Rabbi A. H. Silver

East 105th Street & Ansel Road
Cleveland, Ohio

My dear Rabbi Silver:

As you know, on May 12th the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations voted by 11 to 9 to report the World Court Protocols out of Committee to the Senate. Thus one more hurdle on the way to ratification has been passed. As a member of the National World Court Committee, I want to thank you for your cooperation.

But this letter has a two-fold purpose. The organizations represented on the Committee believe we must continue our work until the protocols have been ratified, and I hope you will agree that this is wise. But to do so we must have additional funds. I know these are difficult times, but now that we are so near the goal nothing should be left undone to insure the final success of our campaign. I can assure you that the Committee is conducting its activities at the least possible expense and that we are saving wherever we can.

I wonder, therefore, if I may not urge you to make a contribution toward our expenses. We shall be grateful for whatever you may be able to send, but I cannot urge you too strongly to be just as liberal as you feel you can afford. Checks should be made payable to Henry A. Atkinson, Treasurer.

Thanking you for your splendid cooperation, and hoping that we may have a favorable response, I am

Faithfully yours,

Everett Colby

Dear Rabbi Silver:-

I have wanted to write to you for some time but I have been knocking about the country since I heard you two weeks ago in Cleveland.

I want to thank you, on behalf of the Western Unitarian Conference, for the address you gave. But this is primarily a personal word of appreciation for your being there. It seems to me that your address was one of the best pieces of social analysis that I have every heard.

It was a great satisfaction to meet you and to hear you. I hope that our paths may again cross.

My Dear Sir; —

In a recent discussion of the bible I was told that there were originally seven books to the Book of Moses as this is the first time I heard such a statement I am coming to you for information as to correctness of statement.

Was told that the sixth & seventh books dealt with magic. Will you kindly inform me what that refers to.

Although I'm a confirmed agnostic all I ever heard of was "The Torah or Five Books of Moses."

Anxiously awaiting your reply
I am
yours truly,

Dear Friend:

In answer to your telegram concerning Shirley Wagner, permit me to inform you that my records show that she was enrolled in the confirmation class at the beginning of the year, that she attended four sessions of the class and then left for California.
She is a very fine girl and returned in time, I would have been glad to confirm her. It was a pleasure to learn that you have been granted hope that it will bring to you all that you anticipate

Mr. Rudolph Weiss,

My dear Mr. Weiss:-

Permit me to thank you for your kindness in allowing me to read your "Outline of Solving the Socio-Economic Problem."

I read it with a great deal of interest. I am, however, in no position to pass judgment on many of the points which you raised in your stimulating brochure.

Your conception of the federated nations of the world is a bold one in keeping with many of the classic utopias which have been offered and which undoubtedly represent the ultimate goals of mankind.

Your suggestion of "labor money" while not new, has in it, in my estimation, the kernel of sound, economic truth, as has also your suggestion for demonetizing both gold and silver.

Your discussion of the right of landed property is very stimulating. How can you bring it into alignment with the theories of Henry George?

I believe that your brochure should be published so that men who are interested in the fundamental, economic problems of our day may have an opportunity to discuss it.

Thanking you again for your courtesy in permitting me to read it and with kindest regards, permit me to remain

Thank you so much for your kind letter and for the check which you enclosed. It was not at all necessary to send the check. However, I shall place it into a small charity fund which I use from time to time.

I am very much interested in what you write of the effect that the service had on a certain young woman who attended it. That is very gratifying.

My dear Mr. Unger:-

Permit me to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of May 31st.

I read with deep concern the situation which has arisen in connection with the Confirmation of your daughter Shirley whom I remember very well.

I should very much like to be of service to her and to you in confirming her, but here is the situation. I communicated with Rabbi Abram Hirschberg of Temple Sholom in order to get the exact record of Shirley. He writes that she attended four sessions of the Confirmation class and then left for California. In other words Shirley had no Confirmation preparation. Furthermore in looking over the records of the Temple I find that she did not complete her eighth grade at the Temple. She left in May without taking her final examinations.

Under the circumstances it would be a clear violation of Temple rules for me to confirm her. We would not be in position to do it even for children who were still residents of Cleveland and who failed to do the full confirmation year's work.

I would advise Shirley to attend a religious school in Chicago where the ages of the children would be more nearly her own and that she be confirmed in 1933.

Please explain to Shirley that nothing would have given me greater pleasure than to confirm her but that an institution works under certain definite rules which even a Rabbi has not the authority to abrogate.

With kindest regards and best wishes to you and yours, permit me to remain

My dear Mr. Matson:-

May I tell you how deeply I appreciated the kind and friendly tribute which you paid me in the Press of last Wednesday. I feel altogether unworthy of what you say of me.

The knowledge that there are men like you in the community and a newspaper like the Press, unafraid to champion liberal causes and ideas, has given me great encouragement and I am profoundly indebted to them.

There is great need today for realistic thinking and for directness of utterance and I found a satisfying measure of it in your written and in your spoken words. I am grateful.

My dear Sol:-

I was very pleased to hear from you although I find myself altogether unable to comply with your request.

The situation in Cleveland with reference to Jewish education is quite as desperate as in New York. Our Talmud Torahs have had their budgets drastically curtailed and some of them are in danger of shutting down in the very near future.

Our Jewish Welfare Fund which among other things takes care of Jewish education in the city raised last year $140,000. and this year $59,000. What ever spare money therefore, which can be gathered together in the city this year will have to be devoted to our own local needs.

I hope to have an opportunity of seeing you when I am in New York next. I will probably be in New York on June 22d and 23d addressing some Zionist meetings. Look me up.

THE RAND SCHOOL OF SOCIAL SCIENCE

SEVEN EAST FIFTEENTH STREET

ALGONQUIN 4-3094

NEW YORK

June 7, 1932.

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver,
The Temple, Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Rabbi Silver:

It had been my intention to stop at Cleveland, either on my way to our party convention in Milwaukee or on my return, and seek an interview with you on behalf of the Rand School, but circumstances did not permit. I must therefore write to you of what I had in mind, and hope that you may spare time for a little conversation when you pass through New York on your way to Europe, which I understand will be soon.

You will guess that it is about the possibility of procuring financial aid for the Rand School that I wish to speak with you - and there is no reason for being shamefast about it, for money is not sordid when it is put to good uses. I know that your views and ours have much in common and that our school already has your good wishes.

Our situation is critical. With a budget of about $38,000, kept down to that sum by the fact that salaries are very modest, we can never expect the almost nominal tuition fees paid by our working-class students to cover more than a quarter, and often not that much. Endowment we have none. Fairly well assured subsidies from a few friendly organizations give us from eight to twelve thousand a year. So, instead of devoting our energies wholly to educational work, we have to spend a great deal of time gathering straw with which to do our brick-making, and mostly in small wisps.

Two or three "benefits" a year, each of which may yield from a thousand to two thousand, but which involve a great deal of hard work, still leave a considerable margin to be made up by direct solicitation from individuals.

We have no backers who can give in the thousands, only a few who can write checks in three figures. In the main, we have to rely upon contributions ranging from $50 down to ten cents, and you can imagine how the economic depression has affected us.

A deficit of about $15,000 accrued within a few years, more than a third of it in the last twelvemonth, does not look very formidable. But with another bad year before us, and with far the greater part of the present deficit due to staff members and teachers, who have cheerfully waited-for-their-salaries allowed their salaries to fall into arrears in order to keep the school going, but most of whom can very ill afford to do so, we are now seriously alarmed.

The spirit evinced by our teachers and executives, as well as the growth of our student body in numbers and in earnestness, show how necessary it is that the work should go on. And now comes a demand that it be enlarged rather than contracted. Within the last few weeks there has ~~xxx~~ come from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, and other places in the Middle West an urgent call for extension of our services to that region. We are preparing to meet this demand, beginning in the fall, partly by the establishment of correspondence courses for local groups and individual students in all parts of the country, partly by organizing extension lecture circuits for the East and the Middle West. Eventually, we feel confident, these activities will finance themselves, but in order even to prepare for them it is necessary that we get through the summer, which is always our hardest time, and this year harder than usual.

I have taken the liberty of putting this picture of the situation before you in writing, because it is not likely that you can spare much time here, if, as I hope, you can arrange for the interview I suggest. We shall be happy, if you will indicate time and place, to meet your convenience. If you could take lunch with two or three of us it will be a treat for us, even though there should be no material result, to make your acquaintance.

On looking this over, it seems to me that, if I were a third party, I might think we were exhibiting a good deal of presumption. The only excuse is our knowledge of your ~~xxx~~ progressive and humane spirit and our hope that you may be able as well as willing to give us helpful counsel.

Very respectfully,

Hyman Loe

My dear Dr. Pool:-

Please pardon the long delay in answering your kind letter of April 15th. I have been away from the city a great deal of the time and my correspondence has lagged.

Furthermore I tried to inquire of a number of people for the information which you request. To the best of my knowledge there is no Jew at the present employed in the law offices of Mr. Newton D. Baker. Whether there was anyone employed in the past or whether it is a fixed policy of that law organization not to employ Jews I am in no position to say. Some people with whom I spoke seem to have the clear impression that this is the policy of the organization.

Dear Uncle Abba,

I finally did get in touch with the busy Mr. Billikopf. I didn't call him for a week, as you directed me, and even then it took me another week to get in touch with him on the phone. Then, after two weeks of campaigns, I actually saw him. That was last Thursday.

He explained that Judge Stern is a trustee of the University, and might be able to do something for me if he so desires. It has proved embarrassing for him in the past, however. Mr. Billikopf gave me a letter of introduction to the judge, and I am to see that gentleman as soon after Monday (tomorrow) as possible. I hope I'm not too late.

This is the end of the first week of finals, with my last one coming this Wednesday. So far things have been coming along fairly well.

I'll let you know how things turn out with Judge Stern as soon as I have seen him.

Dear Dr Silver:-

Have you a used copy of your late book,

My dear Jack:-

I recall that you suggested to me to get in touch with you when I got ready to engage passage for abroad. You thought you could get us some reduction in rates.

We plan to sail on the Italian Line either on the Conte Grande on October 15th or on the Augustus on October 21st, landing at Villefranche.

We should like to get accommodations on the promenade deck of two adjoining rooms and bath. I have been in touch with the Collver-Miller Company and they are inquiring at headquarters.

If there is anything that you can do in the matter, please let me know.

When are you coming to Cleveland. We plan to remain in the city all summer and we would be most happy to see you.

Yours as ever,

I was greatly pleased as well as deeply moved by the lovely letter which you sent me. There are not many things that can happen in the life of a minister more gratifying than such an expression of friendship and faith.

I enjoyed very much having the opportunity of teaching you this year and of confirming you. I was never disappointed in you. Quite the contrary. I have always had the greatest confidence in your qualities of mind and heart.

I shall probably see you a few times before I leave. Please convey my best wishes to your dear parents and to Glenay.

Sehr geehrter, lieber Herr Rabbi Silber!

Sie verzeihen, dass ich mir erhebe an Sie wieder, mit einer Bitte mich zu wenden. Aber ich schrieb Ihnen schon einmal, dass gute Menschen es schwer haben: man erlaubt sich, an Sie zu wenden.
Sie waren so gut meinem Sohn gegenüber, dass ich Sie um Hilfe bitte, dass meine beiden Kinder vor dem Tor des Hungers nicht stehen bleiben.

Sie wissen ja, dass die Zionistische Organisation meinem Mann 2.800
schuldig ist: bares Geld, das es dem Bezeld gehört hat.

Hier gelingt es uns nicht, von der Zionistischen Organisation das Geld zu bekommen. Man entschliesst in London stattfindet - Zu besprechen.

Ich sende Ihnen die Namen derje-

Sie, lieber Herr Rabbi L'Cher, schreiben
Sie an diese, erklären Sie ihnen, dass man diese Schuld bezahlen muss.
Falls diese Mitglieder schon vereint sind können Sie ihnen direkt nach London, in die Sitzung schreiben.

Ich finde keine Worte, um Sie zu danken ... Mein ganzes Wesen, mein Mutter-Wesen dankt !!

We are all very grateful to you for this contribution toward the expense of our work.

You will no doubt have noted the renewed endorsement of the World Court in the Platform adopted at the Republican National Convention last week. I am sure you will agree that this was a highly gratifying evidence of further support for membership in the Court which should prove most helpful in securing the ratification of the Court protocols as soon as they are reached on the Senate calendar.

Dear Abba:-

Both Judge Stern and I are trying to do something for your nephew in connection with his admission in the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, though neither one of us has very much hope in that direction.

In your New York speech you said: "Palestine is not the solution of all Jewish problems, but is the solution of one major Jewish problem."

For a person who does not easily get irritated, I am irritated whenever I read that bombastic statement that Zionism is a solution to all Jewish problems.

What are your plans for the summer? Will you be leaving for Europe before September?

After all I have left Cleveland without seeing you.
You very kindly invited me to your home for an evening. I wanted to come. But the nearer I got to the time I had to leave, the more things piled up.

I am visiting friends

then for a good sleep. On Friday
I sailed for England, where I shall be for a fortnight or all of the summer. I return early in September. I wonder if you will be gone by that time. I hope not. For I would regret not seeing you before you start on your long trip.

We shall meet you in Camden next year. The Alleghen Club will not have the same without you.

I have asked a friend of mine to bring the three books you ~~sent~~ lent me to the Temple. I enjoy them. Thank you again.

With my dear friend, blessings on you! I hope that you and Mrs Silva will have a pleasant summer. I know your year abroad will mean much, and I shall hope to see you before you leave - Very sincerely your friend

My dear Sir:

I want to tell you that I enjoyed your address to the Graduating Class at Antioch, of which my son was a member,
very much.

It was certainly clear and forceful, and the manner in which you delivered it reminded me of Jack London's in delivering his address entitled
"The Revolution".

To drop into slang - you certainly told the World where those now in charge of it are to get off, and how.

And one of the most interesting things in connection with the address was the fact that apparently you were shooting so far over President Morgan's head that he did not even hear the scream of the shell as it went by.

Yours very truly,

Wm Brewster Lloyd

My dear Miss Firestone:-

In reply to your letter of June 27th permit me to say that Reform Judaism does not require the circumcision of an adult person as a requisite for conversion. Orthodox Judaism does.

As I wrote to you in my last letter, "Reform Judaism requires prior to conversion a course of study in the fundamentals of Jewish thought and practice.

The ceremony of conversion is a simple one and consists of a formal acceptance on the part of the convert of the principles of Judaism and a pledge to raise his children as Jews."

Very sincerely yours,

Friday

Dear abba!

I've been wanting to answer your letter for the past few days but I've been so darn busy that I just haven't had the time.

I'm going out to the coast for a few days.

Taking the plane from Kansas City on S.F.A.

tomorrow mite

as I told you I am

get you any reduction in rates
but I can get good accommodation as I figure it out, there will be the two children, a maid?
Virginia and you.

The rates are as follows
Dlx A suite 140-142 or 139-141 on the Conte Grande 198⁰⁰ each for Virginia and you and 198⁰⁰ for the two children.

If you desire these reservations, or you check anything else on the boat better wire me and I think that they may be obtained.

I'll be at the Roosevelt Hollywood until Thursday noon, then going to Berkeley to see their experiment in visual education in which field I'm working, and then home by plane.

If you happen to see the folks don't mention planes to mother as I fear she'll worry.

Am enjoying my work though interesting & filled with much excitement, I'm afraid that it doesn't hold the thing I want.

There is one advantage and that is that the executives haven't changed their business style of living, so I ~~in~~ travel in the Hollywood manner.
It's "other people's money"
to them, and what the devil keep well-dearest to Virginia
the children or yourself. ^{us} ^{even} Jack
