My dear Mrs. Horberg,

I have not had a chance to see you since the Pageant, but I have been most anxious to avail myself of the first opportunity to congratulate you upon the success of the Pageant, which, in a large measure, was due to your untiring efforts.

I need not tell you how deeply I appreciate your work and your most valuable assistance, and the sacrifice which you made in remaining over for the Pageant. I do hope that you will have a most pleasant rest.

With kindest regards, I am

Newark, N.J.

My dear Krin,

I was most happy to receive your letter and to learn that you are about to organize a congregation at Newark.

I need not tell you that I should be most happy to accept your kind invitation to assist you in the work of organization were I in a position to do so. Unfortunately, the amount of work here and the number of lecture engagements which I have for the next few months makes it quite impossible for me to accept any additional obligations to speak or do any more traveling.

If I can assist you in any other way, please advise me.

Trusting that you are well and enjoying your work, I am

Mr. Mark Hoffman,
Vyse Street,

My dear Mr. Hoffman,

A friend of mine, Mr. Sigmund Korach, 2621 Fairmount Boulevard, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, is interested in the purchase of a Jewish Encyclopedia and also a number of other books of Jewish interest. I would suggest that you write to him, mentioning the fact that I called this matter to your attention, and giving him the bindings of the Encyclopedia, as well as a list of other Jewish books which might be of interest to him. He is just completing his new home and I think he wants to build up a small Jewish library.

Another friend of mine, Mr. Edward A. Moss, 2837 Euclid Boulevard, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, is desirous of obtaining a set of the Harvard Classics, the same as you sent to me. Please write to him also, sending him the price list.

Wishing you well, I beg to remain

Dear Rabbi Silver:

March 7, 1921

I thank you for your friendly and encouraging letter, but I was disappointed to learn that you cannot come to the organization meeting and set service of my new Congregation to address the Congregation and help me to raise ^{the necessary} money, without which, as you know, I cannot make the Congregation a success. Besides, I am in need of advice and experience, ^{with} which I hoped you will be able to help me. Your presence would have meant success, I feel sure. Several prospective members whom I saw to-day, were enthusiastic about my new Congregation, which I decided to call Temple Gates of Zion, others, however, were ^{at first} ~~still~~ reluctant, on account of the Zionist part, ~~but~~ showed interest in the new Congregation. If there is a possibility for you to come and help me by addressing the people to create the necessary enthusiasm, I would appreciate and be grateful to you. If you cannot come now you will perhaps be able to come in April or in May. I would ^{appreciate} any advice from you as to how I can secure money for the new Congregation; advice, in the organization, ~~in the organization~~

how to proceed, I have ~~a little~~ difficulty in choosing a Board of Trustees and a Temple sisterhood executive committee, as I am afraid some prospective members might be offended, & ~~any help or assistance~~ and advice that you or members of your Congregation may be able to render me through you, I shall acknowledge with gratitude. & Sunday March to your brother Maxwell was in Newark to preach at the Free Synagogue.
I had a letter from him from the context of which I concluded that he ~~had~~ knew of a Congregation for me, which would have saved me the effort of organizing a new congregation. But he merely advised me, when I spoke to him Sunday to write again to the College and ask their help, ~~but~~ I am afraid it will be useless, as Dr.
Englander may not wish to be bothered, and I do not wish to arouse his displeasure.
Maxwell thought, however, that there is room in Newark for a Congregation ~~such~~ as I wish to organize and encouraged me to make the effort and promised to help me as far as he ~~can~~ without going against the Free Synagogue. I mentioned to him the fact that I ~~was~~ ^{had written} to you asking you to come and also about your answer stating the impossibility on account of time.

With many good wishes and hoping that you will be kind enough to advise me, I am,

With brotherly greetings,
Faithfully,

F. M. DREW, MANAGER.

Cleveland, O. Mar. 7, 1921.

Rabbi A. H. Silver,
The Temple,
E. 55th & Central,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Rabbi Silver:

A great many people feel that Burlesque entertainment is something entirely different from the class of attractions shown at other theatres. In order to correct this mistake I am enclosing clipping from the Plain Dealer of March 2nd, concerning the Morrissey Sisters who played this theatre with the Jingle Jingle Co.

You will note that these two principals came to this field after many years on the Keith Vaudeville Circuit.

Yours very truly,

F. M. Drew

Change is Marked in Burlesque

BY HARLOWE R. HOYT.

Seventeen years ago two young women applied to Frank Drew for a job.

Not to delve back too far into ancient history, let us say that the Frank Drew today is the manager of the Star Theater, with Wood Campbell; and that the sisters who so applied were the Morrisseys.

Now, to repeat for a bit. Seventeen years ago two young women applied to Frank Drew for a job. They told of the little stage experience they had enjoyed—singly and individually—and, as a result, Drew decided to give them

Twenty-five Years Ago.

Plunkett Greene appeared in concert at Association hall.

a chance. They went out with the Tiger Lilies. This was one of the pioneer burlesque companies.

Taking them individually, the Morrisseys were:

Dolly and Stella.

This week the two are back again at the Star. Their angle of burlesque is an interesting one. In reminiscent mood, they discuss it; and the various turns and twists which they offer are more than interesting.

"A few years ago," so Stella said, "each of us could have been fitted out for a season for $500."

"And how easy it would have been," added Dolly.

"We each have seven complete changes with the present show," Stella continued. "Our wardrobe costs us, on an average, $2,500 a season. It is worth it. Seven changes at that price means a bit of outlay—but we are trying to give returns to burlesque. Why not?"

Now to look back on the Morrisseys.

They discarded burlesque for vaudeville. For a decade they traveled the Keith circuit. With an amount of acclaim they made good as comediennees, and now they are back on the burlesque wheel because they believe there is more opportunity for recognition for them there.

Burlesque has changed a bit since the Morrisseys started. Indications are that it will continue to do so. Just a short time since the head of a certain circuit revoked the franchise to his own show in order to uphold the standard which the wheel demanded. It wouldn't have been done some years since. It couldn't have been done had not demands upon the management required it. But managers in recent years have learned what is required and they are doing their best to put burlesque on the basis of musical shows.

"The curse of burlesque is the name," said Dolly Morrissey. "It isn't a bit different from musical comedy. Or the revues which are offered."

"I remember," Stella continued, "some years ago, when popular priced musical comedies were offered. That was back in the Stair and Havelin days. Do you remember them? Well, many of these were nothing more or less than burlesque presented at different prices."

"I know of one," Dolly interrupted. "It was called 'Me, Him and I.' Before that, Watson, Bickel and Wrothe had played in burlesque with exactly the same line of entertainment. And following, they graduated to the Ziegfeld Follies."

No, after that, it seemed reasonable to assume that burlesque is progress.

The Cleveland Graduate Club of ZETA BETA TAU

Dear Frater:-

A vote of confidence in Board of Governors and the approval of the suggested action pertinent to the purchase of the new chapter house, was the result of the special meeting at the Hotel Winton, March 14th.

The proposition is the purchase of the leasehold of property located at 11447 Euclid Avenue. The lot is 50 by 195 feet and is used at present by the Sigma Nu fraternity as a chapter house. We can purchase the lease for about $8000.00 (not all in cash). This provides for a ground rent of $1500 a year for the next four years and then $1800 a year for the rest of the 94 year period. There is a building clause, calling for a $20,000 building within 10 years and also a purchase clause exercisable within 10 years with a price of $30,000.

From the budget, running and operating expenses, as well as repairs and incidentals would be approximately $3600 a year, while the proposed income budget allows at least $500 margin over the expenses. The income budget includes rent from the under graduates, who will live at the house, rent from the alumni living here, house dues of the two active chapters, alumni organization dues, interest from money in savings bank and the cumulative fund created by the signing of notes of all future initiates to the active chapters and affiliates to the Graduate Club of $25.00 a year for 10 years following graduation. This is done to alleviate the burden on the Graduate Club.

There is enclosed herewith a return postal, allowing fraters who were unable to attend the meeting, the right of a vote. IF YOU FEEL THAT THIS PROPOSITION IS NOT WORTH GOING INTO, TELEPHONE TO BROTHER MAURICE SINGER AT MAIN 124 AND GET THE DATA ON THE HOUSE. OTHERWISE A VOTE AGAINST THE PROPOSITION IS WORTHLESS. OBJECTIONS, NATURALLY, MUST BE SOUND AND VALID AND THEREFORE IT IS DESIRABLE TO HAVE ALL FRATERS FAMILIARIZE THEMSELVES WITH THE PROPOSITION.

Attend to this matter right away and send in your card, because action must be taken before ~~March 26th.~~ April 16th.

REMEMBER, this is to be your house. Don't shirk your share of responsibility. The Board of Governors--at present--feels that this is a good opportunity, but it wants your point of view. SEND IN THE POSTCARD.

Most fraternally yours,

Dear Dr. Silver:-

You may be surprised at receiving a communication from a stranger; and yet I do not feel like one, for having been intensely impressed by your speech at Temple Beth-El on March fifteenth, I certainly feel drawn to you by the strongest ties of admiration and assimilation - in sentiment. Without flattery, I have never listened to utterances that so absorbed me and moved me - I might say - & heavenly harmony. You seemed to me the incarnation of a secret breathing the spirit of wisdom and peace on a troubled world.

And now I am going back you if it is possible to let me have a copy. A friend is having one thousand copies of a March fourth Editorial printed & circulate amongst his friends. Couldn't you do something similar? I often think of Castles scattering the printed seeds of the French Revolution.

The Plain Dealer Publishing Co.,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Gentlemen:

Attention Mr. E. H. BAKER .

Your publication in this morning's issue of the Plain Dealer of The Dearborn Independent advertisement has struck pain and resentment in the heart of every Cleveland Jew. Right thinking non-Jews also can not but feel profound indignation at your amazing proceeding. Anti-semitic articles carried by the Dearborn Independent not only aim to bring insult and disgrace upon an entire people, but also by stirring up race and religious prejudice tend to strike at the very foundation of the Republic. Distinguished Americans outraged by the insidious and pernicious effect of this campaign upon American life and institutions have publicly uttered their word of indignant protest. The City authorities realizing the baleful effect of this propoganda upon our community life have prohibited the sale and distribution of the Dearborn Independent upon the street of Cleveland. You by your acceptance of this advertisement become in a sense an ally and fellow conspirator of perhaps the most vicious and disintegrating force that has been let loose in American life for a generation.

The Plain Dealer always deservedly has been regarded as a high type of dignified American Journalism. You keep from you columns all advertisements of quack doctors and crook financial agencies. And yet do you not see that the publication of these advertisements, harmful as it would be to the community, would not be comparable in its pernicious effect to the advertisement that you have accepted and published. These others which you rightly refuse would effect the welfare and health of a limited number of our citizens. The advertisement which you accepted and published effects the happiness and welfare of an entire group of people and endangers those very principles of American life which you so frequently and forcefully expound and defend.

Not only as an American and Jew but as a life long friend of the Plain Dealer and its personnel I respectfully protest against your advertising this nefarious publication and earnestly request its discontinuance.

Dear Dr. Silver:

I have much pleasure in introducing to you Dr. Chayim Heller. Dr. Heller is one of the great Jews of this generation. He is recognized as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, rabbinic authorities, and he is at the same time a man who has had a thoroughgoing scientific training, so that his published work, and more particularly, his work in manuscript, has made a very deep impression upon scholars, Jewish and non-Jewish, both here and abroad. The Cultural Committee of the American Jewish Relief Committee has just appropriated $25,000 towards the establishment of an academy for higher Jewish learning to be conducted under Dr. Heller's direction, perhaps at Danzig. The primary purpose of this institution is to secure as students a number of men who are already authoritative rabbis, and who require scientific training in addition. These men will become, within the course of a short time, instructors and professors in institutions of learning. Dr. Heller is to be in Cleveland, and I hope that it will be possible for you to be of aid to this really wonderful man. His project is of fundamental importance for the development of Jewish learning.

Thanking you for your courtesy, I am

Dear Mr. Silver,

To my think-

to tell you that we (edi-have missed you considerably the last few days.

Some of the living

by our part - however, for you mixed a most charming presentation of Mrs. Schwab's poetic little play Sat. afternoon at the Council Re-lance. It is worth reading, as it was rec-ing. - the lines are really poetry, & quite spiritual at times. I am going to enclose a program I think I have one.

Altho' we missed you (again!) Sunday morning, I must conscientiously say that I enjoyed Mr.
Haley very much indeed - he had something to say & said it so well. I am quite elated to-night -
I am on the track at last of a pound (at our figure) for the extension & hope to have it in yet this week.
I trust you will be rather pleased to hear this, as was Mr. Abel this morning.

I was very glad to read your letter to Mother & so glad you wrote it. Mother is a dear good boy, but he displeased me at times in certain matters such as this.
Kind he is going to do better next fall. I also must be told by that I am going to take special interest in the M. & G. But next season I be happy to do anything for any the cause. Do not think me entirely unempathetic - I do hope you are much better if not all well again by now. Sincerely yours,

Rabbi Silver,
% East 55th St. Temple,
East 55th & Central Ave.,
City,

Dear Rabbi:-

The writer was in your Temple to hear a lecture on Friday evening March 25th and enjoyed it very much, especially the open forum part.

This letter is an answer to your call for suggestions and criticism and I hope it will be taken by the Rabbi in the same spirit as it is given.

Everything went along smoothly and nicely until it came time for the audience to ask questions and the Rabbi treated the questions with a smile, which looked to me like too much sarcasm on the part of the Rabbi.

Now if an open forum meeting is going to do any good at all to my mind the questions from the audience should be treated with the same seriousness and consideration, as the subject of the lecture itself, otherwise, why open forum?

The Rabbi will perhaps recall the remark he made to the old gentleman, who tried to say something, the Rabbi's reply was

"You made your point." Also the remark to the young man in the rear about some "Fire Works" he was about to deliver and the entire questioning was treated by the Rabbi lightly.

Rabbi A. H. Silver,
c/o The Temple,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Rabbi Silver:-

Just received word from Rabbi Wolsey that Mr. J. Skirboll has been elected his assistant and that he will take care of the Euclid Ave. Temple this summer. This will naturally eliminate me from the position of reader which I held last year. As I shall be in Cleveland all summer I wondered whether you had already arranged for someone to read your services and whether I should receive any consideration at your hands in this matter?

Someone recently told me that you had been ill. Here is hoping that you are in the best of health again.

I presume that my housemate, Alvin Lucha, visited you while in Cleveland last week. Shall probably see him in a day or so and then I shall probably know just how sick you were.

With kindest regards to our mutual friends, I am

As ever yours,

Bernard M. Dorfman.

Cincinnati, Ohio- 3/27/21.

Dear Rabbi Silver,

Just a few words to let you know how I am coming along in my work, and to ask your advice in a matter which has come up.

My final grades for the last semester were 98 Liturgy, 98 Pirke Aboth, 98 Catechism, 92 Exodus and 90 Grammar. So far this term my daily recitations in Liturgy and Pirke Aboth were perfect, and in the latter my last quiz grade was 97. So far the work has proven comparatively easy, and I have encountered no difficulties whatever.

I have found the work intensely interesting, and would not give it up for anything in the world.

I am very happy that I have entered the Rabbinate, and am of course greatly indebted to you for having helped in forming my decision.

My folks have perhaps told you that I dropped out of University this semester in order to carry some "C" grade work, and with some extra work this summer hope to be able to skip that grade entirely. I have also received Dr. Mergaustien's permission to do this. If everything works well, I shall be a full-fledged
"B" grader next semester.

Now about the other matter.
The college has already received over fifty applications for students to officiate at the Holy Days, and there are about forty-five students available. Some of the older boys have advised me to apply for a position on the ground that I will be a Junior at University next term. The time is rapidly approaching when the applications must be in, and so I hesitate to send in an application before asking your advice in the matter. I shall be very ^{be} grateful to you, Rabbi Silver, if you will direct my action in this regard.

There is probably very little news of the college that I can give you. Everyone is speculating on Dr. Kohler's successor, and there is a feeling among the student-body that Dr. Morgenthau will be elected. The Seniors are scrambling for positions. Milton Ellis is going to New York as

Dr. Schulman's assistant; Henry Berkowitz as Rabbi Franklin's; Jack Skirball as Rabbi Wolke's and Fred Rypins as Dr. Goldens's. Irving Reicher has been elected to Jamaica, N.Y. and Bill Schwartz will probably go to Little Rock which is Rabbi Heller's old place. The rest are still on the inactive list.

Hoping to receive your reply
very soon, I am,

Very respectfully yours,
Leva.

My dear Mr. Wolf,

I should like very much to interest the Educational League in a young man - Alfred Schultz of 1862 Belmont Avenue. Alfred is a Freshman at Western Reserve. He is 17 years of age and a right ambitious lad. He has been in close touch with many Temple activities, more especially the Temple Orchestra, during the past few years.

The mother with Alfred's aid supports the family and finds it quite difficult to make both ends meet. It was a hardship to meet the tuition fee for Alfred's Freshman year, but I understand he has paid for the next semester. Both the mother and the lad are very anxious that he should continue in College.

Kindly let me know at your convenience what can be done in the matter.

Rabbi A.H. Silver,
C/O The Temple,

Dear Rabbi:-

I understand that you purchased last January a set of the "Harvard Classics known as Dr. Eliot's five foot shelf of Books".

No doubt there are members of the Temple and others that come to you for advice on many subjects aside of Religion, and among these I suppose is the question of what to read for a liberal education. If you do advise any one to read the "Harvard Classics" I wish you would be good enough to refer to me as Agent for these books instead of referring direct to the publishers at New York. (The price and easy-payment terms are the same if purchased through a salesman.) I trust that I am not asking too much of you in making this request. I understand that you purchased the books through the New York office.

I am a former resident of Pittsburgh and I was an admirer of the late Rabbi J. Leonard Levy although my parents are Orthodox in the full sense of the word yet I was very much impressed by the charm of his eloquence and the sermons he preached. I do not mean to flatter you when I say you are his equal in oratory even during his prime after a long experience in the pulpit.

I attended your Friday evening Forum lectures, and I wish to state that I admire you for your consideration by not having discussed ^{at length} the lectures after they were delivered, thereby avoiding the eclipsing of the speaker of the evening.

With best wishes, I am,

Sincerely Yours,

Saul Schackne

My dear Miss Probst,

I am glad to say a word in commendation of Miss Alma Goldstein, who is expecting to enter Goucher College. Miss Alma is the daughter of one of the members of my Congregation and her family is well and favorably known in Cleveland. She is a graduate of The Temple Religious School and was confirmed by me in 1917.

I feel that she will prove and honor and credit to the School she is desirous of entering.

Very sincerely yours,

Cleveland, Ohio.

My dear Mr. Iglauer,

The bearer of this note, Mr. Rappaport is greatly in need of work of some kind. I am wondering if you could find a place for him at Halle Bros. He has recently come to this country from Hungary. He was attending a medical college, but was compelled by the war conditions to abandon his studies and come to this country.

Both he and I will appreciate very much anything you may be able to do for him.

Very sincerely yours,

Wheeling W. Va.
April 6th 1921.

My dear Rabbi.

You will please have to excuse my not answering your letter before because last week we had vacation week.

I was in Akron with Aunt Ruth.
I tried to get over to Cleveland to see you but somehow every day something else happened and I did not get over.

Everything feels and looks so wonderful down here in this little burg with the opening of spring. The leaves on the trees are just beginning to bud and the grass is turning such a pretty shade of green even the songs of the Robins and other birds seem to be more beautiful and newer than ever before.

Next Friday night the 8th we are going to have a young Rabbi here from the college his name is, Hyman Lala.

Do you know him?

a week or so ago we had a young man here by the name of, Skirball. He sure was fine.

School is coming along pretty good I had only 85 problems in algebra to get for tonight.

I will try from now on to be a little more strict in my letter writing so that you will be able to hear from me every week.

Oh! by the way I read in the Monday mornings, "Cleveland Plain Dealer," a selection from your last Sunday's sermon there was only one thing about it that is it was too short (the piece in the paper)

Do you know Mr. & Mrs. Ben Jacobs of Akron Ohio Aunt Ruth's Mother and father in law. They celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary last Sunday.

Every body around this neck of the woods is feeling fine.
Having tried to tell all the news
I will close.

Remaining, a True Friend

My dear Miss Steiner ;
Am in receipt of your letter referring to your book. I shall be very glad to be of service to you. I would suggest that you send Rabbi Silver a copy & ask for his criticism. I will then write to Rabbi Zepin of Cincinnati & through him you can get in touch with all the sisterhoods of the country. I feel quite sure that if Rabbi Silver recommends it Rabbi Zepin - who is the executive secretary of the National Sisterhoods will be more interested. I will write to Rabbi Zepin as soon as you send me Rabbi Silver's criticism. Hope this plan meets with your approval. Sincerely

I am a little late in getting your weekly letter to you but you know how it is.
Just putting it off from one decided to write.

Well, 1st Rabbi Loda has been elected for Wheeling's Pulpit.
2nd They are establishing a young men's Jewish Association called the

Phoenix Club.

Received my report the other day and made pretty good grades in everything. Bets is sure getting anxious about her wedding which will take place sometime in October.

Sunday a week ago I happened to be at the Sunday school when Mr. Lala was there. Mr. Wischkind did not have time to take him through the classes so I had to do it.

He sure is a fine fellow. Of course he ~~has~~ asked me about why our S. S. had fallen down so. I did not want to say much about Wischkind so I made small excuses. He sure was surprised when he found out that we did not have a post confirmation class.

Mr. Wischkind has accepted a pulpit at his home (Brooklyn, N. Y.)

They sure gave him a bang by raising the New Rabbi's wages $600 all ready.

There are big horse races in wheeling starting Mon. to the 28 horse racing again on the Only one is fine so will close hoping to hear from you soon

My dear Rabbi Silver:

Miss Theresa Steiner has recently written a book of games for children of the first and second grades. This book is now in the hands of the publishers. I am very much interested in this work of Miss Steiner's and consider it very practical and educational for younger children.

Miss Steiner has been under my supervision in the Cleveland Public Schools for several years. She has been both excellent and painstaking in her work in games, always using original ideas and getting excellent results. I feel quite sure the book she is publishing will be very valuable in schoolroom work. I, therefore, recommend it very highly.

Dear Miss Jones

Today Miss Wright -
the Supervisor of Physical Education came to our Building.

I told her that there is a prospect of a large field for ^{the} sale of my little book if Rabbi Silver writes a favorable criticism of it.

He exclaimed "Why what does he know about such a thing?"
I told her that Rabbi Silver is called upon to do many difficult things & that he always "makes good," and added "You could help him Miss Wright by writing to him & tell him something nice - yourself about my book."

He answered "I surely will. I'll do it this afternoon."

I am writing all this to you Miss Jones - so you will be able to tell Rabbi Silver what it is all about - when he gets the letter.
He probably will be puzzled - unless you have already paved the way for me.

I wish that troublesome little thing would put in its appearance.

I have written to Mrs. Feder.
At 4 o'clock today I did not know whether I'd see you next Sunday.
I was on my way to Dr. Galun.
He spared my life - so I expect to be in Sunday School next week.

Sincerely yours

Mother told me today that you have already paid in full to Jack.

Will you please write to me stating that you have paid in full in order I should have evidence to get my policies out of James hands.

You no doubt have a receipt from the Cleveland lawyer. Can you please send me same or a copy of it.

I have tried to see you last Sunday but, was unable to.

I want to tell you again abbo. that every cent will be paid to you by me.

Of course at present I am unable to do it as it takes about $65 to $70 to live on.

I am also trying to get back the store. No matter how long it will take but, I will pay you every cent. Regards from family

Dear Rabbi Silver

Knowing how hard you work & how busy you are, I am very reluctant to ask you to undertake a task which may prove difficult - because entirely new to you.

I asked Mr. J. Tiger to give me a few helpful suggestions as to how to introduce my little book "Games in Song for Little Folks" into other cities.

He advised me to write to the different Synagogues throughout the Country, asking each to send me the name of one of its members who is closely affiliated with the Public Schools of that particular city.

Mr. Foss said that I should write to Mr. Levin for the names & addresses of the Synagogues & also to ask for the privilege of using his name in my letters.

I am enclosing Mr. Levin's reply to me.

Therefore - Rabbi Silver - I ask you "Will you kindly look over my little book & do the very best you can for me?"

Because you could best judge the merits of the game by a child's demonstration.

Oh - I might "perform" for you some day after school - when you happen to be at The Temple. Perhaps I'll be "board stiff" but that won't matter.

Please tell Miss Jones if you want to see me & she will inform me.

I am wondering if Miss Wright has written to you. It might help you in your judgment.

Rabbi Abel Hillel Silver,

Cleveland, Ohio.

My dear Rabbi:

I cannot begin to tell you of my wife's and my disappointment in not having had the pleasure of your company the other day, but the weather was so bad that I considered it rather an imposition to bring anyone out to the country and sit in the home all day.

We do hope to be more fortunate the next time you come to our City, when I trust you will let us know in order to make an arrangement for you to visit us here.

I am sending you under separate cover a little book, the existence of which is probably not known to you. It is called "The Scattered Nation" by Zebulon Baird Vance. We have known of it for a great many years, but did not realize that Vance came from Asheville, N. C. On our recent trip we stopped off there for two weeks, and on this occasion became again interested in this remarkable man and the fine tribute he paid to our people. You need not return the copy, as we have been fortunate enough in getting possession of a small number of these books which otherwise were out of print.

Sincerely yours,

Nathan Straus

DISEASE IN MILK: THE REMEDY, PASTEURIZATION

REFERENCES ARE TO THE BOOK OF ABOVE TITLE, BY LINA GUTHERZ STRAUS, PUBLISHED 1917, BY E. P. DUTTON & CO., NEW YORK

There is a MILK PROBLEM because milk is the only animal food taken in its raw state (page 28). There are six plagues—typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, septic sore throat, tuberculosis and the summer complaints of children—that may be transmitted by raw milk (page 345).

PASTEURIZATION destroys all the germs of disease that may be in the milk, but does not impair the taste, digestibility or nutritive qualities of the milk (page 31).

PASTEURIZATION consists in heating milk to a temperature of 145 degrees Fahrenheit and holding it at that temperature for half an hour.

In the Nathan Straus Laboratory the best certified milk is used. It is filtered, clarified and modified in five different mixtures according to formulas prescribed by eminent physicians. These formulas are adapted to babies of various ages and conditions. The milk is then pasteurized in the bottle and quickly cooled to below 50 degrees (pages 33-39).

The PASTEURIZED MILK is sold in New York at eight stations in Winter, at eighteen in Summer, at a nominal price. It is the only "ready-to-drink" milk for babies to be had in New York City (page 41). In the twenty-five years of this work 42,873,181 bottles and 24,009,498 glasses of pasteurized milk have been dispensed at the Straus stations (page 77).

Coincident with the development of this work the death rate among children under five years of age has dropped from 96.2 per thousand per annum in 1892 to 34 per thousand in 1916, the mortality statistics of the City Health Department indicating the saving of 241,930 lives in these 25 years (pages 90-91).

The efficacy of PASTEURIZATION was mathematically demonstrated at Randall's Island, where the death rate among the city's waifs was cut from an average of 41.81% to 21.75% without any other change in diet or regimen than the substitution of Pasteurized Milk for raw milk (pages 51 and 204). Also at Sandhausen, Germany, where all the children under two years were supplied with Pasteurized Milk and the death rate was cut from 46% to 20% (page 96). Also at Karlsruhe, Germany, where one-fifth of the babies were supplied with Pasteurized Milk and the death rate among them was only 6.3%, while in the entire city the death rate was 17% (page 97). Also in Washington, D. C., where the death rate among Straus babies was only 6.2% (pp. 103, 209).

It was a long fight against prejudice that led to the adoption of Pasteurization by the City of New York (pages 51-59) and by the State of New York (page 60). Beginning with Chicago, in 1909, and New York, in 1913, the cities have fallen in line, until in 1917 Pasteurization is either required or encouraged in 46 of 52 largest cities of America (pages 70-71).

The first Infant Milk Depot in America was founded by Mr. Straus in 1893. Now there are 297 such depots in the 36 leading cities of the country (pages 75-79).

As a considerable factor in the suppression of tuberculosis, Pasteurization has demanded attention and acceptance. Dr. E. C. Schroeder, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, proved that "one of the chief, if not the most important source of infection is the tuberculous dairy cow" (page 29), and that "nothing as efficient or economical as Pasteurization to make milk safe has been discovered" (page 21).

Dr. M. P. Ravenel, who proved the communication of bovine tuberculosis to children, holds that "Pasteurization has been the means of saving the lives of many infants and children" (page 20).

Pasteurization has been endorsed by The American Medical Association, The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, The American Public Health Association, The U. S. Public Health Service, and The National Commission on Milk Standards, which is made up of seventeen recognized experts.

In order that no baby may be deprived of properly Pasteurized milk, Mr. Straus in 1909 perfected a "fool-proof" HOME PASTEURIZER, which any tinsmith can make and any mother can operate. The plans and directions for manufacturing and for use are supplied free to anyone who applies (pages 85-88).

Professor Abraham Jacobi, dean of American medical men, in the introduction to Mrs. Straus' book, says:

"It is more than two dozen years since Nathan Straus began and carried out his life-saving practice. His methods are simple and direct; his results satisfactory to the infants. These are, after all, the best critics of what is being done for them. Long may they continue to live—Nathan Straus and his many babies in many lands" (page 19).

All that has been said for PASTEURIZATION applies with equal force to cream, butter, ice cream and cheese. All cream, including that used for ice cream and butter, should be properly pasteurized to be safe. There is nothing in the process of making butter, cheese or ice cream to impair the vitality of disease germs. Cold does not kill them; only by heat (Pasteurization) can they be destroyed (pages 109-110).

Rabbi Silver.

Dear Sir;

If the creations in dress we see on the streets and stage today are modest, and men of your caliber uphold them then the world has gone to the dogs. Thanks to you. Just where you wanted it to go.

Cancel Europe's loan, when they are betting millions at the race tracks from America. of Europe. Who are they? Jewish war-made millionaires. Europe socked us 22% on our loans why cancel theirs.

God's chosen people, but be careful that you make your election sure. Isaiah 2-3 will give you some answers.

bonds, war savings stamps and other Government obligations. Are we taking the necessary steps to induce these people to become permanent savers and investors, or are we allowing them to drift back into their old habits and ways now that they are freed from the responsibilities temporarily imposed upon them because of our participation in the war?

Prior to the establishment of the Federal Reserve System, our banking system, including thirty thousand units, had been severely criticized at home and all over the world. We found, however, that by coordinating the units in one great system, operated under the direction of the Federal Reserve Board, the twelve Federal Reserve banks and their branches, we had the most powerful and efficient banking machinery of any nation in the world.

This great machine, however, has been unable to function to its maximum for the reason that the business people and banks had not so shaped their affairs to permit of their resources being utilized to the greatest advantage. On analyzing the holdings of the various member banks these holdings were found to be in very much the same condition as were the people being prepared for war service, when they were lined up for consideration for places in our Army, Navy and Government organizations.

It was found by throwing certain physically unfit individuals into training camps their defects could be readily overcome and they could be transferred into physically fit fighting men. The same was true in connection with much of the paper held by members of the Federal Reserve System. Some of it was improperly drawn, poorly secured, made for uncertain periods, when by a very slight effort it could have been transformed into absolutely sound, well-secured paper with a definite maturity that would serve as a basis for accommodation at the Federal Reserve bank.

The bankers of the nation, shortly after the Federal Reserve System was formed, turned their attention to getting their houses in order. They are deserving of great credit for what has since been accomplished. Our banking system has withstood the greatest shocks and responsibilities that have ever been thrown upon any banking system in the world.

In addition to caring for the commercial needs of the country, this great system has taken on a tremendous burden in the way of Government war financing and in the financing of our expanding foreign trade. The earning assets of the Federal Reserve banks include an aggregate of over $1,100,000,000 of war paper carried under the head of rediscounts and advances to member banks; and our commercial banks are carrying the accumulated foreign trade balance of over $4,000,000,000, representing largely credits of a character that cannot be liquidated within the time usually allowed on current commercial business. These two items are being carried largely to the exclusion of current commercial business.

With our Federal Reserve banks and commercial banks relieved of these two items, they would be in a position to comfortably and adequately take care of any legitimate commercial and industrial demands that might be made upon them by domestic business. However, we would still be without the necessary machinery for financing our foreign trade which means so much, not only to our present, but our future prosperity.

The unstable exchanges and inadequate facilities for extending long term credits are slowly but surely closing the world's markets to us. Many of our worthy foreign customers, not in any way responsible for the tardy settlement of affairs among the great nations, are unable to make further purchases here because of their inability to pay cash or to settle on our customary trade terms. In the final analysis our prosperity depends upon the buying power of the people here and abroad. Failure to conserve that power means that our surplus goods, products, and raw materials will pile up, mills and factories will close and unemployment and stagnation of business must follow.

The people of other countries need our surplus goods, products and raw material. We need the goods they produce and we need their patronage in order to keep our own people employed. These needs do not balance. The requirements of other countries exceed our requirements from them. How can the balance be safely financed?

As indicated, the commercial banks under present conditions can finance this balance only by the diversion of facilities vitally needed for our domestic business. Some people will say that we cannot safely undertake further transactions with many of the European countries, that we cannot go on indefinitely supplying them with raw materials and manufactured products, for by doing so we would be making matters worse. Such people do not reason the problem through to the finish. It is certain that the people of these European countries cannot quickly revive and become good customers of ours unless we give them all the assistance that prudent business judgment will permit.

You will recall that during and immediately following the Civil War our own country was in a deplorable condition. It furnished to the world an example of how quickly and satisfactorily a broken down nation can revive. At the outset of the Civil War we had in circulation in this country about $246,000,000 in gold and silver coin. This was quickly reduced to $25,000,000, and with gold amounting to $25,000,000 in circulation, we, during six years of time, financed imports aggregating over $7,000,000,000. We established a free gold market in New York City. Gold went up to $285. Figured in gold our good friends abroad collected interest from us on the loans we received from them at the average rate of about 22 per cent. Over a period of several years the 6 per cent. ten-year gold bonds of the United States could be purchased with gold for fifty cents on the dollar, thereby yielding to the purchaser 12 per cent. per annum in the way of interest, with another 10 per cent. per annum for appreciation.

Many of the nations abroad were involved in the recent World War for four long years, during which time their efforts were diverted from

My dear Miss Steiner,

I was delighted to receive a copy of your "Games in Song for Little Folks". It gave me great pleasure to read the little book.

The clever songs, with their accompanying music, as well as the excellent directions will, I am sure, make an appeal. The work is a distinct contribution to the curriculum of the kindergarten and the first and second grades. I feel quite confident that many schools will wish to avail themselves of your excellent work. Its composition testifies to the very rich experience which you have gained from your years of work with little ones, both in the Public Schools and in our Religious School.

I am most happy to be able to recommend the work to my friends.

My dear Rabbi Silver:

Referring to your communication of the 8th relative to a fund which you are attempting to raise, I exceedingly regret that I am unable at the present time to make any contribution. My benefactions for the last sixteen months have been in excess of my net profits and under the circumstances I do not feel able to make any additional philanthropic gifts no matter how appealing the cause may be.

Thanking you, however, for bringing the matter to my attention, I am,

Volkswohl

Sagt La Follette.

(Klatsch) Weh.)

Washington, 16. April. Die große Frage, die heute dem amerikanischen Volke vorliegt, ist die Kontrolle seiner Regierung, sagte heute Senator Robert M. La Follette.

„In den letzten Jahren ist in diesem Lande eine gewaltige Macht entstanden, so stark, so heimtückisch und weitreichend in ihren Einflüssen“, sagte der Senator, „dass Männer ernstlich zweifeln, ob ihr eiserne Halt an der Regierung und am Geschäftsleben je gebrochen werden kann.“

„Immer von neuem hat sie sich stark genug erwiesen, den Kandidaten für beide Parteien zu nominieren. Sie hat die Organisation der Legislaturen und der Ausschüsse beherrscht. Ihr Einfluss macht sich in den Kabinetten fühlbar und ist bei der Politik der Verwaltungen und der Ernennung von Staatsanwälten und Richtern klar zu erkennen. Diese große Macht, welche dem amerikanischen Volke die Kontrolle seiner eigenen Regierung entwunden hat, ist das Produkt von Monopolen und organisierter Sabgier.“

Der Senator nannte dann neunzehn Organisationen wie die Handelskammer der Vereinigten Staaten und die Verbände von Fleischhändlern, Kohlenindustriellen, Kohlenhändlern, Zuckerindustriellen, Eisenwarenfabrikanten und anderen, welche durch eine Armee von Lobbyisten einen gefährlichen Einfluss ausüben.

La Follette empfiehlt die Unterstützung des „Legislativen Volksdienstes“, einer Vereinigung, die Vertreter von Arbeitern, Farmern und liberalen Leuten umfasst und den Zweck hat, über die Gesetzgebung zu wachen und das Volk aufzuklären.

Leisig und flüchtig ist mein Gebet mit den nöthigen Worten streich bei.

Oh Herr! Oh Herr!! gib uns den Moses wieder!
damit er seine Östlandbrüder, gesiehet und so lobte dich,
Gib das sie dich Meer der wieder teilen!
Und die sehr Flecken für die,

Dear Hillel,

I was disappointed in not seeing you at the Conference in Washington; however you did not miss anything except some interesting data on rabbinical psychology. It was the most wooden affair - dead, uninteresting, uninspiring!

You will be interested to know that I am planning my trip to Palestine for this summer; I shall in all probability leave, nothing intervening to prevent, about June 15th. I want to get first hand information on the situation.

What suggestions have you to offer?

I shall appreciate also if you would take time to tell me about the present situation in the Zionist ranks in America. Of course from the Jewish publications I have read everything that has been printed, Mack's statement, etc..

With warmest regard in which Polly joins,

Being two days late again I guess you are thinking that I have forgotten about the weekly letter.

Starting next Tuesday at school we will get out at 2:45 taking only 30 minutes for dinner.
The only thing is that we all wish they would leave us start at 8: instead of 8:45 and get out at 2.

We have had horse races here for the last ten days straight.

On May 4th Wheeling will have
