From the Rabbi's Study

by Geri Newburge

Thank you!
Thank you!
Thank you!
The outpouring of support at the service honoring me at the Friday, May 3, tribute was truly an unbelievable honor. This is an excerpt of my remarks that I wanted to share so that all members know how much I appreciate each and every one of you.

A story is told about the great author of the early 20th century, Franz Kafka. The last time he visited Berlin, he chanced upon a little girl in a park awash in tears. When he inquired as to the reason for her distress, she sobbed that she had lost her doll.

Compassionately, Kafka countered that was not the case, the doll had merely gone on a trip and, in fact, Kafka met her as she was about to leave. He promised that if the little girl would return to the park the next day, he would bring her a letter from her doll. Kafka did so for several weeks, arriving each morning at the park with a letter for his new friend.

As his tuberculosis worsened, Kafka decided to return to Prague where he would soon die at age 41, but not before buying the girl another doll. Along with the doll came a letter in which Kafka insisted that this was the doll that belonged to his friend. Admittedly, she looked different, but then on her long trip the doll had seen many remarkable sights and gone through many searing experiences. Life had changed her appearance.

One can only imagine what the little girl thought about this new doll and the letter accompanying it. It is easy to believe that the girl developed quite a fondness for Kafka and the doll he presented to her. It is a poignant story, and through his words and deeds, Kafka reminds us that as we travel through life and its varied experiences we are transformed. This transformation can manifest itself in many different ways, including appearance, personality and demeanor.

Shabbat Evening Service

I can't believe that it is already June. This has been an amazing year filled with lots of change and excitement. One of the recent highlights for me was our special tribute weekend to Rabbi Geri Newburge. It was a weekend filled with fond memories, laughter and gratitude.

For those of you who were not able to attend that Shabbat Service I would like to share the words I expressed to Rabbi Geri Newburge. I am sure that my sentiments are shared by so many.

"All endings are also beginnings...We just don't know it at the time."

The Five People You Meet in Heaven by Mitch Albom

If we look at your departure from Temple Emanuel selfishly it's just an end. For 10 years you have been a part of this family, sharing in our joys, our weddings and our bar and bat mitzvahs.

You have shared in our embrace of Judaism through our study of Torah and dedication to mitzvot in the community.

You have shared in our most trying moments, moments of doubt and moments of grief and have led this congregation as a spiritual leader, as a role model and as a friend.

You have touched each of our lives uniquely, and it is because of this that we see your departure from Temple Emanuel as an end. An end to a decade of leadership, friendship, guidance and compassion, but at the same time we view this as a beginning as well – a beginning for you to move forward while continuing to touch lives and inspire others.

Each time we pass along your words of kindness and compassion you will be with us. You will always be a part of this family and community.

We wish you the best of luck in the next stage of your life and are privileged to share in this special celebration of your new and exciting journey.

Rabbi Newburge, you will be missed by all.

The Year in Review

Michael Schorr, Treasurer

My role as Temple Emanuel's Treasurer, a volunteer position, is one that I take seriously. I recognize that when I sit at meetings of all kinds, I am tasked with being a representational member for each of you. I am fortunate to have many other committed, dedicated and hardworking volunteers at my side. As our fiscal year draws to an end I want to offer thanks to this year's members of the budget committee for their diligence. It was a long process. A great deal of work occurred to balance the needs of Temple Emanuel against sound financial management. I also want to thank the professional staff as well for their commitment in helping us provide all of the services, programming and education that makes Temple Emanuel such an amazing synagogue.

Because our committee must look at every dollar spent, we are in a unique position to "inventory" all that goes on in the building. In the past year we had 60 children in our pre-school. Many of those children go on to our Religious School which had almost 600 students this year. Our Religious School is a gem. Dr. Rena and her staff have made every effort to make sure all students are receiving a wonderful Jewish education regardless of their ability. Those who donate to Temple Emanuel above and beyond their dues level guarantee that no child will be turned away based on financial need.

We have Come As You Are services, Tot Shabbat, Mini Minyan, Torah Study, Shabbat services, High Holiday services, B'Nai Mitzvah's, baby namings and far too many funerals. Kol Emanuel, Murray Savar, and Cantor Schnitzer provide wonderful music. There is Confirmation, Consecration, and ELITE graduation. We had a party for Israel's 65th birthday where Rick Recht performed and even had Neil Diamond (actually a guy who sounded like him) singing on the Bima this year as well. We provided chicken soup to the sick and 700 Thanksgiving dinners to the needy.

Our building is open roughly 360 days every year. Many of those days begin at 7 am and don't end until after 9 pm when Adult Education classes, meetings of our auxiliaries or choir rehearsal conclude.

I am so proud to be a member of Temple Emanuel. My hope is that we will continue to grow, be vibrant and meet the needs of all who seek to affiliate with us. I promise to continue to do my part—to create and maintain a financial plan tailored to our goals. To that end, I want to thank all of you and the staff for all you do to help us achieve our goals through our core values of connection, diversity, spirituality, Jewish education, social responsibility and community.

At Temple Emanuel teamwork has always been the key to our success. The blending of different ideas, sometimes even opposing ideas, has resulted in helping us establish shared goals and then working to achieve them. It is the belief in our team's vision and the sharing of common values that has helped to support and motivate us. Over the past few years many new, talented and committed members have joined different committees and made them stronger.

Teamwork has always strengthened us and continues to help us reach our potential. When we are all united through the sharing of ideas, relationships develop. This model of teamwork is the cornerstone of our continuing success. We want our shared vision and experiences to be the glue that binds us one to the other.

This month, one of our esteemed teammates and much beloved colleague, Rabbi Geri Newburge, is embarking on the next part of her life's journey. We wish her great mazel and success as we are joined by Rabbi Larry Sernovitz, who will become our new partner. May we go from strength to strength as we continue working together to make Temple Emanuel, and our world, a better place.

I read the following about teamwork, and I wanted to share it with you.

TAKE FIVE LESSONS FROM GEESE

- 1. As each goose flaps its wings, it creates "uplift" for the birds following. By flying in a "V" formation the whole flock adds 71% more flying range than if each bird flew alone.

LESSON: People who share a common direction and sense of community can get where they are going quicker and easier because they are traveling on the thrust of one another.

- 2. Whenever a goose falls out of formation, it suddenly feels the drag and resistance of trying to fly alone and quickly gets back into formation to take advantage of the lifting power of the birds immediately in front.

LESSON: If we have as much sense as a goose, we will join formation with those who are headed where we want to go.

- 3. When a lead goose gets tired, it rotates back into formation and another goose flies at the point position.

LESSON: It pays to take turns doing the hard tasks and sharing leadership—with people, as with geese, interdependent with one another.

- 4. The geese in formation honk from behind to encourage those up front to keep up their speed.

LESSON: We need to make sure our honking from behind is encouraging—not something less helpful.

- 5. When a goose gets sick, wounded or shot, two geese drop out of formation and follow their fellow member, to help and provide protection. They stay with this member of the flock until he or she either is able to fly again or dies. Then they launch out on their own, with another formation, or to catch up with their own flock.

LESSON: If we have as much sense as the geese, we'll stand by one another like they do.

Hoping to see you often at Temple Emanuel (and let me know how you want to get involved!)

Spring is a time replete with liminal moments. From buds opening on the trees to graduations, we experience a lot of change at this time of year. It was very difficult saying goodbye to our ELITE students in April, but I know they will take their Temple Emanuel successes with them wherever they go.

I look forward to seeing our wonderful group of Confirmands as well as our recent B'nai Mitzvah students next year and through their ELITE graduation. For those of you who are unfamiliar with the term, "ELITE" it is an acronym for "Extended Learning Institute at Temple Emanuel". This program gives our 11th and 12th grade students opportunities to discover ways in which Judaism can be more relevant in their daily lives as they move through their college and early adult years. It also helps them to become responsible Jews in the 21st century.

This years' Confirmation class made us very proud. The level of knowledge and understanding about Jewish life that they attained was a great starting point for a lifetime of Jewish learning and experience. I hope they will be a vital part of the fabric of our synagogue's life for years to come.

We were also fortunate to have a very accomplished group of adults who celebrated their Adult Confirmation in April and an equally accomplished group of Adult B'not Mitzvah in May. These adults serve as a great example to all of us for their dedication and commitment to their faith and the Jewish community.

At Temple Emanuel we are proud to offer a wide range of lifelong learning opportunities that begin at the pre-school level and continue through our adult education program. We look forward to having all of you participate in these programs and be an integral part of the wonderful future we share at Temple Emanuel.

Something to Think About

Do you think you ever have been brainwashed by the media? Of course not! Me neither! Or, perhaps we all have. Maybe once, maybe many times, depending on the media reporting that influences your point of view on Israel.

A clever writer can turn almost any story around to reflect his/her agenda. Unfortunately most people have so much faith in the media that they fail to question the story's source of information or suspect possible hidden agendas. Over the years a constant stream of subtle unbalanced reporting has caused many, including some Jews, to have a more negative view of Israel, while remaining comfortably confident that their opinions are based on reality.

Israel has been the target of biased (as opposed to balanced) media reporting for years. This concerted campaign to disenfranchise Israel through media manipulation is making headway.

Even the descriptive words reporters use can be carefully chosen to project Israel as the problem, not the solution. To counter and correct the biased misconceptions found even in major media stories, organizations such as "Honest Reporting", "Camera", "The Simon Wiesenthal Center" and many others have been established.

As an example, in October 1990 during Desert Shield, on one of my Volunteer For Israel tours in the Israel Defense Forces (IDF), our unit was taken to the Western Wall. It was the day after the media reported that Arabs were throwing stones over the wall as Jews were praying below. Stones? The smallest stone was as big as your fist, the large ones were the size of a 5 lb. bag of sugar! And why did the media not say large rocks? Because by minimizing the size, any response taken by Israeli security would seem a paranoid overreaction.

I was told by a Captain in the IDF that the Arabs figured out that it is far easier to get the media on their side than to try to win a war with Israel. And with a bottomless barrel of Arab oil money to influence the media, in many, many ways they are doing an excellent job. To learn more about the distorted picture of Israel being presented to the world, sign up for free media updates from "HonestReporting" at <http://honestreporting.com/>.

Over spring break, which happily (for me) coincided with Pesach, I experienced one of those rare parenting moments when trapped in the car. Our children will share a snippet or two of their thoughts.

As we were driving, my son told me that he knew what the Temple needed to do to draw in and engage our younger congregants. As I listened intently to his revelation, he said, "they need to make Judaism more relevant to "us" and to our modern world." So there you have the secret sauce of Judaism - making it relevant. We discussed whether Reform Judaism achieves this by offering more informed choices.

I thought about this from the perspective of a traditional Jew, a parent and in relation to Rabbi Newburge's three Jewish pillars: Jewish education, Jewish camp experience and trips to Israel. Are these enough to instill a sense of belonging and tradition in our children? I also considered Rabbi Yoffie's address at the last Union of Reform Judaism biennial as he shared his children's religious choices being vastly different from his own. He confided that although difficult at times, he respected their choices in living their lives. I hope to do the same, but until that time when our children are indeed on their own, my husband and I will continue to provide them access to the pillars.

The Ritual Committee continues to explore options for making Temple Emanuel programs, events and services relevant to our congregants and guests. I encourage you to join us in this exploration and help us achieve our mission at our next Ritual Committee meeting on June 10 at 7:30 pm.

While I haven't aged a single day in the 3650 days I've been at Temple Emanuel, I have been transformed. I consider each service, lifecycle event, class, social occasion, holiday, and appointment a blessing. There was, and is, always something new to learn for someone or a situation. I want to thank you for teaching me. But even more important than all you've taught me, I want to thank you for including me in so many of the special, sacred moments of your lives.

Kafka's singular experience with the little girl demonstrated great compassion, care, sympathy, and tenderness. I hope that in these last 10 years I have been able to achieve some of the same. My dream in becoming a rabbi was truly fulfilled during my time at Temple Emanuel.

And now, the end is here, and so I face one final Men's Club Shabbat, my friend, I'll say it clear I'll state my case, of which I'm certain, I've served a two year term, I traveled to each and every retreat And more, much more than this, I did it my way.

Regrets, I've had a few, but then again, too few to mention, I did what I had to do and saw it through without exemption, I planned each charted course, each careful step along the byway And more, much more than this, I did it my way.

Yes, there were times, I'm sure you knew when I bit off more than I could chew But through it all, when there was doubt we brought the lox and with a schemer had a nice breakfast I faced it all and I stood tall and did it my way.

I've loved, I've laughed and cried, I've had my fill, my share of losing poker tournaments And now, as tears subside, I find it all so darn amusing to think I did all that and may I say, not in a shy way, Oh, no, oh, no, not me, I did it my way. For what is a man, what has he got? If not himself, then he has naught to say the things he truly feels and not the words of one who kneels, the record shows I took the blows and did it my way!

Thank you for allowing me to serve as your Men's Club President and please help me welcome your new President, Mitch Levin. Mitch is a long time Temple Emanuel member and all-around good guy and I wish him the best of luck!

And so as I fade off into the sunset in my Fisker I am humbled to have served as your Men's Club President and look forward to seeing all of you at the Men's Club BBQ and Installation Service on Friday, June 14.

Sheila Stern and Robin Rubin, Co-chairs
Caring Community

Written by Sheila Stern

Usually as the time approaches for the writing of the Light Article my biggest concern is what to write about. Once an idea has occurred to me the writing part is easy. This time however, things could not be more different. The topic was an obvious one once I thought about it and I find that I have been delaying the actual writing process for as long as I could.

For years the Caring Community has been a huge part of my life. I have loved being able to head a Temple committee that does so much good for so many members. It is the personal aspect of what the Caring Community strives to do that is most important to me. This was not a "global job." I did not have the concept of doing the most good for the most number of people. Rather, I wanted to help individual members with their immediate needs. From Bubby Bags, to shiva help, to rides to synagogue and doctor's appointments; these were the day to day needs of our congregants and I was happy to help in any way. But the seasons change and I find that I am changing with them. While I am still going to be a part of the Caring Community I will no longer be "in charge" after June. Robin Rubin will take the leadership role. I will support her in any way she feels is needed and to the best of my ability.

I would like to offer my heartfelt thanks to everyone who has helped over the years. All of you made me look good and made this committee into a vibrant and vital part of our Temple family. Todah rabah!

In particular I want to express my deepest thanks to my husband, Fred. Though he never delivered a Bubby Bag himself he made it possible for me to do so. He shopped; he cooked and took care of "our family business" while I ran around taking care of "Caring Community affairs." I could not have done all that I did without him and I am very grateful for his love and support.

Above all I want to thank Rabbi Geri Newburge for her boundless energy, constant devotion, unerring guidance and personal friendship. She was never too busy, never too tired, never too annoyed with my many questions not to help in any way possible. Rabbi Geri has been my "go to" person for all things Caring Community. She has been the rock and heart of the Caring Community and from the bottom of my heart I want to thank her.

Thank You!

Since this is my first article, I would like to begin with a "thank you" to our past president, Beverly Volpe. Sisterhood was so fortunate to have had her leadership, creativity, energy, and commitment over the last two years. She will be continuing on our Executive Board as "Advisor", and I know that everyone joins me in thanking her. I am also so happy to have Felice Friedman as my Vice President this year. Her experience and kind support will be invaluable to me. I have a wonderful Executive Board and General Board to support, help and teach me, as I begin my term as President. We have four new General Board members; Roz Appel, Julie Borsky, Janet Cohen, and Betsy Bocher. We welcome them to the Sisterhood Board and all look forward to working with them in the coming year. We are also so happy to have Past President, D.J. Whitley returning as a General Board Member.

June is the month for Sisterhood's final event. This year we are having "Wine and Dine" on June 13 at Lamberti's Tutti Toscani. The evening is chaired by Beth Sokolic. It will be a great evening of good food, wine and fun.

Looking forward to July, Sisterhood will have their "Summer Sizzler" on July 18 at my house. Please join us, and bring your spouse, friend, or significant person. It is always a great summertime get together.

Dear Senior Members and Friends:

This is the last column for the spring season. We will begin again in August. In the meantime, our program committee is actively planning future Brown Bag Lunches, working towards an intriguing mix of programs for all to enjoy. Any feedback or suggestions are always welcome.

June brings our end-of-the-year luncheon. Have you already signed up to join us? Rabbi David will be our speaker. The afternoon will afford time to enjoy a leisurely lunch and chat with one another before we go off to our summer activities. If you have not signed up for the June 19 lunch, please hurry and do so. You may call Elaine Kooperstein (856-504-3609) or me (856-667-8209). We hope to see you!

The Henry Raich Senior Group is composed of so many fascinating people. They have lived rich lives and made significant contributions to our society. I invite you to get to know them!

Allow me to introduce Elaine Kooperstein. Elaine was born in the Bronx and lived in Brooklyn. Her mother set an excellent example for her family by insisting on and assuring that they got a quality education. She persisted in getting Elaine enrolled in the excellent Hunter High School. From there, Elaine acquired her teaching degree from Hunter College, majoring in math – an unusual subject for young women at that time. Her first teaching assignment was a tough vocational boy's school. She refused to quit.

She and Bob met and married and lived in Queens, Long Island. In the first seven years of their marriage, the Koopersteins moved seven times. However, once transplanted to Cherry Hill in 1960, they became actively involved in the community. Elaine taught Math at Cherry Hill High East for 23 years. Her reputation as a "demanding but fair" teacher won the hearts of many of her students. In 1978 the senior class chose her "Teacher of the Year." Elaine takes special joy in knowing that many of her pupils have succeeded quite well in life. In 2001, the New York Times printed a story titled "Unforgettable Teachers." It described Elaine-the-teacher and was written by a former Cherry Hill student.

A stalwart of the Henry Raich Senior Group, Elaine is also a major force in our temple, having served on the Temple Board, innumerable committees, Sisterhood and Senior Group. Another claim to fame is the very special challah she bakes for our senior dinner and other events.

While serving on the Temple Emanuel religious school committees, Elaine fostered egalitarian practices, questioning why girls couldn't have the same opportunities as boys. She believed that Bat Mitzvahs as well as the traditional Bar Mitzvahs should be celebrated. A major change did come soon thereafter.

What/who are the most important loves of your life? Elaine immediately responds that her family has top priority. She delights in recounting visits when grandchildren stayed in their home. She and Bob relished having daughters Donna and Marci's children to themselves, enjoying each other's company, playing, going to museums, and baking challahs and rolls (the little ones always assisted by eagerly punching down the dough). Marci and granddaughter Zoe have traded visits with Elaine frequently flying to London. I asked Elaine how she holds her now grown up and far-flung family together. She deliberately works at keeping in touch. She also described the family tradition of traveling and meeting together each December in sites such as Costa Rica and Mexico.

Elaine has always found pleasure with her hobbies of baking, cooking, reading, studying, learning and traveling. She is an active participant in adult education groups. Tutoring and helping students continues her devotion to teaching. Volunteering at Genesis Nursing Home, Elaine conducts monthly Shabbat services. She is a stickler for being straight forward and honest in all she does. We know her to be a strong, clear thinking, intelligent, problem solving and very kind-hearted woman. If you are fortunate to have Elaine as your friend, you will know what a loyal and devoted person she is! If you don't already know Elaine, be sure to get acquainted soon!

Rabbi Newburge, ... our wonderful friend and great inspiration ...

A very heartfelt THANK YOU to Rabbi Newburge for all that she does for our families and friends of Temple Emanuel. Her guidance, knowledge, kindness, love, spirituality, and helping hands have made a difference in the lives of so many people at Temple Emanuel, in our community and beyond.

In grateful recognition of all that she has done and continues to do we have named the Social Action Fund in her honor. It is now known as the

CONGRATS TO OUR FOURS

WE'RE SO PROUD OF YOU!!!!

It is so hard to believe that the school year is coming to a close. The children have grown in so many ways and are ready to tackle new adventures. We congratulate our pre-schoolers who are transitioning to Kindergarten. We will certainly miss them and wish them much success as they embark on their educational journey. We are confident that we have provided them with the tools for success, and that they have received the foundation for a love of learning that will last throughout their lifetime. Perhaps they will return next year to be part of our fabulous Kindergarten Enrichment program so that we can hear first hand how well they are doing!

We hope to see many of our children this summer for camp. It promises to be fun-filled and exciting. Our theme is "The Sky's the Limit" and our campers will examine everything that either flies or is up in the sky - clouds, birds, planes, kites, helicopters, stars, sun, moon, planets, and even super heroes!. There will plenty of special events including a petting zoo and a "not-to-be missed" camp show. So reach for the stars and join in the fun for a totally uplifting summer experience!

One last word of thanks to our wonderful parents who worked so diligently to put together a most fantastic "Pre-School Prom"! It was a huge success. Not only did everyone have a great time, but enough money was raised to buy extras for our school such as new cameras, new dramatic play kitchens, programs and trips. And because our parents are so special they donated a portion of the profits to the Food Bank. We are thrilled and thank you so much for all of your hard work throughout the year!

Have a safe and relaxing summer. We look forward to seeing you in the fall for another incredible year!

Our Terrific Trip to Israel is shared with our Hebrew School Students!

On our last day of school we celebrated our students' accomplishments with the Ben Yehuda Street Fair! This fun filled day started with our Maccabiah grand finale competition which included red - blue - green - and yellow Temple Emanuel "Feel the Beat" egg shaker prizes. Music and dancing followed on Temple Emanuel Hebrew School's very own creation of Israel's Ben Yehuda Street along with our photos just taken in Israel and specifically on Ben Yehuda Street. Food treats - Israeli Pitass, Israeli made Bazooka, edible Hebrew letters, and water ice in the colors of Israel (Blue and White) concluded our time at the Fair. Wishing everyone a "Super Summer" with some Hebrew practice so that students do not lose their Hebrew skills... and of course, plenty of sunshine and ice cream!

It is hard to believe that this school year is over. It was an exciting and enlightening year during which we evaluated curriculum and activities to confirm that they are relevant and meaningful to our students. Working hand in hand with the Religious School Committee we have made many changes this year and in past years. We will continue to tweak and improve education at Temple Emanuel. I will be working throughout the summer with our outstanding school staff and Rabbi Larry Sernovitz to prepare for the 2013 - 14 school year.

The High Holy Days arrive early on our calendar this year, with Rosh Hashanah beginning on Wednesday evening, September 4, so our High Holy Day Enrichment Program will occur prior to the start of the next school year. We will have many exciting Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur programs for our children. Students in grades K through 3 may attend enrichment programming while their parents attend High Holy Day Services. Our Enrichment program includes a prayer service designed specifically for our students and lots of interactive activities. Students in grades 4 through 7 may attend High Holy Day Services with their parents and then enjoy a special service, Tween T'filah, designed just for them. This service begins when the Rabbi gives his sermon and concludes at the end of adult services.

Please remember to register early for Hebrew and Religious School. If you are interested in helping your child to keep up in Hebrew during the summer, we have tutors available, especially after camp hours. Don't forget about our "Shabbat at the Shore" services in Margate. You will receive credit for all services you attend during the summer. Just call the school office and inform Heidi that you attended so that our records will remain accurate.

My door is always open. If you have any questions, concerns, or ideas, please stop by. I hope you have a great summer and I hope to see you on the beach, boardwalk, or at your favorite ice cream hangout!

Wishing you joy, happiness and a love of learning!

Rabbi Newburge's

As this is my last recipe I wanted to share something from Israel, and this is perfect for summer. It is light, fresh, and quite tasty! Wishing you lots of happy cooking and hope the recipes I've shared over the years have added to your holiday (and everyday) table.

Fennel and Pistachio Salad

3-4 small fennel bulbs
 1/2 cup filleted lemon segments*
 Coarse sea salt
 1/4 cup delicate olive oil
 1 hot green pepper, chopped finely
 2 tablespoons honey
 1/2 cup pistachio nuts, roasted and crushed

1. Cut the fennel bulbs into thin longitudinal slices. Soak in ice water for about 30 minutes. Drain, mix the fennel slices with the lemon segments, sprinkle coarse sea salt on top and set aside to rest for 15 minutes.
2. Mix the fennel and lemon salad with the olive oil, hot pepper and honey. Sprinkle the roasted pistachio nuts on top and serve.

* Filleted lemon segments : Cut off the top and the base of the fruit to make it more stable. Place on the work surface and cut off the skin, including the white pulp. Hold the fruit in one hand and, using a knife, separate the fillets between the membranes.

Welcome to Temple Emanuel Men's Club & Sisterhood: In Presidential Terms

As enthusiasm for the coming year at Temple Emanuel continues to heat up like the summer sun, we chat with our newly installed Men's Club and Sisterhood leaders, Mitch Levin and Sallie Brown, and begin afresh with the steadfast concept that is one of our most shining assets:

Q: Which of Temple Emanuel's Core Values -- Connection, Diversity, Spirituality, Jewish Education, Social Responsibility, and Community -- drew you most to join, and why?

Mitch: Connection and Community continue to go hand-in-hand at Temple Emanuel, our spiritual home. Just as Social Responsibility is imperative to teach and practice, the depth of caring shown by word and deed throughout our congregation and towards the changing world around us is amazing.

Sallie: Each of Temple Emanuel's Core Values shares that significance though I also find Connection and Community linked more crucially than ever in our extremely technological society. People matter, especially here.

Q: How do our Six Core Values speak to your children's Jewish education and their futures? What messages as parents and temple group presidents would you like to impart?

Mitch: Open up to old ideas, and new ones come to life. Our son, a math teacher, is 35 and a dad of a two-year-old boy, and our daughter, age 32, works in non-profit, so it seems in terms of activism, education, relevance and "living Jewishly" that Wendy, I and countless others in our congregation have been on the right track.

Sallie: Especially as young people find their ways in what can be a confusing world, our Temple's Six Core Values lay a strong and lasting foundation.

Q: Your families regularly attend Shabbat Services. Please share what you enjoy and personally derive.

Sallie: The joyous Shabbats at our synagogue allow us to slow down, connect with our past, put the present into perspective, plan for the future and reaffirm our Jewish faith.

Mitch: At our former synagogue, we felt "accepted" but not embraced. Worshipping alongside Temple Emanuel's family of families and our caring clergy, we feel a profound sense of warmth & comfort which continues to expand our spiritual bond.

Q: Please share your philosophies on parental involvement in our temple and seeking a Jewish education for our children.

Mitch: Simply put, we teach by example. If we expect our children to attend services regularly, we should be present in all ways to show them how and why. We should be extensions of our Religious School teachers.

Sallie: Because when we embody those meaningful lessons, they become a natural part of our children's daily lives.

Q: In what ways does being part of the warm and welcoming Temple Emanuel family of families lend particular focus to your presidency?

Sallie: Sisterhood has always been integral at Temple Emanuel and we will continue to strive to meet varied interests, warmly welcoming ongoing and new members and their ideas.

Mitch: Men's Club looks forward to creating broader rapport, too, through exciting new social activities and learning experiences for everyone from all walks of life. Younger members through those young-at-heart, we welcome your input!

Q: Please share your thoughts on Temple Emanuel's diverse congregation with specific regard to joining Sisterhood, Men's Club, and what our One-Year Gift Membership offers potential members.

Sallie: What makes Temple Emanuel -- and Sisterhood and Men's Club -- particularly attractive and accessible is our diversity: women and men and children of all ages, races, backgrounds, lifestyles and experiences.

Mitch: Allowing previously unaffiliated singles and families with-and-without children to experience everything we have to offer. From innovative Men's Club and Sisterhood activities to Alternative Shabbat Services to Tot Shabbats, Mini-Minyan Pot Luck Dinners and Breakfast Services and wide-ranging social groups such as Up & Comers, Prime Timers, Baby Boomers and our Henry Raich Seniors, and Lifelong Education classes there are so many levels of interests at Temple Emanuel to explore, take part in and enjoy at all ages and stages of life.

Sallie: Our One-Year Gift Membership is a great and affordable way to show newcomers how they can get involved and stay involved.

Mitch: One of the best ways to feel part of our temple community is sharing social causes, holiday celebrations and life-cycle events. Even just hanging-out creates strong friendships.

Sallie: All great reasons to join!

Mitch: Starting with our Men's Club & Membership Shabbat Open House BBQ on Friday, June 14 at 6:30 pm and our Golf Outing at Ramblewood Country Club in Mt. Laurel on Wednesday, June 15. Tee off is at 10 am, and the $100 fee includes Continental Breakfast, lunch and a full round of fun golf with prizes for closest to the pin and a putting contest. It's a great deal for duffers and pros alike! In fact, individual Hole Sponsorships are still available, and a portion of the day's proceeds benefits our Religious School Scholarship Fund. And don't forget Sisterhood's Summer Sizzler Party at Sallie's house on Thursday, July 18 at 7 pm!

Sallie: The Ultimate Summer Splash! Speaking of which, Men's Club and Sisterhood's Paid Member Brunch with Rabbi Larry Sernovitz closes out the summer season on Sunday, September 29 at 10 am! What an enlightening, fabulous and delish way to begin 5774!

Q: Sounds exciting! And the list of upcoming activities grows every day, just the way our congregation is actively growing within the metro South Jersey Jewish community and beyond!

Sallie: With the abundance of new programming and events at Temple Emanuel focusing on young families and even more appealing to all, it's particularly gratifying that new neighbors, in addition to those unaffiliated in our community, feel encouraged to walk through our doors and actively participate.

Mitch: Ask us and we will come. You could even say it's a God-proven maxim: Give good people a reason to do good deeds and they do respond!

June 1 Sh'lach L'cha
Numbers 13:1 – 15:41

God tells Moses to send—Sh'lach L'cha-- twelve men, a leader from each tribe, to scout the land of Canaan. Moses instructs the scouts (or in Hebrew "spies") to go first to the Negev and then proceed up into the hill country. The scouts are to determine the quality of the land and the strength of the people inhabiting the land.

June 8 Korach
Numbers 16:1 – 18:32

This Torah portion, Korach, is named after one of the men who led a serious rebellion against Moses and Aaron. It begins with Korach gathering 250 leaders of the Israelite community and challenging the authority of Moses and Aaron. Korach asserts that all members of the community are holy and asks Moses and Aaron why they raise themselves above the rest of the people. Moses responds by telling Korach and his followers to come to the Tent of Meeting the next day. They refuse, implying that he is a corrupt leader.

June 15 Chukat
Numbers 19:1 – 22:1

The law of the red heifer is introduced. This law is called a "chukat haTorah," a ritual law, and from this phrase comes the name of this parasha, Chukat. Ashes of the red heifer were to be used to purify those who came into contact with a corpse.

June 22 Balak
Numbers 22:2 – 25:9

Balak is named after the King of Moab. The Israelites were camped on the border of Moab, on their way to the Promised Land. Balak saw that the Israelites had prospered and grown in number and was afraid that the Israelites would try to take over his country. Balak sends messengers to Balaam, a pagan prophet, asking Balaam to put a curse on the Israelites so that they can be defeated and driven out of Moab.

June 29 Pinchas
Numbers 25:10-30:1

Pinchas, the grandson of Aaron, provides the name for this week's Torah portion. God tells Moses that the land of Canaan will be divided among the male members of each tribe as counted according to the census. Five women come before Moses to protest that no land would be given to their family since their father died and he had no sons. God counsels Moses, that the plea of the daughters is just and that they should be given land. The laws of inheritance are then established. Moses is reminded that he will not live to enter the Promised Land. God tells Moses that Joshua is to be the next leader. Moses is told to place his hand upon Joshua, in the sight of all the people and to transfer his authority to Joshua.

Just For You Worship Services in Support of Special Needs™

Saturday, June 15 at 1 pm

Join Temple Emanuel for a warm, inviting, musical and interactive experience! Our Shabbat celebration is designed to be accessible and sensitive to a variety of needs and ages from children to adults. There will be crafts, healthy snacks available and the service will be interpreted into Sign Language. RSVP to Roberta at Roberta@templemanuel.org or (856) 489-0029 x 168.

Tree of Life

Ceil Keim
Chairperson

Just as spring is in full bloom, so is our Tree of Life. Many families from our congregation have shared their simchas with us by purchasing a leaf on our Tree of Life. You can do the same, with a permanent reminder of these special occasions. The purchase of a leaf makes a very thoughtful gift for a wedding, baby naming, bris or birthday.

A leaf can be purchased for $180 (a deposit of $90 must be made to reserve it with the remaining $90 paid within a year). A rock at the base of the tree can be purchased for $500. Please contact Holly Friedman at the Temple office for more information (856) 489-0029 X 118 or holly@templemanuel.org.

Many thanks to Lisa Lanter, the past chairperson, for her work keeping our Tree of Life blooming.

Affinity Program Fundraiser for Temple Emanuel

HOW IT WORKS

- At TD Bank, the growth of non-profit groups and organizations is important. Their success enriches the communities in which we live and work.
- The Affinity Membership Program offers an easy way to raise money for Temple Emanuel
- The more members who bank with TD, the more money Temple Emanuel can earn. There are no costs involved. In fact, it actually pays for you to belong!
- TD Bank will make an annual contribution to Temple Emanuel based on the average balance of your account.

In 2011-2012, we received about $7900.
