Dear Abba:-

Dr. Wise will be in Cincinnati the coming Wednesday to attend a meeting of the social workers of the city. I'd like to have you meet Dr. Wise and have a talk with him. Am sure you will be benefitted. Get Dr. Bogen to arrange for a meeting. I also want Dr. Wise to get to know Freehof. I feel that the young men in the ministry should get into personal contact with such a rare spirit as is my chief--- that is the young men who are worth while and to whom the ministry is more than merely the opportunity of making an easy living. Such I take you and Freehof to be. You already know Dr. Wise. I want him to ~~xxx~~ know you.

I haven't time just now for a real letter. Perhaps some day when I catch my breath I'll indulge in the pleasure of giving you my impressions of New York. One thing New York is doing for me. It is making me more and more conscious of my Jewishness. But more of this at some other time.

Happy
With heartiest wishes for a New Year, I am,

Sincerely yours,

David Fichman

P.S. Last night I met an old friend of yours by the name of Schwartz. He is now studying law at Columbia. He asks to be remembered to you.

Dear Silver;-

I wrote some time ago to Leibert, telling him that I was getting ready to come to the H.U.C. next October. He did not seem very excited over the fact; for I have not yet heard from him.

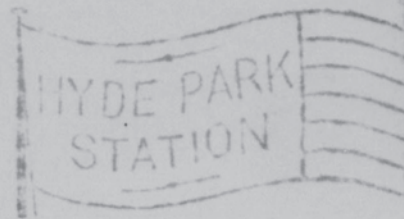

Shall you come to Chicago next Summer? If not, can you get into communication with me so that I can have someone to pestu with questions, of which I have about a million or so?

My dear Mr. Silver -

It took me sometimes before I recovered from your letter - I was tempted to write to think that you got an idea that I had "murmured" so it is however I managed to scrap together fifty and send you a check for same -

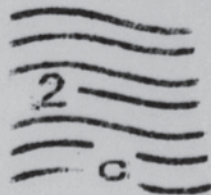

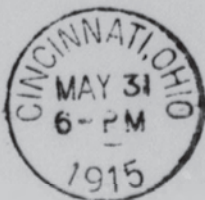

Now I wish you should do me a favor and get the bags together in my house some day next wk preferably Friday - What do you think of it -
Please

Dear Mr. Silver,

I've been hearing about you from time to time this winter - both from a Kentucky rabbi and a New York "Bureau worker". And they told me how well you were doing at college - the valedictory and all! - and I was foolishly pleased. You see, I feel I really know you, because you are a friend of a very good friend of mine, and a fellow student of one, who may not always be a friend, but whom I some day hope to designate as a husband.

So I send you my best wishes with all my heart.

Mr. Chigotkin well

You might give my respects to Rabbi Levine, when you see him.

Dear Abe:

I wrote to Myron about two weeks ago asking him to let me know how far the B grade went in Rashi last year. He hasn't answered so far so I thought I had better get the dope from headquarters. I've been studying with the father of Rabbi Gershon Sevi of Chicago, a gentleman of the old school who knows his Talmud by heart. We have read the first 15 chapters of the Rashi to □'717 and I want to know how far I must surely go. In the three weeks left before I return I would like to tackle some of the stuff we read with henmarks this ^{coming} year so I can perhaps get a good start and not stand in fear of Pat's displeasure.

If I have read the required Rashi I will do this.

If you would just me know how far they went I would your debtor than I already am. Your sincere

Esteemed Sir

I wish the privilege of offering a word concerning your speech of a week ago, as printed in last Sunday's Register.

It is one of the finest pieces of English that I have ever come across. And you came closer to the inmost heart of things than any one I have met in many years.

Surely God has given you wonderful powers and correspondingly great responsibilities.

I know that your heart and your purposes are right and that you will use your talents unreservedly for the glory of God and the uplift of man.

You are starting right. Let an experienced man advise you to keep steady and to do no more than you can do well, so that you can be at your best every day, every hour.

Faithfully yours

W. W. Maguire
