From the Rabbi...

Joy

7:00 PM Yom Kippur. The final service of the day begins, making us about one hour from food, water, and our wonderful annual schmooze-fest. Ordinarily, a congregation limps over the finish line, fixated on beverage and food. (Close the Gates, already. We're hungry!)

If you were among the worshipers at TEMV, however, you remember an entirely different last hour of Yom Kippur. Ours brimmed with lively singing, clapping (!), and amazement over Cantor Sparr's sparkling pyrotechnics. Digging deep inside past hunger and weariness, we rediscovered our capacity for spirited enjoyment and delight, even on a so-called empty tank. Joy was everywhere in the room.

8:00 PM, we celebrated havdalah in the cozy darkness. A single flame leapt atop a single tall, braided candle. Dy, dy, dy-dy-dy-dy-dy-dy.... The whole sanctuary swayed to the rhythm. It was better than that first taste of food, though, indeed, the next great joy was that first taste of –I think Devora's--bread pudding.

Judaism teaches us that when we reach deep inside for more strength, joy is there as well. It leaks out and spreads all around.

Before we have time to catch our communal breath, the sukkah is raised—thank you David E. and friends! Though it is an absurd little dwelling with no door and holes in the roof, we are commanded to “live” in it: eat, study, pray, and shake shake shake the lulav. Looking up through the skak, the corn stalks which make up the ceiling along with the stars, we are reminded that our best efforts as humans are frail and temporary. Our lives are better off in God's hands, which are firm an ever present. The perilousness and the security, recited blessings in the rain, all this brings a quiet, peaceful security.

Our tradition teaches us that joy is not about having everything. It is learning that we are a part of Everything.

After camping a week in the sukkah, Simhat Torah comes as a challenge and a quandary. How are we supposed to lift the heavy, unwieldy, most precious and fragile sacred object and dance? There is such meaning and joy in this insanity, but you have to really do it to even begin to get it.

Now it is the month after the Yamim Noraim. How do we keep the depth and joy? How do we stay connected to those profound places inside us? What will make us reach that reservoir deep inside, of strength and calm and energy?

As they say in the Talmud, Come and hear:

-----Any Shabbat is greater than Rosh Hashanah.
(So keep the Shabbat)

Come join us.

We can be just as profound but much less formal....

-----The created world is here all the time
(As is the Creator)

The one who trusts in YHVH
Will be surrounded by loving-kindness (hesed)
Psalms 32:10

Your thoughts determine you reality...
Therefore, absorb yourself in thoughts of God,

President's Message

In this house, in this house... It all comes together in this house...of God

"In This House" by Beth Schafer

For me, this beautiful song that we sung at our Yom Kippur morning service, sums up so much of this year's High Holy Days at Temple Emanuel.

In this house beats the heart of a family...working together for weeks ahead to help our services seem effortless, beautiful and meaningful to all. Linda Gilmore coordinated the Sunrise Service on Plum Island. Ivy Helman and Stephanie Karakantas coordinated the Yitzkor list readers, the readers for the Yom Kippur afternoon service, the music, the childcare, the flowers and with Annette Wilensky, the Break Fast...from set up to clean-up. Alix Epstein coordinated the many honors throughout the Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur services; Shirley Papp coordinated our greeters, who she thanks later in this bulletin; and Phebe Rand created the program and the Book of Remembrance.

In this house is the center of a community...of caring people who helped prepare food for the Rosh Hashanah Kiddush and the Yom Kippur Break Fast, and who spontaneously stepped up to help others and to fill in where there was a need.

We study and we pray, find meaning in each day... some by having the honor of opening and closing the ark, undressing and dressing the Torah, doing an aliyah, reading a Torah portion, or carrying the Torahs around the sanctuary for all to have an opportunity to kiss.

In this house, in this house, in this house...the members of the Board of Trustees worked endlessly to help ensure that our house was in pristine condition; they had visible presence when greeting people entering our synagogue, and not so visible tasks like cleaning up after everyone else had left the building and setting up the chairs in the sanctuary for the next service.

In this house is a spark of God's creation... Nancy Rovin, Susan Bishov and Nora Schuetze shared their beautiful gifts of music, which helped move us into prayerful and meditative places during the services.

In this house there is joy and celebration... Rahel led services, stories and songs to our own little sparks of God's creation--the children of TEMV.

In this house we can shelter, we can clothe and feed. In this house there is always help for those in need... Frank Baskin coordinated the Rosh Hashanah Kiddush and the food donations for Mobile Pantry both of which so many people contributed.

A stranger makes a friend, becomes inspired again... Some people returned to TEMV, some people found TEMV for the first time. There were joyful greetings, warm welcomes, embraces, and meaningful conversations.

A house of study... On Rosh Hashanah, Rabbi Rose guided us from the past to the present to help us better embrace our place as Jews in Lowell's history. By contemporizing the story of Job she also helped us understand the importance of TEMV's contribution in today's interfaith dialogue and celebration. On Yom Kippur our rabbi spoke of transgender people, whose oppression is invisible to many. We can spread our bread on the water, and make real and meaningful atonement together at TEMV, by developing new and creative ways that help affirm and advocate for the lives of others.

A house of prayer... Cantor Sparr brought depth and quality to the High Holy Days liturgy with her talent, beautiful voice, music and songs. The rabbi and cantor both brought new meaning to old favorite songs as they led us through our services with deep grace, flawless timing...and when needed, a humbling sense of humor.

A house of gathering from everywhere... As eclectic as we are at TEMV...

Day by day, week by week, month by month, the Board and I are excited and honored to work with you, as...It all comes together in this house ...of God.

Lisa

Hebrew Teacher Needed . . .

. . . to teach beginning Hebrew to adults. It'll be both meaningful and fun. Let Rabbi Rose know if you are interested.

Volunteers on hand for the Sukkah building: Shirley, Art, Vivan and David pictured. Other volunteers not in the photo were Sheldon, Phebe, Vivian's friend Bill, and Laurie.

Donations

Into every life come times of both gladness and sadness, such as the birth of a child, the death of a loved one, coming of age, recovery from illness, or a wedding. This is a cycle that constantly renews. The pages of the book of life are full of these pivotal moments.

At times you may wish to especially commemorate one of these events. One way to do so is to give near to home, to the Temple you hold dear, which shelters your family and the community. If you'd like to give, and at your option, to share your life event, please send your donation to the Temple, in care of our Treasurer. Please tell us the event and anyone who should be made aware of the donation. With your blessing, we will be happy to include the donation in the bulletin.

If you wish, the donation can be directed to a specific use.

Ritual Committee News

A sincere and heartfelt thank you to all on the ritual committee and in the larger temple community who helped us create and foster meaningful and moving services in such a welcoming environment for the High Holy Days. Our words cannot express our deepest gratitude for all your help and contributions. We'd like to offer a special thank-you to Rabbi Dawn Rose and Cantor Rob-in Sparr for the wonderful services they led for us.

Thanks again everyone for making the High Holy Days at TEMV truly inspiring.

High Holy Days Feedback

We would welcome any constructive feedback or comments about your experiences at TEMV during the High Holy Days as we try to make them as meaningful as possible for everyone in our community, friends and members alike. Please email your ritual co-chairs, Ivy and Stephanie, at oneg@temv.org.

Oneg as easy as 1, 2, 3...

1. Sign-up now for two dates.
2. Food. We recommend that each Oneg sponsor/family bring two to three simple items such as fruit, cheese and crackers or a homemade sweet. Don't forget the Challah (They can be found at the Rt. 110 Stop 'n' Shop in Chelmsford)!
3. Arrive early to set-up and stay a few minutes after to clean up.

We still need Oneg sponsors for December and January. There are also many openings in the spring. Please email Stephanie and Ivy at oneg@temv.org to sign-up.

Simple Oneg Ideas: The Recipe Corner.

We all know that hosting an Oneg can feel overwhelming but it doesn't have to be! We have developed a new section in the bulletin that has simple Oneg recipes if you want to be a bit adventurous. None of these recipes take more than a few minutes to make and only require a few simple ingredients you probably have at home already. (If you have a recipe idea you'd like to share, email us at oneg@temv.org and we'll include it in the recipe corner of next month's bulletin).

These two actually come from Ivy's mother, Jean. They are her suggestions for cream cheese two ways: sweet and savory.

Olive Cream Cheese Spread

One 8oz package of cream cheese

3 T. Sliced green olives

3 T. Sliced black olives

1 clove of garlic, minced

A dash of Tabasco sauce

Let cream cheese soften to workable consistency. Add all ingredients to a bowl and combine. Serve with crackers or on bagels. You can also add more or less olives according to taste. If you want a finer spread, mince the olives as well as the garlic.

Easy Carmel Cream Cheese Dip

Ingredients:

One 8oz package of cream cheese

1/4 c white sugar

3/4 c brown sugar

2 tsp. vanilla extract

Let cream cheese soften to workable consistency. Add all items to a medium sized bowl and combine with hand mixer or (for more of a workout) a wooden spoon. Serve with sliced apples.

Religious School Corner

Sunday marked the first day of a brand new school year at TEMV, which coincidentally, lots of firsts:

- 1) It was my first day as Principal. I loved it! The teachers worked collaboratively to make sure all the students were engaged and happy throughout the day.
- 2) It was the first time we rolled out a model of inviting the parents in for breakfast at 9:30, where they learned about the teaching plan for the day and the family assignment for the week. They were also treated to a min-lesson on Sukkot by our very own teacher, Dr. Ivy Helman.
- 3) For the first time, we're developing a curriculum around Torah parshot. All topics (Torah, Judaism and Hebrew) will relate to each other around that theme.
- 4) It was also the first time this year that our students enjoyed their snack and a lesson in the sukkah
- 5) For the first time, Paris joined us as a teacher assistant. Toni helped out as well.
- 6) And last, but not least, it was the first of many music lessons that Rahel will be teaching to Aleph through B'nei Mitzvah classes. She will join us monthly in this role.

Our new Sunday School model is reminiscent of the old one-room school house. We can take advantage of our size and use our older students to model behavior and knowledge acquisition for the younger ones. An additional advantage is that each teacher will take the lead on a topic (Torah, Judaism, Hebrew) and other teachers will help to guide the students' learning and monitor their behavior.

We look forward to this exciting new year and to connecting to parents on a regular basis.

L' Shana Tova!!!
Ms. Jane

MISSING FROM THE TEMPLE

Social Action Update

High Holiday Mobile Food Collection

We contributed many bags of people food and, for the first time, pet food/supplies all for those who are home-bound.

I can give you a count of how much it all weighed later.

Thank you all.

Regular Mobile Food Collection

We can continue to contribute food thru the year. Please leave your contributions (for people and their pets) in the box in the lobby.

Thank you, Shirley and Chip Papp, for your leadership.

Lunch Assembly

The first one will be on Sunday November 24 (prior to Thanksgiving).

Please bring in the following:

- Boxes of Granola Bars
- Jars of Water
- Jars of Jelly
- Jars of Peanut Butter

Nutrition project at the Saints campus of Lowell General Hospital

We will soon be re-starting this project. Look for an article with more information in this issue of the Bulletin. Michelle Vlamis is providing leadership for this effort.

Social Action Sabbath

We are looking forward to a Sabbath service where we will examine some family issues. There will be more information later.

Mitzvah Day

The School will have some social action activities on a Sunday in December. Students, families, and other adults are encouraged to attend and to participate. There will be more information later.

Thank you,
Frank Baskin

Thank you to our adult volunteers, from work opportunities and their supervisor Dawn for their help in setting up and putting away the chairs and books for the High Holidays.

Deepest condolences to Mindy Dopler-Nelson and her family upon the passing of Mindy's father in law, Charles Nelson on September 12, 2013. Please keep Mindy and her family in your thoughts and prayers. Memorial services to be planned later.

High Holiday Kiddush

Thank you to all who provided food and volunteered to set up or to work at the Kiddush.

- It looks like anyone who wanted to get to Taslich was able to do so.
- We had enough food for the Kiddush and some left over for Devora to make goodies for the break fast.
- We also provided some food for the Children's services

Thanks again and L'Shanah Tova.

First Film of the Year

The Last Morranos

Sunday, Dec 8 at 10:30 am

Introduction and discussion with Marjorie Short

During the reign of Spanish rulers, Ferdinand and Isabella, it was decided in 1492 to expel the Jews first from Spain and then from Portugal, otherwise Jews were forced to convert to Christianity. Those who remained secretly practiced a form of hybrid Judaism saying Jewish prayers at home but attending Catholic services. They were very secretive and when discovered in the 1990's it was difficult to get anyone to talk. This dramatic film captures what remains of Judaism there by interviewing some of the remaining families. A brief introduction prior to the film followed by Question and Answers and an update of what has happened to the town now.

Marjorie is a retired Professor of Middlesex Community College, member of the Jewish Heritage Society of the North Shore and The Jewish Genealogy Society of Greater Boston. She is a frequent speaker on selected early Jewish topics.

The National Center for Jewish Film, Waltham, MA, 1990
