RACE HATRED IS BLASPHEMY

A Message on Race Relations

Issued by the Commission on Justice and Peace of the Central Conference of American Rabbis in Observance of RACE RELATIONS WEEK
Commencing February 9, 1947

RACE HATRED IS BLASPHEMY

At this season, hallowed by memories of Abraham Lincoln, the Commission on Justice and Peace of the Central Conference of American Rabbis reaffirms its faith in the brotherhood of all men and urges the removal of all barriers to the achievement of one Humanity under one God.

To maintain that God has placed any race or class of men in a state of permanent inferiority is to blaspheme His name. Such an idea, whether based upon a misinterpretation of Scripture or a misreading of nature, is but the rationalization of groundless bias and contemporary prejudice. A hundred years ago the same ideas were used to condone the institution of slavery. Our current prejudices are surely no more tenable or durable. In the years to come, our prevailing attitudes toward colored peoples will be repudiated as neither normal nor moral, and will have been outgrown by a humanity become more humane.

Every Jew who believes in Judaism, every man who believes that God is the Father of all, must take up the struggle against discrimination. Man, we believe, is created in the image of God. Therefore, no man may say of another man, created in that same image, that he should "keep his place." We who believe that to love our neighbor as ourselves is life's highest aim must lead in efforts to ameliorate the condition of our colored brothers.

We applaud the strides made in recent years in the direction of inter-racial brotherhood: the opening of American shores to the citizens of several, if not yet all, Oriental countries; the recognition accorded the heroism of Negro troops in our Armed Forces; the provisions embodied in the federal aid bills guaranteeing greater educational opportunities for Negroes; the U. S. Supreme Court rulings requiring equal treatment for Negroes in cases involving the franchise, education and union membership; the increasing recognition of Negroes in sports; and the inter-racial activities of many religious and labor organizations.

But there is yet a task for us and for all men who believe that God is our common Father. We are witnessing today a tragic revival of the most bitter and brutal attack on groups of our fellow citizens. Lynchings have increased in number and violence, but the guilty have not been brought to justice; the political leaders of great States are openly advocating that Negroes be deprived of the right to vote. Many men who fought for America face today, in times of stringency and overcrowding, a special handicap in finding homes, educational opportunities and employment because of race or color. The right to vote, the right to work, the right to live in dignity and self-respect are being challenged.

To this end, we favor federal legislation to outlaw lynching and to abolish the poll tax; measures to establish the FEPC on both state and national levels, and other measures designed to afford full opportunity to all Americans.

In the larger perspective, race relations are crucial to the peace of the world. Racial antagonisms know no boundaries. We favor action by the United Nations to defend and extend the rights of all men of every race in every country in the world. We hope to see our country lead in this effort by our fair treatment of the inhabitants of our possessions, as well as by initiating liberal and constructive policies in the United Nations. But we must first of all set an example by just treatment of the minorities within our own borders. Only by the achievement of a truly free America in which all men, regardless of color, have equal opportunities for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, can we lead the world toward a society in which all nations may live together in harmony and build together in peace.

We appeal particularly to the conscience of our fellow-Jews to express in their lives the traditional Jewish love of humanity, to champion the cause of justice for all men, to become exemplars of universal brotherhood.
