LABOR IN GERMANY

By Samuel Untermyer

As Chairman of the Boycott Conference in London, he denounces Hitler's outlawing of Unions.

Having gained power by pandering to the lowest instincts of racial and religious bigotry, Hitler's next step has been to make good his promise to pay the blood money owing to ammunition manufacturers and other industrial barons who had financed his campaign.

The entire system whereby organized labor achieved its freedom after generations of struggle was ruthlessly destroyed overnight by abolishing and outlawing labor unions and confiscating their properties to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars. Labor is today in Germany in a state of semi-serfdom with the lash in the hands of the employers. The result is that, having a regard to the cost of living, wages are lower than they have been for fifty years.

THE WORLD AS I SEE IT

How extraordinary is the situation of us mortals! Each of us is here for a brief sojourn; for what purpose he knows not, though he sometimes think he senses it. But without going deeper than our daily life, it is plain that we exist for our fellow men—in the first place for those upon whose smiles and welfare all our happiness depends, and next for all those unknown to us personally but to whose destinies we are bound by the tie of sympathy.

Albert Einstein.

CHAPEL IS FORMALLY DECORATED

With an impressive ceremony and service the Memorial Chapel was formally dedicated last Sunday afternoon.

The Chapel was made possible through the generous gifts of a number of the families of the Temple to memorialize their beloved departed whose names are inscribed on a beautiful bronze plaque which was unveiled at the service..

The scrolls of the Law were borne in by two of the oldest members of the Temple—Mr. Sam Bondy and Mr. A. I. Sanger, both of whom have been members for close to sixty years.

The perpetual light was lit by president Irwin Loeser who represents the third generation of Loesers in the presidency. The presentation in the Chapel formally made on behalf of the donors by Mr. Jay Halle, chairman of the Chapel Building Committee.

Rabbi Brickner expressed his appreciation to those members of the congregation whose generosity and sacrifice during these times of depression made the erection of the Chapel possible.

The Memorial Chapel which seats 150 people will be open daily for meditation and rest to all who seek its shelter. It will be used for the twilight Friday evening service, Sabbath morning service for weddings and for special gatherings.

CONGRATULATIONS

It is with great pride that we announce to our membership the election of Mr. Nathan Brilliant, our educational director for the past eight years, to the presidency of the Ohio-Michigan-Indiana Jewish Religious Education Association at the convention in Indianapolis last week.

This is the first time that a lay educational leader has been elected to this office, which has usually been filled by Rabbis. However, so outstanding have been the contributions of our school and Mr. Brilliant's leadership in the conventions of this Association, that the membership saw fit to honor him in this way.

We congratulate him on this deserved honor.

TEMPLE FLASHES

Nate Melzak, the very able Scoutmaster of Troop 61, our Temple scouts, informs us that ours is the first Jewish Troop in this district to become a Standard Rally Troop. This was achieved in competition with about 35 troops . . . Figures do talk. Look at these for the past week. The Men's Club attracts about 300 men and women to its first social affair this season on Monday night. More than 1500 people crowded into our auditorium to hear Ludwig Lewisohn on Tuesday. About 450 Mothers and daughters were entertained at the Sisterhood Mother-Daughter Tea Saturday afternoon. More than 350 young people turned out for the Alumni Thanksgiving Formal Saturday night and more than a thousand attended the very impressive Sunday morning Chanukah Service. Add to this the regular weekly activities such as the Religious School, Sisterhood Sewing and Cultural Courses, Friday Evening and Sabbath Service, special Hebrew classes, clubs and Institute of Jewish Studies. . . . More than 5000 pairs of feet cross the threshold of the Temple every week. Our Temple has become a significant center of cultural and social activities The Men's Club Round Table has a regular attendance of about 75 every other week with Rabbi Brickner leading the discussion Miss G. L. Goddard writes to Rabbi Brickner: "I felt amply rewarded for leaving my many Sunday morning tasks (the week's accumulation that the business woman has) and dashing down to hear you yesterday morning. Indeed, I always do enjoy and benefit by your address.

The subject had interested me much. I sometimes ask myself the question, 'Is Life Worth Living' and always get the answer that it depends upon how we live it and our attitude toward life. This you made very clear and I wished I could have had many of the unemployed young men whom I know hear what you had to say.

May you long continue to be the great inspiration and service to the people of this community that you are now!"

This is just one of many letters the Rabbi receives

HEARTS ARE TRUMPS

The Poznaner Rabbi received a letter from a poor woman, a mother of six small children, in which she stated that she had no money to feed her large family, inasmuch as her husband was ill. She added that undoubtedly more money changed hands at one card game at the club of merchants than her husband earned in an entire year.

The Rabbi, thereupon went to the club and asked permission to join the game. As soon as he sat at the table, and the cards were distributed, the Rabbi threw the woman's letter on the table and exclaimed "Hearts are trumps."

The merchants read the letter and gave to the Rabbi all the money in the bank of the game, so that he might present it to the destitute woman.
