Rabbi's Message

Dear friends,

There is a Hanukkah gift which you may not have opened yet. It is the gift of the Hanukkah story and the challenge and questions it leaves us with.

The story of the Maccabees tells us of the commitment of our people to hold on to our Jewish practices, values and beliefs. When the Maccabees rededicated the Temple in Jerusalem they rededicated themselves and their fellow Jews to the covenant between God and our people. Holding on to that covenant, living a faithful Jewish life in spite of the obstacles and challenges put in our way, is the core message of Hanukkah. Every night, when we light the Hannukiah, we look at the little flames and know that they are a reminder of our ancestors' commitment to live a Jewish life.

That reminder is our most important Hanukkah gift. We live in a society where freedom of religion is a given right. But this does not mean that we do not face challenges to living as Jews. What are the challenges that you face? What obstacles might prevent you from celebrating shabbat, learning more about Judaism, attending services, supporting Israel and working for justice and peace. Ask yourself whether those obstacles are found in our society, our individual lifestyle, or your own heart.

The Maccabees fought for freedom of religion. Every year we affirm their struggle and celebrate the outcome. We value the freedom to live as Jews. How do you use that freedom? How do you teach your children to value and use that freedom?

These questions are our Hanukkah gifts. I hope you will take them with you into this winter season to unwrap, ponder and respond to.

Happy Hanukkah,

— Rabbi Marianne L. Gevirtz

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I am very pleased to let you know that the Temple Board is in the process of finalizing a new one-year contract extension with Rabbi Gevitz. We are hoping to have this completed in the very near future. Special thanks go to Faye Flack for heading this endeavor. We are all very excited to know that Rabbi Gevitz will remain as our Rabbi and spiritual leader. This has been a great partnership, and we look forward to continuing it in the years to come.

Thanks to Ed Leventhal and his very capable committee for another successful Sports Night Out on November 12. This event was attended by more than 150 people, and everyone seemed to have a great time. The Temple expects to raise over $8500 from this annual fund-raising event. A special thank you goes to Milt Kantor for scheduling the speaker, Wayne Embry, as well as donating several items that were raffled that evening. Without Milt, we would not have achieved the success we have had from this event over the years. He is a great friend and supporter of Temple Sholom.

As 2002 quickly comes to a close, I want to personally thank all of you, our Temple members, for your support, participation, and dedication in making this another very special year for our congregation and community. On behalf of your Temple Board, I would also like to wish each of you and all of yours the very best in 2003. I hope the new year brings you good health, much happiness, and lots of personal success.

—Laurie Leventhal

THANK YOU'S RECEIVED

"Please accept our sincere thanks for your very generous donation of 1,197 pounds of assorted food to the Second Harvest Foodbank, a program of Catholic Social Services.

In addition to being accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Services for Families and Children Inc., we have continued diligently to continually improve our product and services so that our clients get the best quality services available to our community.

Again, thank you for your very generous and continued support of our foodbank. We appreciate your thoughtfulness." (from Vincent G. Chase, Catholic Social Services in response to our High Holidays Food Drive)

"Thank you for the commemorative contribution sent in my behalf to MAZON. That is such a worthy cause and a very meaningful gift.

I am very grateful to Temple Sholom for the opportunity to sing and contribute during the High Holiday Services.

Thank you again for the honor and remembering me in this way." (from one of our much appreciated High Holidays musicians, Dr. Joyce Wendel)

"Thank you so much for the fruit basket, which we really enjoyed. We would also like to thank everyone for the understanding and helpfulness during our time at the Temple. We appreciate meeting such nice people. We will miss all of you. Have a wonderful year." (from Bob & Brenda Leonard, who filled in for Jim and Kathleen Leonard after Jim broke his wrist)

SUPPORT YOUR TEMPLE WITH ENDOWMENT CARDS

If you wish to recognize a special birthday, anniversary, or wish a friend a speedy recovery, you may help Temple Sholom at the same time by making a contribution and sending an endowment card. A regular endowment is $5, a silver is $10, a gold is $25, and a diamond is $50. These are minimum amounts, and these contributions provide for major Temple improvements.

Also available are flower fund cards that provide flowers for Shabbat services. The daisy fund requires a $5 minimum contribution and the rose fund a $10 minimum contribution.

To send an endowment card, call Marj Newman, 390-3513 or Maxine Leventhal, 399-7669.

NEW POLICY FOR TEMPLE EVENTS

Photography and Videography Policy

The Board of Trustees has adopted this new policy. As Temple members, we know that you would not think of taking pictures during a public service. We ask your cooperation in helping to remind guests for life cycle events who are not familiar with our customs.

Policy

The Board of Trustees of Temple Sholom recognizes that families with life cycle events (baby naming or bar/bat mitzvah) during public worship services want to preserve the day's activities for posterity.

To preserve the sanctity of the event, we have developed this policy to outline the appropriate ways that photography and videography may be used in the sanctuary.

Families might want to include the following notice in the service handouts to be shared with the family's guests so that our expectations are clear and the sanctity of the day is preserved:

We appreciate your cooperation in not taking photographs (flash or otherwise) during the service. This will ensure that there are no distractions to service, the participants, or the congregation. Thank you!

Other guidelines we ask you to follow:

- You are welcome to take photographs either well prior to or following the service. These "staged" photographs can include the Rabbi and/or the Torah as appropriate.
- There will be no photographs taken during the service, whether flash or not.
- If you wish to make a video of the service, you may do so by locating the video camera in a fixed position in the rear of the sanctuary, not to be moved during the service. The rabbi will have final approval of the location of the camera. The operator of the video camera is not to move about the sanctuary nor make any noise (including noise from the camera) during the service. Your cooperation will ensure that neither the participants on the bima or the congregants are distracted from their attention to the service.

If there are any questions about this policy, they may be directed to the chair of the Worship Committee or the President of the congregation.

TEMPLE LOBBY TZEDAKAH BOX

Many Temple members and visitors put money into the beautiful wooden Tzedakah box (a gift from Leigh Harvis and Stacey Gabbard on the occasion of their Confirmation in 1998) located in the Temple lobby.

Every year the Temple Board decides where to allocate the funds given in this manner. This year it was decided to send the accumulated Tzedakah money ($30.00) to the American Red Magen David for Israel to support emergency medical services in the state of Israel.

We thank all contributors for their donations and hope you will continue to add to our Tzedakah box whenever you are at Temple

The pursuit of peace is a mitzvah.

In times of spiritual crisis Jewish tradition teaches us to fast and call upon the Holy Source of Life and Blessing to sustain us.

We believe that communal time of prayer and reflection might guide us in our individual pursuits of shalom.

If you share that belief, please join us for fast and/or prayer on December 15.

*The Tenth of Tevet is a traditional Jewish minor fast day commemorating the beginning of the siege of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar and the Babylonians which led to the destruction of the First Temple.
It is still observed today by some in the orthodox Jewish community.
It is a minor fast that begins at sunrise and concludes at sundown.*

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL NEWS

The Temple Religious School classes have been busy. Currently, there are 3 different age classes. Each of them spend part of their time in Jewish studies and the rest of their Sunday practicing and learning Hebrew. The youngest group is learning about the Bible stories. The middle group is learning about God. The oldest group's emphasis is Jewish history.

Our classes are taught with strong parent participation. We encourage all parents to help in this teaching process. Without the parent involvement, our Religious School could not run as well as it does. So, if you are a parent of one of the students and you have not taught recently, please sign up for a Sunday . . . it really is a great way to feel connected and to be involved!

A thank you goes out to Religious School families who have sent in snack items. The children are excited by the variety and recently loved those pumpkin cookies.

In closing, the Religious School would like to say thank you to Rabbi for her continued efforts and support.

JEWISH LANGUAGE CORNER

Aliyah. "Going up" to read from the Torah.

עליה

Part II – Historically, only people who could actually read from the Torah received an aliyah; the first person called to read from the Torah would say the opening blessing and the last person called would say the concluding one. As Jewish literacy decreased, however, the reading of the Torah was assigned to a professional, a ba'al korei (literally, "a master of reading") who specialized in the task, at which point there was nothing left for the people receiving an aliyah to do except look on while the ba'al korei did his job. In order to maintain the democratic nature of the Torah reading, the blessings were reassigned so that the people called to the Torah said them both, one before and one after the reading for which they had been called. In this way, the ba'al korei became the surrogate reader for the person(s) reciting the blessings and the participatory nature of all Jews in the Torah reading was maintained. In our congregation, when anyone celebrates becoming a Bar or a Bat Mitzvah, that person becomes the ba'al korei for the week's Torah portion.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR GOLDMAN UNION CAMP

Temple Sholom offers generous incentive scholarships to children from our congregation who plan to attend a Goldman Union Camp Institute session this summer. We are grateful to the Hattie Gordon Willens Memorial Fund at the Springfield Foundation and others who have contributed to Temple Sholom's Rabbi's Campership Fund for making these scholarship funds available to our members. For further information, please contact Rabbi Gevirtz at the Temple office.

SOCIAL ACTION NEWS

Before the NEWS, a word of thanks. We can all do our part for JUSTICE. Age, sex, where we live, it does not matter. The smallest action can reap big benefits. We all realize that J.A.M., like any organization, needs money to operate. Fran Rickenbach is acquainted with an individual within a company in Yellow Springs who is involved with their corporate giving program. By sending a note to Rabbi Gevirtz, Fran started a ball rolling that resulted in a major grant to J.A.M. Thank you Fran.

J.A.M.'s second listening campaign is behind us. The Temple's team, along with teams from the other member congregation, held a series of House Meetings. From these meetings has come a list of problems within our community that we want corrected. On January 21, 2003, J.A.M. will meet in its Annual Assembly where a democratic vote will be taken to select the most critical problems from this list. Research Teams will then be assigned to investigate these problems, come up with solutions, and determine who has the power to effect the needed changes. Then on May 5th (tentatively) J.A.M. will hold its second Action Meeting, present the problems, the solutions, and ask these individuals to work with us to make the necessary changes.

Results-YES! As you read this article there are 51 children in the Springfield community attending a HeadStart guided preschool in the Emerson School building who would not have had this opportunity for a head start without J.A.M.

Justice-Action-Mercy at work, and you can be a part. It takes a little effort, but not much. Plan on attending the Annual Assembly and the Action Meeting. If you wish to be more involved, let Rabbi Gevirtz or myself know.

And, by the way, if you happen to know someone looking for a worthwhile organization to help fund

BLESSINGS FOR OUR LIVES

IN ILLNESS

In sickness I turn to You, O God, for comfort and help. Strengthen with in me the wondrous power of healing that You have implanted in Your children. Guide my doctors and nurses that they may speed my recovery. Let my dear ones find comfort and courage in the knowledge that You are with us at all times, in sickness as in health.

May my sickness not weaken my faith in You, nor diminish my love for others. From my illness may I gain a fuller sympathy for all who suffer.

Ba-ruch a-ta Adonai,
ro-fei ha-cho-lim

בָּרוּךְ אַתָּה, יי

I praise You, O God, the Source of healing.

RAINBOW TABLE II

This organization could use additional volunteers to help serve a hot meal to the hungry during the months of December and January. Volunteers are needed every Tuesday, 5-7:00 PM, at Central United Methodist Church, 102 W. High St. (corner of Central St. and High St.) in the basement.

Please call Rainbow Table II Volunteer Coordinator, Ann Cruikshank, 323-1300, to let her know you are coming.

COME DO A MITZVAH ON JANUARY 5

Please join fellow Temple volunteers assemble care packages filled with toiletries and hotel amenities on Sunday, January 5, from noon to 2:30 p.m. These mitzvah packages have been delightfully received by temporary persons at area shelters in the four counties where our congregants reside. A light lunch and refreshments will be provided preceding the sorting and packing. Donated nosheries are welcomed and will be consumed with glee by the many volunteers. Skill level required: Any age and willingness to spend a couple of hours at Temple to do a good deed for those in the community who may be in need of some help. Please call Leslie Buerki at 322-6664 if you plan to help. —Programming Committee

BLOOD DONATIONS

Thank you to Judy Kossoff and Rick Krauss for donating the greatest gift of all—a pint of blood. The need is ongoing.

Donating blood is good for the nation and you. Blood donors have fewer heart attacks because they accumulate less iron, a suspected risk factor. Normally, it takes only a couple of days for your body to replace the fluid you lose with donation. It takes several weeks for red blood cells to be replaced, so space blood donations two months apart.

Call 399-2611 for an appointment.

—Beverly Weiser,
Blood Donor Chair

Larry and Kim Fish invite you to share a very special time with them when their daughter

—Lauren Elizabeth—

is called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL NEWS

The Temple Religious School classes have been busy. Currently, there are 3 different age classes. Each of them spend part of their time in Jewish studies and the rest of their Sunday practicing and learning Hebrew. The youngest group is learning about the Bible stories. The middle group is learning about God. The oldest group's emphasis is Jewish history.

Our classes are taught with strong parent participation. We encourage all parents to help in this teaching process. Without the parent involvement, our Religious School could not run as well as it does. So, if you are a parent of one of the students and you have not taught recently, please sign up for a Sunday . . . it really is a great way to feel connected and to be involved!

A thank you goes out to Religious School families who have sent in snack items. The children are excited by the variety and recently loved those pumpkin cookies.

In closing, the Religious School would like to say thank you to Rabbi for her continued efforts and support.

—Religious School Committee

JEWISH LANGUAGE CORNER

Aliyah. "Going up" to read from the Torah.

עליה

Part II – Historically, only people who could actually read from the Torah received an aliyah; the first person called to read from the Torah would say the opening blessing and the last person called would say the concluding one. As Jewish literacy decreased, however, the reading of the Torah was assigned to a professional, a ba'al korei (literally, "a master of reading") who specialized in the task, at which point there was nothing left for the people receiving an aliyah to do except look on while the ba'al korei did his job. In order to maintain the democratic nature of the Torah reading, the blessings were reassigned so that the people called to the Torah said them both, one before and one after the reading for which they had been called. In this way, the ba'al korei became the surrogate reader for the person(s) reciting the blessings and the participatory nature of all Jews in the Torah reading was maintained. In our congregation, when anyone celebrates becoming a Bar or a Bat Mitzvah, that person becomes the ba'al korei for the week's Torah portion.
