Mr. Henry Montor
United Palestine Appeal

New York, N.Y.

My dear Mr. Montor:

Inasmuch as the JDC has six co-chairmen and we have only five, I would suggest that you add the name of Rabbi James G. Heller who will be the President of the Central Conference of American Rabbis next year. For additional honorary chairmen, I have no recommendations unless the committee would care to add the name of Dr. Harry Friedenwald of Baltimore, who would be a fine addition; perhaps also the name of Mr. Ferdinand Sonneborn.

With all good wishes, I remain

Very cordially yours,

(E. Bernard Weiss, Abe Freyer, and Ed Klein were out of town.)

Shreveport's Jewish community is facing a problem: the successful organization of a federation, which seems now definitely to have been organized over the opposition of some individuals who gave way when they saw that community sentiment definitely was for the idea of a federation. Under the sponsorship of E. Bernard Weiss, Abe Freyer, Louis Sugar and Rabbi David Lefkowitz, the federation idea was proposed some months ago, and was successfully achieved only this past week when the full board was elected.

The history of federation in Shreveport is very spotted. Some eight years ago, E. Bernard Weiss proposed a federation and then Abe Freyer prepared a constitution for that body. The federation idea was opposed by Sidney Herold and some other people (notably Nathan Murov), who then felt that the sole idea behind the federation was to reduce the amount of money being raised in Shreveport for philanthropic purposes. These two men were again this year the spearheads of opposition to the federation idea for the same reasons they opposed its formation in 1933. But the predominant sentiment in the community was for federating the drive, and Herold and Murov accordingly accepted the majority's wish on the condition that if the federation result in a reduction of money raised for all purposes, its continuation the following year would be subject to reconsideration. Apparently this was agreed upon by all interested parties.

The ideas underlying the formation of the federation are two-fold. One, to reduce the number of times individuals are called upon to give for various causes, and two, from a feeling of shame which many of the community leaders felt when they were visited by long-bearded, gabardine-gowned meschulachim. They hope that both "evils" will be eliminated with the federation.

As proposed in its constitution, the federation board is to consist of the president and rabbi of each of the congregations, the president or elected delegate from each of the Jewish organizations in Shreveport and six community members at large, to be elected by ballot by the community. These in turn would elect an additional six members representative of the community, whose leadership and financial status make them desirable federation board members. After the period of one year this board would no longer be elected as prescribed for in its original constitution, but thereafter the board would become self-perpetuating in that it alone would have the choice of individuals to sit in its meetings. The board as constituted at present is as follows:

Board and federation officers were supposed to have been elected the night of May 13. But with Messrs. Herold, Klein, Weiss and Freyer out of town, it was decided to postpone the election of officers until the following week or ten days. Rabbi David Lefkowitz promised to communicate with me and let me have the completed official roster of the newly-formed Shreveport Federation of Jewish Charities. As yet no Budget Committee or Allocations Committee has been formulated, but from discussion with several people there seems to be the rather universal feeling that at least three of its members will be Sidney Herold, E. Bernard Weiss and Aaron Freedman. Freedman is reputedly a strong pro-Palestinian sympathizer. (I was unable to arrange an appointment with him because of the pressure of his business at the time I visited in Shreveport.)

The Federation will undertake its campaign in the fall of this year. They are contemplating setting a goal between forty and fifty thousand dollars. The Jewish community of Shreveport has about 450 families (roughly, 1500 population). About 300 families belong to the reform congregation B'nai Zion and 150 adhere to the orthodox (Congregation Agudath Achim). Besides being the larger congregation, the temple is the more influential, because of the people who are its members and leaders, and also by virtue of its being the older congregation in the community. For a long time, Shreveport's Jewish community was divided along these lines, and only recently has there been any attempt made to effect a reconciliation of the "contending" camps. The rabbi and one board member of the orthodox congregation are members of the temple board, while the rabbi and one board member of the reform congregation sit on the schul board. Recently, the orthodox and reform groups have been exchanging places of worship on occasion, with the entire community either attending services in the reform congregation or the schul. This has come about because of the work of Sidney Herold, Rabbi Brenner and Rabbi Lefkowitz, who were interested in unifying the Jewish element of Shreveport's population, and also because they desired to utilize services for the cultural advancement in Jewish matters on the part of the whole community. When such joint services take place, one of the members of the community is in advance urged to prepare a discussion on some phase of Jewish life affecting the Jewish community of Shreveport, following which there is debate, questions and answers, and discussion on the problem being considered. Whether it is because of the novelty or because the nature of the program is satisfying to the Jews of Shreveport, attendance at the schul and temple have risen to a point where 200 or 300 people at a time come to services. There is increasing harmony between the orthodox and reform elements of the community, and this is evidenced in the association of Jews in Jewish organizations. Hadassah, for example, has 136 members, is very active, and draws its maximum membership from the temple group. The Zionist District has about 110 members, and its membership is composed almost equally of reform and orthodox elements. B'nai B'rith's membership approximates 200, and its composition is similar to that of the Zionist District and Hadassah. By far, the biggest cry of the people in Shreveport, is that from the point of view of the Jewish community, it is overorganized to a point where they feel that any additional type of organization might be a burden. There is already evidenced a falling off of attendance at Jewish organization functions. For this reason, the various people to whom I spoke, felt that the Council might be an added burden on an already overly organized community. It is surprising the terrific amount of patient explanation that has to go into discussing the Council with the leaders of the various communities, because they find it hard to conceive of an organization without membership, or which is not going to carry on directly any fund-raising work. The criterion of activity in these groups is expressed in two ways. One, how many members did you get? and two, how much money did you raise? The Zionist Organization suffers from the same philosophy, and for reason is largely a $5.00 membership association. For the past few years, it has been rather dormant, and under the aegis of its newly-elected President, Ed Klein, continues in its happy, oblivious way. From time to time, an occasional Zionist speaker will visit Shreveport, at which time there may be a stir of Zionist activity, for the duration of his visit. Hadassah is much more strongly organized, carried on a much more effective job, but the good ladies are happily ignorant of Palestine, save in the narrow, specialized way that Hadassah carries on its work.

Apart from the objection that the Council might be a duplicating organization, there was universal agreement that the services which the Council would provide were welcome, and Shreveport would avail itself of them. Rabbi David Lefkowitz was especially anxious that we supply him with literature, and keep in close touch with him about the possibility of speakers in the fall, when the community will again get under way. He was agreeable (as were Herold and Murov) that the Council would supply the speaker for the opening federation drive, and was most anxious to secure people to address the joint synagogue and temple services.

I was disappointed in Klein's being out of town, because I wanted to discuss with him the status of each individual who had been selected for the board of the new federation with regard to their Zionist leanings. I felt that because Shreveport was now proceeding with its organization, it was an opportune time to get a maximum number of Zionists on the board, in order that pro-Palestinian agencies would receive maximum consideration from the funds raised here. In Klein's absence, I discussed the problem with Walter Wolens and Joe Murov (son of Nathan Murov), both ex-presidents of the Zionist Organization, and asked that they bring this important matter before the next meeting of the Zionist District for consideration. I urged the meeting of the Zionist group while I was still in town, so that I might be able to discuss the situation with them, but neither Wolens nor Murov felt that any such meeting could be convened until Klein returned to Shreveport. He would not be back until the following week, which made it a physical impossibility for me to be in town then. I intend to telephone Klein from Houston, and discuss with him the advisability of my meeting with the Zionist Organization to discuss the Shreveport Federation, and to determine ways and means of how the Zionists can most effectively aid Palestinian causes through their relations with the federation.

One of the cardinal aims I had in coming to Shreveport, was to discuss with Sidney Herold his assuming the chairmanship for the entire State of Louisiana. This he refused to do. He states that he would be most effective in North Louisiana where he knows the people, but once you get below Alexandria, his name is meaningless. He feels that someone from New Orleans, either Ike Heller or Monty Lemann should be asked to assume co-chairmanship together with him for the State of Louisiana. Shreveport considers itself part of Texas and not part of Louisiana; and that Louisiana doesn't begin until you get below Alexandria. Herold also informed me that Ike Heller is very ill, and Monty Lemann will, together with Herold, be on a case in which they are both interested, in Cincinnati, during all of next week. For this reason, he thinks it might be wise to wait a while before making any contacts in New Orleans; especially since these men, and perhaps David Fichman, are about the only sources of contact of any value for the Council, in New Orleans. Herold, who is traveling together with Lemann, stated that he would discuss the Council with him, and arrange an appointment for me to see Lemann when he returns to New Orleans.

Herold is one of the most interesting and remarkable people it has ever been my pleasure to meet. He is thoroughly pro-U.P.A., ardently Zionist, and will probably be our most effective force in this whole district. He is particularly anxious at this time that the Council carry on its work, in view of the critical situation which exists in Palestine, with the threat of the German invasion, in order to mobilize the opinion of Southwest Jewry behind Palestine. He is rather condemnatory of disinterest manifested by Jews through these parts, and feels that no matter what may happen later on, it will not be the Jews who will lead other Jews to favorable regard to Palestine; but if Palestine puts up a good fight, as good as the Finns and Greeks, or even better, (in that he hoped that it might successfully resist any axis aggression) the favorable opinion which the American public would have about the Jews in Palestine, would make the Jews themselves feel maybe a little proud of owing up to the fact that they in some way might be related to the same Jews who are carrying on a heroic struggle in the Near East. Herold particularly welcomed the appearance in several days running of some A.P. articles and other dispatches in the local Shreveport paper, which discussed the significance of Palestine in relation to the British war position in the Near East. He felt that the continuance of such articles would help awaken American Jews to the importance of defending Palestine, not only morally, but financially; and too, he restated his belief that because Palestine now stood in danger, it was time to redouble our efforts in its defense, and to interpret Palestine to American Jews in its proper relationship to the total world Jewish scene, in order to effect a total American Jewish effort on behalf of Palestine. Being with Herold was a real inspiration to me, after meeting with so many of our so-called Zionists and pro-Palestinian leaders in the Southwest who were always ready and eager to throw off their feeling for Palestine to advance their social positions and secure for themselves the gracious regard of their anti-Palestinian neighbors.

Together with Herold, I went over the complete list of Louisiana key people, and he selected therefrom those names of people with whom he was acquainted, and who he felt would be effective in furthering the work of the Southwest Council. In Shreveport alone, Herold mentioned some 18 people, a number of whom I feel, if actively supporting the Council, would mean that the U.P.A. could count Shreveport in its pocket. Their names are: Max M. Levy, Rabbi David Lefkowitz, Rabbi Brenner, Rabbi Brill, Nathan Kronenberg, Henry Kirsch, Elias Goldstein, Abe Freyer, Aaron Freedman, Isaac Abramson, Walter Wolens, E. Bernard Weiss, Louis L. Sugar, Morris Shuster, Elias Renow, Nathan Murov and Joe M. Murov.

Notes on above and other Shreveport individuals:

Max M. Levy is the owner of one of the largest clothing stores in Shreveport, who seldom takes an active part in Jewish communal work. He is past 70 years of age, and by virtue of the length of his residence in Shreveport, as well as his financial standing, is very highly regarded. Max Levy considers himself a Zionist though making the definition of Zionist for himself.

Rabbi David Lefkowitz. Lefkowitz was brought into Shreveport as an assistant to Rabbi Brill, who is very ill. Lefkowitz has been in this community ever since the high holidays of this past year, and has made himself considerably active in all of its communal undertakings. He was one of the movers behind the federation spirit, and is extremely ambitious for the future position of Shreveport's Jewish community in the Southwest. He is a young, energetic, dynamic fellow, who gives promise of being that type of rabbi who will be a leader instead of a subservient follower. Lefkowitz professes interest in Palestine, and while not a member of the Zionist Organization, he has recently applied for membership. His attitude on Palestine is expressed best in his own words. "I cannot conceive of Palestine as a homeland for the Jews of the world. For me, it is essentially a haven of refuge for Jews from distressed communities overseas, and should ever the Jews of America be in the same position as those overseas, then for the Jews of America. But as a safeguard - as a possible buffer to reduce the sharpness of blows which the Jewish communities all over the world might suffer, we need Palestine; and to prepare and strengthen Palestine to become the motherland for its distressed children is the foremost work of all Jews." (In concrete terms, this might mean about 30% for the U.P.A.) Lefkowitz expresses a desire to assist the Council in whatever way he can. I wonder to what extent this might not mean a reflection of his own ambition. He was especially impressed when I mentioned the names of the leaders of the Council, and the communities from which they came. He asked that I supply him with whatever literature I could send, so that he might be able to place this in the hands of the members of his temple, accepted my suggestion that the Council might supply the speaker for the opening federation function and for such other functions as might be necessary, and was more than anxious that occasional speakers be supplied for meetings of the two congregations when they hold joint services.

Nathan Kronenberg. Herold suggested that I see Kronenberg, in order to meet one of the most interesting Jewish characters in Shreveport. A good section of Shreveport's Jewish population can't make up their minds about Kronenberg. He is a gambler, playing the horses, and makes his whole living by games of chance. His particular value is in fund-raising activities. He is very generous, if he is approached when he is "in the chips" and will also extend himself to contact other Jews, not hesitating to tell them how much they should give. Many people stand in awe of him because they associate gambling with racketeering; but Herold assures me that Kronenberg's gambling is of the scientific and not racketeering variety. A very interesting character indeed!

Henry Kirsch. Kirsch is one of the younger members of Shreveport's Jewish community, who is an insurance agent. His particular value is that he is both a Zionist and a good worker. He is always active on behalf of Jewish community functions, and for this reason, has a say, and gets a hearing in Jewish community circles.

Elias Goldstein. brother-in-law to Sidney Herold. Goldstein is described as a Bourbon, reactionary but respected member of Shreveport's Jewish community. Goldstein is a lawyer. His interests in Palestine are all anti, but, if Palestine's danger is increased, Herold expresses the opinion that Goldstein would lose a lot of his disinterest. Goldstein, too, is very much respected among the non-Jewish community. He was formerly President of the Shreveport Community Chest, and has been selected for numerous local official posts.

Abe Freyer. Not particularly well liked by Sidney Herold, but a highly regarded member of Shreveport's community by the other Jews. To Herold, Freyer verges on being a shy-ster. Among other people, this feeling is ascribed to Herold, because of the competitive relationship in which he and Freyer stand. Freyer is now one of the vice-presidents of the Supreme Lodge of B'nai B'rith. He wrote the Constitution of the Jewish Federation, and was one of the active spiritual fathers. Sidney Herold, notwithstanding, Abe Freyer is a man whose influence on our side would be very valuable in Shreveport. From what I understand, he is not a Zionist, and is not inclined to Zionism, but could be influenced on a minimum program of pro-Palestinian activity. I don't know what this would result in to us in dollars and cents.

Isaac Abramson. a young lawyer, who is doing exceptionally well. Abramson is vice-president of the Zionist District of Shreveport, and his future as a communal leader seems to be assured. He is a young man, and is worthy of our cultivation for what benefits we might derive from it in future days.

Aaron Freedman. past treasurer of the United Jewish Appeal drive in Shreveport, and a member of the Zionist Organization. I was unable to secure much information concerning Freedman, and was unfortunate in not being able to establish telephonic contact with him in order to be able to speak with him.

Rabbi Abram Brill. For a long time the foremost religious leader of Shreveport, but who now is suffering from a serious heart ailment and paralysis. Most people feel that his days are number, and that even if he were to recover, he would be unable to carry on any active life as heretofore.

Rabbi Leo Brenner. rabbi of the orthodox congregation. Brenner is very young-looking, but is probably close to 40. Brenner has permitted the initiative of Jewish communal life to pass out of his hands altogether, and into those of Rabbi David Lefkowitz. There isn't even a toss-up between the two young rabbis. Lefkowitz, if he continues in the Shreveport pulpit, will sooner than later be the dominating religious leader and communal influence of the two.

Walter Wolens, cousin to Louis and Joe Wolens, of Corsicana, and son-in-law of Nathan Murov. Wolens is an ex-president of Shreveport Zionist District, and because of his father-in-law's more than active interest in Palestine, continues his work on behalf of the Yishuv. Wolens is considered a good speaker, and a young man who should be motivated to greater activity in the communal life of Shreveport than he has heretofore assumed. He is very superior to young Joe Murov, and will probably take the place of Nathan Murov in the Jewish communal picture.

E. Bernard Weiss, president of the reform congregation, and one of the most active workers behind the present federation movement. It was Weiss who, eight years ago, attempted to organize a federation in Shreveport, but who failed because of Herold's opposition to it. Weiss is about 50 years of age, and his leadership in Shreveport is bound to grow, if the federation becomes a success. It is known as his baby. Sidney Herold recently refused to accept the chairmanship of the federation, though I urged him to reconsider. He has suggested E. Bernard Weiss for the job, and the chances are that if Herold does not take the chairmanship, Weiss will.

Louis L. Sugar, president of the orthodox congregation, and past president of the United Jewish Appeal drive in Shreveport. Sugar is also one of the most active in the founding of the Shreveport Federation. He is a young man grown tired. He feels that once the federation is definitely organized, his work in the community will be finished, and he will devote himself to a minimum of activity. He claims that the pressure of his business will prevent his active participation and welcomes the federation, I think, because it means that he will have to do less work.

Nathan Murov is one of the oldest Zionists in America. He was extremely active on behalf of the World Zionist Organization when Herzl was its president, and used to attend the conventions of that group until a little after the post-war years. At that time his health gave out, and he has had to take things easy. More recently, he has developed coronary disorders, and on the advice of his physician has withdrawn altogether from his business, to which he attends for about one or two hours every two weeks. He guards his health very closely, and rests as much as possible. Murov will not be able to serve us in any way.

Joe M. Murov. This boy is not to be confused with Joe Murov (the son of Nate Murov). There are about four Murov families in Shreveport. Joe M. was secretary of last year's U.J.A. He is a young man only about 28, extremely energetic and a most effective federation worker. Almost single-handedly, he collected the outstanding pledges which Shreveport made to the United Jewish Appeal to where, to date, only about $150 remains to be brought in. He is very much liked by all the Jewish community in Shreveport, and his election to the board of the federation is a reward for his excellent services up till now. Together with the other young men mentioned above, our attention should be directed to Joe M. Murov for cultivation as a U.P.A. man.

Mrs. Sam Rubenstein, President of Hadassah. This is a surprise. The Rubenstein family is one of the richest in Shreveport, owing the largest department store in town. Both Sam and Sol Rubenstein are anti-Zionist, or at least harbor no feelings of sympathy for Palestine. Mrs. Rubenstein's presidency of Hadassah has revolutionized the complexion of Hadassah's membership, resulting in the wives of the richest and foremost individuals in the community becoming members of that organization. Mrs. Rubenstein can be utilized for meetings of an intimate nature to which she could invite the outstanding Shreveport leaders to meet with well-known pro-Palestinian visitors to Shreveport.

The fact that Palestine may soon be invaded is established by all reports. But until that event occurs American Jewry, reflecting the policy pursued by the American Government, must give all assistance to that community which, in an area of indecision and of betrayal, has stood firmly and unequivocally with Great Britain.

Even in this uncertain hour, when the Yishuv awaits all eventualities with courage and confidence in its ultimate future, the mistakes of Great Britain cannot be overlooked. Its policy in Palestine stemmed from the stupidity of appeasement, whose bitter fruits the British themselves are now tasting throughout the Middle East. That policy was responsible for the MacDonald White Paper. It is responsible for the failure to enroll the tens of thousands of young Jews who have begged for arms to fight for their land and their people. The American Government is reported to be rushing reinforcements of material to the Suez area. Whether those reinforcements will be distributed adequately to serve for Palestine's defense, the coming days will tell. There is much for which Great Britain must atone to the Jewish people. Not the least was its rejection of the handclasp of loyalty and support which has been extended by the Jews of Palestine since the beginning of hostilities in Europe.

Inner security has been the keynote of Jewish revival in Palestine. Certain of their right to live, the Chalutzim have had the normal complement of dignity, self-respect and courage. It is with these qualities that they have withstood the dislocations and hardships of pseudo-war. It is with these virtues that they await the resolution of the present uncertainty.

Is it too much to hope that the Jews of America, 6,000 miles away from the scene of action, will match in their own way the inner confidence and the outer heroism of the Yishuv?

Once again it is time to remind the Jews of America that the rebuilding of the Jewish National Home involves more than the finding of refuge for a single Jew or for groups of individual Jews. The historic purpose of the Zionist movement is to create a free homeland where the nucleus of a national life, with all its ramifications, may be established. This fundamental program has not varied through the years. But there was always a tendency to allow emphasis on the philanthropic aspects of the movement to overshadow its basic purposes. In a time of crisis, such submersion of the genuine values would result in moral and intellectual confusion.

The work in Palestine goes on; it will continue until irresistible physical force halts or impedes its progress. Until that time it is our moral responsibility to sustain the physical and moral resources of that Jewish community, which is the pride of world Jewry; for the brave men and women of Palestine, of all Jews in the world, have the privilege of fighting against Hitlerism and at the same time of defending their Homeland.

The war will end, and peace must bring easement to the plight of the Jewish people. It will have to include the provision of the resettlement of millions of Jews who will be unable to remain in the countries of their origin. Whatever be the emergencies of war, so long as freedom survives, so long as justice and humanity survive in this world, Palestine will continue to be, as it has been for thousands of years, the center of the Jewish hope for the redemption and rehabilitation of the Jewish people.

Dear Dr. Silver:

I thought you would be interested in a report and comparative figures for 1940 and 1941, on the Los Angeles campaign.

The Los Angeles campaign generally is not doing well at all. On May 15th they reported $140,000 as having been raised out of a total of $459,000, with $319,000 reported by Harry Warner for the motion picture division.

With kindest regards, I am

Cordially yours,

Henry Montor

Dear Dr. Silver:

I believe that in the young men the U.P.A. has as field representatives, it is witnessing an excellent piece of foundation work in the building up of communities and contacts with leaders in those communities.

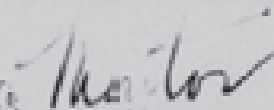

Because it is the best example of a thorough and intelligent report on a community, I am sending you herewith a copy of a memorandum from Herman Getzoff, our field representative in the Southwest, dealing with his visit to Shreveport over a period of days. What I think is particularly noteworthy is his understanding of the problem involved and his appraisal of the leaders in the community.

With kindest regards, I am

Attached hereto is a brief summary of the status of the United Jewish Appeal as of May 19, 1941. This indicates the amounts in pledges received directly by the agencies and the record of the pledges held in the national and New York City offices as of that date. The cash is, of course, far less. In fact, less than 10%.

Dear Dr. Silver:

I shall be in telephonic communication with you regarding the statement on the referendum which was touched upon in your letter of May 19th.

As to Dr. Rosenbluth's comments on the J.D.C. and N.R.S. budgets, I do not see under what guise the U.P.A. can submit these to the J.D.C. and the N.R.S. If one of the officers of these bodies were to undertake to submit the material, that would be one thing, but I believe it would be regarded as unwarranted intrusion for the U.P.A. to say to another organization that its affairs are not being run properly.

Dear Dr. Silver:

Attached hereto is a copy of a letter addressed to you on May 20th by Mr. Edward M. M. Warburg in regard to the Matsoth Fund.

Mr. Warburg has restated what the JDC has been saying up to this time, but apparently the Publicity Department was not aware of the position that Mr. Warburg was to take.

Will you acknowledge this letter directly from Cleveland? If you do, will you send me a copy, or do you wish me to prepare a reply?

May 22, 1941

Mr. Henry Montor
United Palestine Appeal

My dear Mr. Montor:

I am wondering what the reason is for the sudden outburst of the JDC contained in the enclosed publicity with reference to the money which the JDC spent on religious institutions. A particular point is made of the JDC's support of the Palestine institutions. Has this anything to do with Herzog's visit here? Has the JDC promised Herzog any support? Is this to anticipate criticism of its failure to give any of its support to Herzog?

I notice that the Hadassah has made a contribution of $10,000 to Herzog's fund. Why isn't the UPA getting any credit for what it has done? I think we are a bit slow on the trigger when it comes to capitalizing on favorable publicity for the UPA. We are going to pay the money anyhow and we might have used the departure of Herzog to win the good will of the orthodox forces in the country by synchronizing his departure with our cause. I do not know why the action of the UPA should have been stalled by anything that Kaplan is doing in Palestine. Ours was to be a campaign expense. It was voted by the Administrative Committee and three people were to decide the amount. That should have been done and that should still be done. Decisions of the Administrative Committee should not be circumvented.

I trust that the decision of the Administrative Committee not to sign the agreement of the JDC before the item under question is disposed of will be strictly adhered to.

With all good wishes, I remain

Very cordially yours,

My dear Mr. Montor:

Mr. Goldhamer sent me the enclosed bill in connection with Dr. Weizmann's visit to Cleveland. He does not feel that the Cleveland Jewish Welfare Fund ought to stand the expense of Mr. Weisgal's trip. The $18.22 are Mr. Weisgal's expenses and half of the $53.40 are Mr. Weisgal's railroad expenses. Will you then have a check made payable to the Jewish Welfare Fund of Cleveland to the amount of $44.92.

With all good wishes, I remain

Dear Dr. Silver:

This refers to your letter of May 22nd regarding Rabbi Herzog.

No publicity was given to the action of the Executive Committee of the UPA in voting to "guarantee" $25,000 for the year to Chief Rabbi Herzog through payments to be made by the Jewish Agency in Jerusalem, because of my telephone conversation with you. You indicated that you wished this matter to be handled otherwise than had been determined upon by the Executive Committee.

It had been overlooked that at a meeting on April 24th of the Administrative Committee of the UPA, "the Chairman designated Dr. Silver, Mr. Lipsky, Mr. Rosenbloom and Judge Rothenberg to act as a committee to formulate the manner in which the UPA wished to be helpful to Chief Rabbi Herzog". Under the circumstances, therefore, the action could not be published because it had not yet been taken.

The minutes of the Executive Committee have not yet been issued and are largely being held up on account of this same item. The minutes state that the Executive Committee, having heard a statement by Chief Rabbi Herzog of special requirements in Palestine, and having heard from the Jewish Agency in Jerusalem that it has been called upon by Chief Rabbi Herzog to make grants for the same purposes, voted to cable the Jewish Agency Executive in Jerusalem to pay out to Chief Rabbi Herzog 500 pounds a month, or $25,000 a year. In view of the fact that the Jewish Agency had paid out 1,000 pounds already and was "considering" further payments, the Jewish Agency was to be advised by the UPA that the full amount for the year was being "guaranteed" by the UPA and that such payments were to be made by the Jewish Agency.

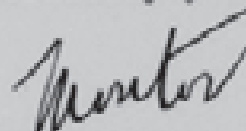

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver

May 26, 1941

What alternative action do you wish to take, together with the other three members of the committee, Messrs. Lipsky, Rosenbloom and Rothenberg, so that the news may be forwarded to Jerusalem, and such publicity given as may be warranted?

With kindest personal regards, I am

Cordially yours,

Henry Montor
Executive Director

Dear Dr. Silver:

A final meeting was held on Friday afternoon at the office of the United Jewish Appeal, to dispose of the matter of reimbursement to the agencies of expenses incurred prior to the reconstitution of the United Jewish Appeal.

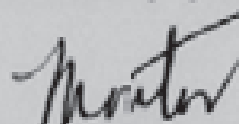

In addition to Mr. Greenman, there were Dr. Solomon Lowenstein and Mr. Joseph C. Hyman for the Joint Distribution Committee, and Judge Rothenberg and myself for the UPA, as well as accountants for both organizations, including Mr. Bernard J. Reis for the UPA.

All outstanding items were disposed of, so that now the agreement may be signed. The UPA will receive the entire sum that it had originally requested of the United Jewish Appeal.

The agreement is now being prepared and should be in your hands for signature by Tuesday or Wednesday at the latest, but there is nothing further now to hold up the signing of the agreement. It was a very wearying process but certainly worthwhile in terms of the financial returns to the UPA.

With kindest personal regards, I am

MEMORANDUM

May 26, 1941

To Dr. Abba Hillel Silver
From Mr. Henry Montor

I am attaching hereto a copy of a memorandum from Dr. Martin Rosenbluth, further analysing the "PROGRAM and BUDGET" issued earlier this year by the Joint Distribution Committee.

Dr. Rosenbluth has endeavored to relate expenditures in 1940 to budgets in 1941, and to provide a background of the current situation, by which the budget itself should be studied.

HM:FE

May 20, 1941

To Mr. Henry Montor
From Dr. Martin Rosenbluth
Subject THE JDC's "PROGRAM AND BUDGET" (Continued)

PART IIPage 2

"The Joint Distribution Committee today, as in the past, is paying for transportation to Palestine of refugees from Hungary, Rumania, Yugoslavia and Central European countries."

Indeed, there was a time when the Hicem paid the fares (out of the monies put at its disposal by the JDC, the ICA and the British Consul) of all holders of immigration certificates for Palestine who couldn't afford the expense. But since the outbreak of the war, though the JDC still contributes to a certain extent for Palestine immigration costs, it has become much more conservative in its giving. For the most part, the JDC insisted on the participation of the Zionist funds (UPA, Hadassah, Jewish Agency, Jerusalem), and in some cases they left it entirely to these funds to provide the money required.

"It is of interest to note that during 1940 alone the J.D.C. spent $636,000, or 10% of its total expenditures in that year, for preparation and transportation of emigrants to Palestine."

In a separate memorandum I have dealt with this method of publishing statements without attempting in any way to show how the figures are arrived at. Should the question of the participation of the JDC in the expenses for transportation to Palestine be discussed at any time in the Allotment Committee, the first thing to be done is to ask them to submit a detailed and itemized account of their figures.

"Schedule 1 is a recapitulation, showing that over 9,000 people can be emigrated during the first six months of 1941 provided $2,875,000 can be made available by the J.D.C. This is exclusive of emigration from Greater Germany with funds made available through emigration clearance arrangements."

The proposed emigration scheme is: 3500 from France; 3000 from Lithuania; 1250 from Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg; 500 from Yugoslavia; 1000 from other countries (including Switzerland, Portugal, Italy, Rumania, etc.)

It is rather doubtful that it will be possible to emigrate 1250 people from Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg during the first half of 1941.

Belgium and Luxembourg during the first half of 1941

So far there is no working clearance arrangement for financing their emigration. Incidentally, why is the emigration cost per person $400 from Luxembourg, but only $300 from Holland and Belgium?

Under changed conditions, it is open to doubt that 500 refugees will be emigrated from Yugoslavia and an unspecified number from Rumania. The question is whether the German authorities will permit emigration from these countries now under Nazi control, and also whether it would be possible for the JDC to set up clearance arrangements with these countries. It is difficult to understand why the emigration cost per person is $100 from Yugoslavia and $300 from Rumania.

Pages 4 and 5 - Schedule 2

POLAND

The amount expected from the JDC for the first six months of 1941 is $3,200,000, equal to 32,000,000 zlotys. This is in addition to the amount to be contributed by Polish Jewry itself. There is no indication of what local collections will amount to. It is, however, interesting to note that the financial assistance rendered by the JDC during the whole year of 1940 amounted to $640,000, which is exactly 1/5 of the amount budgeted for a six-months' period in 1941. In a previous memorandum I explained why it would not be possible for the JDC to dispense of $3,200,000 through emigration clearance arrangements.

GERMANY and AUSTRIA

The amounts required are:

Berlin:	$895,000 for six months in 1941, as against $462,000 expended during nine months in 1940.
Vienna:	$706,000 for six months in 1941, as against $303,000 expended during nine months in 1940.

Of the 2,820 persons whose emigration from Germany is to be financed with the help of the $895,000, 420 are supposed to go to Palestine. There are grave doubts as to the possibility of organizing any emigration from Germany to Palestine during the first half of 1941 owing to the changed situation in the Balkans and Middle East.

Page 6 - Schedules 5 and 6

BOHEMIA-MORAVIA and SLOVAKIA

A total of $652,000 is expected from the JDC for the first six months of 1941 to be paid through emigration clearance as against $231,000 expended during the first nine months of 1940. But it is not clear, either from the schedules or from the text as to how many people it is proposed to emigrate from these countries through this financial assistance.

Pages 6 - 14

FRANCE, HUNGARY, RUMANIA & OTHER COUNTRIES

It is probably not worthwhile to analyze in detail those sections dealing with relief programs for the rest of Europe. Since the date of publication (January 31, 1941) the many changes in the European political scene which have taken place and which are momentarily occurring, will doubtless compel the JDC to revise its relief program accordingly.

But it is interesting to compare the amounts requested in the "Program" for a six-months' period with the amounts actually spent in 1940 during a period of nine months--to give several examples:

	1941 Requested for January to June	1940 Spent from January to September
FRANCE (Occupied and unoccupied)	$ 904,100	$312,442
HUNGARY	1,138,000	113,792
RUMANIA	403,485	39,732
SWEDEN	75,000	1,500

Pages 14 -16

LATIN AMERICA

$327,060 is expected from the JDC for expenditures on behalf of refugees in Central and South America to assist the local committees in providing food, clothing, shelter, medical care, educational training, etc. The reason given is that "Local refugee aid committees in Latin America have had but a short experience in the financing and conduct of relief aid work. The complementary financial support which the J.D.C. offers is therefore of primary importance." I do not know exactly what "complementary" means. But the fact is that according to Schedule 20, the estimated local collections amount to $48,870, while the contribution of the JDC is budgeted at $327,060.

Pages 17 and 18

CULTURAL-RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS

The JDC is most eager to state that "more than 50% of the Cultural Committee's appropriations during 1940 were allocated to Palestine institutions."--sixty yeshivoth, school organizations and cultural-religious groups were subventioned "which received no assistance from any of the Zionist funds." This may be quite true. But the point is that the total amount spent for religious-cultural activities is only 1.2% of the total expenditures of the JDC. During the first nine months of 1940 cultural-religious outlay aggregated $65,366 out of a total expenditure of $5,216,500. This sum, $65,366, includes their regular contribution to the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, which is certainly subsidized by Zionist funds.

Therefore, at best, their contribution to the sixty yeshivoh, etc. can have amounted to $25,000 to $30,000.

PART III

THE POST-WAR PERIOD

In setting forth Jewish needs in 1941 and in submitting its "Program and Budget" for the first six months of this year, the JDC also gives consideration to the post-war situation. They admit that there will be a "vast post-war migration problem", in which Central and South America will play a decisive role. There is the United States, of course, but it "can admit only up to the quota maximum", while in Latin America, "The need for new blood, for farm and factory and professional workers, for entrepreneurs, for alert and capable immigrants of all types is recognized, and their immigration on a large scale is desired. During the period 1933 through 1940, but largely during the past three years, nearly 110,000 Jewish refugees have found a new home in these countries. If they successfully adapt themselves to their new environment it is reasonable to expect that untold thousands of Jews will be admitted during the coming years."

At the moment the outlook is not very hopeful, but this is due only to the regrettable fact that "Because of insufficient funds, the J. D. C. had to curtail its operations in Central and South America in 1940. This resulted in more than suffering and hardship on the part of the destitute and needy among the newcomers. It threatened directly and indirectly, the security of all the Jews. The good reputation which they were building and in which they were beginning to be held by the governments of those countries was undermined. Nazi propagandists, sensitive to weaknesses, did not fail to take advantage of the situation."

After the war, in addition to the United States which will admit refugees "up to the quota maximum" and to Latin America which will accept "untold thousands of Jews", Europe remains, where "many" Jews will be able to build their lives anew. "Great Britain, aided materially and morally by the United States, is waging a battle not only for self-preservation but for the preservation of the sanctities of civilization. The J.D.C. is waging a campaign to keep alive many of the people who will resume a constructive role in the Europe Britain is struggling to free."

One can, of course, question their analysis of the post-war period and ask whether it is based on wishful thinking or upon reality. The significant point is that in outlining to the American Jewish and non-Jewish public the prospects for the future fate of European Jewry, the role which Palestine may play is not mentioned with so much as one word.

Dear Dr. Silver:

Attached hereto is the final agreement between the Joint Distribution Committee and the United Palestine Appeal to constitute the 1941 United Jewish Appeal. Mr. Edward M. M. Warburg has signed in his capacity as Chairman of the American Joint Distribution Committee. The signatures are to be attached to the agreement itself and to the addenda.

I have not forwarded, but have kept for the files of the United Palestine Appeal, the statement showing the amounts to be reimbursed to the U.P.A. and the J.D.C. by the U.J.A. of 1941. The schedules have the signatures of Bernard Reis for the U.P.A., Loeb and Troper for the J.D.C. and Frederick F. Greenman, who did a very excellent job in meeting with the two groups.

The national office of the U.P.A. will be reimbursed $63,831.57 and from the New York office $62,519.11, making a total of $126,350.68. The national J.D.C. will be reimbursed from the national U.J.A. with $101,754.69 and from the New York office $64,968.30, making a total of $166,722.99.

Will you be kind enough to sign and return to this office for a transfer to the J.D.C. the attached copy of the agreement. I have another copy here for our files, also signed by Mr. Warburg.

Dear Dr. Silver:

You will have seen the Tuesday, May 27th issue of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency Bulletin which finally contains a summary of the statement issued by the Committee on the Referendum with respect to the balloting of the Council of Federations and Welfare Funds. But it also contains a reply by Mr. Sidney Hollander, President of the Council.

Following your telephone call to me on Monday morning, I communicated with Mr. Boris Smolar, Editor of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, and inquired why, although the item had been sent to him by the Committee on the Referendum last Thursday, it had not yet appeared on Monday. He replied that the Bulletin had been crowded for space and that it would appear tomorrow, that is, Tuesday.

It is now apparent why the J.T.A. waited until Tuesday in order to publish the item released by the Committee on the Referendum. It was solely to give the Council of Federations time to attach its reply on the same date. If this is called straight-forward journalism rather than partisan Jewish communal politics, I have yet to learn what standard journalism is.

It has been clear from the very beginning that when there was a dispute between the forces represented by the wealthy backers of the J.T.A. and by those who might oppose them on any issue whatsoever, that the latter would always be given the worst end of the deal.

I know that you have been very patient with the J.T.A. for a long time and have been a member of its board, but it is very clear that unless one can buy his way into the affections of the J.T.A., one cannot expect a decent deal.

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver

May 27, 1941

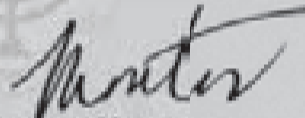

Under the circumstances it becomes more than ever obvious that in the clash of opinion in the Jewish community, there must be a channel and will be a channel for those who wish to have an opinion expressed but know that it will always be suppressed if it depends on the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

Mr. Hollander's statement is revelatory of the entire attitude of the Council of Federations. He says, in effect, (a) it is not important who won the referendum as long as the Council announced that the Council had won; and (b) that even if the Council had not won, it was immaterial what Mr. Shetzer, the Committee on the Referendum or anybody else said about it.

It is clear that in this entire issue there must be a definition of policy and adherence to that policy, once formulated. It is obvious that this will involve constant debate until a conclusion is reached. I am wondering how many Zionist leaders are prepared for the irritations and the consequences of a policy of this type that will require concentration and patience. I do not know how many of the men in New York are aware of the implications of what the Council has done.

Looking forward to word from you, I am, with kindest regards,

41 EAST 42nd STREET
NEW YORK, N. Y.

May 28, 1941

Rabbi Leon Israel Feuer
Collingwood Avenue Temple
Toledo, Ohio

Dear Leon:

Once again the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds has confused public opinion by the type of release it issued to describe the nature of the voting that took place during the recent referendum and the proposals which were adopted presumably in consequence thereof.

I assume that you have seen the statement issued by the Committee on the Referendum for Budgeting of which Simon Shetser is Chairman, taking direct issue with the Council of Federations on both the manner in which the votes were counted and on the proposals themselves. I am attaching a copy for your information in the event that it has not reached you previously. In addition there was the article which I wrote for the "Congress Weekly" in its issue of May 23rd. Please let me know if you have not yet seen it so that I may rush you a copy. The manner in which the votes were tabulated was analyzed.

I should like to call these points to your attention:

(a) I charge that the Council of Federations deliberately miscounted the votes and did not give adequate consideration to the member agencies which voted to reject the proposal for the establishment of a national budgeting advisory committee. Thus, when the Council announcement stated that there were 54 communities accepting the proposal, and 53 rejecting, they were not stating the facts even as the Council knew them to be true, for in the Bulletin issued by the Council on May 26th to its member agencies there is a listing of the communities which accepted and rejected and of those "in which no action was taken or no information received prior to May 18, 1941."

In the latter list asterisks appear next to Long Beach, California; Niagara Falls, New York; Pontiac, Michigan; Scranton, Pennsylvania; Selma, Alabama; Sheboygan, Michigan and Waterbury, Connecticut - a total of seven cities. The asterisk is explained as follows by the Council: "Information subsequently received on action of agency on referendum." What is meant by this phrase is this: on Saturday, May 17th, when the Board of Directors of the Council of Federations met, the executive staff of the Council

Rabbi Leon Israel Yeiser

gave an inadequate report. The Committee on the Referendum gave more comprehensive information and inquired why the votes of these seven cities had not been counted. The Council declared that it had not received any ballots from them. The Committee on the Referendum communicated immediately with each of these cities and on Sunday morning, May 18th, the Board of Directors of the Council had before it telegrams from the seven cities stating that they had voted to reject the proposal and that they demanded that their votes be counted as such in the tabulation. Even though the Board of Directors was engaged in a two-day session and even though each of the seven telegrams was read to the members of the Board, the Board decided that it could not count these messages because the ballots had not been in "on May 17th." Legally and morally, therefore, 54 communities accepted the proposal, and 60 rejected it. It may be and is argued that the 54 communities, since they constituted "member agencies" of the Council, were entitled to express an opinion on the referendum. I should like to point out, however, that at the meeting of the Council in Atlanta in February such was made of the fact that the Council did not know which agencies were entitled to vote and which did not have the right to vote. The committee that was to be named would go into such questions. The committee made no such study of any such question. That is why the New York Federation of Philanthropic Societies, which has no relation whatsoever to fund-raising for national and overseas purposes in New York City, was permitted to vote. That is why such bodies as the Altoona Federation, the Atlanta Federation, the Baltimore Associated Jewish Charities, the Bridgeport Children's Society, the Buffalo Jewish Federation, the Chicago Jewish Charities, the Kansas City United Jewish Charities, the Los Angeles Federation, the New Orleans Jewish Charitable Federation, the St. Louis Jewish Federation, the San Francisco Federation of Jewish Charities, the Seattle Jewish Welfare Society and similar bodies were permitted to vote in support of the majority proposal.

It is of interest to note that the 53 communities which the Council of Federations recorded as having opposed the proposal were all entitled morally to vote on the issue, because in each instance the agency was actually involved in raising funds for national and overseas purposes, whereas at least half of the 54 cities voting to support the majority proposal have nothing whatever to do with national and overseas fund-raising.

The question that must be asked is this: Can people who will so tamper with a vote be trusted? I am tired of using pleasant words to describe unpleasant actions. There are some who say that it is unfair and malicious to ascribe sinister purposes to officers of the Council of Federations merely because they are in favor of a national budgeting advisory service. I have understood and still understand the sincerity of those who genuinely believe that national budgeting is the key to many of our communal problems. But how can one refrain from suspecting the motives of people when they will engage in a fraud as barefaced as that which has just been perpetrated by the Council in counting the ballots used in the referendum?

(3) At Atlanta it was assumed that a fair-minded committee representing various points of view would be selected by the Council

Rabbi Leon Israel Foner

May 28, 1941

to study the referendum and to make recommendations on the basis of it. The members of the committee who were appointed and who approved the proposal were: Jacob Blaustein, Chairman, Solomon Lowenstein, William Rosenwald, William J. Shroder, Edward M. M. Warburg, Ira M. Younker and Sidney Hollander, all of whom without exception are associated with the same group which, as is obvious, is not the United Palestine Appeal group. No representation was given to a body like the Committee on the Referendum for Budgeting with which were associated all the communities which rejected the proposal. No attempt was made to include on the committee members of the Committee to Study National Budgeting Proposals, which had been previously adopted by the Council and out of which arose the minority report. They knew, for example, the position of Dr. Silver on this whole matter. Dr. Silver was present at Atlanta. He is the Chairman of a Welfare Fund. But even he was not included on this committee.

Does all this, too, represent good faith and a sincere desire to establish a cross section of Jewish public opinion on the question of budgeting?

(c) It might be said that the Council of Federations had acted "hastily" or perhaps even unfairly in the counting of ballots. It might be said that the Committee should have been more comprehensive in its composition. But these two points are negligible in comparison to the validity of the program itself.

It is, therefore, essential to examine the report which was adopted by the Board of Directors of the Council to see in what way it departs from the proposals presented at Atlanta and against which a majority of the Jewish communities of America protested.

into
A lot of honied words have trickled ~~from~~ the English-Jewish press to indicate that the proposal represented a "concession" to the "minority" opinion. Presumably the "public relations" counselors of the Council of Federations have advised them that in view of the situation in which they find themselves it would be politic to use soft words in order to make it appear that the Council was subserviently yielding to public opinion. But these mild words ought not to conceal the essential fact that the recommendations that have been voted by the Board of Directors are as harmful in their effect on the United Palestine Appeal and similar agencies as those originally denounced. I cite several instances:

1. Section (3)A. of the "Program for 1941" reads as follows:

"The National Advisory Budget Committee should address itself in 1941 to an examination and analysis of the organizations engaged in overseas, Palestine or refugee service, that function in the same or related fields of service or that supplement or relate to the work of the UJA organizations; but this limitation shall not prevent the National Advisory Budget Committee from considering and reporting on the UJA agencies should necessity arise. The Council advisory budget service for 1941 shall work collaterally with, and supplement, the work of the Allotment Committee and the Inquiry of the UJA, and will at all times hold itself in readiness to cooperate with them."

I draw your attention to this fact: that when the proposals were originally presented at Atlanta it was stated that if and when the United Jewish Appeal would be reconstituted, the National Advisory Budgeting Committee would have no relation to the United Jewish Appeal. But what has been done now is to say that even though the United Jewish Appeal has been reconstituted this National Budgeting Committee will insert itself into the situation, and in the event that there is some unsatisfactory decision by the Allotment Committee of the United Jewish Appeal, it will have the right - self-assumed - to take any action that it chooses. What other purpose has this provision than to frustrate the autonomous action of the UJA Allotment Committee in which the United Palestine Appeal is majorited already?

2. The Council of Federations apparently feels that it can soothe the opponents of its program by saying that it is merely "for 1941." Thus it hopes that no one will object to the institution of a basic system which can be carried on and expanded in 1942 and thereafter. It is obviously easier to expand a system than to institute a new one. It is on that basis that once again the "public relations counsellors" of the Council of Federations have advised a streamlined psychology in mollifying opposition.

3. In Section (4) of its report entitled "Program Beyond 1941" appears the following paragraph:

"The National Advisory Budget Committee shall undertake to study all developments and progress made during 1941 and make recommendations to the Board of Directors of the Council on the program of service to be undertaken in 1942. It shall advise the Board on the values of its 1941 services, utilization by member agencies and other pertinent facts. It shall recommend to the Board the fields of work and organizations to be studied in 1942 and such extension of its functions in evaluations and budget recommendations to communities as may seem desirable."

In other words, the Council is already planning "evaluations" for 1942, when the majority of the Jewish communities in America have clearly indicated that they want no such service from the Council.

I fear that the soft-spoken, self-righteous words of the officers of the Council, and the natural reluctance of most Jewish leaders to engage in controversy may permit one of the most serious offenses against Jewish public opinion in America in the development of a standardized system of controlling and muzzling Jewish organizations.

If the officers of the Council wanted to allay suspicion in that direction they have done nothing in the past four months to indicate their good faith. On the contrary, they have given additional foundation to the belief of many of us that there is a deliberate, systematic program for controlling Jewish life so that it shall not "get out of hand."

I have written to you at this length in the hope that you may be able to attend the meeting of the East Central States Region of the Council of Federations at Columbus on June 14th and 15th, and there express your opinion in your characteristic fashion. It is an issue of transcendent importance, because if Welfare Funds and the consolidation of Welfare Funds are eventually to monopolize all of Jewish activities, the instrument will have been forged to channel Jewish public opinion in only one direction.

My thought is that a resolution ought to be introduced at the meeting of the East Central States Region taking exception to the manner in which the referendum balloting was conducted and calling upon the Council, in view of the nature of the results and in view of the contents of the proposals adopted by the Board of Directors of the Council, to halt its program and to take into consultation representatives of communities which rejected the proposal so that there may truly be a consensus of opinion as to what is desired in the field of fact-finding.

I have been so busy with our local Jewish Welfare Fund campaign that this is the first opportunity I have had to reply to your letter of May 21st asking me to accept membership on the Executive Committee of your organization.

While I greatly appreciate the honor, I sincerely regret that owing to pressure of business and the fact that I am on so many local committees now, I cannot consent to serve on any more and therefore find it necessary to decline the offer with thanks.

I am sure that you appreciate my position and remain, with best regards,

On Thursday, May 29th, Mr. Joseph C. Hyman, Mr. Harry Lurie and I met at Hyman's office for the purpose of discussing informally Council representatives with regard to the Allotment Committee in the 1941 United Jewish Appeal. It was understood that no commitments were made by anyone and that the conversation was purely exploratory in character.

I was asked by both Mr. Hyman and Mr. Lurie whether the U.P.A. had indicated whether it wished the continuation on the Allotment Committee for 1941 of the four men who had served as the Welfare Fund representatives on the 1940 U.J.A. Allotment Committee, that is, Harris Perlstein, David Watchmaker, Henry Wineman and Fred Butzel (Wineman and Butzel had interchanged).

Treasurer

CHARLES J. ROSENBLOOM

My reply was that the U.P.A. had not had an opportunity to discuss the Allotment Committee and therefore I could not say whether these four men were or were not desired to serve again.

During the discussion, Mr. Lurie suggested various other names which the Council might be prepared to offer on a panel, although he indicated that the Council would prefer to have the 1940 members continue to serve. Mr. Perlstein has said that he would not serve again, but Mr. Lurie believed that he might be persuaded to do so. Mr. Watchmaker had also indicated his unreadiness to serve again, but Messrs. Wineman and Butzel were prepared to serve. The other names that the Council might submit for consideration by the U.P.A. and J.D.C. include:

Executive Director

HENRY MONTOR

Judge Philip Forman, Trenton, N. J.
Frederick Greenman, New York
Jacob Blaustein, Baltimore
Arthur Meyer, New York
William Shroder, Cincinnati
Ira Younker, New York
Samuel Markell, Boston
Leon Sunstein, Philadelphia
Joseph Goldstein, Rochester
Edwin Schanfarber, Columbus

June 2, 1941

Edward Kavinoky, Buffalo
Edgar Kaufmann, Pittsburgh
George Z. Medalie, New York
Louis Caplan, Pittsburgh
Amos Deinard, Minneapolis

The names which seem to strike a chord of response were those of Frederick Greenman, the lawyer who had served in the reconstitution of the U.J.A. and in the matter of the reimbursements of expenses from the 1941 U.J.A., Mr. Arthur Meyer, Chairman of the New York State Mediation Board, with whom I am not familiar, Mr. Leon Sunstein, Chairman of the Philadelphia Allied Jewish Appeal for the last two years, Mr. George Z. Medalie, who is now President of the New York Federation and a long-time Zionist as well as former U. S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York, and Amos Deinard, with whom you are undoubtedly familiar.

My own feeling is that we should accelerate the nomination of members of the Allotment Committee so that no opportunity may be given to the Council to insert itself into the situation. This is especially necessary in view of the fact that the J.D.C. and the Council will probably say that they were very much in favor of having the old members of the Allotment Committee remain, whereas the U.P.A. had not expressed an opinion.

During the conversation Mr. Lurie said that the Council of Federations had drawn up a list of some fifteen people as a panel from among whom they were planning to invite membership on the National Budgeting Advisory Committee. In discussing the possible members of the Allotment Committee, Mr. Hyman felt that Joseph Goldstein could not properly be considered a neutral because he had strongly represented the so-called Zionist position at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Council in New York on May 17th. As it happens, Mr. Goldstein had endorsed the budgeting proposals as submitted at the May 17th meeting, although he had very vigorously tried to indicate the unfairness of the procedure that was being followed. The panel of fifteen includes:

Jacob Blaustein, Baltimore
Leon Sunstein, Philadelphia
Joseph Goldstein, Rochester
Charles Rosenbloom, Pittsburgh
Elias Mayer, Chicago
Judge Morris Rothenberg, New York
Samuel Markell, Boston
David Watchmaker, Boston
Dean Isidore Loeb, St. Louis
Edwin Schanfarber, Columbus
William Shroder, Cincinnati
Joseph Berne, Cleveland
Ira Younker, New York

The name of Mr. Louis Caplan was dismissed by Mr. Lurie on the ground that he was the attorney for Mr. Charles Rosenbloom.

Mr. Sidney Hollander

165 W. 46th Street

Dear Mr. Hollander:

I have just received a copy of your letter dated May 20, 1941, addressed to Rabbi James G. Heller, of Cincinnati. I am amazed to find that you state I "agreed that the action of the Board was eminently fair and reasonable to all concerned". On the contrary, I think I made it very clear that I personally felt that the result of the referendum was obviously a repudiation by American Jewry of the proposal - sometimes called the "Hollander" Proposal, and at other times the "Blaustein" Proposal, - originally made by the Council, that the Council should abandon that proposal in its entirety, and I predicted that the charge would be made that the Board of the Council of Federations would be charged with having "rigged" the referendum election in order to justify the action it had determined to take.

After the Board refused to adopt the numerous amendments proposed by those who were definitely opposed to Mr. Blaustein's report - particularly after the impassioned appeal of Mr. Schanfarber for communal harmony in American Jewry, an appeal which was immediately followed by the comments of Mr. Younker, who in his candor betrayed the bitter anti-Zionism which motivated his support of the proposal, I felt so keenly about the entire matter that I refused to attend the sessions of the Board called for the following day. I had endured all the heartaches I could stand.

You may also recall the "gentlemanly" manner in which Mr. Shroder suggested that I might leave the meeting when I expressed the opinion, at the very beginning of the session, that it was grossly improper for the Board of the Council of Federations and Welfare Funds to meet on the morning of the Sabbath. Let me assure you that in the many years of my association with national and local Jewish agencies, I have never head of a business meeting called by any such organization on the Sabbath. It did not contribute to my peace of mind to find that my protest was not supported by a single individual at the meeting, but on the contrary was apparently looked upon as the querulous complaint of a fanatic. When Mr. Shroder called me out of order and stated that the question of meetings on the Sabbath would be considered as one of the last items of the agenda the following day, he added insult to injury.

In view of the fact that my unequivocal opposition to the action of the Board could not be misconstrued by you as approval of its fairness and reasonableness, I have come to the conclusion that I owe it to myself, as well as to the U.P.A. to notify Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver that I shall no longer serve as the representative of the U.P.A. on the Board of the Council. Perhaps my successor will meet with better success in making himself understood.

Dear Dr. Silver:

In a recent letter you suggested that there be a conference of the Zionist bodies to adopt a uniform position on the question of the National Advisory Budgeting Committee and the relationship of the Palestine fund-raising bodies to it.

Do you believe that the purpose could be met if the subject were formally submitted to the Emergency Committee for Zionist Affairs by direct letters to the agencies within it, and also directly to the Emergency Committee itself? This might facilitate action. If you approve, I shall go forward with the necessary letters.

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver
The Temple
Cleveland, Ohio

Dear Dr. Silver:

It has been evident for a long time that there is a cleavage in outlook on Jewish problems between several groups in America. That has been made manifest in various ways during the past year. You were the center of several of the most important of these manifestations of differences of view.

It is clear that if these differences are to find an outlet in public expression the channels do not exist at the present time.

At one time there were two agencies catering to the English-Jewish press of the country. These were the Jewish Telegraphic Agency and the Seven Arts Feature Syndicate. Whatever might have been the merits of either, the very existence of two competing agencies was beneficial, for in one avenue or another there was an opportunity for reaching opinion in the many communities which have English-Jewish weeklies.

But for some years now this condition has no longer existed. The Jewish Telegraphic Agency is owned, lock, stock and barrel, by the people who believe that the utterance of a point of view which differs from their own constitutes treason. The Seven Arts Feature Syndicate is owned by the American Jewish Committee, which is identical, for all purposes, with the Jewish Telegraphic Agency. Thus, today any point of view that might be described as interested in Palestine or in Jewish nationalism or in freedom of expression on any topic cannot, except under the most adverse circumstances, find any channel through the existing two syndicates supplying the English-Jewish press of the country. I know from personal experience that articles as well as news are submitted to a censorship before they are released.

I have felt for years that this constituted a situation which was most deplorable. It was evident from the experience of the Falcor News Agency that competition is healthy for difference of opinion. Because Falcor existed during the past seven years the Jewish Telegraphic Agency was much more sympathetic in its treatment of its Palestine news than it would have been otherwise. There was always an agency to check on the accuracy of its Palestine stories and an agency that stimulated it to competitive effort which meant more, and sometimes better, news on Palestine.

It is with these facts in mind and fully impressed with the need of having an instrumentality for the expression of differences of opinion on any subject in American Jewish life that I am joining with several others in the creation of a new syndicate for the English-Jewish press. It will provide the English-Jewish papers of the country with all the material they could possibly use, including news, feature articles, columns, and other material of interest. Its capacity to run will, of course, be determined by the meager resources it can obtain. It is not a venture designed to extort funds from backers who may be encouraged to support an institution because of the personal interest they have in seeing that a specific point of view will prevail. In other words, the syndicate will not in any way compete in the fund-raising aspects with the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

It might have been thought for a time, as I know you did, that it would be possible to exercise a mollifying influence over the Jewish Telegraphic Agency by sharing in some of the costs of that agency. But it has long been evident that no group of people having ideas rather than funds at its disposal would be able to compete in the money market with the present backers of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, which, although a completely private institution, masquerades as an organ for public service.

This syndicate should have the moral backing of a number of leaders of Jewish public opinion in America. It would be equipped with a staff small enough not to involve too great costs but adequate enough to deal efficiently and productively with the journalistic functions involved. It is not intended that any persons except members of the staff shall be publicly identified with the enterprise except for an editorial board which is now being composed.

I should appreciate it greatly in a personal way if you would find it possible to join that editorial board. To my mind the formation of this syndicate is one of the important steps that must now be taken to wrest control of the channels of public opinion from those who have for so long dominated it and who are now using those channels for purposes with which I know you do not have any sympathy.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Henry Montor

SIDNEY HOLLANDER
2419 Greenmount Ave.
Baltimore

June 6, 1941.

Mr. Louis E. Levinthal,
606 City Hall,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Mr. Levinthal:

I'm sorry the COUNCIL meeting caused you so much "heartache". Sorry - and surprised:

As long as you've been in Jewish work, you should be used to being on the losing side now and then. Certainly I am! Almost always I'm in the minority, but it doesn't disturb me in the least. It's part of the "democratic process" that we all brag about but don't like to accept.

Reviewing your comments, I can't agree that the COUNCIL should have postponed action on expanding its present budget advisory services. For years, many of our members have been urging us to go beyond our present program. As you know, the referendum clearly pointed up the demand for more intensive "fact finding"; but many went beyond that, and favored evaluations of agencies by representatives of the Welfare Funds that provide their support.

The COUNCIL depended on this referendum to indicate how extensive such a demand was, and I think the returns showed that clearly. Laying aside for the moment any question as to who was "majority" and who was "minority", the large number voting for the full proposed Program, plus those opposing the complete program but favoring expansion of present services, seemed unquestionably to call for some action.

I know the COUNCIL Board tried conscientiously to decide on a course that would do justice to all points of view. Apparently its decision didn't please you; I'm not sure it pleased me, either. I think we might have gone farther.

Actually the course we adopted is being even more severely criticized by cities wanting the full services than by those wanting no change. That was to be expected! However from the long point of view, I suppose our decision to expand present services only moderately and await results before doing more, was sound. If the results are good, we can go further. The future itself will determine next steps.

It might be well to remind you of two factors relating to this whole subject. First, that the COUNCIL, unlike the J.D.C., the U.P.A., and so many other agencies, has no program of its own. It exists only to provide such services as its members request. And by that I don't mean only services that all its members request; whenever there are a sufficient number asking some special sort of assistance, the COUNCIL has always tried to provide it. That's its job! Second, - any community not wishing to use the proposed budget-advisory service (or any other service the COUNCIL provides) can simply reject it. Whatever material the COUNCIL works up can be "waste-basketed" if it isn't helpful. We have never attempted to dominate any of our members. We try to serve, - not direct, - Jewish communities.

As to Cincinnati: Undoubtedly there is a difference between Rabbi Heller's views and those of Shroder. The official report to the COUNCIL was as Shroder related it at the meeting. One of the Cincinnati agencies was opposed to the plan covered by the referendum; the other was in favor of it; they therefore agreed jointly not to vote on it, - and they never did. Having so agreed, they passed a resolution indicating what they thought might be a proper substitute course for the COUNCIL. Our committee had that resolution in mind when it decided to limit so greatly the plan this year.

Finally as to the matter of a Saturday meeting. I think it's unfortunate that you didn't stay to hear the discussion on that point. In deference to your views and those of Rabbi Silver, the Board determined to try a new plan of beginning meetings on Saturday nights and running thru all of Sunday. In all likelihood, this will carry the meetings to midnight or later Saturdays, and may require abbreviating the Sunday agenda, with a view to permitting those members coming from a distance to get home in time. However, we're going to try it. I must admit that I agreed with Shroder in postponing discussion on this issue until its proper place in the agenda. You shouldn't have considered such a decision a slight to you; it was not so intended. The Board only meets twice a year, and we always have a heavy schedule; so if we didn't follow such a procedure, we'd never get thru.

If you feel that service on the COUNCIL will cause you too many heartaches, you're quite right to withdraw. If you stay, you're almost certain to have your views overruled at times, and if you can't stand that there's no other course for you to take. The other Board members all take it for granted.

The most useful purpose of the COUNCIL is the opportunity it provides for men of divergent views and loyalties to meet on common ground and discuss Jewish affairs with good will and in mutual respect. Out of such varying opinions there usually emerge decisions that approximate wisdom, - or so I like to think!

If you do decide to stay on, - and I hope you will, - don't get your feelings hurt and stay away every time you are out-voted. The COUNCIL would never get anywhere if its members followed that course.

Cordially,

SIDNEY HOLLANDER

My dear Mr. Montor:

I have had an opportunity to look over the UPA proposed budget, June 1 to December 31, 1941. I note that we will be spending in 1941 $90,000 more than in 1940. I have studied the reconciliation of 1940 and 1941 expenses contained in the proposed budget. I realize, of course, that we planned to carry on an independent campaign in 1941 and that this involved us in the early months in considerably larger expenses. But now that we are not conducting an independent campaign, I am wondering whether our expenses for the remaining six months ought not to be drastically cut. How can we justify to ourselves spending twice as much this year as last year when our income for 1941 will certainly not be greater than it was in 1940? I would suggest that you talk this matter over with Mr. Rosenbloom and with the Finance Committee.

Dear Dr. Silver:

It is clear that the J.P.A. has a definite program of:
a) on the one hand trying to impress the country with its alleged coverage on Palestine; and b) at the same time minimizing such institutions for Palestine as exist in the United States.

From time to time I propose to send you illustrations of this to confirm your own experience. In the J.T.A. Bulletin of June 8th there appears a story from the Conference of Jewish Social Work at Atlantic City. The speakers at the session on Friday afternoon, June 6th, to which reference is made, were Dr.
Joseph J. Schwartz and Moses W. Beckelman for the J.D.C. and Arthur Lourie for the U.P.A. Not even the name of Mr. Lourie, much less the subject matter, is mentioned in the story from Atlantic City.

It is rather amusing to note that a page and a quarter is devoted to the paper presented by Mr. William Shroder at Atlantic City on Saturday evening, June 7th, but no reference is made to his statement on "The Effect of the Clash" between cynicism and Americanism.

New York, New York

Dear Mr. Hyman:

I am asked by the Executive Committee of the United Palestine Appeal to advise you that it has officially selected its members and alternates to represent the United Palestine Appeal on the Allotment Committee of the United Jewish Appeal for 1941. The members are Dr. Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland and Mr. Charles J. Rosenbloom of Pittsburgh. The alternates are Dr. Israel Goldstein of New York and Judge Louis E. Levinthal of Philadelphia.

The members representing the United Palestine Appeal on the Allotment Committee are prepared to meet at a mutually convenient time as soon as a date can be agreed upon, with the members appointed by the Joint Distribution Committee to the Allotment Committee, so that the four of them may agree upon the members to represent the Welfare Fund committees on the Allotment Committee of the United Jewish Appeal for 1941.

Will you advise me as to the names of the representatives of the Joint Distribution Committee and as to the time for a convenient date so that a meeting to discuss the subject indicated may be arranged.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Attached hereto is a copy of a paper which I read at the National Conference of Jewish Social Welfare as part of the discussion of the principal paper presented by Mr. William J. Shroder. As I was going down to Atlantic City and reading "The World Crisis and Jewish Survival" I found a sentence which fitted perfectly into what I had to say and I quoted it apropos of Mr. Shroder's amazing recidivism.

It may interest you to know that Mr. Morris Waldman's paper was based on the theme that the Jews are a "religious community" and that any Jew who tries to create any other impression of the nature of Jewish activity is a dangerous menace to the United States.

It is evident from Shroder's approach and from Waldman's that what seems a trivial struggle between a few malcontents and the powerful Council of Federations is actually a fundamental battle over the control of Jewish ideology in America.

COOPERATION BETWEEN LOCAL AND NATIONAL AGENCIES

DISCUSSION OF A PAPER BY WILLIAM SHRODER

Presented at National Conference of Jewish Social Welfare
Atlantic City, June 7, 1941

By

Henry Mantor
Executive Director
United Palestine Appeal

Mr. Shroder has exposed the Jewish communal anatomy for our exploration. But in doing so he has drawn attention to the fact that it is all one body—and not a series of unrelated organs. In other words, as Mr. Hyman has so eloquently said, there is no antithesis between national agencies and local communities. In essence, a national agency is merely an extension of one of the interests of the local community.

May I suggest that there are three pillars on which the most effective co-operative relationship between national agency and local community may rest.

The first is democratic organization of the community.

The second is a recognition of the integral relationship between the local community and the national agency.

The third is the cultivation of the special interests and ideals of the community for the greatest vitality of the Welfare Fund.

I.

One of the most heartening developments of recent years has been the gradual emergence of local communities from the feudal philosophy that those who had most thought best; and that their views must be the criterion of community action. That approach has been proving inadequate; because wealth often has a tendency to shift; because developments in recent years have tended to make democracy in Jewish life no less desirable than in the larger social and economic world; because it is the mass of Jews who must determine the ultimate destiny of the Jewish people.

Communities have been finding that democratic organization is not only morally stimulating but economically profitable. One needs only to examine the phenomenal successes registered in a great many communities in the last few years to see the relationship between more funds and greater responsibility vested in the community as a whole. In the early days Welfare Funds had the attractiveness of novelty. But time and a succession of grave emergencies have worn off the novelty. Now the Welfare Funds must prove that they are sufficiently flexible and sufficiently representative of the total community interest to continue to have the generosity and sympathy of the whole community.

II.

Fortunately there are not too many Welfare Funds which have kept the position that they have made national agencies unnecessary. What is sometimes overlooked by some Welfare Funds is that they are not the competitors of but trustees for the national organizations on whose behalf they raise funds.

It has seemed to me that, in recent years, an artificial jealousy has been cultivated between national organizations and local communities, as though their interests were disparate and not identical. A new parochialism threatens Jewish life, with its emphasis on the fetish of the "local community", as though some alien octopus were trying to strangle the freedom and existence of the local community. What created these national organizations except the nation-wide interest in the same problem and the desire to solve it through unified action?

Take, as an example, the cause of Palestine. In every land, under every form of government—including Germany and Russia today—the Zionist movement has sought expression. It has been as much a part of the national existence of the great mass of the Jewish people as its historical memory and its religious tradition. The Zionist movement has survived both inadequate understanding and hostile environment. The national will to survival has taken a variety of practical forms in terms of organization. In the United States there is a series of such national agencies devoted to the fulfillment of the ideal inherent in Zionism. Among these is a body like the United Palestine Appeal through which the Jews of America, in their local communities, have sought to indicate their interest in and provide support to the rebuilding of the Jewish homeland. These organizations are not seeking to impose unwanted doctrines on local communities but are the instrument which these local communities have deliberately chosen as a means of translating moral support into concrete terms.

Sometimes the problem can be oversimplified. Mr. Shroder has observed that "every national agency has local partisans. These are utilized as pressure groups threatening community harmony, the very foundation of effective community organization."

The word "partisan" has overtones of criticism. It would be more complete to say that "every national agency has local representatives". Frequently, these representatives constitute the bulk of the whole community in terms of their interest in the particular cause.

What is a pressure group? It may be a single man, exercising his power by virtue of his wisdom, his influence or his means. On the other hand, pressure group may be merely a smear word to describe the advocates of an idea seeking wider support and implementation.

It would seem to me that the Messianic goal of the local community is not the attainment merely of "harmony", but the satisfaction of the interests of the members of the community, whether these interests be local, national or overseas. Few will contend that the obese somnolence that comes from ideological lethargy is the Paradise to which local communities are seeking admission.

There is a challenge to the Welfare Fund and to similar community organizations to recognize that cooperation with national organizations represents cooperation within the community itself.

III.

To what extent must there be a willingness to include in Welfare Funds the purposes of agencies as well as agencies themselves? The great majority of Jews are catholic in their sympathies. They want to help every cause that seems helpful to Jews. But there has been a tendency in some Welfare Funds to make their appeal mechanical. They have gone on the premise that stressing of the ideological foundations of a cause might adversely affect some of their contributors. They have chosen to gloss over basic purposes in a keen desire to raise a maximum of money. The motives are laudable. But are the effects those aimed at? Do not the Welfare Funds simultaneously have the responsibility of teaching their contributors the values implicit in the agencies they support? If it be said that the national organizations alone have the function of dealing with ideologies, what contribution is the local community making to the development of a sound understanding of Jewish problems?

For how long can Jews be expected to contribute solely out of fear or out of sheer generosity? Is it not the obligation of sound planning to educate the community to an awareness of Jewish life in all its implications?

Mr. Shroder has hinted that there are divisive ideas which must be resolved in local communities. "Nor can we", he says, "close our eyes to the effect of the clash between the aims of the Zionists, inextricably tied up with the support of Palestine as more than a place of refuge, and the position of those who look for the satisfaction of their every hope in their home-land in America". I am sure that Mr. Shroder, a purist in style, must recognize the non-sequitur in that sentence. The Institute for Propaganda Analysis has words for such phrases. One can believe that Palestine must become a center for Jewish life in terms other than mere refugee settlement and yet be fully content with conditions of life in America. Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, Zionist leader, in a new book, "The World Crisis and Jewish Survival" writes: "The upbuilding of a Jewish national home in Palestine is one great, urgent and historically inescapable task of Jewry. The upbuilding of Jewish religious life in America and elsewhere throughout the world, inclusive of Palestine is another. One is no substitute for the other. One is not opposed to the other".

A time for choice is imminent for American Jews. They must be prepared to think in behalf of world Jewry or retreat in smugness to their own shells. It is hard to conceive of realistic observers who envisage the evaporation of all Jewish problems with the defeat of Hitler. Millions of Jews will need to have their problems solved—as Jews. We can doom them to the sterile, haunted, minority existence which they have known in Europe for centuries or we can help them readjust themselves to a new world. The Zionist idea is basically the contention that Jews have a right to live—even as Jews. Millions of Jews subscribe to that idea. If a Welfare Fund is more than a mechanical contrivance for people known as Jews to display their humanness does it not have an obligation to help its members understand that basic problem? Is an American Jew, in Mr. Shroder's definition, merely a Jew concerned with his fate in America -- or may he also concern himself with the fate of Jews everywhere? If the former is the answer, how futile and unpatriotic is the dream of President Roosevelt for establishment of the four freedoms throughout the world!

The future of the Welfare Funds is with the mass of Jews and not with a few isolated individuals. The war taxation program, coupled with the far greater needs that will demand more universal financial participation, will see to that. Is it not, then, the part of wisdom to link the Welfare Funds to the values and the ideals which, because of their historical continuity and their capacity to arouse Jewry emotionally and intellectually, will always be the blood stream racing to the Jewish heart?

The Welfare Funds of America, which have become increasingly the channels of local communal action, must determine whether they will utilize to the fullest the moral force and the Jewish creative power inherent in national organizations or whether they will minimize the ideas symbolized by them in an effort to create a soulless Golem—presumably bigger than all the national organizations but having the intrinsic emotional and intellectual stimulus of none of them.

One thing is clear in Jewish history. Those who have ideas on the Jewish future outlive those who have no ideas but exist for the moment and for themselves. To the extent that national agencies are the levers for such ideas, the Welfare Fund can assure its strength and perpetuation by harnessing them to its own purposes.

Dear Dr. Silver:

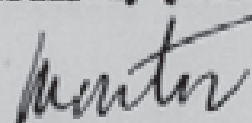

I have not wanted to draft any letter for your consideration, believing that you would best be able to evaluate the consensus of opinion expressed at the Friday meeting of the Executive Committee on the subject of breaking off with the Council of Federations.

This is merely a reminder then that you wanted to write a letter to the Council of Federations to indicate that if the Council proceeds with the establishment of a National Advisory Budgeting Committee on the basis of the recommendations adopted at the Board of Directors meeting on May 17th, the U.P.A. will not cooperate with the Committee.

That letter is also necessary so that we may advise leading Zionists as promptly as possible not to accept membership on the Budgeting Committee. Haste is required because a very vigorous effort is now being made by Mr. Sidney Hollander to get Zionists to accept. I think one man who is very likely to accept is Rabbi David de Sola Pool. I think it is of sufficient importance to get to talk to him as quickly as possible. May I take the liberty, therefore, of suggesting that it would be worthwhile for you to telephone him from Cleveland to indicate your position and to express the hope that he will not accept if called upon.

Looking forward to a copy of the letter, with kindest personal regards, I am

My dear Mr. Montor:

I am enclosing herewith the draft of a letter to be sent to Mr. Hollander. Please have Dr. Wise, Mr. Lipsky, and Judge Rothenberg see it. They may have suggestions to make. I have also left space in one of the paragraphs for the inclusion of names of other organizations which have opposed National Budgeting. As soon as I receive the comments, I shall forward the letter to Mr. Hollander.

With reference to Rabbi De Sola Pool, I would suggest that you telephone him and suggest that in view of the action which we have taken, it would perhaps be advisable for him not to accept appointment.

With all good wishes, I remain

Very cordially yours,

P.S. Please show this letter to the Hadassah, Misrachi and Poale Zion and suggest to them that they take similar action and inform Mr. Hollander. Also show this letter to Dr. Goldstein for the JNF. Dear Mr. Montor:

Thank you very much for your recent statement behind the statement of the Council of Federations and Welfare Funds. I have read it with bitterness.

The whole mess is an evidence of the fact that the important Americanized leaders in Jewry, so-called, are the very ones who are trying to perpetuate the archaic European order where an oligarchy of moneybags run the town. The palpable denial of democratic principles implied not only in the original Budget Committee Project, but in the cavalier fashion in which the results are being handled makes one wonder what is this democracy we are going to fight for.

There is no question that the Council's report is not a result but a symptom of a condition which must be cut out of American Jewish life unless it is to be demoralized. I believe that the issue raised by the Budget Committee Project should be fought to a finish, and I hope that this fight will bring deeper understanding to the rank and file and give rise to the selection of intelligent, informed, Jewish leadership on a democratic basis.

Dear Dr. Silver:

I appreciate your note of June 9th with regard to expenses.

I must confess that I was quite alarmed when I saw the comparison between expenditures of 1940 and those of 1941. The first thing I did was to dismiss a $35.00 per week man in the Publicity Department and told Dr. Martin Rosenbluth that he would have to find some other organization to bear half the cost of $85.00 per week which he is now receiving. You will recall that you suggested that he be placed on our payroll. There is a possibility of firing an additional stenographer, but I am sure you will agree that it is a ludicrous way of economizing when tens of thousands of dollars are involved.

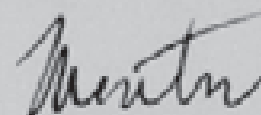

I had also told Abraham Revusky, our statistician who is doing a remarkable piece of work for $30.00 a week, that he would have to go at the end of June.

And while I am telling all these people that they will have to go or that their meager salaries will have to be reduced, I think of the way in which the United Palestine Appeal is squandering its money in the direction of subsidies to organizations which serve us little.

I am attaching a copy of a letter which I sent to Mr. Charles J. Rosenbloom, together with a copy of the budget.

MEMORANDUM

Date June 11, 1941

To Dr. Abba Hillel Silver

From Mr. Henry Montor

Subject

Attached herewith is a copy of a letter from Dr. Richard Lichtheim of Geneva together with a copy of a letter from him to Morris Troper of the JDC.

I found Dr. Lichtheim's letter particularly interesting in emphasizing that any attempt to proceed in routine ways with an inquiry in the Allotment Committee of the UJA is to ignore the situation abroad.

I do hope that we shall be able to persuade our friends that considering "the nervous strain on our people" which applies to Europe and to Palestine alike, they will not be burdened with meaningless analyses of figures which have no validity in the final determination of decisions in any event.

Dear Mr. Montor,

I received your letters of May 14th and 15th. I appreciate very much the fact that you appreciate the difficulties we are encountering here when trying to obtain statistical material from the various Jewish Communities. The situation in Europe has indeed become so bad and the nervous strain on our people is such that we cannot expect from them to deal in the ordinary business-way with financial matters, correspondence, statistics, etc. - apart from the political difficulties!

I am enclosing copy of a letter which I have written to Mr. Troper. I thought it might be of interest for you to know that I am in constant touch with him regard to a number of questions in connection with the relief-activities of the Joint and the transfer-arrangements for our Funds resulting from them.

With kindest regards
most cordially yours

Morris TROPER, Esq.
The American Joint Distribution Committee,

Lisbon

Dear Mr. Troper,

I cabled you on May 24th, that I am awaiting your reply with regard to the contents of the various letters which I have written you on May 6th. I hope to receive your reply in the course of the next days.

- 2.) You are aware that I have placed 90.000 Lit. at the disposal of the Relief-Committee and I hope you will let me have the countervalue of $ 3.000.-within the next future.
- 3.) I am awaiting your reply to my letter of May 6th, regarding the payment of $ 1.000.- to Mr. Alberto Lavi in Buenos-Aires.
- 4.) I wrote you about Daleon and Sacerdoti in reply to your question. I received your cable of May 23rd, containing a new proposal of Mr. Daleon and I have written about it to our friend V. I did not think it advisable to send him a cable.
- 5.) Before leaving, V. stated that he was awaiting your reply with regard to the following matters:
 - a) Final confirmation that the 20.000.- $ have been paid to the three addressees indicated (see my letter of May 6th; I am also awaiting an explanation why these payments should have been made through the Zionist Organization, which as far as I can see has nothing to do with it).
 - b) Additional budget for Rodi and Ljubana.
 - c) Granting of normal budget for June.
 - d) Reply to his demand to grant an additional budget in respect of the month of January, for which he has received no budget. V.'s suggestion is to use for this purpose Lit. 300.000.- already placed at his disposal by certain people (rate 30). If you agree, the countervalue is payable to five people of which I have the addresses.

Mr. V. would appreciate very much if you would let me have your reply to the points raised such as a) to d).

- 6.) With regard to the May-budget for Katzki : Up to the present, 600.000. have been raised, while 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ or 3 millions have not yet been found by our representative. Meanwhile, a new proposal has been made to us, coming from the same representative, who is well-known to Mr. Katzki. This suggestion is that we should take over 9 or 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ Mill, from a certain person, which we could place at your disposal for the budgets May-June-July. But before doing so, we must have your assurance that you are prepared to take the money at the same conditions as in previous cases (90 to the Dollar) and apart from that, we cannot enter into the obligations necessitated by these transactions before having received from you the still outstanding amounts up to the month of April. When Dr. Weiss left, he informed me that the following payments had not yet been settled :

Balance for December	$ 1.875.-
Budget February	" 33.987.-
" March	" 28.571.-
	$ 64.433.-

Mr. Schwartz has promised Dr. Weiss to settle these payments immediately after his arrival in New-York. I don't know if this has been done.

To this amount is to be added the countervalue of the budget for April - $ 33.985.-. This amount was payable at the end of May.

Then, there is also to be added the amount of about $ 34.000.- for the May-budget, the countervalue of which we are just trying to find.

This being the position, I don't think that we can enter into any new obligations with regard to the months of June and July and, therefore, we cannot accept the offer made to us in respect of the 9 or 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ Mill. mentioned above.

I have explained the position to you in my yesterday's cable, of which I am attaching a copy.

7.) Timisoara : I have informed our people there that they should discuss with Mr. Jacobson the placing at his disposal of a sum up to 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ Mill. Leis against which you will pay us \$ 2,000.- . Is that correct ?

8.) Slovakia : I have asked Dr. Neumann if he can pay now 100,000 Ks. for relief-purposes, against which you will pay us $ 1,185.- (old arrangement between Dr. Weiss and Mr. Schwartz). Do you agree ?

9.) Hungary : I understand that you are interested in receiving an amount of 200,000.- Pengoes from our Funds (rate Pg. 10.- - $ 1.-). The money is not yet at hand but if the moment comes, our people in Budapest will make a new application to the National bank.

10.) Holland : You have discussed this question with Dr. Weiss and Mrs. Van Thijn. Please confirm to me by letter that you will refund us the amounts our Funds are placing at the disposal of the Central-Organization for Training of Jewish Youth in Holland. According to inquiries I have made, the figures are as follows : The annual budget of the Central Organization is Fl. 280,000.- . About 65% are used for agricultural and other training in connection with Zionist Youth-Organizations preparing their pupils for emigration to Palestine, while 35% are used for other forms of Hachaharah. I suppose Mrs. Van Thijn will have confirmed to you these figures.

Now, of the total of Fl. 280,000.- , our Funds, which are now combined in the so-called "Stichting tot Financiering van Vakopleiding en Beroepsvorming van jonge Joden in Nederland" are contributing between 100 and 120,000.- Florins. Therefore, it would be only just and right that the Joint refunds to us the countervalue of this amount. Dr. Weiss has discussed with you and Mr. Schwartz this question and I understand from him that you agreed in principle. Therefore, please let me have your definite reply. Have you already discussed with Dr. Weiss the question of the rate of exchange ? I am willing to consider any reasonable offer you may make and I hope we shall come to a quick arrangement.

I hope that this letter will reach you in time and that you will reply to all the questions raised therein. With kindest regards, I am, dear Mr. Troper, very truly yours,
R. Lichtstein

MEMORANDUM

June 11, 1941

TO: Dr. Abba Hillel Silver

FROM: Mr. Henry Montor

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the UPA on June 6th, there was some discussion as to the advisability of considering Mr. George Z. Medalie for one of the three representatives of Welfare Fund communities on the 1941 Allotment Committee of the UJA.

In this connection, I am sending you herewith a news item appearing in the National Refugee Service Community Bulletin of June, 1941.

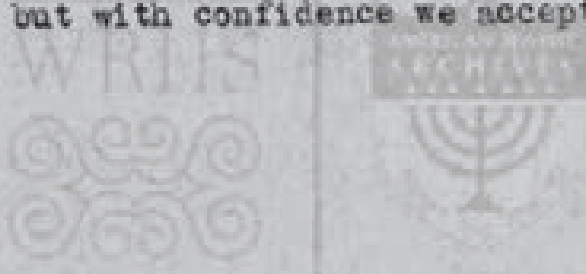

HM:KE
ENC.

"When NRS was taken into the joint drive of the UJA there was recognized in it something of such far reaching importance that we are justified in seeing what its consequences and considerations must be," said George Z. Medalie, formerly United States Attorney for Southern District of New York and President of the Federation of the Jewish Philanthropic Societies, addressing a special evening session of the Annual Meeting of the National Refugee Service on May 24.

"The two million first allotment will be spent before half the year is over. And it is spent in a faith, a faith that the Jews of this country will not desert a Jewish and humanitarian cause. So the great problem is 'What shall we do for the rest of the year?'"

Mr. Medalie continued with a discussion of the importance of the work of NRS. He declared that the challenge of the "natural-born haters" that the refugees would take bread out of the mouths of Americans had been met. Through NRS men and women were rehabilitated, readjusted, resettled, and given a new chance.

"You will find a solution," Mr. Medalie said in closing, "because our people have never shirked a problem put to them in any day of crisis. That crisis is certainly here. What others may be ahead of us we do not know, but with confidence we accept the difficulties presented to us."

MEMORANDUM

June 11, 1941

TO: Dr. Abba Hillel Silver
FROM: Mr. Henry Montor

You will be interested in the enclosed exchange of correspondence between Mr. A. B. Cohen of Scranton and Mr. Simon Shetser, Chairman of the Committee on the Referendum for Budgeting.

Mr. Cohen virtually charges that the Council of Federations ignored a communication from him written on March 21, 1941, informing the Council of the fact that his community had unanimously rejected the proposal to establish a national advisory budgeting committee.

Dear Mr. Cohen:

Thank you very much for your letter of June 4th enclosing copy of a letter addressed to Mr. Sidney Hollander.

I am very glad that you wrote Mr. Hollander as you did. We have been very much disturbed by the manner in which the referendum was handled. Obviously, the situation requires further attention. We cannot permit the announced decision to be accepted without challenge since we feel that it does not fairly and accurately represent the overwhelming sentiment of the Jews of the United States on the issue.

We know that we can continue to count upon your cooperation.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,

Simon Shetzer.

Dear Mr. Hollander:

A few days ago I received the report on the Committee of Referendum.

In going over same carefully, I found that Scranton has been reported among the cities in which no action was taken or no information received prior to May 20th. I am protesting having Scranton listed among communities who have not taken action, as I personally addressed a letter March 21, 1941 which reads as follows:

"At a meeting of the United Jewish Campaign of Scranton, held March 20, at 8 p.m. at the Y. M. H. A., the Executive Committee unanimously rejected the proposal to establish an advisory committee for budgeting."

Action of this kind do not place very much confidence in the Council of Jewish Federations. Being that the vote was so close, and having counted Scranton out and probably some other communities, we hesitate very much as to whether the tellers were acting strictly impartial.

Yours very truly

AIRMAIL - SPECIAL DELIVERY

June 12, 1941

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver
The Temple

Cleveland, Ohio

Dear Dr. Silver:

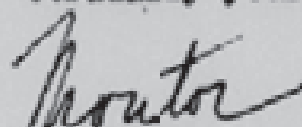

Mr. Louis Lipsky, Dr. Stephen Wise and Dr. Israel Goldstein have approved completely of the draft of the proposed letter to the President of the Council of Federations and Welfare Funds. Judge Rothenberg, however, proposes certain changes. The letter has been retyped to incorporate the suggested changes that Judge Rothenberg has made.

In the retyped letter you will note the words that are underlined. Such underlined words indicate that they are additions suggested by Judge Rothenberg. Several words and phrases have been removed in the process. May I look forward to the receipt of a copy of the letter as it is finally sent off to Mr. Hollander?

May I say that everyone felt that the letter was most effective. I also spoke to Mrs. Judith Epstein who acts for Hadassah in such matters. She thought that the summation of the case was impressive. She wondered, however, whether the U.P.A. could take the position that it would not cooperate with the Council of Federations in view of the fact that so much of the money raised by the U.P.A. comes from Welfare Funds. The Hadassah has not yet formally taken any action, but proposes to consider the problem at a meeting next Wednesday. The letter will, however, probably make a difference in the action that Hadassah was contemplating. The Hadassah had thought that perhaps it might suggest a number of Zionists or of its own members to serve on a National Advisory Budgeting Committee in the hope that through such membership, it could have an influence on the decisions of the Committee.

Dear Mr. Goldhamer:

We have been encouraged to see the results of the Cleveland campaign this year and all of us are gratified to see Cleveland in the forefront of the communities which have shown a thorough understanding of the needs of the United Jewish Appeal.

I know I need not emphasize to you the stringency of our present financial position. Our cash needs today are more pressing than at any time in the history of the United Jewish Appeal. For that reason I am wondering what action can be undertaken to speed on to us a large part of the balance of $63,800 remaining from the 1940 campaign and what steps you will find it possible to take to send us, on account, a substantial sum in advance from the 1941 appeal.

I am hopeful that your assistance at this time will be of the kind which will greatly ease the strain upon our treasury.

June 16, 1941

Attached hereto for your information is a copy of a letter from the Warren Jewish Federation that was addressed to the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds.

WARREN JEWISH FEDERATION

Warren, Ohio

June 13, 1941

Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds
165 West 46th Street
New York City, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

We are in receipt of your report on the Referendum on the budgeting question. We note that due to the amount of opposition developed among the member agencies, that you have decided for the year 1941 to limit this to an extension of your Fact Finding Service. In going over the recapitulation of the voting, we are not truly satisfied that this budgeting proposal was passed. Please understand, however, that none of the members of our Federation were present and are not personally acquainted with what transpired at the meeting on May 18th, but the tremendous amount of unrecorded votes, whether for one reason or another, leads us to believe that there is a definite majority sentiment against the proposal.

As expressed in our vote and in our previous letters to you, we do not intend that any agency or council to which we may or may not belong shall determine to whom and in what amounts our funds shall be distributed. It is through the efforts of the members of our Federation that the money which we send to beneficiaries is raised and the members who are responsible for the raising of this money feel that the right is theirs to distribute the money to such beneficiaries and in such amounts as they think proper. We do not feel that this right shall in any manner be infringed upon by anyone, and any attempt to do so would result in a serious situation in our Federation.

We hope that in accordance with what was shown on your recorded vote and with the large amount of unregistered sentiment against this propose, that your Council will see fit to confine its activities to fact gathering and reporting, and stop there.

Sincerely yours,

BERNARD W. ROSENBERG

My dear Jonah:

I should like to make the following correction in the Minutes of the meeting that was held last Thursday.

You will recall at the end of that meeting after Mr. Gotshal had made his suggestion. I opposed the appointment of the smaller committee to give further study to the proposal, stating that the appointment of a committee involves morally, if not legally, some kind of commitment and that in my opinion those who represent the UPA were not authorized to make any commitment, however tentative or tenuous, but that they were authorized only to attend the first meeting and come back and report.

May I request that this correction be entered into the Minutes.

Sincerely yours.

Mr. Sylvan Gotshal

My dear Mr. Gotshal:

I have your letter of June 13th, but regret that I cannot attend the luncheon on Monday as I have to be in Atlantic City at the Convention of the I.O.B.A. for JNF business.

At the meeting which was held last week, it was impossible for me in the presence of the JDC, NRS group to explain my misgivings regarding the proposal of Dr. Jonah Wise. In view of the fact that I cannot attend the luncheon, may I take this means of briefly stating my point of view, in which incidentally Mr. Montor joins completely. I have not had the opportunity to discuss with Dr. Silver beyond the mere statement of my position at a recent meeting of the UPA Executive.

I can see where, from the standpoint of the man who makes a contribution to the campaign or who works for it, the proposal of Dr. Jonah Wise would seem highly desirable. There is another point of view, however, namely that of the UPA. It is the latter which I believe it to be our duty to consider first.

Our recent experiences in connection with the reconstitution of the UJA should teach us the value of having for the UPA strong constituent groups in various parts of the country to defend the UPA interests. Unfortunately, the JDC will not give recognition to our demands merely on the basis of their merits. They are apparently much more impressed by our strength both in fund-raising and in the stimulation of public opinion. Perhaps the second impresses them even more than the first. Were it not for this factor, I doubt if the JDC would have swallowed its pride and retreated in our favor from its original formula in connection with the recent reconstitution of the UJA.

I believe it is fair to say that the strongest weapon we had in the controversy, and the strongest we may expect to have in the future, is right here in New York. This is the place where the main portion of their leadership resides, and this is the place where a large portion of the UPA leadership resides. It is in New York, therefore, that they can be moved to feel the greatest amount of irritation. Our ability to threaten a separate campaign in New York for the UPA is therefore an advantage which should not be forfeited.

Up to the present time, New York has been the one open territory for an independent campaign because of the fact that almost everywhere else there have already developed community chests, welfare funds and permanent machinery for united campaigns.

Were we to give up this advantage which we now possess here in New York, we should be forfeiting a very substantial weapon.

The creation of a permanent machinery in New York will seriously impair our ability to use the New York situation as a means of pressure to accomplish a satisfactory arrangement nationally between the JDC and the UPA.

I have no confidence in the suggestion that an Allotment Committee of impartial people can be set up. Such an Allotment Committee is bound to lead toward a JDC-NRS combination.

Even if it is to be assumed that a permanent machinery would save $100,000 or $150,000 for expenses in New York, the UPA share of that saving would be somewhere between $30,000 and $50,000. The question for us from the UPA standpoint is whether it is worth risking that amount of money in order to maintain for strategic purposes the best asset we have in our bargaining with the JDC. My own opinion is inclined to the negative. Needless to say, however, if Dr. Silver and my other colleagues feel differently, I shall gladly defer to that point of view.

Would you be good enough to read my letter at the luncheon meeting.

Cordially yours,

Dr. Israel Goldstein

Mr. Henry Montor

New York City

Dear Mr. Montor:

We have sent a letter to the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds reaffirming our opposition to a National Budgeting Committee and have registered our protest regarding the method used in determining the results which the Council has published.

We reiterate the decision of the Jewish Community Council of Schenectady that we are opposed to any plan whereby a national committee will dictate or even recommend the allocations of funds without regard to local preferences and predispositions.

I am sending this note to you at the request of Mr. Joseph E. Grosberg who feels that you would be interested to know of our recent action.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Samuel Weingarten
Secretary

WILLIAM HENRY CHAMBERLIN - AUTHOR, AND FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT.

Mr. Chamberlin has had eighteen years of foreign experience as a journalist and writer, mostly in the following countries: Russia, Japan, China, France and Germany. He is the author of the following books: "Soviet Russia," "Russia's Iron Age," "The Russian Revolution, 1917-1921," "Japan Over Asia," "Collectivism: A False Utopia," and "The Confessions of an Individualist."

SUBJECTS: CAN FRANCE COME BACK?
THE FAR EASTERN CRISIS
THE RUSSIAN ENIGMA
EUROPE'S IRON AGE
THE COMING PEACE (A summary of possible endings of the war.)

So far as the issue of America's attitude toward the world crisis is concerned, his views are not unlike those of the "America First" Committee. In other words, while favoring reasonable preparedness and economic aid to England, he is definitely opposed to America's entrance into European or Asiatic wars, unless in response to an armed attack on the American continent.

Recent and coming Magazine Articles:

"The Collapse of France" (In the September Atlantic)
"The Coming Peace," (In the November "American Mercury")
"Europe's Revolt Against Civilization" (December Harper's)

In the December Mercury he is paired with Herbert Agar, an advocate of interventionism, on the issue of the American attitude toward the war. He will be glad to uphold his viewpoint on this question in debate.

He is contributing articles and book reviews to The Monitor, writing for various publications, doing some work in an advisory capacity for The Atlantic Monthly and working on a book on the causes of the decline and fall of liberal civilization in Europe.
