Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, the American Jewish Committee's national director of Interreligious Affairs, will be guest speaker at a cocktail reception of the Sarasota division of the American Jewish Committee at 4 p.m. today.

The event will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sudakoff, according to the announcement by Mrs. Anita Katzman, chairperson.

Rabbi Tanenbaum is said to be recognized internationally as the "American Jewish Community's foremost apostle to the Gentiles". He will speak on the continuing and growing relationships between Christians and Jews in American life.

The Rabbi will inaugurate the Jewish Committee's Milton Weill Human Relations Award. Milton Weill, a nationally known communal leader, was chairman of the AJC's board of governors, the 14th president of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of New York, and a leader in Columbia University
