook, let us once again renew our intimate ties and give ourselves whole-heartedly to a congregational program that promises to be one of the finest and most diversified we have had in years.

May the New Year bring with it happiness and may it find us all inscribed in the Book of Life.

Associate Rabbi

Rabbi Efraim M. Rosenzweig, graduate of the Hebrew Union College, will be associated with Rabbi Brickner in conducting the service during the High Holy Days. Rabbi Rosenzweig comes to us very highly recommended as one of the ablest younger graduates of the Hebrew Union College.

Rabbi Brickner will officiate in the temple on Wednesday evening and in the auditorium on Thursday morning. Rabbi Rosenzweig will officiate in the auditorium on Wednesday evening and in the temple on Thursday morning. The Rosh Hashonah Children's Service to be held Thursday, September 21st at 2:30 P. M.

Personals

Rabbi Irving M. Levey, who has been with us now for several summers, has been elected Rabbi of Temple Israel in Brockton, Mass. We want to take this opportunity of congratulating him and extending to him our best wishes.

Herbert Weinberg, who began his Hebrew studies in our Religious School and continued them with a private instructor, has been given two years entrance credits for Hebrew at Oberlin.

Sisterhood

Opening Meeting, October 10th

The Sisterhood will begin its season with an open meeting on October 10th for which an elaborate entertainment is being planned. It promises to be something quite unusual in the annals of the Sisterhood affairs. Watch the Bulletin for further particulars.

Attention! — Out-of-town Students

A record of the names and college addresses of the young people of our members who leave to attend college out of town, is kept in our files, so that the Rabbi and Congregation may keep in close touch with them. If we do not yet have your name and the College which you attend, kindly mail it to our office immediately, in order that our files may be completed.

A Marginal Note

By Pierre Van Paassen

Hitler has succeeded in stifling the voice of the masses completely. The newspapers and periodicals which spread the tidings of good will and international cooperation in Germany are proscribed. Scientific research in social problems and in the social question is also proscribed in Germany.

First of all Hitler acted against the Jews, because he held—and he was not far wrong I dare say—that the Jewish masses were at least pacifistic. He saw an enemy in the Jew because the Jew seemed to him the embodiment of internationalism. For after all, this is certain, no one knows better than Israel that war is fratricide.

And even if the average Jew in Germany was not perhaps an open and avowed champion of pacifism and internationalism, Hitler sensed that the kinsmen of Isaiah and Amos and Jesus of Nazareth had the love of peace in their blood, as it were, that the Jews were pioneers of "the new heaven and the new earth where no man shall slay or cause hurt to another man."

Von Papen saved Hitler, Von Papen convinced Hindenburg that Schleicher personally had dictatorial ambitions (an army dictatorship) and Hindenburg promptly told Chancellor Schleicher that he no longer had his confidence. Von Papen advised the calling of Hitler.

Von Papen is the representative of the Westphalian Armament industry, a director in Krupps and a director of the banks that control the munition industry. Under Hitler the armament trusts might hope for better days. Germany is even now clamoring for rearmament. Without Hitler, that is under socialism, the armament trusts would have been turned to other uses.

Cards of admission must be presented at each service. There will be no admission without a card.

Members of the Alumni who hold budget tickets are entitled to a ticket of admission to the services.

Members are also requested to bring with them the Union Prayer Books, Volume II, revised edition. No Prayer Books will be distributed or sold on the High Holy Days. Prayer Books may be purchased at the Temple Office.

In Memoriam

The names of dear ones who have passed away since last Yom Kippur which are to be read at the memorial service on Yom Kippur afternoon should be sent to the Temple Office immediately.

Course Opens October 31st

Announcements of the seventh annual Course have been mailed to all members of the Temple who are thus given the first opportunity to purchase Course Books. We expect a much greater demand for tickets due to the unusual attractiveness of the Course.

The sale will be thrown open to the general public by the end of next week. We hope, therefore, that Temple members will make their reservations immediately.

The Course includes two entertainment features, six lectures by men of national and international reputation and a unique and new type of discussion known as the panel—making a total of nine events.

The subscription book will be the same price as in previous year—$3.50.

Zionist Congress Ends with World Appeal for Palestine Upbuilding

The American Government and the American people will be asked to co-operate with the League of Nations and the other nations of the world in providing international assistance to the Jews in building a national home in Palestine. This course of action was adopted by the Eighteenth World Zionist Congress as it concluded its sessions which had started August 21 in Prague.

Resolutions directing an appeal to the League of Nations for assistance in obtaining an international loan for Palestine work and settlement of German Jews in Palestine, and a demand to Great Britain, the mandatory power, for relaxation and drastic revision of regulations governing the entrance of immigrants to Palestine, were also adopted.

Nahum Sokolow, 72-year-old president of the World Zionist Organization, was re-elected to service in that office for the next two years.

The Congress proclaimed again the "desire of the Jewish people to live in peace and to cooperate with the Arabs in Palestine. There is no contradiction between the strivings of the Jewish people and the living interests of the Arab masses," a resolution adopted pointed out.

The hope, that with the help of the mandatory power, "a way will be found to enable Jewish colonization in the Transjordan," was expressed by the Congress, and the Zionist executive was instructed to continue its efforts toward a mutual understanding between Arabs and Jews in the Transjordan.

An Ancient "Jewish" Custom

Not to be outdone by his distinguished colleagues in contemporary English literature, G. K. Chesterton has just come forth with a denunciation of Hitlerism. But unlike Shaw, Wells, and Belloc. who struck out vigorously against the Brown Menace, the veteran master of paradox chose to trace the origin of Hitlerism to the Jews and condemn both Judaism and Protestantism for the evils of Teutonism.

In G. K.'s Weekly, his own periodical, Chesterton writes that the "insane idea of a Chosen Race, of a sacred seed, that is, as the Kaiser said, the salt of the earth; of a people that is God's favorite and is guided by Him" came from the Jews, and that the Hitlerites therefore owe their theory of Nordic superiority to them.

"It is true," adds this strangely ardent Catholic, "that it all began with the power of the Jews; which has now ended with the persecution of the Jews. People like the Hitlerites never had any ideas of their own; they got this idea indirectly through the Protestants, that is primarily through the Prussians; but they got it originally from the Jews."

Examining this statement in a Chestertonian light, we cannot but arrive at the conclusion that G. K.'s attack upon Hitlerism is perhaps more deadly than Belloc's or Shaw's, because it attacks the Jew. What could be more devastating to the Third Reich than the charge that Hitler's grand dream of a perfectly Aryan race was filched from the most non-Aryan of the non-Aryans, the Jews.

It is our fervent hope that the Nazis will take Chesterton seriously enough to realize that their barbaric pursuit of Aryanism is an ancient "Jewish" custom and outlaw it along with all other "alien" cultural influence.
