AFTER LITTLETON, WHAT?

It is over a month now since the tragic events of Littleton, but questions still remain. Will we once again "round up the usual suspects," form committees and go on with our lives? Or will something fundamentally change so as to diminish the possibility that others will die as they did, and thus, in some way, bring some meaning to their deaths?

What happened in that little town of Littleton touched the heart of America, at least white suburban America. I imagine those who live in many of America's urban cities look at these pictures of teens shooting teens and say, "What else is new? Black youths have been dying for years, and yet there are no nationally televised memorial services, no renewed calls for gun control, no national mea cuplas."

What touches us and frightens us about Littleton is that we cannot explain it—at least not well enough to convince ourselves that we and our children are secure from whatever it was that brought this about.

One of the things that struck me about the two killers was their painful sense of "otherness." The importance of this concern was brought home to me when I attended a presentation at Morristown High School on the issue of teens and drugs. In a very moving presentation, a number of teens and their parents—people not too different than you or me—told their stories. Most of the teens had begun use of illegal drugs—some starting with cigarettes and moving on from there—by the age of 13. And why did they begin? One after another, they told the story of being lonely, looking for friends who would like them as they are. Unfortunately, the price of acceptance was entrance into a world of deceit and self-destruction.

Just as, for the murderers of Littleton, their sense of otherness led them into a world of hate and wanton killing.

There is so much more to say, yet quick and easy solutions elude us. The safety-nets we set down for ourselves have too many gaps; and to close them all demands more time, more understanding, and more sacrifice than we currently have or are willing to give.

Let's start with us, in our own hearts, in our own homes, in our own Littletown. Let's start by talking to our children (and ourselves) about how they (we) treat those not in their (our) particular group. Let's start by keeping a watchful eye on our children's activities and their friends, especially when they are at an age when we feel we can have little or no control over them. Let's start by demanding social responsibility in the media. Let's start by admitting that there ARE too many guns out there and that they are too accessible to our youth. Let's start by giving our local authorities the resources they need to do their difficult job the best that they possibly can.

And let's start by resensitizing ourselves to the admittedly overwhelming hatred, senseless violence and neglect in our society that takes countless lives every day, in all the big and little towns in America.

As we are taught in Pirkay Avot —Ethics of the Fathers, "Ours' may not be to complete the task, but neither may we desist from it."

Rabbi Don Rossoff

P.S. Many thanks to our outgoing Board of Trustees and all those who helped to make this year so exciting, productive and fulfilling. Special thanks to outgoing president Phyllis Feinblum. Phyllis enriched the Temple with her own sensitivities, visions and deep Jewish sense. It has been a true joy working with her. Mazel Tov to our new Board and incoming President, Linda Haan. Linda brings to that office her experiences and insights from the business world, combined with a very special devotion to Temple. I look forward to another great year ahead!

Above BOARD

These are some of the highlights from our Board meetings in April and May.

▲ Rabbi Rossoff commented that the weekend with Dr. Michael Cook was wonderful. Dr. Cook addressed our adult congregants, the 7th grade religious school students as well as many members of the community..

▲..Phil Kaufman reported that the budget is being worked on and there is not anything too dramatic to report on.

▲ Connie Rubin moved that $500 be donated from the Tzedekah Fund to UJA MetroWest to go to the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee for Kosovo Refugee Relief. Motion was seconded and unanimously adopted.

▲ Rabbi Rossoff reported we will have a student rabbi working with us for the coming year. Her name is Elizabeth Goldstein and she is a fourth year Rabbinical student at HUC in New York.

▲ Sari Hassanein reported that our Rio Clemente fundraiser was a tremendous success. We sold over 300 tickets and had a very successful silent auction. Sari and Neva Stiller were recognized for all their hard work.

▲ Rabbi Rossoff mentioned that we will be celebrating our 45th anniversary on Friday June 18th with a Shabbat dinner followed by a Shabbat service.

Presidential Reflections

This is my last column as your Temple President. During the past two years we have seen a large number of changes: growth in membership; new activities and programs; completion of Phase I of our Samuel Hollander Garden; initiation of our Learn and Lead Program; the beginning of our Long Range Planning Process; the hiring of a rabbinic intern, Elizabeth Goldstein, who will start in September. In addition we have received grants for ecological programming and our Senior Project.

As I retire from office I wish to express my gratitude and thanks to all who have been there to help and to guide me. Without each of you this congregation couldn't be what it is today.

To Rabbi Rossoff, I wish to express my thanks for the wisdom, guidance and leadership you have given not only to me, but to our entire congregation. Your endless devotion to this congregation truly enhances the sense of community, caring and sensitivity expressed and felt within our Temple family. May you serve us for many years to come!

To Cantor Benson, not only do you bring us wonderful music, your wit and your humor, but you have truly transformed our Senior Youth group. How wonderful to see the positive involvement of our teens both in youth group and in the community!

Thank you to my Executive Board and the Board of Trustees. Your concern for Temple, your energy, dedication and ideas have all influenced what Temple is today, and what it will be in the years to come. This month we celebrate our 45th anniversary. Know that you are each a vital part of our history!

I also wish to thank the people who interact with our congregational family and our community daily. It is your warmth, caring and devotion that make us the "warm Reform congregation in the heart of Morristown": Secretaries Margaret Murray and Doris Hofman; bookkeeper, Michael Prianti; maintenance staff Dennis Cronk, Bill O'Connell, and Juan Dominguez, and Albert Cronk. They are led by Amy Mallor who has only been here 11 months, but whose leadership qualities, organizational skills, ideas, warmth and caring have been shining from the start.

In our Religious School, David Iskovitz and our religious school staff have had another outstanding year. It is wonderful to see the smiles on our children's faces as they enter and leave the building. Not only are they happy, but they are learning too! They are our future leaders, and what a wonderful school in which we are setting the foundation!

Dee Cohen and her staff continue to make our Nursery School most successful. We have outstanding teachers and programs. The energy and enthusiasm are contagious!

Then there are the committee chair persons, committee members and office volunteers who are not members of the Temple Board and who are not publicly recognized for their work, but without whom we could not keep the wheels of Temple humming smoothly. To each of you I offer my sincerest thanks.

As I pass the gavel, I offer a warm Mazel Tov to our incoming President Linda Haan. She has been active in Temple for many years, serving both as a Trustee and a Vice President. I am sure that there will be many new undertakings during her term. I wish her my congratulations and your support.

It has been my honor and pleasure to serve as your President!

was placed where they requested. Each event and activity was successful and we have received many thank you letters some of which we have highlighted in an insert.

Dr. Michael Cook was our Scholar-in-Residence this year. Dr. Cook was quite informative and gave us an overview of Judeo Christian relations in different areas of our lives.

The Senior Youth Group led by Cantor Benson created a service for Yom HaShoah. Many of the readings were selected by members of the Senior Youth Group. Their service continued to reinforce the importance of never forgetting the six million.

MAY

The Renaissance Group led by Dick Raffman, conducted a Friday night Shabbat service. It was wonderful to see the many people who participated in the readings and blessings.

Our Annual Fundraiser was held and co-chairs Sari Hassanein and Neva Stiller did a fabulous job in planning, organizing and arranging the evening. Jazz pianist Rio Clemente performed and, according to the critics, this was one of his best performances. Over 300 tickets were sold and we raised much more than we had projected. (That's always nice!) The crowd was anxiously waiting to enter the Sanctuary and thanks to Rabbi Rossoff's suggestions and announcements regarding the evening's procedures the anxious crowd quickly became a much calmer crowd.

JUNE

"Two major events" that have not yet happened. Men's Club and Sisterhood are planning a picnic on June 6th. It should be a fun day filled with food and games. Be sure to make your chili and participate in the Chili Cook-off contest.

Our 45th anniversary is on June 18th. Come join us for Shabbat dinner and service. RSVP to the Temple office for both of these events.

(Plan to be at both or one of them!)

Wow! To sum up our major events of the 5759 year they have been great! I hope that our new year 5760 brings us increased participation in committees and in our "major events." Rest up, enjoy the summer, and we'll see you soon!

Social Action News

Many warm thanks to Wendy and Gordon Keil for their generous donation of paper goods to the Housing the Homeless project.

Through their kindness, we now have enough napkins, plates, cups and tablecloths to take us well past the next millennium.

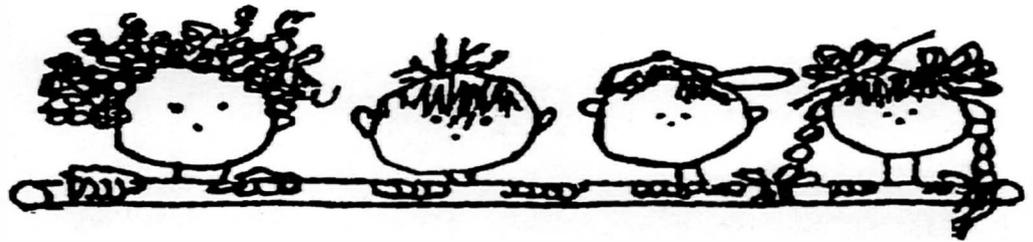

The next hosting project will be from June 27th to July 11th.

Here is a brief outline of jobs you might volunteer for:

- ▲ Bring dinner and help serve it. Eat with the guests.
- ▲ Bring food supplies for breakfast or lunch.
- ▲ Be an evening host for a couple of hours.
- ▲ Be a driver
- ▲ Be a daytime host for a few hours (You may get a chance to catch up on some reading).
- ▲ Be an overnight host.

Many of these jobs can be done as a family; students at B'nai Or have traditionally found these jobs rewarding as well as fun.

Please call Ann Cohen at 973-984-5379 or Marilyn Kustoff at 973-895-5182 for more information, or to volunteer.

Nursery School

The debate continues... What is more important, "quality time" or "quantity time?" Parents claim they can spend less actual hours with their children if those hours are spent focused exclusively on the children. Parents who come home at dinnertime—or later, theoretically hire someone to handle daytime childcare and housekeeping and can devote those few precious hours to the family. Therefore, it's better than having more time with children but using that time to do the mundane chores that "non-working" parents do—whether the children are around or not. What the parents do or think the rest of the day doesn't really matter. Quality time, perhaps, but not quantity. Focus, but no real living interaction and not a role model for real life. Parenting in a time slot has its problems. Do these parents really get to know the children? Do the children really get to know the parents?

There are parents who spend a lot of time at home. Dad watches TV, mows the lawn, reads the papers and surfs the net. Mom talks on the phone, spends lots of time in the kitchen, does endless laundry and keeps everyone tidy. The parents are around many hours of each day, but hardly ever sit down with the children, read with them or chat with them. When friends come over, the children play in the playroom or outside. The children are sent upstairs to do homework. When it's done, they watch some TV and then it's off to bed. Quantity without quality. Do these parents get to know the children? Do the children get to know the parents?

Look back at your childhood. Put your family into the picture. What were the quality vs quantity experiences? What had an impact? Did you have a good, open relationship with parents and siblings? Could you talk? Did you? When parents were around, what kind of example did they set? Did you learn your values from their behavior? Does it leave you smiling or sad?

What ideals do you have for your children? And what is your reality? Do your children see you as breadwinners who provide basic physical needs, discipline and transportation for the family? Or do they see you as loving role models, who enable the family to learn, love, share and grow together as a family in addition to being a nurturing nest for the next generation? How do you spend time with your family? Do you really know each family member, their needs, their ideas, their wants, and their dreams? Yes, there are many distractions in your life. But what is your most important responsibility now?

In a few short years, before you know it, you'll have plenty of time to read that paper, watch that TV show and talk on the phone or surf the net. You'll have lots of time to stay late at the office and go on vacation. The children will be all grown up, off on their own, busy with work and coming home too late to have dinner with their kids or help them with homework. Or they'll be too tired to play ball or too busy on the Internet or too involved in their own lives to worry about the kids' friends and their pastimes.

Sit down with your spouse. Talk, really talk, about what kind of parents you want to be. What are your priorities? Where are you now in this picture and where do you want to be. How can you work together to get there? Your children are depending on the results of this conversation for their future. Don't let them down! You must give 100% to being the best parent you can be. Now is the time. That's 50% of the equation. The other 50% is luck. That you have no control over. I wish you good luck, too.

Dee Cohen, Director

Temple B'nai Or Religious School

It is taught that when Moses comes down from Mount Sinai and speaks to the six hundred thousand Jews listening for first time to the statutes and ordinances that will become the laws of our people, they shouted in unison "we will do and we will listen."

We as a nation clearly understand that Judaism had to be practiced. It is not sufficient to learn about our heritage—it is "doing" that is required and from which we will understand our Judaism.

Now that our Religious School is over for this year and our children have spent nine months learning about Judaism, we cannot afford to take a four month hiatus from practicing what they learned. During the slower paced months of summer, we know that our children need to live Jewishly. Praying, making Shabbat, celebrating life cycle events, giving Tzedakah, studying Torah and Hebrew, are just a small sample of the efforts we need to support for our children in order for them to find meaning in being a Jew. Judaism cannot afford to take a summer vacation. For our students to find meaning in our religion—"practice" will make perfect.

Parents are reminded to register their children in the Religious School at this time. We are hiring staff, forming classes, and preparing programs for the upcoming year NOW. Your early registration will ensure that we are properly staffed and that student placement reflects the class environment each child will benefit most from. Please don't delay.

I wish everyone a safe, healthy, happy, restful and fun-filled summer.

David Iskovitz

BAGELS AND TORAH

Plan to join us for bagels, coffee and to learn Torah with Rabbi Rossoff. This month "Bagels and Torah" will meet at 9:15 a.m. on Saturday morning, June 5th.

June 5, 1999/ 21 Sivan 5759

We will be discussing the Torah portion of the week:

Shelah: Numbers 13:1-15:41

B'nai Or Book Club Update

The Temple B'nai Or Book Club meeting will be held on Sunday, June 13th at 8 p.m. Our Book Club members meet with Rabbi Rossoff on a bi-monthly schedule to discuss contemporary works of fiction and non-fiction of Jewish interest.

The book to be reviewed at our meeting on June 13th is Gift of the Jews by Thomas Cahill. The meeting will be held at the home of Shari and Stephen Leviss, 65 Lake Drive, Mountain Lakes.

We will review Kaddish by Leon Wieseltier at our first meeting in the Fall.

RSVP to the Temple no later than June 7th.

Hospital Stays

Please notify Temple of hospital stays. Most hospitals, including Morristown Memorial, are no longer automatically notifying congregations concerning hospitalized congregants. We, therefore, ask you to let the Temple office know when you or a family member are in the hospital. It is the only way we have of knowing and responding.

Jewish Singles Directory

An exciting way for Jewish Singles over the age of 21 throughout New Jersey and upstate New York to meet one another. This introductory network enables Jewish Singles to meet each other in a non-threatening, mutually agreeable fashion. For more information, call the Union of American Hebrew Congregations at 201-722-9090.

USE $CRIP!

Just a reminder! When you use $CRIP you are supporting Temple's many programs and services. For each $1 of food purchased with $CRIP, the Temple is given $.05. If a family spends $400 per month on food, paper goods, wine, etc., and purchases it with $CRIP, the Temple would receive $20. Spending at that level each month, over a year's time, would generate $240 per family. If a large portion of our congregation participated, the Temple could easily raise more than $40,000 annually. $CRIP is available for shopping at Kings, Foodtown, ShopRite, AND Edwards Super Food Stores.

Call Neva Stiller at 973-326-8910 or the Temple Office at 973-539-4539 to place your $crip order.

Renaissance Times

Our RENAISSANCE GROUP provides an oasis for those having leisure time to cultivate new friendships and renew old ones. We promote educational, cultural, and entertaining programs that are of interest to all participants.

What better way is there to end our 1998/1999 season, than to participate in our final Brunch at the Temple when we celebrate our 10th anniversary. George Newell's Combo will play our "kind of music" for listening and dancing. Cost of the Brunch is $10 per person. So remember the date: June 13, 1999, starting at 9 a.m. at our Temple Social Hall.

Reservations are a must!

Sign up by calling Dick Raffman at 973-377-4566, or Pat Tolkoff at 973-539-2827.

We wish you all a pleasant and healthy summer!

Pat Tolkoff

BOFTY NEWS

Thanks so much to EVERYONE who helped make it a great year for B'nai Or Federation of Temple Youth! # High Holy Day Child Care Information

For your convenience, child care will be provided at the EREV ROSH HASHANAH SERVICE, ROSH HASHANAH (LATE MORNING SERVICE), EARLY KOL NIDRE SERVICE and LATE MORNING YOM KIPPUR SERVICE. In order to provide adequate child care, we must know which services and the number of children in your family requiring child care. A nominal fee of $10 per child/per service will help offset the cost of the caregivers. Please note on this request form which services and the number of children (only under 4th grade) requiring childcare. This form must be completed and returned to Temple as soon as possible.

ROSH HASHANAH DAY:

There will be NO child care for the 9:00 a.m. morning adult service. However, children under 4th grade will be admitted. There will be child care for the 12 Noon Late Morning Service for children in Grades 3 and younger. Infants and children under grade 4 will not be admitted to the Late Service. Please make plans to bring children to our Family Service on Rosh Hashanah afternoon at 3 p.m.

YOM KIPPUR DAY:

There will be NO child care for the Early Morning Yom Kippur Service. However, there will be Children's Services and activities for children age 3 through Grade 3 during the early morning service ONLY. There will be child care for 12 Noon Late Morning Yom Kippur Service for children in Grades 3 and younger. Again, infants and children under grade 4 will not be admitted to the Late Service. Children in child care will be brought to the Sanctuary to join their families (please look for them at the glass doors leading into the Sanctuary) for Havdalah and the final blowing of the Shofar.

MITZVAH DAY THANKS

Our thanks to Caren Frankel, Frank Weitzman, and the Mitzvah Day volunteers and all their hard work.

Here's what the Community is saying about us and Mitzvah Day...

Thank you for your support of the Interfaith Food Pantry. Your recent donation of 45 bags of food and $224 really helps us to continue to provide emergency and supplemental food for those in need in Morris County.

People like you, through your donations, help us to insure that the least fortunate of our neighbors receive the simple justice of having enough to eat. Thanks again.

—Interfaith Food Pantry

Thank you so much for all the wonderful toys and games that your congregation donated to The Valerie Fund. It was so thoughtful of you to think of us. Some of the toys will be given to our centers for their "toy closet" and some will be kept for the holiday parties.

Again, thank you for thinking of children with cancer and blood disorders, and for bringing smiles to some children who might be having a hard time dealing with their treatment. Sometimes picking out a toy before their "chemo" helps them face their ordeal a little easier.

—The Valerie Fund

I would like to thank you so very much for the swim party. Our children who attended had an absolutely wonderful time! They didn't want to get out of the pool. It was a lovely party and the volunteers were so nice to our children.

Please thank them for us. Once again, thank you for a wonderful day! We really appreciate your kindness.

—Big Brothers Big Sisters of America

I am writing this letter to say that it was a pleasure to meet you and to work with such an energetic group as yours. You should be very proud of your congregation. Your congregation is one of the hardest working groups of volunteers that I have had the pleasure of directing. They worked well together and in family groups. I enjoyed seeing the children and parents working as a team.

Your congregation honored your Mitzvah Day. Their actions were truly worthy deeds.

—United States Department of Agriculture
Natural Resources Conservation Service

Hardest congratulations ! You've done it again! Every single one of the blind/visually-impaired ladies had the time of their life with you on Sunday. You treat them with such respect and affection; it makes them feel very special. Thanks a million for your thoughtfulness.

—Family Service of Morris County
