SUNDAY SERVICES

In his address this Sunday morning, Rabbi Brickner will give an evaluation of Sigmund Freud's contribution to civilization. He will discuss Freud's last book "Moses and Monotheism" in which Freud claims that there were two Moses' and that the real Moses was an Egyptian. He also discusses the questions: Are Jews a chosen people? Can civilization be happy? Is religion a stimulus or a soothing syrup?

Sigmund Freud died on September 23rd at the age of 83 in London, where he was exiled from Vienna by the Nazis. He was one of the foremost Jews in the world and his last book created a sensation.

"These things shall be—a loftier race
Than e'er the world hath known shall rise

With flame of freedom in their souls, And light of knowledge in their eyes.

"They shall be gentle, brave, and strong To spill no drop of blood, but dare All that may plant man's lordship firm O earth, and fire, and sea, and air.

"New arts shall bloom of loftier mould, And mightier music thrill the skies, And every life shall be a song When all the earth is paradise."

-John Addington Symonds.

BOOKS

Thorndike's "Your City", is the result of three years study of the recorded facts concerning 310 American cities. Its conclusion, often startling and opposed to popular doctrines, are outcomes of the treatment of nearly a million items by modern quantitative methods. The result is the most important statistical analysis of cities since the Lynds wrote "Middletown."

"Yesterday," by Zunzer, is a story of three generations of Jewish life. Here is no abstract discussion of racial problems but a flesh-and-blood drama of the folkways, the traditions and cultural changes, which presents Jewish life realistically.

The author's father, Shomer, was a great Yiddish romantic novelist who took an important part in the renaisrance of Jewish literature. His life is one of the highlights of the book.

"Moses and Monotheism," is Freud's last work. It is of extraordinary interest at this time. The wisdom of a great mind is shed upon a grave and pressing problem. It contains speculations on various aspects of religion, on the basis of which he explains certain characteristics of The Jewish people and their relations with the Christian faith.

Lewisohn's "The Answer" has warmth, depth, logic, and power. The author states his points bravely and carries through his conclusions with tremendous conviction. It concerns itself mostly with the Jew and the World: past, present and future.

All the books reviewed here are available in our library.

TO MEET YOUR NEEDS JEWISH COURSES FOR ADULTS

To meet the needs of those who wish to engage in a more serious and sustained study of Judaism, our temple is happy to offer the following courses without charge for members of our temple.

To enroll report directly to the instructor. The groups will be small in order to maintain the informal and intimate character of round-table discussion.

THE COURSES

- 1. The Bible, a best seller about which so many people know so little. In this course you will have the opportunity to read the Bible and to learn to appreciate the important influence it has had in the growth of our civilization. Instructor Nathan Brilliant. Opens at 8 P. M., Tuesday evening, November 7 in the Library.
- 2. "Mothers and the School," is for mothers who are vitally interested in knowing the basic aims and ideologies upon which the curriculum of our Religious School is based. You will learn what your children are learning in order to bridge the gap between home and school. The instructor: Libbie L. Braverman. Sessions on alternate Tuesdays at 10 A. M. in the Library.

The instructor, Harold Arian, studied in Palestine for two years on a Scholarship ad devoted a considerable portion of his time to visiting those places and scenes described in our Bible.

5. The Story of Modern Palestine is given on Sunday mornings at 11 A. M. by Mr. I. L. Kenen who is on the staff of the Cleveland News and who has been on the staff of our College and High School for several years.

REFUGEE COMMITTEE ASKED TO AID PALESTINE SETTLEMENT

Memorandum to Intergovernmental Agency Points to Possibilities for Mass Refugee Colonization With American Financial Aid.

Washington, D. C. - President Roosevelt and the officers of the Intergovernmental Committee for Refugees, headed by Sir Herbert Emerson and Lord Winterton, its British members, had before them on Tuesday, October 17th, as they met at the White House a detailed memorandum from the Emergency Committee for Zionist Affairs urging primary consideration of Palestine for the solution of the refugee problem, emphasizing that "American Jewry will give funds for Palestine because of the conviction that it fills all the requirements for organized mass settlement."

The thirty-page document said: "It is the conviction and the pledge of the sponsors of this memorandum that the adoption of a program by the Intergovernmental Committee, in cooperation with the British Government, to further large-scale settlement of refugees in Palestine will be met by a readiness on the part of Jews in the United States to furnish the substantial sums that will be required for the execution of such a program".

The memorandum summarizes its proposals as follows:

"It is now urged upon the officers of the Intergovernmental Committee for Refugees that the rich resources already established in Palestine provide the soundest foundation for a large scale immigration program designed to speed the liquidation of the refugee problem permanently and constructively. These are the facts which stand out in relation to Palestine:

- (1) American Jewry will give funds for Palestine because of the conviction that it fills all the requirements for organized mass settlement.
- (2) Palestine has proved its capacity to absorb immigrants. Thirty thousand entered between January-September, 1939.

- (3) Jewish ability to transform socalled "uncultivable" land into cultivable areas opens the possibility of settling 2,800,000 persons.
- (4) Jewish intensive farming is swiftly reducing the acreage required for agricultural livelihood.
- (5) The known and untapped water resources hold the secret of wide agricutural expansion.
- (6) Jews have proved themselves farmers in Palestine.
- (7) Jewish initiative, capital and skill have created an expanding industry which will be able to absorb increasing numbers of refugees.
- (8) Public works, transportation, maritime activities and related programs hold possibilities for large refugee influx.
- (9) Definite programs for refugee absorption have been worked out by the Jewish Agency for Palestine, which has the experience and which can obtain the finances.
- (10) Because of the European situation, American Jewry must bear almost complete responsibility for any rehabilitation program. Deep convictions of American Jews with respect to Palestine must guide the Intergovernmental Committee in offering large-scale, constructive refugee settlement program.

"The propulsive power of Jewish idealism, as exemplified in the progress of Palestine since the end of the World War. is recognized as a factor quite as real, if not as tangible, as the immigration of hundreds of thousands of new settlers and the importation of millions of dollars in new capital. This force. combined as it is today with the desperation stemming from Jewish misery in many sections of Europe, is a powerful stimulant to a resurgence of Jewish upbuilding and colonization. Added to the economic factors which point to expanding opportunity for new immigrants, it bears most pertinently upon a solution to the problem with which the Intergovernmental Committee is occupied".

JEWS IN AMERICAN HISTORY

There were Jews in New York as early as 1654.

John Jacob Astor, founder of the great Astor fortune was first employed by a Jew, Haym Levy.

The Hebrew Benevolent Society of Charleston, South Carolina, still in existence, was organized in 1750.

Nine Jews signed the non-importation agreements of 1765. This resolution represented the first organized movement against England's harsh treatment of the colonies, which eventually led to independence.

Colonel Isaac Franks was aide-decamp for George Washington.

As early as 1755 a Jew, Benjamin Cohn, held the office of Attorney-General of Pennsylvania.

Benjamin Franklin gave a gift of £5 to the Mishkan Telfillah Congregation in Philadelphia.

Of the eleven original founders of Easton, Pa., three were Jews: Myer Hart, his wife, Rachel, and their son, Michael.

In 1784 David Salisbury Franks a Jew, was sent to Paris with the ratification of the treaty with England.

Seven Jews were awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in the Civil War.

Rabbi Seixas officiated at Washington's inaugural (with several other ministers).

A. H. FRIEDLAND MEMORIAL MEETING SCHEDULED FOR NOVEMBER 9th

Dr. Solomon Goldman to Pay Tribute

The Jewish Community of Cleveland will pay honor and tribute to the memory of the late A. H. Friedland, one of its most beloved and respected leaders, at a Memorial Meeting which will be held on Thursday evening, November 9th, in the Synagogue of the Cleveland Jewish Center, 1117 East 105 Street.

Dr. Solomon Goldman, President of the Zionist Organization of America, an intimate friend of the deceased, will come to Cleveland to deliver the memorial address.

Dr. Barnett R. Brickner, President of the Bureau of Jewish Education, who worked hand in hand with A. H. Friedland in many Zionist and educational endeavors, will pay tribute to his deceased friend.

A great many organizations who came under the influence and guidance of the late A. H. Friedland through his work as the Director of the Bureau of Jewish Education and Superintendent of the Cleveland Hebrew Schools and as Zionist and cultural leader will join in this final tribute to the memory of a great scholar and an eminent leader.

A. H. Friedland devoted his rare talents to the service of his people. He was internationally known as a great pedagogue and author. He succeeded by his creative efforts in transforming Hebrew into a spoken, living language for children as well as adults.

His two volumes of Hebrew writings published in Tel Aviv, Palestine this past year have been hailed with a great deal of interest and enthusiasm by literary critics both in Palestine and in this country. Volume One consists of his collected sonnets, containing one hundred and twenty-five poems in sonnet form and the second volume is a book of short stories and narratives.

A. H. Friedland was also the author of numerous Hebrew text books. His Hebrew Illustrated Library for Beginners, "Sipurim Yofim," a library of one hundred Hebrew story books for children have been hailed throughout the country as an achievement of inestimable value in Hebrew Education.

MEN'S CLUB

The committee especially invites new members to meet and to become better acquainted with the old members. The committee consists of: Max Fanger, Marvin Gardner, Chester Hess, Myron Stanford, I. C. Reich, Henry Pasternak, I. L. Freiberger, Arnold King, Joseph Kreinberg, Jerome Frankel, Harry Jacobson and Martin N. Goulder, chairman.

THANKSGIVING DANCE—Dr. Al. Marcus, chairman of the Thanksgiving Eve Dance to be held at the Temple, Nov. 22 advises that this important Men's Club event will be "bigger and better than ever." A large committee is functioning to insure a truly good time. Mickey Katz ad his augmented dance orchestra, a full course turkey dinner are only two features of the evening. Charge will be $1.00 per couple, and admission is limited to members of the Men's Club only.

Instead of harnessing the forces of nature to true human ends, we have allowed them to be used for any purpose, moral or immoral, by anyone who by cunning or pushing has gained the control of them. We have dehumanized the world, and allowed it to ride rough-shod over human life.—Percy Gardner.

I believe that the most serious men are not the most solemn. I believe that a normal human being needs relaxation and pleasure to keep him from strained nerves and a temper of fanatical insanity. I believe that the New Social State, whatever it may be, will not endure, nor be worth preserving, unless it has room within it for simple play, and pure fun, and uncommercial joy, and free, happy, wholesome recreation.—Henry Van Dyke.
