Mayor Ray T. Miller, Democratic candidate for re-election, will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at a political session of the Men's Club Round Table Monday noon, October 30th in the Allerton Hotel Solarium.

Mayor Miller originally was scheduled for the meeting last Monday but a change in his calendar made postponement necessary. This will be the second political meeting of the month. Harold H. Burton spoke for Harry L. Davis, the Republican candidate, two weeks ago.

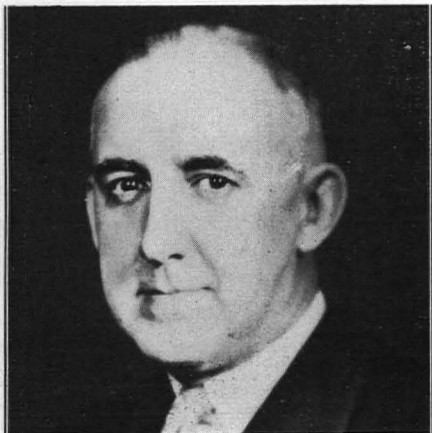

Special effort is being made by the Round Table committee to urge everyone to be seated ready for service by 12:15 o'clock in the interests of better service and a better timed program.

NAZI PROPAGANDA IN AMERICA

German-owned commercial houses in America and American concerns seeking German trade are being used as nerve centers for Nazi propaganda in this country, and Nazis are filtering into church circles here are among the statements contained in the current issue of "The American Hebrew," national Anglo-Jewish weekly in the second installment of its expose of Nazi propaganda in the United States.

Prominent among these concerns are leading German steamship companies and tourist offices, embracing agencies throughout the country, it is stated. "Sinister Nazi propaganda in the United States," says the American Hebrew "is not confined to the active party workers described in the last installment; the ultimate aim of those who direct this propaganda is to include every one and every German in the United States in the vast machinery. A decisive step forward in this direction was made when, during the summer of 1933 the largest German business enterprises in the United States were brought into line with the Nazi campaign.

"The Hamburg American Line and the North German Lloyd are in the front rank of Naziism. Dr Goebbels found valuable allies in the men at the head of these organizations, like Heinz Schuenkel and John Schroeder of the North German Lloyd, and Adolf Scheurer of the Hamburg American Line. These men put their organizations, with the far-flung agency network throughout the United States, unreservedly at the disposal of the 'cause'."

Hiding their affiliations with the Hitler propaganda system according to the American Hebrew these offices tell their Jewish friends: "As good Germans, we are enthusiastic about the things which Hitler is doing. But of course, we do not approve of his policy regarding the Jewish question. We are genuinely fond of our Jewish friends."

"The week-end is their most active campaigning period. At house parties on exclusive Long Island estates, in Westchester and in Newport they inform their American society friends of the Jewish danger. Everyone who has lost money in the market is told: 'If you don't do something against the Jews, pretty soon you will lose the rest of your money.' These sinister parleys are in no sense to be understood as the mere opinions interchanged in social contacts; they are definitely actuated by instructed, organized and intensely directed efforts to achieve an objective. They have financial implications. Usually, an appeal for funds to carry on the good work is made, and in surprisingly many cases, large checks are forthcoming. These checks are deposited to the personal accounts of these German-American business men who, in turn, hand over cash to the accredited official Nazi agents.

"One place where these methods are being practised in the famous German Club, at 5 East 66th street. This sumptuous club house," says the American Hebrew, "is a hot-bed of Nazi agitation and plotting—a Hitler outpost. It is of great assistance to the men who are actually running the Deutscher Verein that several prominent German-American Jews are on its exclusive roster, none of whom, of course, are aware of the sinister goings-on in private cabals. If anyone expresses surprise at the spirit prevailing at the German Club, the Nazi protagonists immediately answer: 'But you are mistaken; don't you know that Mr. So-and-So and Mr. So-and-So, who are good Jews, are members here?'

"The Nazis realize, of course, that American church circles have been quite outspoken in their criticism of the religious persecution practised by the National Socialists. For this reason, particular efforts are being made to penetrate religious organizations, clubs of all denominations, etc., and to make them 'understand' the ideas of Hitler. The tactics are to tell ministers and others affiliated with religious organizations that, if the Germans had not stepped on the Jews, the Jews would have destroyed the Protestant and Catholic churches alike. There are a hundred variations on this theme."
