THE NEWSLETTER FOR TEMPLE BETH OR

Rabbi's Remarks

Shabbat worship at Temple Beth Or addresses the varied spiritual needs of our adults, families, and children of all ages. Thus, given your feedback, we are delighted to add even more enhancements to our already creative Shabbat worship line-up!

For our youngest members, we are adding a Friday night "MINI-MINYAN" which will blend the traditional aspects of Kabbalat Shabbat (welcoming the Sabbath) with song, dance, games and storytelling. Since Mini-Minyan will be conducted on the fourth Friday of each month, from 5:30 - 6:30 p.m., it will allow participants to stay and share in our already established Pot-Luck Shabbat Festive Meal with the families who arrive for dinner at 6:30 p.m. Then, as usual, our Pot-Luck Shabbat dinner will be followed by our 7:30 p.m. evening Sabbath Service.

On the second Saturday of the month we will initiate TORAH-TOTS.

I, myself, can't wait to lead these special Sabbath morning services for our families and their youngsters from 8:30 - 9:30 a.m. starting in October. The experience will include an interactive service filled with song, stories, dancing around the bima and a Torah reading and skit. We will tear apart a specially themed Chodesh Challah (Challah of the month) for Kiddush and drink grape juice for the kids and more adult beverages for the parents! What a great way to start off our Sabbath morning for all of us.

Finally, we add to our worship lineup on the third Friday of the month with a more varied SYNAPLEX Shabbat experience. Inspired by the modern cinematic Cineplex, where one makes a choice from amidst a wide array of movies, so too we may select not a movie but a Shabbat Evening experience, choosing whichever venue feels the most suited for us! Do you want to meditate and find a spiritual space of relaxation? Would you prefer a lively discussion of the Torah Portion and its relevance in your own life? Would you prefer, instead, that the Shabbat music "take you away"? These will be among the options from which to choose on SYNAPLEX Sabbath. We will, however, gather together as one community and Temple family for Kaddish and Kiddush and an Oneg Shabbat to compare our experiences and share together. We will inform you each month about the themes of these various events. And don't be concerned about scheduling. As always a full Friday Night Service will take place at 7:30 p.m. each week, no matter what precedes or follows it!

May 5771 bring spiritual renewal to us all. We hope to see you at our brand new Mini-Minyan, Torah-Tots and Synaplex Shabbat experiences!

Shalom,

Rabbi Judy Chessin

Join us for Shabbat service at 6:30 p.m. immediately followed by a potluck dinner in the Sukkah. A-H bring a dessert; I-R bring a main dish; S-Z bring a vegetable or salad. Reminder: Your dish should be enough to serve at least 10-12 people.

Yahrzeits and Contributions

Temple's many funds provide a meaningful way to mark the life cycle events we all experience. From a birth to a graduation, from the recovery from an illness to a promotion or marriage, we all experience joy and sadness throughout our lives.

To express your caring and concern, please send your minimum $10 donation per tribute card and the exact wording as you want it to appear on the card to Temple Beth Or.

If you would like your donation noted in The Light for that month, please send it before the 10th of the month.

EDUCATOR'S REMARKS

I am not sure how many of you saw our ad for the school in the Observer and July Light, but it truly was a snapshot into where we are as a school and a Temple. It was tie-dye and had a picture of our own Adam Guadalupe holding a Torah and one of our entire school gathered on the bimah. These two pictures represent what we are trying to accomplish: a personal connection to Torah and a community of dedicated Jews comfortable on our bimah and in Judaism herself. The tie-dye represents the attitude of play and freedom we try to integrate into the school. In my tenth year at Temple Beth Or, I am bearing witness to some amazing events. A new program B'nai Mitzvah Camp on Wednesdays is for our B'nai Mitzvah students to train with our rabbis and cantor and experience their celebration with dedication and communal support. We will also be establishing our weekly high school program and helping each high school student find his or her own path to a Jewish future.

The key to staying connected to Judaism is to realize what a vibrant and multi faceted path it truly encompasses. To us at Temple Beth Or, the journey is one that recognizes the blend of the personal attention each student receives from our dedicated and nurturing staff and the role of our school community in shaping future Jewish leaders.

Fun, excitement, commitment to community, and personal growth all are who we are and who we will continue to be. I can't wait for this year to begin.

Be well,

Rabbi David Burstein

THE DOCTORS ARE IN! (New members in Temple Beth Or, that is!)

Dr. Leesa Kaufman and Dr. Gino Roncallo and family have lived in Centerville for the past three years and they are our newest Temple Beth Or members. Leesa is an Ob/Gyn doctor at Lifestages. After attending the University of Florida, she received her Medical Degree at the University of South Florida in Tampa. Her quick wit, good sense of humor and warm-hearted temperament were some of the characteristics that charmed her husband, Gino, when they met in medical school and continue to do so now. "Oh, and she's very attractive too," he chimes in, as she laughs and insists, "Okay, stop it!"

Gino attended University of Pennsylvania and then received his Medical Degree in Pediatric Medicine at the University of South Florida with a specialty in Adolescent Healthcare. He is presently affiliated with Wright Patterson Air Force Base. According to Leesa, "Gino is a very compassionate person, but he's also a bit goofy." Gino laughs. His smile is wide, warm and gracious.

Gino and Leesa have two children who will be attending Temple Beth Or Kindergarten this year. Jaden likes math and coloring and Mia enjoys sports, reading and writing and both are inquisitive, busy and active five year olds. Their friendly Labrador/Chihuahua mix dog, Kiwi, round out this friendly family.

Our Temple Beth Or Family heartily welcomes the Kaufman-Roncallo family!

GIFT SHOP NEWS

Many thanks to Mimi Villani, who spent long periods this summer helping me sell Gift Shop items on E-Bay rather than tending to her own business needs.

The Gift Shop Committee is looking for members to help run the Gift Shop on Sunday mornings, help with the Hanukkah Bazaar, choose items for purchase and help make policy. If you are a current member and wish to remain on the Committee, please e-mail me, Barbara Gerla, at bugerla@sbcglobal.net. If you wish to join the Committee and are willing to work in the Shop once a month or every six weeks while Religious School is in session, please contact me as well.

The High Holidays are coming up and we have great apple and honey plates. Call Barbara Gerla to make an appointment to see them.

THE CHOIR IS LOOKING FOR A FEW GOOD MEN (AND WOMEN)

WANTED: People who enjoy singing and would like to enhance our worship services.

JOB REQUIREMENTS: Willingness to attend rehearsals and ability to sing on key with a group. We really need men. On-the-job training provided. We really need men. No special musical or Hebrew knowledge needed, although the ability to pronounce the Hebrew "ch" sound is a big plus. We really need men.

WORK SCHEDULE: Two Tuesday rehearsals per month for Shabbat services; weekly rehearsals for special programs as needed. New members may attend as many rehearsals as they like before singing at a service. We sing the first and third Fridays of each month, plus Saturday B'nai Mitzvah.

SALARY: None.

BENEFITS: Opportunity to broaden your knowledge of Jewish music and to add to the beauty of our services; friendly fellow choir members; classy black binder and free choir music; opportunity to see other congregants' faces instead of the backs of their heads; all the Oneg food you can eat.

TO APPLY: Submit college transcripts, SAT scores, and five glowing letters of recommendation. Or call Cantor Dumtschin at 435-3400. Or come to our first post-Holiday rehearsal and dinner in the Sukkah on Tuesday, Sept. 28 at 6:30 p.m.

THANK YOU!

We would like to thank the following people who volunteered to host either an Oneg Shabbat or a Pre-Oneg Reception for September through December, 2010. Your participation makes our Shabbats extra special. Thank you!!

Postcards from Flat Matt*

Dear Temple Beth Or Family:

Hey all. While I am not known for hanging out in museums, the dedication of the New Israeli Museum this past month was pretty cool! When our Temple Beth Or group visited Israel last October, we only got to see two parts of the Museum; the Shrine of the Book and the Temple Model.

The Shrine of the Book houses the Dead Sea Scrolls, and has a roof that is supposed to resemble the jar covers in which the scrolls were discovered (in 1947), but the roof looks like an onion to me! In the center of the Shrine is a replica of the Great Isaiah Scroll (written around 100 B.C.E.). The actual scroll is 1,000 years older than the oldest biblical manuscript available before. Then, we went on to see the 50:1 scale model of the Temple in Jerusalem as it looked in 66 C.E., the year in which the Great Revolt against the Romans broke out and led to the destruction of the Temple and the city. The Temple model was built at the Holy Land Hotel in 1966 but was moved to the Israel Museum campus in 2006.

Now they have finished a three year $1000 million renovation of the museum. The rededication just took place July 27-August 26. The museum is now fully handicap accessible and connects the collection wings for archeology, fine arts, and Jewish art and life. There is a collection of 3,000 year old weapons used by ancient warriors in the Battle of Lachish, just like they are described in the Bible. There is a set of 1.5 million year old bull horns, by far predating the religious account of the earth's creation as only 6,000 years old. There is a reconstruction of a church originally built about 400 years after the time of Jesus which has amazing similarities to a synagogue of the same period reconstructed alongside. And since the Jewish community in Suriname has died out, they sent their entire synagogue, piece by piece to the museum where it has been reconstructed!

Mom, you'd probably like all the modern art and the sculpture gardens designed by the Japanese-American sculptor Isamu Noguchi in the Billy Rose Art Garden. For the rededication, they've added a huge 6-foot tall stainless steel sculpture in the shape of an hourglass specially commissioned for the museum's reopening called "Turning the World Upside Down, Jerusalem." It was made by Indian born artist Anish Kapoor and shows Jerusalem's skies and landscape literally upside down.

The entire month, from July 27 – August 26, they had programs and events, including concerts by famous Israeli musicians, a wine-tasting festival and the museum's 25th annual Kite-Flying Festival! For a museum it wasn't so bad at all.

Talk to you soon!

Love, Flat Matt

HIGH HOLIDAYS

Have Shofar, Will Travel

One of the mitzvot (commandments) of Rosh Hashanah is to hear the blowing of the shofar. For several years, Irwin Dumtschin and other members of the TBO Choir have visited congregants who have been hospitalized, homebound or in long-term care facilities, on Rosh Hashanah, so that they may hear the shofar and sing along with familiar High Holiday melodies. If you know of a congregant who cannot get out on Rosh Hashanah and would appreciate a visit, please contact Cantor Dumtschin.

The Big Picture

Picture this: It is September 15, 1985. The seventy six families of the newly formed Temple Beth Or are anticipating their very first High Holidays in their building and with their rabbi. Imagine the excitement as they put on their holiday clothes and gathered at family tables for a special Erev Rosh Hashanah dinner. How rewarding it must have been for the founders and volunteers to attend services that evening when over 200 people poured into the sanctuary. What a wonderful start to the new year!

This year we will celebrate the anniversary of those first High Holiday services in a very special way. We are planning a special picture taking event. The congregation will gather in the parking lot after the morning services of Rosh Hashanah on September 9 for a photograph. For this picture, we will shape ourselves into a "25." We hope that everyone from both our morning service and our family and youth interaction service will be in the big picture

Tashlich

Tashlich (literally, "you shall cast") is a Rosh Hashanah custom in which people symbolically rid themselves of sins by casting breadcrumbs into a body of water, preferably a live body of water with fish. Usually this is accompanied by the recitation of scriptural verses, including Micah 7:18-20. Micah 7:19 states, "You will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea."

Little is known about the origin of the ceremony, but we know it was practiced as early as the 15th century. In some communities, the ceremony is done at cisterns; in others, it is done by shaking out one's pockets. The important symbolism the same: we want to enter the new year with a clean slate, casting away our transgressions and bad habits. It's also refreshing to be outdoors in God's natural creation after spending much of the day inside the synagogue.

This year's Tashlich observance will be held at 3:00 on Rosh Hashanah afternoon (Sept. 9) at Grant Park in Washington Township. The site is level and is easily accessible from Grant's Trail, which intersects with both Paragon and Alex Bell Roads. A playground is adjacent to the creek and all ages are welcome. After symbolically casting away our sins, we'll enjoy apple cider and other treats. Maps will be available at Rosh Hashanah services.

HIGH HOLIDAYS

Why is Rosh Hashanah so EARLY this year?

Actually, Jewish holidays occur on the same day every year: the same day on the Jewish calendar! Rosh Hashanah is the 1st day of the Hebrew month Tishri, which this year falls on September 8,9. The Jewish calendar has a different number of days than the calendar we use because the Jewish calendar is based upon the cycle of the moon, rather than the sun. The Jewish calendar loses about 11 days relative to the solar calendar every year, but makes up for it by adding a month every two or three years. We will add the leap month of Adar this Spring. However, in mean time the High Holy Days fall in early September and be ready, because Hanukkah falls on December 1!

ONEG SHANAH

On Rosh Hashanah eve, Wednesday, September 8, we will have our first Oneg Shanah (celebration of the New Year) in our brand new Levin Hall! The reception is sponsored by the congregation, and we are asking our members to bring food items (cake, cookies, fruit, cheese platters, drinks, etc) which can be brought to the Temple prior to the service. Please notify Leslie (434-3500 or tbo@bizwoh.rr.com) to indicate what you are bringing. Many thanks. Let us ring in 5771 together!

Rosh Hashanah Luncheon

Once again we will offer a boxed lunch to families who would like to dine together for Rosh Hashanah lunch! We will offer turkey, tuna or egg salad wraps with apples and honey, drinks and desserts for $10.00 a box. Reservations are required. Please fill out the form within the Light and send it in by September 3 to Temple Beth Or.

Adult Events

Tanach Study

Come meet with adults as we continue our 16-year journey navigating the Bible verse by verse. It is always a fascinating discussion and no prior experience is necessary. We are currently exploring the Historical Book of II Kings, and it is simply fascinating to learn the history of the Kingdom of Israel! Please join us for a potluck breakfast and learning in Levin Hall. Gather your breakfast at 10:30 a.m., and text study will commence at 11:00 - 12:30 on Sunday, September 12 and 26, October 10 and 24, November 7 and 21, December 12, 2010.

TBO Sunday Morning

Parent Havurah: "Jews in Schools". We are getting together and having a round table discussion on how to best pave the way for Jewish children who attend secular schools. How do we introduce teachers, classrooms, administrations to what they need to know about 'things Jewish'. i.e. Jewish holidays, life cycle events, temple life, etc. What has worked for you and your child? With what you do you still struggle? By sharing our questions and our answers we will be a source of strength to one another and our children. We invite interested parents from all of Dayton's synagogues.

Sunday, Oct. 3, 10:00 a.m. Temple Beth Or Levin Hall

TBO Big Read

We will be discussing Sara's Key by Tatiana de Rosnay, a novel based on the 1942 roundup and deportation of French Jews. Date will be announced in "PLAN IT."
