My dear Morris:-

The Cleveland Community Religious Hour was established last year and won a fine following in the community. Some very representative ministers from all parts of the country attended these meetings.

I think it would be a lovely thing if you could accept the invitation. I would love to have you occupy the Temple pulpit on the morning of the Sunday that you will be in Cleveland.

With love to Polly and the children, I am

My dear Maxwell:-

I was in Cincinnati last Friday and had a talk with Dr. Morgenstern. He suggested that you meet him in New York for a personal conference.

He will be in New York between June 7th and 9th and will stop at the Hotel Governor Clinton. He suggested that you telephone him on Monday morning, June 8th.

The Temple, Cleveland, O.

My dear Rabbi:

At the time you gave your address on The Crisis in Social Work, on May 17, at the NASW Conference on Social Work, I was unable to hear you. I had counted on doing so. My friends, who agree with you, have discussed it so much & I feel at such a loss, I wonder if I could obtain a copy.

My own ideas are as advanced as yours, - I help in our Bureau of Unemployment Relief & contact that distressing condition. I do not feel, however, that all the time & money spent on social work shows much result in this crisis.

Thanking you for the loan at least, of your call, I am,

Very truly yours (MRS.) Edith W. Pierce

To Promote World Peace

THE GREATER MIRACLE: By Blanche Kahn Ehrmann. Louisville, Ky. $1.50.

The Book of Job, one of the world's great philosophic dramas, belongs to those types, says Robert Metcalf Smith, in one of his World Drama series, that "reveal . . . the struggle of representative minds from antiquity to the present era to explain the relationship of man to the force or forces that we call God or the Universe." He quotes Carlyle:

" . . . A noble Book: all men's Book. It is our first, oldest statement of the never-ending Problem—man's destiny, and God's ways with him . . . grand in its sincerity, its simplicity; its epic melody and repose of reconciliation . . . So true everyway; true eyesight and vision for all things; . . . Sublime sorrow, sublime reconciliation; oldest choral melody as of the heart of mankind;—so soft and great; as the summer midnight; as the world with its seas and stars! . . ."

Blanche Kahn Ehrmann, feeling how much the world to-day needs to learn again the power of this reconciliation of man's spirit with its source, has condensed into 20 small pages Job's discussion with his friendly enemies, simplifying the issues and emphasizing the miracle that follows when a human soul steadfastly cleaves to its own truth through all distraction, and by seeking finds God. In the multiplication of such souls and the power they radiate she sees the hope of the nations. Men, if they will, may come to trust each other and be at peace.

The brochure was first issued in mimeograph copies by the National Council for Prevention of War in Washington. A demand for it in a more permanent form led to the present edition, which is on sale in Louisville book stores. It is also on the shelves of the Public Library. The proceeds of all sales go to the National Council for the Prevention of War.

R. M.

The Greater Miracle. By Blanche Kahn Ehrmann. Published For the Benefit of the National Council For Prevention of War.

"TO those who accept phlegmatic solutions to the problems of the world's underpaid, who discriminate against races and look tacitly upon suffering slams with the bromidic plea 'man cannot find a way out,' for all these misguided ones, Job paves a way to a fuller life," says the author in the preface to this slight though intensely interesting little pamphlet. In it the writer has tried to demonstrate how the spiritual ideal of this sufferer not only clarifies our conception of the Great Intelligence, but proves the poverty of abstract knowledge as compared with the riches of human experience whose deep broadening thought has freed it from narrow entangling cults.

In simple terms of every day life Mrs. Ehrmann has interpreted the story of Job, his sufferings, his discouragements and through it all his abiding and unshaken faith in God." The Greater Miracle is well worthy of consideration and should prove both interesting and helpful to those who are fortunate enough to encounter it.

Dear Dr. Silver:

One of your parishioners has just suggested that I send one of my little books to you, an ardent Peace promoter.

Under separate cover I am doing so and hoping that you will not regard it as presumptuous.

As local chairman of National Council for Prevention of War I have given all proceeds to that great cause.

Mrs. Wm. Gross is my fair champion, as member of your congregation where I also know a few others.

Awaiting your verdict with keen interest,

Dear Rabbi Silver-

Sam Hartman showed me your letter to him of the 22nd ult. and I hasten to confirm his expectations for an early and permanent recapture of health. I venture to say that he will be in your midsts again for the holidays in better shape than ever before. I see Sam daily and find him deeply appreciative of the solicitude of his many and staunch friends.

Our brief visit when you appeared here this spring for the Palestinian drive consolidated the various scraps of information-newspaper accounts of lectures-conventions, etc. which I have carefully culled regarding you these past six and a half years. We learn of a new book but have been unable to locate a copy here. We took part some time ago in the collation of writings by Baltimorean Jews for the city library. While short the list was very select. I due time we hope to repeat the task for Cleveland

Since October last I have been enrolled in the School of Higher Studies of the Faculty of Philosophy of this University and if I survive thesis and examination may hope in time to attain to a doctorate in philosophy (economics). Had occasion to have luncheon with Rabbi Lazon last week and as ever find the genial savant captivatively gracious.

Please accept for yourself and family my best wishes for a restful and enjoyable summer. As ever,

ADDRESS YOUR REPLY TO

Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron,
Madison Avenue at Roberts,
Baltimore, Maryland.

Dear Rabbi Lazaron:--

I have been wanting to write you for some time, but wanted you to have a letter that would be a real piece of literature, so have put off writing till the spirit would move me in such a way that I could send you such a letter. However, as it has been six months now since your last good letter to me without results, I am going to write you a plain every day sort of a letter, no matter how fluent and flowing my writing may turn out to be. I have my doubts of anything extra coming from my typewriter, as this has been a very hectic year with both Mrs. Willard and myself, and our enthusiasm is about down to zero.

Mrs. Willard has been ill several times this winter, and this last time has been an attack of undulant or Malta fever, that has kept her in bed for eight weeks. She is getting around again now, and is really making a fine recovery, so we are both very happy about it all, for it was rather an anxious pull for us both, as she had never been sick more than a week or two before. She has been doing a fine bit of painting, and had planned to spend a couple of months in Maine with her art teacher this summer, but this illness has upset all her plans, for the cottage they took was at - or on - Bailey Island, and if the fever should come back as it already has once, it would be just too bad for all concerned. We do not quite know what we shall do for our vacation, but it looks now as though we would get in this dilapidated old Hudson of mine, and go east as far as we can to get out of this Lake climate for awhile. I think it will do us both good. I wish we could make Baltimore for awhile, for we have so many good friends there that we would like to see and visit with. One of them also wrote and told me that if I did not soon get back I would not recognize the old city, there have been so many changes there.

I had a very interesting experience last week when I played a very small reed organ at the wedding of one of Mrs. Willard's vocal pupils. She was a niece of Rabbi Woolsey, who was there, and who was assisted by your brother in law, Rabbi Silver. I did not see much of the wedding, as they had the music parked a discreet distance from the ceremony, but I had a chance to talk with them both. Your ears should have burned, for we talked of your boy, and his feat in writing his school play. I cannot but be interested in him, for I remember well receiving the news of his arrival in the choir loft of your temple, and it does not seem so very long ago either. What a keen joy he must be to you, loving music as you do, to watch his development.

as he gets older. I shall be curious to know what the years may have in store for him.

I hear rumors or changes in the music at Rabbi Silver's temple, but do not know much about them. They have a very good man there now as director and organist, but if there ~~every~~ should be a change that is one of the places I think I would like to have. One great trouble in Cleveland is that all the churches and temples have the quartette idea, and a quartette can never be a choir. It is almost impossible to get a good balance, and even if you do, there is sure to be one singer that is a poor musician, and so drags back the rest of the ensemble from doing their best work. Rogers is out at the 82d Street Temple here, retired as organist emeritus after being there fifty years, and they are trying a very interesting experiment there in forming an all Jewish choir. They really have some very fine voices. And I shall watch the experiment with more than ordinary interest, both because it is a chorus, and also because it is an attempt to make use of the material in their congregation, along the lines that John Finley Williamson has done in the churches. He is a good friend of mine, and I have watched the growth of his ideas in the Presbyterian and other churches with close attention.

Well, for a factory man and machine designer I seem to have written a good deal about music and ideals, but they make a very fine hobby for me. Have also just discovered that there are flowers in the world, and almost have a garden. We surely will in another year, though our ground is very limited, and my time ditto. As regards your letter at New Years time, I appreciate much hearing from you, and only wish that you could manage to get out here in person a little oftener than you seem to be able to do. The easy days are coming, and I do not wish to burden you by asking for a letter, but if the spirit should move you, do not struggle much, but let me hear from you, and tell me what you are yours are doing, what your music is like this year, etc. Rabbi Woolsey said that they had had Mr. Castelle up there this last year.

Mrs. Willard joins me in sending our best regards to you and yours.

Sincerely yours,

A.R. Willard

Dear Sir:

I am an organizer
and looking for a Temple position  taken the liberty of writing to you to ask if you know of any opening or could advise me if there might be.

I'm twenty three years of age, a high school

Held a scholarship for two years.

I have given many piano and organ recitals, taught piano and accompanied in the vocal and violin Department of two conservatories of music.

At the Guilford Organ School we were taught advanced Keyboard work and Choir directing so that I am now prepared to do that also.

I do hope you will graduate and have studied at Lake Erie College in Painesville and Connecticut College here in New London. I am a graduate of the Conservatory

of Music in Warren, Pennsylvania and three majored in  organ and theory. I have studied organ for the past five years. Last month I graduated from the Guildmans Organ School in New York City where I

forgive my presumption
in writing you this way.
I now have a chance to play in a church hall my month is anxious for me to confirm myself to simple and only. So far I have been successful.

Appreciate the interest
you may feel in me, I am

Truly yours,

Dear Dr. Silver:

Last Sunday I was privileged to enjoy the service of my own church in Chicago, - the only service which is for me more moving and more satisfying than your service at The Temple.

When I opened the invisible hands were linking these why.

Though you and Dr. Ames have not yet met in person, you have

Dear Rabbi Silver,-

I have genuine satisfaction in presenting Joseph Marotsky to you. He was one of the three highest honor students in the class which graduated from our Harding High School last week. His oration on "World Peace" was distinctive both in its content and in its presentation. The students and faculty alike hold Joe in high esteem.

Be assured that I very much appreciate your willingness to talk with him. It will be a privilege which he will greatly value.

Dear Rabbi Silver:

I am writing you in the interest of a young man, Joseph Narotsky, who graduated in our June class and who has considerable ability.

He is desirous of entering the Western Reserve University this fall. His parents are people of very little means and it will be necessary for Joe to make his own way in school if he attends.

Joe is one of the highest type boys we have graduated in some time. He is eager to learn, honest, loyal to his church, ever willing to do for others, and a very good thinker for a boy of his years.

I understand that Rev. Reinhold has arranged for an interview between yourself and Joseph Monday. I am therefore giving you this information about him in order that you may more thoroughly understand his case.

Very truly yours,

I wish it were possible for us to have summered together at Chocorua, but that is beyond the bound of possibility.

We had a delightful trip home, Abe Feldman, Henry Berkowitz, his wife and I.

I had a long talk with Morgenstern about conditions at the college and I told him I was not satisfied from what I had heard.

I appreciate so much your generous expressions with regard to the sermon.

Esteemed Friend:

The situation in Akron does not seem to hold forth any promising prospects for reasons which I state on page -2- of this letter. If you are not interested in the "whys", you need not bother reading it.---You see how strongly imbued I am with the spirit of the recent Conference and its methods.

There remains for the present only Wheeling, if you deem it advisable to send a letter of recommendation, where I would be the 41 st.

There is also the Mt. Hope Cong. in New York, vacated by Eisenman. Somebody told me at the Conference that they have a 100 applications for the post, so I might sort of turn it into a "101 Ranch". (My Jewish "Gallop" is still with me)

Naturally your endorsement would no doubt overbalance the weight of mylers, especially if you happen to have any personal friends in that congregation.

Whether to be the 41 st or 101 st, that is the question. I shall be guided entirely by your counsel.

In the meanwhile accept my heartfelt gratitude for your most sympathetic attitude and the spirit of new hope and courage you have infused into my being, when I found myself almost at the point of despair.

Most gratefully and cordially yours,

The Situation in Akron

I interviewed Alexander first and he does not seem to be very optimistic. "The man who functioned as an Executive Director left about the 1. of the year. At present the institution, which is a Jewish Center, not a Y.M.H.A. is practically on the rocks. Besides the warring factions in Jewry would not be inclined to select a Rabbi for the place, as they would be apprehensive of the inroads of a man with decided religious tendencies. The place is now managed by a young lady, whose salary is 150 per, and who is concentrating all her energies on holding down expenses. He also suggested that I get an inkling of the situation by speaking to her and I followed his advice.

The young lady seems rather capable and intelligent and she gave a rather distressing picture of the situation. The place is almost on the verge of bankruptcy. Mr. Zabulka, their executive director had a fine and lovable personality, but apparently hardly any business sense and allowed expenses to mount until they accumulated into a 27,000 dollar deficit. With the present depression the situation became very menacing and it almost came to a point of foreclosure by the bank because they failed to pay the interest on a 27,000 mortgage. The institution was saved by a last minute action of some 6 or 7 men who went out and collected the money necessary for the interest.

The place represents a 200,000 investment, the same men are backing it now and are just trying to keep it afloat with barest necessities.

I pointed out to her, that the last minute action could and should have been taken a week before, and they would have saved the good name of the institution and the Jewish community.

Besides the mortgage there are a number of creditors clamoring for the payment of bills incurred.

My Conclusions

My own impression is that their methods of economy are poor and largely overdone, as they mean the curtailment of activities and weaken the "raison d'etre" of the institution itself. To use the common parlance, they sacrifice the talking points, that would justify them in demanding support from the community.

As a matter of fact they have already given or leased away some vital phases of their work.

If the men who are backing the institution now would be willing to underwrite the salary of an energetic man with some knowledge of raising funds, he might with improved economic conditions put the institutions on its feet.

I venture to presume that your friends in Akron are no doubt among the backers, whether they would entertain the idea I suggested, seems very problematic.

My dear Rabbi Silber:

A few weeks ago, I published in the Courier, a series of articles entitled, "Genuine and False Judaism" in which I made an attempt to give as thorough an analysis of Goldman's Pseudo-Judaism as best I could.

To my greatest surprise, it created a veritable sensation in Chicago, and many of my friends suggested to me that I prepare an English version and issue it in book form. I accepted the suggestion and prepared the English version, and as you see from the enclosed proofs it is already set up but I cannot proceed because I cannot foot the printer's bill.

The "Reflex" is suspended and I am still paying debts incurred by the "Reflex" out of my modest salary here in the Courier.

If after reading these proofs you think it is a worthwhile document to be published, and should be published because it will counteract the effects of Jazz-Rabbinism, and I want your sound practical advise how to foot the printer's bill that may amount to $150.00 for 5,000 copies.

The book will be entitled "Contra Goldman" and then a sub title "The case of an atheist Rabbi." My friends here are all "Kabtzonim" and cannot foot the bill.

Kindly let me know what's on your mind, and with kind regards to you and to Mrs. Silber, I am

The superb garden of The Temple itself, the superb renditions of your organists and choir, which often impressed me as being almost celestial, are indeed a fitting background for your peaceful personality. And in closing may I add a word of gratitude to your valets all of whom seem to be endowed with the true spirit of hospitality -

Please forgive me if I have taken up too much of your time in thus addressing two letters to you. I rarely lose myself in speculation, but when I recall you and The Temple, I can think in terms of them only!

CLEVELAND

My Dear Rabbi Silver -

For many Sundays, within the past six years, I have gone 'on my way' the better for having heard your wise words, and been within the shadow of your dynamic presence.

Several Sundays ago I again made a pilgrimage to THE Temple, accompanied by my dearest friend - only to be overwhelmingly disappointed to learn that services were discontinued for the summer! I am certain you cannot even remotely imagine the full weight of the disappointment, as it is so likely I shall never hear you again. Mr. Smart will probably return to London before September, I am that, will mean that I shall then return to my home in Milwaukee.

On that hot, Tuesday I thought I would at least purchase for my precious Italian memory book a photograph of you - but, again a disappointment! Shamelessly moved by compassion on seeing the barometer of my face drop, the young lady at the office of The Temple suggested I would have to take that request up with you direct.

It has really taken a great deal of courage to finally put this in writing - only the certainty of not being here any more by fall prompts me to action! I am a gentle man realize full well that on no ground whatever do I deserve to great a favor, but, please, no one could appreciate nor value a photograph - or snap shot - of you more than I shall ...

And - further - some two years ago, on one of my visits to The Temple, I noticed posted in your library some exceptionally lovely postcard size pictures (looked like copies of etchings) from Jerusalem. Was The Temple, by any chance, all there, or could I kindly be advised of the name of the

I wish to place them also in my

THE DIRECTORY COMMITTEE
Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity
Five fifty one Fifth Avenue
New York

YOUR NAME WILL NOT APPEAR IN THE NEW ZBT DIRECTORY, unless you properly fill in and promptly return the WHITE CARD enclosed.

If you will examine it closely, you will note that it will provide the Directory Committee with all the necessary statistical data that ZBT's new roster should contain. Initials, name abbreviations or nicknames will not be printed.

The present and permanent Central Office records will be checked against the new statistics secured with the return of this WHITE CARD. Many of our alumni have not informed the Central Office of changes of address, although many have changed their residence and business addresses ten times since their initiation day.

PLEASE RETURN THE ATTACHED WHITE CARD BEFORE JULY TENTH.

THE BLUE CARD ENCLOSED gives you the immediate opportunity to purchase the January 1st, 1932 roster. Fill it in, attach $1.00 (check cash or money order), and before the end of December you will receive your copy of your Fraternity's roster, the first to be printed since 1924. The quality of the roster book will depend on — the size of the pre-publication sale.

THE ENCLOSED BUFF CARD, when received by the Directory Committee at the Central Office, will guarantee space to ZBT alumni in the "Professional and Business Exchange Section" of the new roster book. Doctors, dentists, engineers, lawyers, merchants and others will be listed with their professional and business addresses in this special department.

It may be news to many that the Central Office has for several years informally served as a Business Exchange clearing-house. For example, Brother So-S-So, in Columbus, Ohio, writes the General Secretary for the name of a ZBT lawyer in Kansas City or perhaps Seattle, explaining that he has a legal matter which requires the services of a practicing attorney in the other city. The General Secretary has promptly supplied the requested information, and many business and professional relationships have been established, with profit to both parties.

Professional Exchanges have been published by other fraternities, with much resulting good. As the roster is a confidential publication its use will not be abused.

All who desire to be listed in this special section, must now return the BUFF CARD with $5.00 attached, to the Directory Committee at the Central Office.

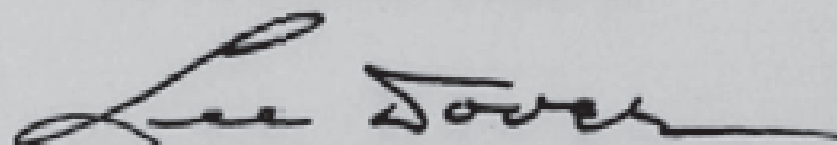

IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO PURCHASE THE DIRECTORY OR SPACE IN THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL EXCHANGE SECTION OF THE NEW ROSTER IN ORDER TO BE LISTED IN THE REGULAR AND USUAL MANNER. Of the three cards enclosed, the WHITE, BLUE and BUFF, the Directory Committee must have the return of at least the WHITE CARD immediately in order to publish a correct and complete directory of Zeta Beta Tau. This has long been the desire of the entire Fraternity.

This is being addressed to every member of ZBT, alumnus and undergraduate, at his permanent address, as last supplied to the Central Office for its records. We know that a small number will not receive this announcement and the cards enclosed, and that these will be returned by the Post Office as being undeliverable because of addresses that are no longer correct. Should any of you who receive this announcement be informed that any other brother has not received same by July 5th, please request him to address the Directory Committee at the Central Office, requesting the contents mailed herein.

The new ZBT roster will be as complete as your co-operation.

C. F. and S.

FOR THE DIRECTORY COMMITTEE.

General Secretary.

My dear Mr. Rothschild:-

Please pardon the long delay in answering your kind letter. I have been away from the city a great deal of the time and my correspondence has lagged.

I want to thank you heartily for sending me a copy of your book, "Paradoxy, The Destiny of Modern Thought." During the rush of the last few weeks I have not had time to read it, but I have packed it in my grip and I am taking it along with me on my vacation, when I hope to read it with pleasure and profit.

With best wishes and thanking you again for your consideration, permit me to remain

Am enclosing check.
In appreciation of your services at our dear sister's funeral.
Only wish that we could do more, but the family have been under such a terrible strain financially and otherwise also want to thank you for your visit to her while she was living you might know how much it meant to her she never forgot it and read your book faithfully. We tried in every way to grant her every

My dear Dr. Silver—

I acknowledge with deepest thanks your kind letter of June 30th to my brother, Carl Schultz.

Allow me again to repeat the sincerest appreciation we feel towards you for your kindness to our dear departed sister, both during her illness in your visit to her, of which she was very proud and which she cherished, and your beautiful services when she was laid to rest. You not only 2 endeared yourself to her, but to all of us, and now in our darkest moments we find great comfort in your beautiful word.

Am I asking too much by requesting a copy of the poem you quoted,
whenever you can send it?
It was so worth knowing and if I can have it I will be so very grateful to you.

Many thanks in advance and best wishes from all our family.

My dear Rabbi Silver!

Was very glad to receive your letter of June 29.

Am doing fine & making real progress but believe it will take some time for me to get back to normal. But I am confident that this institution can do it.

Hope you & your family will have a pleasant stay in Maine, where it is cool.

After some hot days, it is nice & cool today, and hope it will stay this way.

Kindest regards to all of you,

Sincerely yours,

My dear Rabbi Silver:-

I am enclosing the correspondence which came in since you left.

You will note that Dr. Paul Rosenfeld asks an honorarium of $175. We had offered him $150. Presuming that you will allow him the amount he asks for, I have written an acknowledgement to him and am enclosing it for your signature. If this is o. k. you can mail it direct, if not please destroy the letter, advising me which you do.

I have today made a deposit to your account of $388.75. Card is enclosed showing itemized checks deposited.

Please sign the enclosed check to the Community Fund covering the third quarter on your pledge which is due July 1st.

Letter is also enclosed to Mr. Loventhal which if satisfactory please sign and mail to him. His check of $25 was included in today's deposit.

Enclosed also is a statement for books which came today from Harrassowitz. Do you want me to forward any of them to you?

The other correspondence enclosed is self explanatory or else I have attached notations. If you wish me to answer any of the letters please send them to me with notations.

May I suggest that you return all correspondence to me which you feel ought to be in our files.

I hope that the trip was not too strenuous for the children and that by now you are all comfortably settled for a pleasant summer. It has been frightfully hot here and we are all eagerly awaiting the rain which the weatherman promises for tonight.

With kindest regards to Mrs. Silver and the children, permit me to remain

Respectfully yours,

P. S.

If there is anything that either you or Mrs. Silver wish me to take care of please do not hesitate to ask me.

BY JOSEPH DEUTSCH

Published in The Cleveland Citizen, April 25, 1931

I beg pardon for asking a moment of your valuable time, but a certain urge of nature--humanity if you will--tells me you will forgive me.

In years I am a very young man, just beyond the quarter century mark, but in thirst for knowledge and in life's experience I believe I am far older. I have studied a number of languages, a few I speak, some I write. I have studied to become a high school instructor of languages, but owing to overstudy, six years ago, my human machine broke down and I had to stop. I have since helped nature to rebuild my health.

I have been a salesman for six years or so. In that period of time I have met and become acquainted with many of the human species. I find that they all are or were human and that they all have brains. Some use a large percentage of it, others but a very small part. That is not because they do not want to use more, but very likely because present society is such that it penalizes humans that use a large part of their brains and put their acquired knowledge to practical use. Greed rules as yet!

The human race as a whole, in my belief at least, is fine and improving daily, slowly but surely. This process of evolution can and ought to be accelerated, I believe, not by volcances of humanity, revolutions, but by practical use of acquired and stored up knowledge.

At the present time there are in the world, as you know, two extremes: the very rich and the poor. Poverty as well as too great wealth are unnecessary and harmful to the world at large and this country in particular. There is enough for everybody, but there is not too much for anybody. In time of war the government controls the body of men absolutely. It can, according to present laws, do anything with it. In time of peace the government ought to have authority enough to control wealth and limit riches in such a way that all its people, its citizens, should be able to live comfortably and decently. The body of the citizens, in my belief, is more important than their wealth. Therefore, my conclusion is logical.

I also believe each and everyone of us, rich or poor, ought to be asked, and, if necessary, compelled to work a certain number of hours per day, either mentally or physically. In the end there is very little difference. For those who are naturally lazy work should be made so attractive that they would love to work instead of being the drones of the human race, and it can be made so attractive.

Abraham Lincoln, in his memorable address, said: "A government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth." Well, if it has not perished as yet, it is very near perishing. Is our present government a government of the people, by the people and for the people? I should certainly like to see it that way. So would millions of other real American human beings. But is it? You know the answer.

I have studied many things in my 20 years' thirst for knowledge. Among these is human nature and human health. If a man drinks intoxicating beverages he can go to a certain extent without harmful results. If he goes a bit beyond he gets drunk. If he continues drinking his mind will refuse to function normally. Money, in my belief, is like liquor. It tastes good at the beginning. And that's all. Once a man begins to have too much his human machinery breaks down. His mind refuses to function normally. He wants it all. He thinks he is all. Oh, God, or Supreme Being--call him what you will--how sadly mistaken he is! The microbes that can be seen only through microscopes look small, don't they? Well, the richest man living is just as small compared to the sun or to some other large constellation. Then why be puffed up if you have a few shining nothings? Money is a necessary evil. It is bad to have, worse not to have. But money is not everything. Man makes money; money does not make the man. At least I believe so.

A rich man, the other day, told me there is only one real friend in the world--money. I believe he is very wrong. Money is one of the greatest enemies of mankind. It causes greed and greed causes WAR. The poor people certainly are not the ones that want wars, nor are they the ones that order them. I think it is time to stop the manufacture of wars. And in my belief the surest way is for mothers to organize and say--meaning what they say--that they do not bear their boys to be cannon fodder for the greedy. No real human being wants war. The ones that want it are abnormal--their minds are at any rate. Why not help them to cure themselves? It is for their welfare as well as for the rest of us who claim to be and are human beings, and not diseased, greedy beasts that used to be human beings.

I beseech your aid in behalf of humanity. And I am certain that you will respond and I know you can.

Yours sincerely
J. S. Smith

July 9, 1931.

J. M. Berne, President,
Oakwood Club,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Sir:

Supplementing our discussion, consider this as a brief resume of what we are attempting to accomplish with regard to our fairways. Some years ago the dandelions were blown over to No. 3 fairway from the lots across Center Road. These have gradually increased until now they are a serious menace and must be taken care of if our fairways are to be preserved.

The trouble exists principally on fairways Nos. 3, 4, 6, 13 and 14. The balance of our fairways are in good condition and show the benefits of the fertilization plan which we started sometime ago. It is impossible to weed large areas by hand to take out the dandelions because the roots are too deep and it would involve a prohibitive expense with questionable results.

We have just obtained an opinion from the Green Section of the United States Golf Association in which they advocate the control of dandelions by the use of Iron Sulphate. We expect to purchase a sprinkling cart and some sort of a harrow with which the dandelions are bruised before the Sulphate is applied with the sprinkler. We expect to treat the above mentioned fairways this fall and again the following spring and again the following fall. We believe by the spring of 1933 real results will be obtained. The grass in the fairways will be somewhat injured by the treatment but with fertilization the grass will come back and fill in much quicker than the dandelions. In addition to this we expect to eliminate the small dandelion areas and other weeds from other fairways by hand.

Additional fertilization is recommended by the United States Golf Association and this is in line with what we are doing. Last fall I had Mr. Noer, who is one of the foremost turf authorities in the country, make chemical analyses of various samples of soil taken from the different fairways. He advises us that our soil is acid and he recommended a treatment with lime, in order to neutralize the soil. This was done this spring. Other suggestions by him are being carried out. He felt that we did not get the benefit of the fertilization which was done in the spring of 1930 because of the terrible drought but that it would possibly carry over and show later this year.

Oakwood fairways are old farmlands which were not properly prepared and fertilized in the original planning. No. 16 is the only fairway which had been torn up and prepared properly and it shows the results. The Green Committee does not think it advisable to rip up the fairways if it can be avoided as it takes the hole out of play for a year. We are proceeding by the slower method but we feel that with patience good results will be accomplished.

Please do not think that ours is the only Club whose fairways suffer. Most Clubs are troubled with dandelions or brown patch or weeds or the countless other ills which fairways are subject to. We notice it more on our course because we play there oftener.

Our greens are in splendid shape. Every green is watered thoroughly every other night which should keep them in excellent condition.

There are no major changes contemplated on the course. We are developing, however, a planting plan of trees and shrubbery which will greatly beautify the course.

The members could be of the greatest assistance if they would replace divots on tees and fairways. Otherwise, it is almost impossible to keep up with the damage.

Sincerely yours,

L. H. GERSON, Chairman
Green Committee.

TENNIS RULES AND REGULATIONS

- (1) Tennis courts are open for play at all times, except when declared unfit for use by the Grounds Committee.
- (2) All players must wear rubber soled shoes, without heels.
- (3) Members may use the courts at any time, when playable. Children of members may use the courts at any time when not required by regular members, but must vacate courts when members are waiting to play.
- (4) Guests should not be invited to play Saturday afternoons, Sunday mornings, or holidays.
- (5) When courts are in use, players are expected to double up, but may finish incomplete sets.
- (6) No court shall be used by the same player, or players, for a longer period than two sets, after which it must be surrendered to others who may desire to play. If there are no other players who desire to make use of the courts, the same players may continue.

The Committee wishes to be as liberal as possible in extending family and guest privileges without interfering with the rights of members. To this end, the above regulations have been adopted after careful study and consideration.

The Committee, therefore, asks the co-operation of all members and requests them to see that their families are informed of the regulations and comply with them.

Green Committee,

July, 1931.

L. H. GERSON, Chairman.

E. J. GARSON (in charge tennis).

July 9, 1931.

Members of Oakwood Club.

Gentlemen:

Now that the Club has been officially dedicated and opened and we are operating in all departments, we are directing our efforts toward making the summer as enjoyable as possible for our membership. We want the members to use the Club and to be happy about it. Little annoyances are bound to occur and sometimes there are reasons for them. Anything substantial which is unsatisfactory should be reported to the head of the proper committee.

Our policy is to serve in the dining rooms only the finest food which can be obtained and also to provide first-class service. We have revised some of our prices and will endeavor to fix them at the lowest point consistent with the high standard which we are endeavoring to maintain throughout the entire Club.

We respectfully request all members to be careful in driving their automobiles into the Club grounds. Some of our members, particularly the younger members, drive in at a speed of 30 miles an hour and then throw on their brakes. This will very rapidly tear our driveway and parking space to pieces besides causing constant danger of accidents. You are therefore urged to drive slowly. Please call this to the attention of all of the members of your family so that they will also have this in mind. A speed of 15 miles an hour instead of 30 will not make a difference of more than one minute after you enter the Club driveway.

We have already had some damage to our new Club House and furnishings, due principally to lighted cigarettes. This makes every one indignant except the careless one who is the cause.

It is suggested that members supply themselves with bathrobes for use in the locker room.

On the golf course we seem able to handle the increased play. However, some of the young players and also some of our older members seem to needlessly waste time, which slows up the entire course and delays everybody. There is no need to hurry your shots. Likewise, there is no occasion to needlessly stroll along and visit and waste time between shots and in going from the green to the next tee. You will find that you will enjoy the game better if you will keep moving, and it goes without saying that everybody else will.

May we again point out to you the necessity of replacing divots. Every time you take turf with your shots and do not immediately see that the caddy replaces it carefully, you are doing a substantial damage to the course. This is what causes all of the holes and bare spots which you see. It is a simple habit to get into and a courtesy which you owe to the rest of the Club.

Be careful about booking golf lessons and then cancelling without at least three or four hours notice. It is unfair to Mr. Ogilvie and he is entitled to charge for the time.

Enclosed you will find copy of a letter written by the Chairman of the Green Committee, which gives to the members information in regard to our course.

These suggestions are offered only in the spirit of the better enjoyment of the Club by every one. We will appreciate it if you will see that all members of your family who use the Club are acquainted with these suggestions and if you will undertake some personal responsibility in seeing that they are carried out.

Sincerely yours,

PHILIP FRANKEL, Secretary.

J. M. BERNE, President.

THE PUBLIC SQUARE IMPROVEMENT COMPANY
BONDHOLDERS' PROTECTIVE COMMITTEE

Cleveland, Ohio, July 10th, 1931.

To Holders of First Mortgage Leasehold Bonds of the Public Square Improvement Company (ULMER BUILDING):—

Under date of May 23rd, 1931 bondholders were advised that the undersigned had consented to act as a Bondholders' Protective Committee. At the same time we requested bondholders to forward their bonds to The Standard Trust Company to be deposited under the Bondholders' Protective Agreement. We desire to thank those bondholders who have so promptly co-operated with us by depositing their bonds as requested, thus empowering the Committee to represent their interests.

A considerable number of bondholders have not as yet deposited their bonds and your Committee desires to again stress the importance of your doing so at once. The activities of a Committee are often hampered by the reluctance on the part of some bondholders to deposit their bonds. A Committee can function most efficiently if they represent 90% or more of the bondholders. It must always be remembered that "In Unity there is Strength."

Your Committee has pledged itself to devote its time and energy in the interests of bondholders, but we cannot operate efficiently if bondholders assume a passive attitude. Each bondholder must do his loyal part.

Each member of this Committee owns or represents a substantial amount of The Public Square Improvement Company bonds. We are interested in having the whole situation adjusted as economically as possible, and at the same time to safeguard to the best of our ability the principal invested in these bonds.

We believe a number of the bondholders have refrained from depositing their bonds because of the existence of two Committees and the possibility that expenses would be increased accordingly, but we wish to state that by depositing your bonds with this Committee you will be doing that which will mean the least expense to you in the end, and at the same time assure you the greatest protection. Any plan worked out by this Committee for safeguarding the interests of bondholders must first be placed before bondholders for their approval, before actually going into effect.

You have been previously advised that the members of this Committee represented over $125,000 of the outstanding bonds, which is one-third of the entire issue. Since the first call for deposit of bonds a very large amount have been deposited with the Committee and we urge those bondholders who heretofore have remained passive to act promptly in the matter by forwarding your bonds immediately to The Standard Trust Bank, so that we may know that we have your full approval and support.

Your Committee has been supplied with facts and figures in connection with the Ulmer Building situation, and is engaged at this time in studying the whole situation, and those bondholders who have joined with this Committee, pledging their whole-hearted support, will receive information from time to time as to the progress made by this Committee toward formulating a plan or course of action that in the judgment of the Committee would be most desirable from the standpoint of bondholders' interests.

The entire situation is of such importance that the activities of the Committee should not be handicapped because of failure of bondholders to deposit their bonds. Real constructive action is impossible unless the individual bondholders join together for their mutual protection and a Bondholders' Protective Committee is the only practical method by which this can be accomplished. It is of the utmost importance that bondholders make their decision promptly, and if any additional information is required to enable you to arrive at a prompt, definite decision, the Secretary of this Committee has complete data available and he will certainly furnish any information desired.

If you have not already deposited your bonds with The Standard Trust Bank of Cleveland, Ohio, please act promptly in the matter, using the enclosed form of transmittal to accompany your bond to the bank. All bonds should be forwarded by registered mail or delivered to the bank in person.

Very truly yours,

Rabbi A. H. Silver,
Chocorua, N. H.

My dear Rabbi Silver:-

Together with today's mail which is herewith enclosed is an application from Western Reserve for Mollie Bader. I thought perhaps you knew this party personally. No one here seems to know her and I could find no record card for her as far back as 1925.

I have today deposited to your account $27.50 representing a check of $20. Western Union Telegraph Co. dividend No. 249, and $7.50, American Steel Foundries Common Stock Dividend. Please add the amount of $27.50 to your check balance.

Otherwise there is nothing new here.

Trusting that your journey back was pleasant and with kindest regards to Mrs. Silver and the children, permit me to remain

Respectfully yours,

AHS

PEACE HEROES MEMORIAL SOCIETY

Cincinnati, Ohio

July 17, 1931

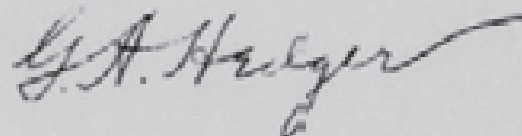

Dear Member:

With the passing of Memorial Day, 1931, we enter upon a new year in the history of the Peace Heroes Memorial Society, to which announcement we must attach the statement that the renewal of your membership is now due.

Will you kindly send $1.00 to our secretary, Dr. Abraham Cronbach, 3431 Laron Ave., Cincinnati, O. at your early convenience?

After meeting the expenses of our recent Memorial Day exercises our treasury is in sore need of further material support.

Fraternally yours,

President.

THE FEDERATION OF JEWISH CHARITIES OF PHILADELPHIA

330 SOUTH NINTH STREET July 24, 1931.

Dear Abba:-

I am sending you copy of a letter to Henry Hurwitz and the article which appeared in the Menorah Journal. However, I do hope you will not allow the nasty attack to disturb your vacation.

What about the long letter you promised to write to me from New Hampshire? I am sending this letter to Cleveland with the request that it be forwarded as I do not have the New Hampshire address.

With love to your family,

Yours,

Billie

Rabbi Abba H. Silver

July 24, 1931.

Dear Henry:-

The reviewer of Rabbi Silver's RELIGION IN A CHANGING WORLD may or may not be justified in his characterization of the book. But, I cannot escape the feeling that the review might have been so phrased as not to give altogether needless offense. There are things in the review which create a lot of irritation. I am sure that some of our best critics, even if they had felt the way Mr. Felix Morrow did, would have expressed their dissent in a manner which would not have given pain to the author.

Then, again, I am sorry for still another reason. You and Rabbi Silver had a misunderstanding some four or five years ago and for this reason, more than any other, I wish the review and the reference to Rabbi Silver in the Chronicles or the Commentaries did not seem as though the Menorah was out for revenge. I know you will take this criticism in a kindly spirit.

Cordially yours,

Billie

Mr. Henry Hurwitz

Dear Abba: I am not sending you page 2 of Hurwitz' letter because it contains some personal data.

Billie.

July 25-1951.

My dear Miss Rothbury.

Please send me stationery - Temple and personal - letter head-and envelopes - about 50 of each.

Also send me checks for dividends as they come in. I shall deposit them from here.

With kindest regards, I am,

Ever truly
Arthur

Cleveland, Ohio

Reverend and Dear Sir:

Sometime ago, the Executive Committee of the Northern Ohio Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, elected you an Honorary Associate of the Chapter. We feel that, by keeping in touch with the clergy and vice versa, all of us will benefit greatly; you will always be welcome to any of our activities.

Most cordially yours,

Edwin Arthur Kraft
