One Syms Way
Secaucus, NJ 07094

Dear Marcy, Robert, Richard and Laura:

With profound sadness, on behalf of my colleagues and myself, I would like to express my condolences to you and your family upon the passing of your beloved father, Mr. Sy Syms, Of Blessed Memory.

Mr. Syms was a special man with a special heart, a dear friend and supporter of our organization for almost 30 years. He was a person who dedicated his life to Jewish philanthropy and the Jewish Nation, and he will be sorely missed.

Although it is of course very difficult losing a loved one, may the memories you and your family shared with your dear father bring you comfort and solace during this difficult time.

May G-d console you and your family among the mourners of Zion and Jerusalem, and bless you and your family with many years of good health and happy occasions.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Syms:

marcy

I was so terribly sorry to hear of the recent death of your father, Sy Syms. Having recently lost my husband, I understand all too well the pain and grief that comes from losing a close family member. You have my deepest sympathies for your loss.

Your father was an extraordinary man. He created an extremely successful business that filled a niche and served as a model for others. He made a significant contribution to the City of New York through his business acumen, his leadership, and his philanthropy. I have known you and knew your brother for many years, and I know that your father must have been very proud of you both and all that you achieved. We have all lost a good friend and source of inspiration with his passing.

Please accept my sincere condolences at this time. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family.

Dear Mrs. Syms,

I just heard about your Dad.

Please accept my sincere condolences.

I had the pleasure of speaking on the phone with him several years ago. My Mother's name was Merinsky and she had changed it to Merin. Your father and I determined that our respective grandfathers may have been brothers.

Your Dad told me about his siblings and how he really wanted to be a sports caster.

I never knew my grand parents. They died very young and my Mother and her brother, Sam, were part in an exchange. They were raised by a family by the name of Pinger, but my Mother kept the name Merin.

I remember our conversation and the warm voice of your Dad's as we compared family information.

Am truly sorry for your loss.

Sincerely

Arthur R. Marsh.

Dear Marcy,

I would like to introduce myself to you. My name is Stan Mendelblatt and I am the National Sales Manager of Gruner & Co. (producers of mens rainwear and topcoats) in NYC. I have not had the pleasure of meeting you personally but our company has a long and strong relationship with yours. (We work with Myra Butensky.) Through the years of doing business, it has not escaped me that your father founded a company with fair business practices as well as a pioneering approach. .

I hope the following story, relayed to me by my wife, will interest you:

Many years ago, my wife's father, Bernie Levine, was the National Sales Manager for Jaymar Ruby. (Sansabelt) He considered himself fortunate to be a friend of your Dad's. As my wife was interested in the apparel business, she and her father spoke often about his job and his relationship with customers. She tells me her father went on and on about the success of Sy's business. He liked your father so much that he shared with her some special moments they had together. It seems Sy and her father often traveled on the same airline itinerary. They shared airport and flying time together, usually over cocktails, helping the time go by in a more enjoyable manner. My wife heard many endearing stories about these trips. Years later when my wife joined the off-price division of London Fog in 1981, she couldn't wait for her boss Marty Gerzog to introduce her to Sy. Once she met Sy, she understood that all the wonderful things her father had told her were not only true but actually didn't do him justice.

My wife's father passed away when she was only 19 years old but meeting and spending time with Sy in her showroom helped her relive wonderful memories of her father. It seems your Dad knew things about her father that even her mother didn't know.....

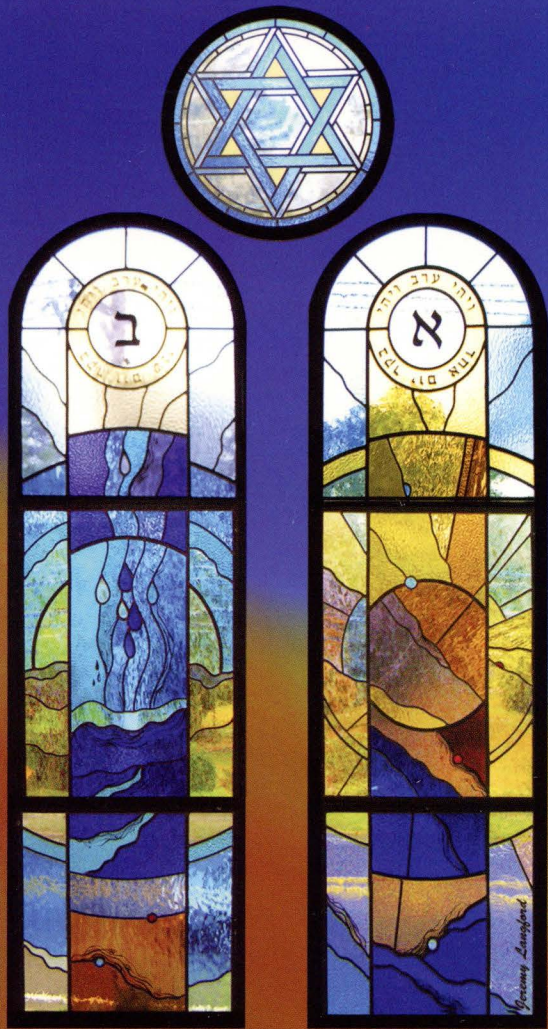

Marcy, I know your father touched the lives of so many people and that he was an extremely generous man. I thought it might be nice for you and your family to hear about two more lives he touched. For Starr and her Dad, dealing with Sy was special. Starr treasures the memories to this day.

We are very sorry for your loss.

Sincerely,

Stan & Starr Mendelblatt

To

You have not lost a loved one in death; you have just entered into the next phase of your relationship with him. This is the phase of remembrance. Over the next few days, weeks, months, even years, you will touch something, hear something or see something, & you will think of your father. Do not be afraid of any of these moments, for these moments are the jewels of your father's life that he has given you. These are your father's legacy.

Still with you are so many memories
to help you
through every tomorrow.

Still with you
are so many people who share in your loss
