IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Railroad Certificates

Certificates entitling Congress delegates to reduced railroad fare should be deposited at the Registration Desk immediately upon arrival. They will be returned to delegates after proper validation by the special agent of the railroad companies. Whether you expect to make use of the reduced fare or not please turn in your railroad certificate as a definite number is required before any delegate can receive the benefit of a reduced fare.

Registration

Everyone is requested to register immediately upon arrival. The registration desk is in the lobby on the main floor.

Consult the bulletin board daily for program changes and other announcements.

Congress Photograph

To be taken immediately following general meeting Wednesday morning. Delegates meet at Boardwalk entrance to Haddon Hall.

Publicity

Delegates are urged to send stories daily about the Congress to home town papers, and are invited to use the facilities of the press room for this purpose.

Consultation Service

Note—Delegates are requested not to congregate in alcove outside Vernon Room during general meetings as noise from this source disturbs the meetings.

RECREATION EXECUTIVES MEETING

PROGRAM

Monday, October 6 — 9:30 A. M.

Rutland Room — Haddon Hall

General Chairman, Arthur Noren, National Recreation School

Participation in the discussion will be limited to chief executives of community wide recreation systems, although others are cordially invited to attend as observers.

The questions listed for discussion are those which received the largest number of votes in the questionnaire sent out to recreation executives.

A recreation executive has been asked to take not more than five minutes to present each question to the group for discussion.

Where time permits, other topics may be introduced if the group desires.

In accordance with the consensus of opinion expressed by recreation executives the afternoon session has been divided into two sections: one for cities over 50,000 population and one for cities under 50,000 population. The afternoon sessions for cities under 50,000 will be held in Derbyshire Room.

Session I

9:30 to 11:00 A. M.

Chairman—Will R. Reeves, Director of Recreation, Cincinnati, Ohio.

- 1.—What is the best plan of organization for an Advisory Recreation Council to reflect public sentiment and whose influence might be used to secure the necessary funds and cooperation from governing bodies?—Philip LeBoutillier, Supt. of Recreation, Irvington, N. J.
- 2.—Is there need for a community council in each city of all agencies conducting athletic activities for boys and girls? If so, is it the normal responsibility of Recreation Superintendents to form such a council and give leadership to it?—James S. Stevens, Director of Recreation, Springfield, Mass.
- 3.—Actual success of city wide athletic commissions. Have they stabilized and controlled? Have they added more teams?—Dorothea Nelson, Director of Recreation, Louisville, Ky.

Session II

11:15 A. M. — 12:45 P. M.

Chairman—Sibyl Baker, Director of Community Center Department, Public Schools of the District of Columbia, Washington, D. C.

- 1.—What responsibility does the community center have in providing evening recreation for boys and girls of junior and senior high school age?
- 2.—What handcraft projects are best adapted to different age groups?—Josephine Blackstock, Supt. of Playgrounds, Oak Park, Ill.
- 3.—What guides, principles and ethics are available to determine the relation and attitude of the Director of Recreation to the members of various boards and to the general public?—Reeve B. Harris, Supervisor of Recreation, Passaic, N. J.

CITIES OVER 50,000 POPULATION

Session III

2:15 to 3:45 P. M.

Chairman—George Hjelte, Supt. of Recreation, Westchester County, White Plains, N. Y.

- 1.—Should tax supported recreation departments embark upon experimental projects of interest to relatively few citizens or should they confine their efforts to fields of activity of more or less universal interest in which the returns can be predicted with some degree of accuracy?—C. E. Brewer, Commissioner of Recreation, Detroit, Mich.
- 2.—What are the present problems of municipal golf administration and how are they being met?—K. B. Raymond, Supt. of Recreation, Minneapolis, Minn.
- 3.—What should be the attitude and policy of the Recreation Department toward Sunday recreation activities?—W. A. Kearns, Director of Physical Education and City Recreation, San Diego, Calif.

Session IV

4:00 to 5:30 P. M.

Chairman—William Burdick, M.D., Director, Playground Athletic League, Baltimore, Md.

- 1.—How can we differentiate the objectives of the recreation movement from the objectives of religious, educational, and other institutional programs?—W. Duncan Russell, General Director, Community Service of Boston, Boston, Mass.
- 2.—To what extent should special activities such as handcraft, art, clay modelling, soap carving, and aeroplane building be emphasized and does such emphasis necessarily mean a decrease in the physical play program?—W. T. Reed, Supt. Parks and Recreation, Altoona, Pa.
- 3.—How far should an executive go in aligning himself with civic clubs, organizations, and movements?—C. B. Root, Executive Secretary, Community Service, Wilmington, Del.

CITIES UNDER 50,000 POPULATION

Session III

2:15 to 3:45 P. M.

Chairman—Daniel M. Davis, Director of Recreation, Wilmette, Ill.
