What do these people have in common?

Each family noted on the front page has joined Sharey
Tefilo-Israel within the past year.
We are honored that you have chosen this synagogue as your spiritual home and hope that you will find fulfillment and peace within our community for many years to come.

From the Rabbi's Study

One of the things I have learned during the past thirteen years here at TSTI is that congregations are always "works in progress." Because synagogues are living, growing, entities, there is never a time (nor should there be a time) when we are not constantly reevaluating, tweaking and reinventing what we do and how we do it.

For this reason, over the past few years we have taken small, but meaningful steps to make our synagogue ever-more accessible to our entire Temple family. During the first phase of our on-going renovation, we added an elevator and ramps so that the entire facility would be open and welcoming to all, regardless of physical limitations. When we renovated the sanctuary a few years later, we added a ramp to the bimah, so that it too might welcome everyone. I am proud of the changes we have made, but I am aware that "accessibility" is not achieved by architecture alone. It is a philosophy that is central to who we are as a community!

It is for this reason that we hold our annual High Holy Day Appeal. The appeal is driven by our commitment to ensure that TSTI is accessible to all. A successful annual campaign allows us to ensure that anyone and everyone who wants to be part of Temple life is able to become part of TSTI and to participate in the full range of programs and activities regardless of finances. Your participation in the campaign is greatly appreciated and helps shape our commitment as a Temple family.

This past summer we installed a new call-in system that makes worship and life-cycle events accessible to anyone who has a telephone. People who are unable to leave their homes due to health or other limitations can now listen to services as they occur, from the comfort of their own home. Through the generosity and vision of our Josh Littman Video Library, this new technology further enhances our ability to help everyone maintain their involvement in Temple life.

Finally, during the past few years we have seen a trend in which long-time temple members have retired to adult communities in South Jersey. How truly blessed are we that they have maintained their membership and support of our congregation despite the increased distance. In the next few months we will begin to hold Shabbat services in a variety of locations — bringing Temple to those who no longer live in the towns surrounding South Orange and, I pray, furthering our commitment to make TSTI a congregation that is open and available to everyone who chooses to make this their spiritual home.

I am truly honored to be part of a congregation that makes openness and accessibility, central to our communal mission. As our Temple continues to evolve, I look forward to finding new and innovative ways to make your temple accessible and meaningful to you.

Rabbi Daniel M. Cohen

Shabbat in the Home

Shabbat B'Bayit שבת בבית

Friday, February 4, 2005

A delightful way to share Shabbat dinner with your Temple friends and neighbors. Invitations and information will be mailed soon.

A Word with the Rabbi

Attending a Union for Reform Judaism summer camp or program for the summer can be a life changing experience. It gives our kids a chance to celebrate Judaism in an experiential way that is both unique and exciting. URJ camps also help our students to feel comfortable with Hebrew language, prayer and traditions while at the same time they are having a great time playing sports, singing, camping and swimming all in a Jewish context. They also have the opportunity to spend the summer surrounded by other Jewish kids, staff members, rabbis, cantors and educators.

For our high school students, there are a number of different summer opportunities in addition to camp that enable our kids to travel to Prague and Israel or to do mitzvot around the country. These programs, designed for students entering 11th and 12th grades, encourage our students to learn not only about the world but also about themselves. Often our students return from these programs having grown in tremendous and positive ways.

I am so proud that we have students participating in all of the programs that our movement has to offer. I know that our kids will represent our congregation in ways that will make us very proud. I also want to thank Sisterhood for their generous summer program scholarship fund. Now is the time to start thinking about camp and summer programs for the summer of 2005. I would like to encourage anyone who is looking for a fabulous Jewish summer program for their child to contact me and to set up a time to see a camp video.

Scholar-in-Residence

Dr. Alan Cooper

Friday, November 19 to Sunday, November 21

Dr. Alan Cooper holds a dual appointment as Professor of Bible at both the Jewish Theological Seminary and Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

Dr. Cooper will examine, What's So Heroic About Our Biblical Hero(ine)s. The weekend will include three learning opportunities on Abraham and Sarah, Rebecca and Jacob, and Moses and Aaron. In traditional Jewish interpretation, the patriarchs and matriarchs usually are portrayed as ideal role models. Modern commentators tend to see them as more rounded and flawed characters. We will discuss how we can reconcile the representation of the ancestors as ideal types with the apparent moral realism of the stories themselves?

Spotlight on Committees

Iris Family Matter Committee

The Iris "Family Matters" Committee creates innovative programming which addresses relevant issues faced by families today. One of our most popular programs, Shabbat Milk and Cookies, provides an opportunity for families to come together for quality time together at the end of a busy work week. A main goal of the committee is to find creative mechanisms for confronting the tougher issues faced by families, couples and individuals today. These may include but are not limited to: job transitions, aging parents, at risk behaviors of youth, when to break the confidence of a friend, teen stress, the birth of a child, terrorism, and war. The committee has arranged interactive theater troupes, workshops and small support groups to explore such challenging topics. While the committee's purpose is constant, each year we face new issues and explore new programming ideas. Please join this exciting and evolving committee.

We are grateful to Milly and Herb Iris, long time leaders and benefactors, for their foresight and continued generosity in endowing this program. Special thanks to their family for creating this endowment in honor of Milly and Herb.

The Green Team

The goal of our committee is to help educate our synagogue about Judaism and the environment, through Torah studies, worship, social out reach and facilities management.

Green Team members Jimmy Utterback and Mike Gordon led a hike through the back trails at the South Mountain Reservation in October with more hikes being planned for the future. Laura Utterback and Susan Sommer are going to work to find more ways for Temple to recycle and use environmentally friendly products.

This winter Temple will begin a program sponsored by The Coalition on the Environment and Jewish Life (COEJL) which will aid in accomplishing some of our goals. We also hope to bring in a guest speaker. On Simchat Torah water flow restrictors were given out to 200 families to show how much water can be saved and how much your water bill can be reduced by using these simple devices.

We are looking for new members. We meet four or five times a year and work in small groups throughout the year on different projects that interest us. We welcome new ideas. Please contact Elliot Sommer at eabs95@aol.com or phone at 973 763 0944.

Matan Chaim: The Gift of Life

On behalf of the Union for Reform Judaism and the entire family of Reform Judaism, we invite you to join in becoming an organ donor and to participate in the mitzvah of matan chaim: the gift of life.

Jewish tradition teaches that we are partners with God in continuing and sustaining the daily miracles of creation. Organ and tissue donation are an extension of this partnership. Through donation, you have the unique and holy opportunity to give the gift of life and wellness from one of God's creations -- you -- to another. With your gift, you respond hineni to God's call.

Please contact Susan Jacobsen at 973-763-6358 or email her at sjacobsen@prodigy.net for further information.

The Mitzvah Program at TSTI works a little differently than other committees and boards. Mostly, it's not really a committee! Rather, it encompasses lots of people who work on Mitzvah projects. The philosophy of the Mitzvah Program is: You Make It Happen.

We meet one time each year to plan programs—that's it—one time a year. Other than that, we communicate by email and phone. You can be involved in a large-scale, long-term project, or you can do a "one-shot" project—whatever works for you. You can lead, or you can follow. Right now, we have a list of 92 people to whom we send emails about Mitzvah projects at TSTI or in the community, so creatively speaking, we have a very large "committee"!

Our one meeting for 2004-2005 will be on Tuesday, November 16 from 7:15 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. in the TSTI Mansion. It's a chance to do two things:

- Meet our project leaders
  - Brainstorm about new projects
- Please RSVP to Jill Kushner at jillmkushner@yahoo.com or call me at 973-763-8844. I can promise inspiration and pretty tasty snacks!

Mitzvah projects at TSTI which will continue or start in 2004-2005 include:

Catherine's Closet: collection of prom gowns for teenagers in need; Contact Hanie Warshaw; 973-763-0065; hanie@optonline.net

Dinner Without Dinner (to benefit Mazon, the Jewish organization that helps fight hunger in the US):

Contact Jen Larson; 973-762-6636; jrltsti@comcast.net

Habitat for Humanity

Habitat has been such a success that we have had to add dates this year. Call or email Barbara and Dennis to find out about the next open date. Adults and teens can help. We work under the supervision of an experienced staff construction foreperson. Contact Barbara Laub and Dennis Percher; 973-763-8379; bjlaub@att.net (Ages 14 and up; parental supervision required)

Interfaith Hospitality

Network: Housing the Homeless at TSTI (All ages; one week per year during the winter): TSTI and Oheb Shalom join talents to house and feed 13 families (including children from infants to teenagers) during a rough time in their lives. Guest families and volunteers eat and sleep in the Mansion. Email Bill and Zeny Steinhauer at wsteinhauer@unigene.com or BillandZeny@aol.com or call them at 973-761-0830(home) or 973-882-0860 x 202 (work).

Lighthouse Soup Kitchen

(All ages): Now entering its 4th year, the TSTI Soup Kitchen is a Mitzvah Project at the Lighthouse in Newark. We go twice per month (Sundays) from about 10:30—1:30. We shop, cook, serve food, and clean the kitchen. ## Israeli Dancing!!!!

Learn New Dances

Remember Old Favorites

It's a great way to meet new people, enjoy your Temple friends, get some exercise, prepare for Bar and Bat Mitzvahs...or just have fun!

Andrea Baum and Arlene Gordon, experienced dance instructors, will teach us how to kick up our heels and abandon our cares!

Thursday, January 20

8:00 - 9:30 pm

Sisterhood's first meeting of the year brought new faces and fresh and exciting ideas. We are gratified to have so many young women with diverse interests and talents come together to share their knowledge and thoughts with each other. Coming up in January is an evening of Israeli dancing right here at temple. Then, to stave off the winter chill, we'll be going to Paintin' the Plates in Maplewood where our creative juices will flow (along with the wine and cheese we will bring.) There is a group of women who would like to learn mah jongg - and we have a teacher who'd love to teach the game! If you are interested, please call me at Temple—973-763-4116.

A number of women answered the call to help wrap gifts for our B'nai Mitzvah. Thank you to Rita Miller, Mimi Fogel, Sandy Weener, Sandra Goodman, Linda Scharf, Gayle Weiner and Shelli Brosh for your time, your interest and your enthusiasm.

Sunny Seglin

Joining Sisterhood is as easy as clipping this form, writing a check to TSTI Sisterhood for $36 and sending it to Temple.

Mission accomplished!

Renaissance Group

Our first trip was great and really informative and fun. We thank Lenore Beckerman and Alice Forman for making the arrangements for us. Now we are preparing for our next trip which promises to be an adventure as well as an experience on a cultural level that is different. The activity was described in our column last month, so we will reiterate our comments briefly. We will travel to Beacon, New York, a burgeoning Hudson Valley city and visit the Dia Beacon Museum which is a venue set in a converted warehouse. They have a large and varied collection of art which they are able to display because of the extensive area. We will also visit The Talix Foundry described by the "New York Times" as an area where many outstanding sculptors work. We will be able to view the work in the Foundry as well as on the grounds. By now you have probably received a letter describing the day in detail with a reservation form. Be sure to return the reservation with your check, promptly. As usual, we are limited to the number of people we can accommodate, based on the number of passengers our bus will hold. The area we are going to visit is very beautiful and on a fall day should be a real treat. Lunch will be the usual special experience. Bettye Green and Bobbe Futterman have arranged this wonderful day for us.

SPECIAL NOTE; The date of our Chanukah dinner has been rescheduled to the first night of Hanukah—Tuesday, December 7. This is a wonderful opportunity to celebrate this festive holiday with friends. We will precede dinner with a cocktail party and, of course, the evening will include the ceremony and songs that accompany the lighting of the candles. Gert Zoref and Muriel Fiolo, the hostesses with the "mostest" are chairing the evening. Be sure to get your reservation in, it will be a great evening and the food is usually plentiful and delicious.

Mark your calendar for the "Day of Fun". It has been rescheduled to Sunday, February 6. We have no meeting scheduled for January. We look forward to seeing you soon.

Golden Generation

We are thrilled to announce that our Mondays Golden Generations group will be staffed and programmed by our own Fran Miller, Family Educator, who brings a host of exciting ideas and new programs for our senior group. Currently, Fran teaches in our Sharey Ateed Hebrew High School, Sharey Tikvah 7th grade program, and is a 5th grade teacher in the Slucker Religious School. In addition, Fran coordinates special Religious School large scale events and tutors our Bar/Bat Mitzvah students. Fran has truly made a difference in our Temple community and we are confident that she will continue to nurture and strengthen our Golden Generation group.

Golden Generation meets the 1st Mondays of every month and the 3rd Mondays of each month excluding January-March

November 1st Luncheon, Lively Discussions and a special program with Rabbi Cohen.

November 15th Bring a bag lunch; we provide side salads, dessert, coffee and tea and a wonderful program featuring Elizabeth Best, RJE.

December 6th Luncheon, Lively Discussions and a special musical program with Cantor Aronson.

HELLO
HELLO
FADDAH

TSTI member Dan Whitten is bringing the hit off-broadway show Hello Muddah, Hello Fadduh, The Allan Sherman Hit Musical to the W. Orange JCC Thanksgiving weekend. Whitten's production company, TIGER, has teamed up with creator Rob Krausz to make this event the first stop of the professional National Tour. (known as The Bar Mitzvah Tour as the show turns 13 this year)

The show follows the life of Sarah Jackman and Barry Bockman from birth to death incorporating such classic Allan Sherman parodies as Hello Muddah Hello Faddah, Harvey and Sheila (Hava Nagilah), Shake Hands with Your Uncle Max, Sarah Jackman (Frere Jacques), Won't You Come Home, Disraeli and more. See ad on back of this issue for tickets, times and prices. For TSTI discount, call the Hello Muddah Hello Fadduh hotline at 973 275 9095 and mention the TSTI Bulletin.

Carpool

Do you need help setting up a carpool? Do you have additional room in your current carpool? The Religious School can help! Call us at (973) 763-3793.

Jewish Studies Enrichment Class

The first Enrichment Class for those 4th, 5th & 6th graders who have signed up will take place Sunday, November 14th during their regularly scheduled Jewish Studies classes.

Watch Your Calendar

Everyone should refer to the magnetic school calendar regularly. There will be no school Tuesday/Wednesday, November 2nd/3rd due to the NJEA weekend. We have discovered that Religious School attendance drops off considerably that week as families take advantage of the time off from secular school. As well, there will be no school on Tuesday/Wednesday of Thanksgiving week celebrates its 20th Anniversary this year. What began as a contest for families to make the most creative Chanukah Menorah has grown into the extraordinary event we experience today. Chanukahmania has become a huge program opening its arms to the entire congregation and their extended families. Many of our new members report that their first experience with TSTI was at a Chanukamania event. Join us on Sunday, December 5th 10:00 AM to 12:30 PM as we celebrate together.

Chanukamania

Sharey Ateed

Our Sharey Ateed High School program will host two special events this month. The first is an art program on Tuesday evening, November 9th with Israeli artist Inbar Bibring on the subject of Synagogue Art. The second program will be Tuesday evening, November 16th dealing with the subject of "Breaking a Confidence." This program is brought to us by Tracy Horwitz, TSTI's Program Director.

The Iris Family

After a few days of rain from various tropical storms and hurricanes during the beginning of our Preschool year the children were finally able to play outdoors. On one glorious, cloudless, unusually warm day preschoolers were very happily playing outside in our two playgrounds. Children were swinging from monkey bars, sliding down slides, climbing on rope ladders and digging in the sandboxes. Some were collecting chestnuts and fallen leaves, others twirling in circles and still others on the tire swing. It was the kind of day that you just don't want to miss any part of by staying indoors.

I thought back to when I was a child and the types of play equipment at my neighborhood playground. There was a wooden merry-go-round, seesaws, and swings that looked like horses, all of which have since been removed for one reason or another, probably because of stricter safety laws. I'm sure that had lawsuits been more prevalent in my younger years, I never would have fallen under the merry-go-round as I lost my footing trying to jump on. I never would have flipped off backwards from the seesaw when my older brother and his friend far outweighed me on their side. And I never would have gotten my long black hair caught in the chains of the horsy swing. No one made a big deal of these minor mishaps. I got a kiss on the boo-boo and a Band-Aid, but I digress.

Playgrounds in New Jersey that fall under the state licensing mandates of the Division of Youth and Family Services (DYFS) as we do, have recently been directed to update and improve the safety of playground equipment by the year 2007. We are fortunate that the majority of our equipment is up to code, but much needs to be replaced due to age and to expanded use by our ever-growing preschool population.

Our Preschool board has held many successful fundraising events to raise the money necessary to not only replace some pieces of outdated equipment, but also to expand and improve the existing playscape. A price quote of $21,000 given to us 3 years ago has now tripled, not just because of increased labor and materials costs, but also due to the fact that the playground equipment is now 3 years older.

Our newest fundraiser is 'Shop Sharey', a one-night, one-stop holiday shopping experience. For the small price of admission you may have some wine, cheese, dessert and coffee while you browse among the many vendors selling artistic items for the home, children's gifts, jewelry, stationery, clothing, make-up, handbags and gift baskets, to name a few. The Temple Gift Shop is also open as is our annual Book Fair. I invite you to mark your calendars and join us in support of our preschool playground-rebuilding fund. We hope you will encourage your friends in the community to join you on the evening of Thursday, November 11 for some snacking, shopping and socializing.

Fifth Annual Turkey Drive

For the fifth year in a row, Temple Sharey Tefilo-Israel will serve as the South Orange drop-off site for the annual Thanksgiving Turkey and Food Drive of the Community FoodBank of New Jersey. This year's Drive will be held on Saturday, November 20, 2004 from 9:00 am to 2:00 pm. The TSTI site makes it easy for local residents – and particularly for our members – to help the FoodBank provide a traditional Thanksgiving dinner to those in need. In response to the request of community members, this year our turkey site will again be equipped to collect any and all non-perishable foods that you may wish to donate. Canned and packaged goods (including such Thanksgiving staples as canned vegetables, cranberry sauce, stuffing, and gravy) will be gratefully accepted.

To make the Turkey Drive even more convenient for our members, frozen turkeys may also be brought to TSTI's Friday evening services on November 19, 2004. Place your frozen (never thawed) turkey in the freezer in the main kitchen (look for the turkey sign on the freezer).

If congregants prefer, financial donations can instead be made to enable the FoodBank to purchase turkeys for the Drive at wholesale prices. Checks can be sent to the Community FoodBank of New Jersey, 31 Evans Terminal Road, Hillside, NJ 07205. Please mark "Turkey Drive" on the outside of the envelope. If you prefer to help electronically, a "virtual turkey drive" is available online at www.njfoodbank.org. You can purchase a turkey and even dinner fixings by credit card!

Mazel Tov To Our B'nai Mitzvah

Jenna Morgan Bloom will be called to the Torah on Saturday, November 6. With her will be her parents, Jill and Bryan Bloom, sister, Allie, and grandparents Gladys and Robert Honigfeld and Annette and Leonard Bloom. Jenna attends Millburn Middle School and enjoys science and math. In her spare time she loves to play soccer and softball and being with her friends. She will run in a race to raise funds for The Foundation Fighting Blindness as her "Mitzvah Project."

"Becoming a Bat Mitzvah means that I am becoming a Jewish adult. I will be more responsible about making my own decisions and will learn more about my religion, therefore becoming a better Jew," says Jenna.

Rachel Lauren Scharf, her parents, Jill and Richard Scharf, and brother Alex look forward to celebrating her Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, November 6. Joining them will be grandparents Sylvia and Larry Miller and Elaine and Sandy Scharf. Rachel attends Millburn Middle School where she enjoys language arts and math, and finds time for dancing and hanging out with friends. She has danced and performed for residents of nursing homes and rehabilitation institutes for her "Mitzvah Project."

Rachel says, "I take on more responsibilities as I become a young adult in the Jewish community."

Elise Rachel Sobelman, daughter of Cindy and Joe Sobelman, will become a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, November 13. Sister Jill, and grandparents Alfred Mirenda and Marilyn Sobelman will join her for her special day. Elise attends Millburn Middle School. She spends a lot of her time playing basketball and doing things with her friends. Elise and her dog, Triton, have visited patients at nursing homes for her "Mitzvah Project."

Elise feels that "Becoming a Bat Mitzvah teaches me about the meaning of Jewish life and is the start of my search for what it means to be a Jewish woman."

James Schiff Topilow, son of Elizabeth and Edmund Topilow, looks forward to his Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, November 13. Joining him are his sisters Brittany and Alyssa, and grandparents, Shirley and Arnold Topilow and Jacqueline Schiff. Jimmy attends Millburn Middle School where his favorite subjects are social studies, science and math. He gets great enjoyment from playing the piano and participating in soccer, tennis and golf. For his "Mitzvah Project," Jimmy plans to volunteer at a veterinary hospital because of his love of animals.

"My Bar Mitzvah is very special to me. It is really the separation of my childhood and my manhood. I expect I will have more responsibilities to handle," says Jimmy.

Adam Michael Starr, son of Jerry Starr and Pamela Keen, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, November 13. Brother Matthew and grandparents Bernice and Herman Starr and Maxine and David Keen look forward to celebrating with him. A seventh grader at Maplewood Middle School, Adam's interests include social studies and language arts, lacrosse, baseball, football and spending time with friends. For his "Mitzvah Project" Adam worked at a soup kitchen and volunteered to deliver food to the homebound elderly.

Adam says, "Becoming a Bar Mitzvah means that I am becoming an adult in the Jewish community. I look forward to learning more about my heritage."

Mazel Tov To Our B'nai Mitzvah

Mallory Paige Sheer, daughter of Robin and Howard Sheer, will become a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday, November 20. Celebrating with her are sisters Elizabeth and Claudia and grandparents, Shirley and Al Drutman. Mallory enjoys math and social studies at South Orange Middle School and is enthusiastic about playing soccer and tennis. She is collecting cell phones for the elderly and less fortunate for 911 use for her "Mitzvah Project."

"When I become a Bat Mitzvah, I am becoming a part of the Jewish community. Like the generations before me, this ceremony is another link in the chain of our Jewish heritage," says Mallory.

William George Spelman, son of Renee and Edmund Spelman and brother of David, Andrew and Daniel, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, November 27. Grandparents Vivian Braitman and Elsie and Ed Spelman look forward to sharing in the family's simcha. Will is a student at Millburn Middle School who enjoys math and social studies. His favorite pastimes are playing football, basketball and baseball. He will volunteer at a soup kitchen for his "Mitzvah Project."

About this special day, Will says, "I am proud to be able to participate further in the Jewish community."

David Anthony Spelman, son of Renee and Edmund Spelman, will become a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, November 27. Celebrating with him are his brothers Daniel, William and Andrew, and grandparents Vivian Braitman and Elsie and Ed Spelman. David attends Millburn Middle School and plays football, baseball and basketball and is also a drummer. His "Mitzvah Project" is volunteering at a soup kitchen.

"Becoming a Bar Mitzvah means being a man and being able to help others," explains David.

Andrew Luke Spelman will be called to the Torah on Saturday, November 27. Andrew is the son of Renee and Edmund Spelman and brother of Daniel, William and David. Grandparents Vivian Braitman and Elsie and Ed Spelman look forward to this special day. Andrew enjoys basketball, baseball and football. He is a student at Millburn Middle School where he likes math and science. He is volunteering at a soup kitchen for his "Mitzvah Project."

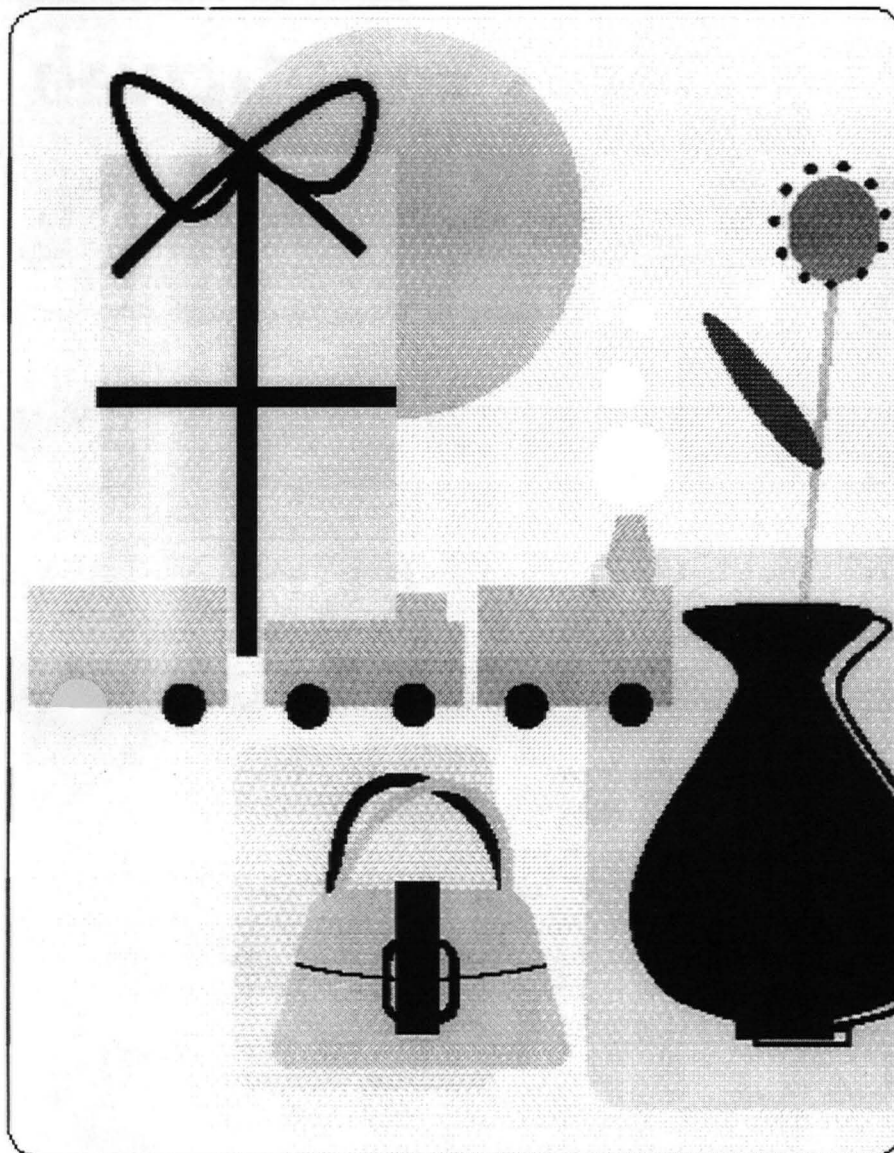

Andrew looks forward to becoming a Bar Mitzvah because, "I will become a man in the Jewish community."

MOTHER and BABY GROUP

Come and meet with other mothers to discuss your baby and the life changes you are experiencing. Leader Susan Siegeltuch, MSW, LCSW, plans to cover topics such as finding child care, marital and emotional changes, returning to work, sleep deprivation, weaning your baby, language development, impact on siblings and more. Please call Susan at 973-378-8635 to learn more about this program. Sponsored by The Iris Family Preschool.

Project SHIN Nurse

As November rolls around, so do cold and flu prevention considerations.

With the shortage of flu shots, it is most important for all of us to take advantage of the precautions that we can take as individuals, at any age. First and foremost is HAND WASHING, especially before you eat, after toileting, and before and after you have spent time with friends, family and co-workers. Covering your mouth and or nose with a tissue or handkerchief if you cough or sneeze and then washing your hands offers added protection.

Second, eat nutritionally, get enough rest and drink fluids, fluids, fluids (unless you have a fluid restriction). Fluids are good any time, in the heat or in the cold to replenish fluids lost and keep from getting dehydrated from sun, heat or stomach related flu symptoms and fever. Fluids also help to keep your skin and other organs healthy, moist and clear, especially important when taking medication. Furthermore, if you do get sick, the fluids will help flush your system and help protect against or decrease severity of most cold and flu related infections.

Last, but not least, is regular exercise, according to your ability. It helps to boost the immune system, improve heart and lung function and promote uplifting feelings.

The flu is a virus spread through the air. Care and time, not antibiotics, help. Unlike the more mild symptoms of a cold, flu symptoms come on suddenly. Other symptoms include a splitting headache, dry cough, muscle aches, exhaustion, and fever.

In years past, everyone was encouraged to get a flu shot but this year's vaccine shortage has complicated things. Please talk with your doctor about the benefits and risks of getting a flu shot and whether you qualify this year. Although flu shots are given into December and January, it is recommended to get it sooner than later. If you and your doctor conclude that getting a flu shot would be beneficial, there are a number of community resources available.

In addition to going to your doctor's office you may call your local pharmacy or supermarket, community health department, or local hospital for specific availability, times and location. Also check with the web site: www.findaflushot.com. Note that a small fee may be charged for the flu shot.

Thanks for reading. I hope it is helpful. Best wishes for good health and happiness. Please contact me if you or someone you know might benefit from a call or visit from the Project SHIN Nurse. I can be reached at (973) 736-3200 ext. 372. All calls are confidential.
