PURIM MEMOS

Significant Quotations From the Book of Esther

"Vashti the queen has done wrong not only to the king, but also to all the nobles... For the refusal of the queen will be reported to all the women, and then they will disobey their husbands..."—A nobleman, to King Ahasuerus.

But Mordecai did not bow down before Haman.

"Do not think that you alone of all the Jews will escape because you belong to the king’s household..."—Mordecai, to Esther.

"I will to unto the king, although it is against the law. And if I perish, I perish..."—Esther, resolving to plead for her people.

"Yet all this (honor and wealth) does not satisfy me as long as I see Mordecai, the Jew, sitting at the king’s gate..."—Haman, to Zeresh, his wife.

"Nothing has been done for him."—Chamberlain, to the King, referring to Mordecai’s reward for saving the King’s life.

"Days of feasting and gladness, and of sending presents to each other and gifts to the poor."—Mordecai, to the Jews of Persia.

TOWN MEETING OF THE AIR TO ORIGINATE AT THE HEBREW UNION COLLEGE

To celebrate the 75th Anniversary of the Hebrew Union College, the radio program, “America’s Town Meeting of the Air,” will originate from the seminary on Tuesday, March 14, 8:30 p.m.

Participating in the discussion on “Can Organized Religion Advance Democracy?” will be Dr. George N. Shuster, Charles P. Taft, and Dr. Nelson Glueck, the president of the Hebrew Union College.

Trumbute to the Cincinnati Reform Seminary, America’s oldest, which is now merged with the Jewish Institute of Religion of New York, will be paid by George V. Denny, the moderator of the program.

The local outlet for the program will be Station WJW.

CONFIRMATION COUNCIL CANTEEN THIS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

This Sunday, March 5th, from 3 to 5 p.m., in Alumni Hall, talented parents will be on parade in a program planned by the PTA and the Confirmation Council, guided by Mrs. Dan Resler. All are welcome to enjoy the show, the dancing, and the food.

CONGRATULATIONS

To Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Frisch on the birth of a daughter, Terry EBen.
To Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shaps on the birth of a son.
To Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Taussig on their 35th wedding anniversary.
To Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rose on their golden wedding anniversary.
To Mrs. Charles Volk on the birth of a grandson.

Rabbi Calls for Brotherhood

That is Born in Man’s Heart

Brotherhood will work when it comes from the heart, by conviction, instead of merely from the lips, by pronouncement, Rabbi Barnett R. Brickner of Euclid Avenue Temple said as guest preacher at First Unitarian Church yesterday.

Kinship, Not Kingship

Rabbi Brickner, who exchanged pulpits with Dr. Robert Killam in observance of Brotherhood Week, asserted “Brotherhood may not mean loving one’s enemy, but it does mean justice to your enemy.”

“Brotherhood does not entail uniformity, but it should lead to unity among the faiths, not standardization but ethical standards to be observed by all,” Rabbi Brickner continued. “It means a sense of kinship with other human beings. It certainly means the abolition of a feeling of kingship over our fellow creatures.

“Perhaps pure brotherhood is too difficult to attain at one leap. But that does not mean we must refrain from taking the first steps, however small they may appear to be, toward the ultimate goal.”

“We Fully Respect . . .”

The spiritual leader of the oldest Jewish congregation in Cleveland held this means that people in the community may feel a reluctance toward accepting the full implications of the ideal of total brotherliness, but they dare not abstain from taking part in movements designed to limit the area of prejudice.

“One of the finest examples of brotherhood in action here is the relationship between this church, where I have the privilege of speaking, and Euclid Avenue Temple, where your minister honored us with his presence last Sabbath Eve,” Rabbi Brickner concluded. “We are close together in space and also in spirit. But despite the close bond which unites us, we realize the substantial diversity of our two faiths.

“These differences have never resulted in tension. We fully respect each other’s precepts and practices and accord each other the right to pursue them in freedom. To cite a rabbinic dictum, where brethren dwell together in amity there the spirit of God is truly made manifest.”

—From the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Feb. 20, 1950.

IN MEMORIAM

Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved families of David Schlesinger, member of our Board of Trustees; Charles Cohn; and Samuel R. Zwee.

A PURIM ANTHOLOGY

The most comprehensive book on Purim is the recently published work, "The Purim Anthology" edited by Philip Goodman. The book contains one section on methods of celebrating Purim by Mrs. Sigmund Braverman.

PRESENT BIBLE TO MRS. TRUMAN

A Hebrew Bible bound in silver was presented to Mrs. Harry S. Truman recently by Mrs. Eliahu Elath, wife of the Ambassador of Israel to the United States. The presentation took place in Blair House.

The Bible was made by the Bezalel School of Art in Jerusalem. The silver binding has engravings showing Moses with the tablets of the Law and the signs of the 12 tribes; Mrs. Truman's monogram is engraved on the back. The fly-leaf bears the inscription, "To Mrs. Harry S. Truman from the women of Israel." —From New Palestine.

HE KNEW HIS ALEF-BAI S . . .
BUT THAT'S ALL

(An item from, "Israel Laughs," by Paul Steiner, in The New Palestine.)

A Jerusalem businessman telephoned an associate in Tel Aviv. A four-year-old answered the phone and explained that daddy was out. "Too bad," said the caller, ready to hang up, when the youngster, bright and efficient, asked: "Would you care to leave a message?"

"All right," said the man, "tell him Mr. Grossman called." "Grossman," repeated the child. "How do you spell that?" The man patiently spelled his name. There was an awesome silence, then a plaintive voice: "Mr. Grossman, how do you make a gimmel?"

TIME TO SAY THANKS

Thanks to Television Station WEWS for its invitation to our temple to present a Purim show.

Thanks to Sisterhood and P.T.A. members for their assistance at Monday's Institute on Judaism for Christian school teachers. A special thanks to Mrs. Sidney Weiss for her work in preparing the beautiful reception for those hundreds of teachers.

We are most grateful to Mrs. Leo Rossmann for her hours of labor in connection with the television program and the Institute.
