Abstract of the Address

EDUCATING OUR CHILDREN FOR THE NEW DAY

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver
Cleveland, Ohio

I offer no new theory of education and new technique of education.

I am qualified to do neither. And I suspect that the catalogue of new educational theories has pretty well been exhausted. I furthermore suspect that super-refinement in educational methodology is only another form of decadence. I merely suggest that greater emphasis should be placed in our education today on the social sciences and that the largest measure of freedom should be allowed in the teaching of these sciences.

If we are to work for a better social order, our children must be taught to know what is wrong with the existing social order. Its deficiencies must be uncovered, its shortcomings exposed, fairly, frankly, without passion or bias but without understatement, subterfuge or apologetics. The child must be made aware of the price which society pays for these deficiencies and shortcomings in terms of human suffering, deprivations, loss of opportunities and discontent. He should be made to realize that these undesirable conditions are not inherent or inevitable. He should be apprised of the plans and programs which have been offered to deal with these difficult problems. He should be encouraged to study them fairly and critically -- and should be directed into the ways of critical appraisal. He should not be propagandized, only enlightened and guided. Care should be taken not to erect an emotional barrier between the child and certain ideas or sets of ideas which the teacher may regard as radical or revolutionary. The revolutionary doctrines of yesterday are the orthodox doctrines of today. Economics, sociology, civics, government, international relations should become the most vital and the most liberal sciences taught in our schools.

On one thing only all teachers may well be dogmatic - on the moral significance of the cooperative society which is coming to be. This has been the immemorial dream -- heretofore the unrealized dream -- of humanity since the beginning. All spiritual movements of mankind had this ideal at the very core of their inspiration.

All great religions taught the nobility of the shared life, of the peaceful, neighborly and cooperative life. This has been the goal of all the weary marches of civilization.

Our children should be trained to think less in terms of their careers and their personal success and material advancement and more in terms of a helpful and joyous co-worker in the common social task. The model for emulation set before the growing child should not be the poor boy who by dint of work and thrift became rich, but the boy who by dint of the cultivation of his character and the exercise of his talents became a valuable member of the community, a builder of the better social order.

The ideal which we hold up for our children in sports -- teamwork -- should be stressed in all the social sciences which we teach. Sportsmanship is one of the finest qualities of character and the one most tragically lacking in our economic and social life. A real game is won on merit only. In a real game ancestry, influence, position and money count for nothing. In a real game one doesn't cheat or bully or play foul. In a real game opponents are, as far as possible, evenly matched. When one's adversary is handicapped by weight or size or age, due allowance is made for the fact. Above all, in a real game, there are rules which the players are proud and zealous to observe. In a real game one is a generous winner and a game loser. And in a real game -- it's the team that counts, and the individual gladly subordinates himself to the group strategy for the sake of the ultimate victory of the team.

If men would but carry over into their economic, social and political life some of these splendid disciplines of sportsmanship, what a cleansing of the Augean stables there would ensue; how much more of justice and fair dealing and how much less of exploitation and cruelty there would be. For the sake of the children of the rising generations themselves, if for no other reason, they should be trained to think of themselves as members of a great human fraternity -- a cooperative commonwealth; for it will go hard in the future with the lone wolf, the predatory exploiter, the anti-social omnivorous human!

Greater emphasis should particularly be placed upon the science or art of democratic government. For two reasons. First, because the sphere of government will be immeasurably wider in the future than it has ever been in the past. Government will expand and embrace more and more of the economic field in the future. That is the very key to the new approach. Our old economic system, largely free from government control, has broken down. Government has had to step in, not merely to relieve wide-spread distress caused by this break-down, but to salvage the very system itself. As government steps in, it takes more and more control -- at first tentatively, eventually, definitely and permanently. There can be no central planning without a large measure of political control. Hence it becomes imperative, now that our economic fortunes, too, are in the hands of government, that government shall come into the hands of the trained, the competent, the morally dependable. And this is possible only if the electorate is intelligent, informed and alert. There is national disaster in the offing in the future unless we can produce political leaders whose intelligence and moral resources will prove equal to the tremendous demands which the new politico-economic regime will make upon them. Up to ~~the~~ now we have been a people quite indifferent to politics. The very word among us has had an unsavory taste. We could get along -- even with bad government. We can no longer! Bad government will wreck our whole economic life.

In the second place our democratic government is now on trial. It has been challenged. New theories of government have arisen which have engulfed great nations in Europe. Dictatorship has now a host of powerful champions in the world. It has been erected into a new philosophy of government. Government by the people has been denounced as a total failure. It should be ruthlessly suppressed. Fascism, Nazism, Bolshevism, regardless of their differing objectives, are united in one conviction -- that progress is possible only through dictatorship. 300 million people already live under dictatorship.

If democracy has any future at all, that future lies with the great historic democracies of the world -- England, France and the United States. If in these countries we fail to vitalize our democratic institutions, to ~~improve~~ improve our political apparatus, so that by means of them we shall be able to solve our desperate economic problems and bring about greater justice and greater security -- then democracy will go under, even here.

In the future, men will have more leisure than ever before. Out of 168 hours in the week, men will work thirty or thirty-five hours. They will have more time to spend on leisure than on work. How will men use that leisure? Leisure can devastate life or it can become the fruitful field for a growing and expanding life. In his leisure hours man is free from the routine and drive of his job and he can then enjoy those adventures of mind and spirit which his routine tasks may deny him. He can recreate himself and abundantly enrich his life.

For real living we need more than a job and an income. We need beauty and knowledge. We need books and pictures and music. We need song and dance and play. We need travel and adventure. We need friends and companionship and the interchange of stimulating minds. We need contact with all that has been created by the aristocracy of the mind, hand, and soul through all the ages. All this we can enjoy only in our leisure. We must, therefore, teach our children how to use their future leisure time profitably and creatively by arousing their interests in those numerous activities of the body and mind which they can pursue as amateurs in later life.

Our children should be guided into the ways of international thought and international cooperation. At present there is an intensification of economic isolationism all over the world, and an intensified nationalism and racialism. The economic struggle has led many nations to attempt to solve their problems through economic nationalism. This has contributed to aggressive and competitive nationalism all over the world. Never has Europe been so fractionalized as it is today. The universal ideal which captivated the minds of men in the 18th and 19th Centuries, the ideal of a federation of Europe has been pushed out of the minds of men. Internationalism has become suspect. Some of the noblest ideals of mankind are today being broken on the wheel of nationalism. In some countries this nationalism is still further restricted to a fantastic race cult, and in its name citizens are being disfranchised, degraded and denied the opportunities of education and even the means of livelihood.

This fragmentization of Europe has led to the well-known mood of suspicion and fear which presages war. The youth of Europe is being deliberately indoctrinated with the idea of the inevitability of the next war. Everywhere one finds the youth in uniform, marching and chanting war hymns. It is now seventeen years since the last war, and a new generation is now ready for the trenches.....

We must save our children from the blight of such nationalism and militarism. The youth are the first to succumb to these deceptions. Dictators know it and capitalize it. Mussolini's and Hitler's following was overwhelmingly one of extremely young people. In our teaching of history, we must stress the common fate and destiny of the human race, not only the fate and destiny of our own nation. We must stress the fact of our human inter-dependence. Above all, we must expose the villainy and falsity of national chauvinism, race snobbery, and religious fanaticism. We must clearly show that no nation can live unto itself alone and can solve its problems by itself, alone, and furthermore that no problems are ever solved by war. No human hopes ever blossom amidst the broken corpses of the battlefields. In peace alone can human life unfold and the ideals of mankind thrive.

Here then is our task! To prepare our children for the new day by stressing the social sciences, by frank and honest discussions of conditions as they are and of the projected plans by which to reconstruct them, by emphasizing the supremacy of the cooperative life, by preparing our youth for active participation in political life, by arousing them to those supplementary curricular activities which in later life will enable them to use leisure creatively, and by widening their mental and spiritual horizons, so as to include the whole of humanity, the federated society of tomorrow.

EDUCATING CHILDREN FOR THE NEW DEAL

Abba Hillel Silver

The New Deal

By large measure

All over the world the new deal has begun. In some countries it is far advanced. In others - in ours - it has only taken the first feeble, hesitant steps. But its progress is inevitable, and the change which it will bring about will be ^{decisive} permanent. The New Deal is not an emergency measure to tide over a depression. It is a reorganization of society to make future depressions unlikely. Its purpose is to refashion the economic system under which we have lived and which has now been found wanting in so many essential features. In refashioning our domestic economy, it will, of course, also refashion government. For politics is a by-product of economics. ^{as we have} Inevitably it will affect our moral code, our social thought and action, our attitudes and our aspirations. The New Deal ^{is a result} will give us a new civilization. It remains to be seen whether it will be a better civilization or not. The advent of the New Deal was not a matter of choice. Life willed it and we must now adjust ourselves to it. We must try to control as far as possible its future development in the hope of acquiring under it some of the desirable things which the old deal failed to give us, while at the same time, conserving some of the precious and cherished values of the old dispensation.

The New Deal will not give us perfection. It will give us a new chance to mold our world a little nearer to our hearts' desire--to give our children a larger measure of security than we enjoyed, to raise some of the valleys and level off some of the peaks, to wipe out some of the glaring inequalities, to resolve the contradiction between abundance of all things and the inability of millions to partake of them, to substitute for uncurbed competitive individualism a measure of social planning and control.

These things are coming to be. with progress or delay He who resists them is like King Canute fatuously trying to stem the oncoming waves of the ocean. The readiness with which we will face the new situation, the courage and vision with which we will set about organizing for the new social order, will determine whether that new social order will be born in agony, and in blood--or not.

Our government has been is making a valiant effort to lay the foundations of the new social order in peace and security. this orderly process of social evolution It is trying through many new and untried devices to solve the desperate problems of unemployment, to put men back to work and to make their jobs secure, to correlate production and distribution, to supervise and, in so far as it is necessary, to control industry, to raise the standard of living so that the purchasing power of the nation will be equal to its production power--to make banking, credit and finance serve the ends of society and not the grasping ambitions of anti-social profiteers. To give each citizen his share of the fruits of the new order It has made inevitable, to be sure, some, I suppose will have to be abandoned, but our friend, In all this is the work not of a day or a year but of an age! Our generation will only see the incipient stages of the vast transformation. It cannot succeed if the rising generation is not prepared intellectually and spiritually for it, if the ideals underlying it are not woven into the thought-pattern of the children of today--the citizens of tomorrow.

It may be difficult for us, who are after all children of the old world, or at best children of a transition world, in which the old and the new clash and struggle for mastery, confusing us and undermining our confidence, to teach the new ideals to the rising generation with that full measure of confidence and enthusiasm which the task requires. But the task cannot and must not be shirked because it is difficult. It is an additional challenge to the intellectual alertness and spiritual integrity of the truly great teacher.

I offer no new theory of education and no new technique of education. I am qualified to do neither. And I suspect that the catalogue of new educational theories has pretty well been exhausted. I furthermore suspect that super-refinement in educational methodology is only another form of decadence. I merely suggest that greater emphasis should be placed in our education today on the social sciences and that the largest measure of freedom should be allowed in the teaching of these sciences.

If we are to work for a better social order, our children must be taught to know what is wrong with the existing social order. Its deficiencies must be uncovered, its short-comings exposed, fairly, frankly, without passion or bias but without under-statement, subterfuge or apologetics. The child must be made aware of the price which society pays for these deficiencies and short-comings in terms of human suffering, deprivations, loss of opportunities and discontent. He should be made to realize that these undesirable conditions are not inherent or inevitable. He should be apprised of the plans and programs which have been offered to deal with these difficult problems. He should be encouraged to study them fairly and critically--and should be directed into the ways of critical appraisal. He should not be propagandized, only enlightened and guided. Care should be taken not to erect an emotional barrier between the child and certain ideas or sets of ideas which the teacher may regard as radical or revolutionary. The revolutionary doctrines of yesterday are the orthodox doctrines of today. Economics, sociology, civics, government, ^{history} international relations should become the most vital and the most liberal sciences taught in our schools.

On one thing only all teachers may well be dogmatic - on the moral significance of the cooperative ^{primary} society which is coming to be. This has been the immemorial dream--heretofore the unrealized dream - of humanity since the beginning. All spiritual movements of mankind had this ideal at the very core of their inspiration. All great religions taught the nobility of the shared life, of the peaceful, neighborly and cooperative life. This has been the goal of all the weary marches of civilization.

Our children should be trained to think less in terms of their careers and their personal success and material advancement and more in terms of a helpful and joyous co-worker^s in the common social task. The model for emulation set before the growing child should not be the poor boy who by dint of work and thrift became rich, but the boy, ^{from a rich} who by dint of the cultivation of his character and the exercise of his talents became a ^{worthy} valuable member of community, a builder of the better social order.

The ideal which we hold up for our children in sports--teamwork--should be stressed in all the social sciences which we teach. Sportsmanship is one of the finest qualities of character and the one most tragically lacking in our economic and social life. A real game is won on merit only. the sake of the ultimate victory of the team.

I spoke of the Cooperative Society. I include in that term mankind. Our children should be guided into the ways of international thought and international cooperation. In its first stages the New Deal seems to be leading to an intensification of economic isolationism all over the world, and to an intensified nationalism and racialism. + the plan I want have The economic struggle has led many nations to attempt to solve their problems through economic nationalism. This has contributed to aggressive and competitive nationalism all over the world. add Never has Europe been so fractionalized as it is today. The universal ideal which captivated the minds of men in the 18th and 19th Centuries, the ideal of a federation of Europe has been pushed out of the minds of men. Internationalism has become suspect. Some of the noblest ideals of mankind are today being broken on the wheel of nationalism. In some countries this nationalism is still further restricted to a fantastic race cult, and in its name citizens are being disfranchised, degraded and denied the opportunities of education and even the means of livelihood. add

This fragmentation of Europe has led to a present the well-known mood of suspicion and fear which presages war. The youth of Europe is being deliberately indoctrinated with the idea of the inevitability of the next war. Everywhere one finds the youth in uniform, marching and chanting war hymns. It is now ¹⁷sixteen years since the last war, and a new generation is now ready for the trenches.....

Participation

We must save our children from the blight of such nationalism and militarism. The youth are the first to succumb to these deceptions. Dictators know it and capitalize it. Mussolini's and Hitler's following was overwhelmingly one of extremely young people. In our teaching of history, we must stress the common fate and destiny of the human race, not only the fate and destiny of our own nation. We must stress the fact of our human inter-dependence. Above all we must expose the villainy and falsity of national chauvinism, race snobbery, and religious fanaticism. We must clearly show that no nation can live unto itself alone and can solve its problems by itself, alone, and furthermore that no problems are ever solved by war. No human hopes ever blossom amidst the broken corpses of the battlefields. In peace alone can human life unfold and the ideals of mankind thrive.

Here then is our task: to prepare our children for the new day by stressing the social sciences, by frank and honest discussions of conditions as they are and of the projected plans by which to reconstruct them, by emphasizing the supremacy of the cooperative life, by preparing our youth for active ^{independent} participation in political life, by arousing them to those supplementary curricular activities which in later life will enable them to use leisure creatively, and by widening their mental and spiritual horizons, so as to include the whole of humanity, the ~~united~~ ^{united} society of tomorrow.

Abstract of the address delivered by Dr. Abba Hillel Silver on Thursday, April 19, 1934

"Educating Children for the New Deal"

The ideal which we hold up for our children in sports--teamwork--should be stressed in all the social sciences which we teach. Sportsmanship is one of the finest qualities of character and the one most tragically lacking in our economic and social life. A real game is won on merit only. In a real game, ancestry, influence, position and money count for nothing. In a real game one doesn't cheat, or bully or play foul. In a real game opponents are, as far as possible, evenly matched. When one's adversary is handicapped by weight or size or age, due allowance is made for the fact. Above all, in a real game, there are rules which the players are proud and zealous to observe. In a real game one is a generous winner and a game loser. And in a real game--it's the team that counts, and the individual gladly subordinates himself to the group strategy for the sake of the ultimate victory of the team.

If men would but carry over into their economic, social and political life some of these splendid disciplines of sportsmanship, what a cleansing of the Augean stables there would ensue; how much more of justice and fair dealing and how much less of exploitation and cruelty there would be. For the sake of the children of the rising generations themselves, if for no other reason, they should be trained to think of themselves as members of a great human fraternity--a cooperative commonwealth; for it will go hard under the New Deal with the lone wolf, the predatory exploiter, the anti-social omniverous human!

Under the New Deal, men will have more leisure than ever before. Out of 168 hours in the week, men will work 30 or 35 hours. They will have more time to spend on leisure than on work. How will men use that leisure? Leisure can devastate life or it can become the fruitful field for a growing and expanding life. In his leisure hours man is free from the routine and drive of his job and he can then enjoy those adventures of mind and spirit which his routine tasks may deny him. He can recreate himself and abundantly enrich his life.

For real living we need more than a job and an income. We need beauty and knowledge. We need books and pictures and music. We need song and dance and play. We need travel and adventure. We need friends and companionship and the inter-change of stimulating minds. We need contact with all that has been created by the aristocracy of the mind, hand, and soul through all the ages. All this we can enjoy only in our leisure. We must, therefore, teach our children how to use their future leisure time profitably and creatively by arousing their interests in those numerous activities of the body and mind which they can pursue as amateurs in later life.

Educating Children for the New Deal.

Teachers

1. All over the world the new deal has begun. In our countries it is far advanced. In other - in some - it has only taken the first feeble, hesitant steps. But its progress is inevitable, and into the change which it will bring about will be permanent. The new deal is not an emergency measure to fight ^{against} a depression. It is a reorganization of society to make future depressions unlikely. Its purpose is to reform the econ. system under which we have lived and which has ^{been} found wanting in so many essential features. By re-forming our domestic economy, it will, of course, also reform foreign-ness. ~~It~~ ^{It} ~~will~~ ^{is} a by-product of a ~~people's~~ ^{people's} economics. ~~It~~ ^{It} ~~will~~ ^{is} affect our moral code, our ways of social action, ~~our~~ ^{our} ~~attitudes~~ ^{attitudes} and our aspirations. The new deal will give us a new civilization. It remains to be seen whether it will be a better civilization or not. ~~It~~ ^{It} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~not~~ ^{not} a matter of new deal ^{is} ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~not~~ ^{not} a matter of choice. We will do it and we must adjust ourselves to it. We must try to control as far as possible the future development in the life of ~~our~~ ^{our} ~~country~~ ^{country} under it some of the desirable things which the old deal failed to give us, while overcoming, at the same time, ~~some~~ ^{some} of the freedom and cherished values, the old dispensation.

The new deal will not give us perfection. It will give us a new chance to mold our world a little nearer to our heart's desire - to give our children a larger measure of security than we enjoyed to raise some, the valleys and hold off some, the peaks.
to wipe out some, the glaring inequalities which ~~exist~~ ^{exist} and the ~~poor~~ ^{poor} ~~contrast~~ ^{contrast} of ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~resolve~~ ^{resolve} the contradictions before abundance, ^{all things} ~~supply~~ and the inability ^② ~~with~~ to partake, then - to ~~mischiefs~~ ^{competing individuals} for uncurbed ~~concepts~~ ^{unrestrained} a ^{measure} ~~increase~~, social ~~planning and~~ ~~control~~ ~~and~~

These things are coming to be. He who sees them is like they cannot ~~firmly~~ ^{firmly} trying to stem the incoming ~~side~~ waves, the sea. The readiness with which we will face the new situation, the ~~concepts~~ ^{vision} with which we will set about ~~organizing~~ ^{organizing} for the new social order, will determine whether that new social order will be born in agony, ~~in turbulence~~ and in blood - ~~whether it will or not~~.

Our government is making a valiant effort to lay the foundations, the new social order in peace and security. It is trying, through many new and untried devices to solve the desperate problems, unemployment, to put men back to work and to make their jobs secure, to raise the ~~concrete~~ ^{concrete} production ~~voluntarism~~, to cartelize and, in so far as it is necessary, to control industry, to raise the standard of living so that the purchasing power, the nation will be equal to its production power - to make housing, ~~and credit~~ and finance serve the ends, ~~not the~~ propping ambitions of anti-social profits.

All this ~~first stage of~~ ^{first stage of} the new deal - is the work of 5 or 6 or a year but 5 or an age! Our generation will only see the ~~unfolding~~ ^{unfolding} stages, the vast transformation.
It cannot succeed if the next rising generation is not prepared intellectually and spiritually for it if the ideals underlying it are not woven into the thought-patterns, the children, to-day. The ~~algebra~~

5 be common.

(3)

It may be difficult for us, when we are with all children of the old world, or at best children of a transition world, with all its in which the old and the new clash and struggle for mastery, confusing us and undermining our confidence, to teach the new ideals to the rising generation with that full measure of confidence and enthusiasm which the task requires. But the task cannot and must not be shirked because it is difficult. It is an additional challenge to the intellectual alertness and spiritual integrity of the truly great teacher.

2. I offer no new theory of education and no new philosophy of education. I am grateful to do neither. And I suspect that the Cabotage, very excellent theme has pretty well been exhausted, and for the new subject that super-refinement in social methodology is also a form of decadence. I ~~would~~ suggest that greater emphasis should be placed in our education to-day on the social sciences and that the largest ^{proportion} of attention shall be allowed to ~~teacher~~ in the teaching of these sciences.

← If we are to work for a better social order, our children must be taught to know what is wrong with the existing social order. Its deficiencies must be uncovered, its short-comings exposed, fairly, frankly, without passion or bias but without understatement, subterfuge or apologetics. The child must be made aware of what the price is which society pays for these deficiencies and short-comings in terms of human suffering, deprivations, loss of opportunities and discontent. ① He should be made to realize that these unworkable conditions are not inherent ^{as we might think} in the nature of ~~social life~~ ^{and progress}. He should be apprised, the plans ~~and~~ which have been offered to which to deal with these different problems. He should be encouraged to study them ^{fairly and} critically - and should be inducted into the ways of critical appraisal. He should not be propagandaized, only enlightened and guided. Care should be taken not to erect an emotional barrier bet. the child and certain ideas or sets of ideas which the ~~child~~ teacher may regard as radical or revolutionary. The revolutionary doctrine, yesterday as the ~~new~~ new-plan doctrine of today. Economics, sociology, civics, government, ^{international relations} should become the most vital and the most liberal sciences taught in our schools.

In our things only, all teachers, may well be dogmatic. - on the moral imperative, the cooperative society which is coming to be. This has been the unnumbered dream of Humanity - heretofore the unrealized dream of Humanity - since the beginning. All spiritual masters of mankind had this ideal at their very core, their inspiration. All great religions taught the utility of peaceful, neighborly, cooperative life. This has been the goal of all the weary marches of civilization. Our children ^{should} ~~must~~ be trained to think less in terms of their careers and their personal success and ~~the~~ material advancement and more in terms of the helpful and joyous co-work in the common social task. The model for emulation set before the school-going child should not be the poor boy who by dint of work and thrift becomes rich, but the boy who by dint of the cultivation ^{of his character} and exercise, his talents ~~contributed~~ become of a competent and good citizen, a highly-praised co-worker in the valuable member of his community, a builder of the better social order.

= The ideal which we hold up for our young children in sports - team work - ^{should} must be stressed in all ~~our~~ social sciences which we teach them. Sportsmanship is one of the finest qualities of character and more tragically missing in our economic & social life. A real game is won as merit only. In a real game ancestry, influence, position and money count for nothing. In a real game we don't cheat, or bully or play foul. In a real game opponents are equally watched, as far as possible. When ~~our~~ ^{our} adversary is handicapped by weight or size, a size allowance is made for the fact. Above all, in a real game, there are rules which the players are proud and zealous to observe. In a real game there is a generous winner and a game loser. And in a real game - it's the team that counts, and the individual gladly subordinates himself for the sake of the victory of the team.

If men would but carry over into their economic, social & political life some of the splendid disciplines of sportsmanship, what a clearing of the Augean stable there would ensue; how much more justice and fair dealing, and how much less of exploitation and oppression.

will prove equal to the tremendous demands which the new politico-econ. regime will make upon them.
~~Only a people~~ has been ^{left to you} people's growth unaffeccent to politics. The very word was always as had a unsavory taste. We could get along - even with bad govt. We can no longer! That govt. will break our whole Econ. life.

(2) And in the same place our econ. govt. is now on trial. It has been challenged. New theories of govt have arisen which have engaged great nations in Europ.
Whitewashing has now a host of powerful champions in the world. It has been erected with a new philosophy of govt. govt. by the people has been denounced as a total failure. It is to be ruthlessly suppressed.
Fascism, Nazism, Bolshevism, regarding these conflicting theories, are united in one conclusion that progress is possible only through the dictatorship which means the rejection of ^{all that} ~~what~~ we have ~~been~~ regarded as the essentials of our econ. life - free speech etc. etc. - and with about 300 million people already let's make disturbances.

The future lies with the great inst. democ. of the west - Eng. France - the U.S. - If we fail to vitelize our econ. institution, to improve our pol. apparatus, so that by means of them we shall be able to solve our desperate Econ.
problems - then democ. will go well, even here.

4. Emphasis - Greater Use of Leisure. ⑧

Under New Deal men will have more leisure than ever before.

Out of 168 hours in the week, men will work 30-35 hours -

No one will have more time to spend on leisure than on work.

How will man use that leisure - Can destitute life.

Or can he make the real area for expanding human life.

In his leisure hours - free from the routine or drudgery of job & office, man can enjoy the adventure of mind and spirit which may be denied him in his routine tasks - can re-create himself & can give play to his imagination, his voice & his life abundantly.

In real living, man needs more than a job and an income. ~~He~~ ^{He} needs beauty & knowledge & duty. We need books & pictures & human music. We need song and dance and play. We need travel and adventure. We need friends and companionship and the interchange of views. We need contact with all that has been said or created by the aristocracy, the priest, the hand & foot of all ages. All this we can enjoy in our leisure.

We must teach our children how they can use their future leisure time profitably, actively by ~~growing~~ ^{arousing} their keen interests in art, or reading, or sports in the numerous interests of the human world which they can pursue as amateurs in later life.

4. I spoke, the Cooperative Society. I included in that ^{term} mainland. Our children should be guided into the ways of internat. thought and work. Coops.

In the process of becoming, the new ideal, has so far led to the intensification of econ. isolationism and extreme nationalism in the world -

The economic struggle has led to many nations to attempt to solve their problems by econ. nationalism. Antarley. Entrenched behind.

This has contributed to strong, aggressive nat. sentiment all over the world.

Here was the world so fractionalized - of our own nation. (we are one people on this planet and the planet is getting smaller & smaller) of race snobbery - or nat. artisans, or rel. fanaticism → No nation can live itself alone, can solve its problems alone -

And no problems are solved by war.

→ No human hopes ~~can~~ ^{blossom} amidst the brother corpses in the battlefields. Every one is defeated in war.
In peace alone - ^{as human life unfolds} ~~as human problem solved~~ ^{can} ~~our cherished values~~ ^{freedom} thrive.

~~Our nat. security lies~~

Now then, is our task - To prepare children for the New Ideal - the New Day - by showing the social scenarios, ~~the~~ by frank & honest ^{discussion} ~~exposure~~ of conditions as they are and of the plans to reconstruct them, by emphasizing the importance and the supremacy of the collective cooperative life, by sharpening their interest in ~~the~~ & preparing them for ~~political~~ active participation in political cultural activities which in later life will enable them to use leisure creatively, and by widening their mental & spiritual horizons so as to embrace the whole, humanity -

EDUCATING CHILDREN FOR THE NEW DEAL

SPEAKERS. Dr. Charles H. Judd, of Chicago University, will speak on Friday morning. Perhaps no man is better known to the school people of the United States than Dr. Judd. He always has a message and is clear, incisive and forceful.

Dr. Glenn Frank has appeared before on the Northeastern programs and always effectively. His address before the Department of Superintendence last February and his later address before the National Educational Association in Chicago last July were outstanding. He espouses with great force and effectiveness the cause of education and clearly discerns the danger public education is facing to-day.

Rabbi A. H. Silver will speak Saturday morning. Recently he spent many months in Europe and will come to us with a message that is fresh and vital. Rabbi Silver is widely known and a most attractive speaker.

Dr. James F. Hasic, of Teachers College, Columbia, will appear before two sections. He is well and favorably known to the school people and is very effective as a speaker.

Dr. Merton S. Rice of the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church in Detroit is a most interesting man. We are fortunate to have him address the section of teachers for handicapped children, and for the character education section.

Dr. Henry M. Busch, of Cleveland College, is a profound thinker and most interesting speaker. He will make a distinct contribution toward the departmental meetings.

Dr. A. H. Upham, President of Miami University, is favorably known to the school people of the middle west. His message always takes a practical turn. He is clear and constructive.

Dr. Frank D. Slutz, of Dayton, has long been identified with educational work. He has an abiding interest in youth and those qualities which build character. We are glad to have Dr. Slutz on our program.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE NORTHEASTERN OHIO TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

OF educational organizations in the United States, the Northeastern Ohio Teachers' Association is the second in size, the National Education Association being larger. It had its origin in the informal meetings of the superintendents and teachers in the vicinity of Cleveland; and the first Secretary states: "On Saturday, November 13, 1889, a few gentlemen met in one of the rooms of the Waddell House [Cleveland] and organized the North-Eastern Ohio Teachers' Association." Very great credit is due T. G. McCalmont, of Madison, Ohio, the first Secretary, who so carefully prepared the records of the first nine years. These thoughtful founders wrote into the Constitution the objects of the Association. Sixty-three years of building have proved them a firm foundation.

The constructive work of these years can have no better testimony than the list (too long to repeat) of subjects discussed, investigated, resolved upon and named in petitions to the General Assembly of the State of Ohio. They include every possible aspect of the educational field, from the health of the overworked students and the requirements for college entrance, to the organization of rural schools and State appropriations for Normal Schools. The recommendations for the State legislature began as early as the year 1889.

In the beginning, five regular meetings were held annually; in February, 1886, these were reduced to three; in February, 1907, to two, and in 1924, to one. In attendance, the meetings have steadily increased. In October, 1885, 250 were present at a meeting in Warren. In February, 1906, the practice began of admitting to lectures on presentation of membership ticket. This meeting saw a marked increase in attendance, partly due to the beginning of the departmental conferences. February of 1908 saw another very great increase; in February of 1909, the estimate was 3,000; in October, 1911, 500 members were turned away from the lectures. In October, 1912, with an attendance of 4,800, two auditoriums were necessary for the general sessions; in October, 1916, 7,000 and three auditoriums; in 1919, four auditoriums; in 1921, an estimated attendance of 12,000. This year, 1933, we are convened in the one-hundred-and-eighty-eighth session of our history with a membership of nearly 17,000.

The finances have seen vicissitudes. In 1875, the Treasurer reported a balance of eight dollars and ten cents; in 1900, an offering was taken to defray the expenses of the Association. The present condition is stated on another page of this booklet.

In 1876, a committee of the Association published a volume of Essays and Addresses as a contribution to our nation's first centennial. In the course of the years, earnest workers have made it possible for our members to hear speakers of the first order in all fields of progress.

Following is a list of the representative members who have served the North-eastern in the capacity of President:

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

My Fellow Teachers:

For the eighty-first consecutive year the teachers of Indiana are coming to Indianapolis to participate in the affairs of one of the world's largest and most democratic educational meetings where every individual of the fifteen thousand members is his own representative, and the least known classroom teacher stands on an equal footing with the highest and mightiest of the state's educators.

This convention affords the thousands who attend the opportunity to meet their fellow teachers from all over Indiana, to exchange ideas in sectional meetings, to hear the latest and the best thoughts from great educational and inspirational leaders, and finally to have an active part in directing every action and policy of the Association.

During recent years the joy of attending our annual meeting has been dampened by the dark clouds overhanging our schools. However, the heroic efforts of the friends of the schools are beginning to bear fruit, and we can smile again as we see the dawning of a new era for education in our great Hoosier commonwealth. Our schools have been saved from the disaster that has befallen them in so many states and today Indiana is honored throughout the nation for what she has done to maintain her schools.

In this great struggle for education in Indiana, no group has made greater sacrifices than the teachers. United as they are through this Association, they have fought with a singleness of purpose to preserve the schools and in so doing have rendered an everlasting service to the children of Indiana.

Though prospects for schools appear much brighter the battle is by no means over. To hold the ground already won and to insure the continued progress of education our Association needs the whole hearted support of every teacher in Indiana.

Sincerely,

L. V. PHILLIPS.

President, Indiana State Teachers' Association.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

All members of the Association will meet at 4:30 p. m., Thursday, October 18, at places assigned for the different congressional districts, and at such meeting there will be selected members of the Executive Committee from the 11th and 12th Districts.

At the same time each district will elect one Vice-President and one member of the Nominating Committee and will nominate one delegate to N. E. A. for 1935.

The Nominating Committee will report its recommendations for a choice of a President, a Vice-President, and two members of the Executive Committee at large; and report names of delegates to the N. E. A. that were nominated at district meetings to the General Association at its business meeting at 9:30 a. m., Friday, for approval.

DISTRICT MEETINGS

Elections

Members of various congressional districts shall meet at 4:30 p. m. on Thursday, October 18, at places announced in the printed program of the general association. By an order of the Executive Committee the following rules shall govern the conduct of elections in the various districts. Membership tickets issued by the Secretary of the Association shall be provided with detachable stubs bearing the number of the congressional district, the place of meeting, and a blank line for the signature of the member. Tickets must be presented for admission to the district meetings and the stubs exchanged for ballots that have been prepared in advance by the Secretary and have printed thereon the various offices for which an election is to be held in the district followed by blank lines. The Executive Committee member and the Vice-President of that district shall distribute the ballots in exchange for signed stubs.

Procedure for nomination and election of such officers shall be as follows: At four-thirty the Vice-President of the district shall call the meeting to order and preside. In the absence of the Vice-President at the district meeting the members of the group shall select their own Chairman and shall proceed to nominate and elect such officers as the particular district is entitled to nominate and elect.

Nominations shall be made from the floor for all the officers or selections to be made. The Indianapolis or convention address of each nominee shall be secured by the Vice-President or Chairman. After the nominations for the various offices have been completed the Vice-President or Chairman shall appoint two or more tellers. Each member shall then write in, on the ballots provided, the names of his choice for the various offices from the list of candidates previously nominated. After the members have been allowed sufficient time to designate their choice the ballots shall be collected by the tellers. The tellers and the district Vice-President or Chairman shall proceed at once to count the ballots. In case of a tie vote the candidates concerned shall meet at the office of the secretary of the Association and draw lots to determine the election.

The Vice-President or Chairman and a teller shall file the ballots and a statement of the election with the Secretary of the Association prior to 6:00 p. m. on that date.

The ballots shall be kept on file in the office of the Secretary for one year.

The Secretary of the Association shall notify persons elected at the various district meetings within thirty days following the election.

TO SUPERINTENDENTS

This year we are asking you to handle the sale of tickets for your city or town or county as in past years. The price of a membership ticket is $2. Please distribute the tickets and collect the fees from your teachers, LIST THE NAMES ALPHABETICALLY UNDER THEIR RESPECTIVE POST OFFICES, LAST NAMES FIRST, and send the Secretary the names and check covering the amount as soon as convenient. It is important that the names and addresses be plainly written, as the list will be used in making up the mailing list for THE INDIANA TEACHER. We are mailing tickets and programs and railroad certificates direct to all city, town, and county superintendents, and are depending upon you to see that all teachers within your territory are supplied. If you do not get your tickets within a few days, please notify the Secretary, 203 Hotel Lincoln.

THE PROGRAM

The programs for the annual meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' Association, to be held in Indianapolis, October 18 and 19, are printed and being sent to the county, town, and city superintendents for distribution about October 6. Every effort will be made to have the programs stated in their final form, but owing to the fact that they will be printed several days before the meeting, it is inevitable that some mistakes should occur. For additional information consult the September and October numbers of THE INDIANA TEACHER.

MEMBERSHIP FEE

The membership dues are $2, which entitle a member to the year's subscription to "The Indiana Teacher," to hold office, to serve on committees, to all the privileges and helps accorded members of the Association.

TEACHERS PAID FOR ATTENDING

The State legal authorities have ruled that teachers may be allowed daily wages for attending the State Teachers' Association.

ADVANCE ENROLLMENT

It will be more convenient for all if you will enroll in advance with your Superintendent, who will supply you with membership tickets and programs.

ADMISSION FEES

A membership card admits to all meetings, general and departmental. To those not registering, admission to any single session will be 50 cents. Tickets on sale at the Claypool Hotel and at all meeting places.

Door-keepers will be stationed at all sessions, departmental as well as general and no one will be admitted without tickets or paying fee.

Round-trip tickets will be sold from points in the State of Indiana from October 16 to 20, inclusive, and return portions thereof will be validated at Indianapolis by agents at the regular ticket offices of the lines over which tickets read in o Indianapolis, thirty days from date of sale, and when validated, tickets will be good for return, leaving on any day within final limit. Get your railroad identification certificates from your County, Town, or City Superintendent.

[INTRODUCTORY]

GENERAL INFORMATION

General sessions of the Association will be held Friday morning in the Civic Auditorium, South Erie St., three blocks south of Monroe street, and at the same hour in the State Theatre, Collingwood Ave., one-half block beyond Scott High School.

Friday night the general sessions will be held in the Civic Auditorium and Saturday morning in the State Theatre.

Doors of the general sessions will be closed while the speakers are addressing the association. Teachers should be prompt in being seated Friday morning, as this rule will be rigidly enforced.

ENROLLMENT—We are using a combination membership ticket for the Ohio State Teachers' Association and the Northwestern Ohio Teachers' Association that will admit the person purchasing it to any sectional association in Ohio as well as to the sessions of the State Association.

These tickets to be sold at $1.50 each—one dollar to go to the State Association and fifty cents to the Northwestern Ohio Teachers' Association—were sent out by Mr. F. E. Reynolds, Secretary of the Ohio State Teachers' Association in ample time for their distribution by superintendents or principals. Complete instructions were also given that the money should all be sent to Mr. Reynolds, 428 Chamber of Commerce, Columbus.

In addition to these combination tickets we have had printed a supply of Northwestern Ohio Teachers' Association tickets that entitle the holder to membership in the Northwestern only, and any teacher desiring to purchase one of these may either secure it from the Executive Secretary, by remitting the fee of fifty cents or they may be secured at the door of the general sessions during the meeting on October 26th and 27th.

Special refund tickets (50 cents each) will be on sale at the door of each meeting for those who neglect to bring their membership tickets. The 50 cents paid for the refund ticket will be refunded to the purchaser when the original and refund tickets are mailed to H. A. Jones, Executive Secretary, East Side Central School, Toledo.

Teachers are requested to ask for a refund ticket at the window when one is desired, as the ticket seller will otherwise sell a regular ticket unless reminded of the kind needed.

A Membership card in this Association entitles the holder to admissions to all meetings and lectures and also secures free admission to the Toledo Museum of Art, Monroe Street and Scottwood Avenue. Teachers are especially invited to visit the Art Museum at the close of the Departmental meetings, Friday afternoon.

Teachers should read carefully the instructions about railroad rates printed in this program.

The "Identification Certificate Plan" will be used.

Teachers desiring reduced railroad rates should secure an Identification Certificate from the Executive Secretary or from the Superintendent or Principal in the school in which they teach. This Identification Certificate must be presented to the railroad agent when purchasing a round-trip ticket at one and one-third the regular fare. These return tickets must be validated AT TOLEDO at the down-town ticket offices, or at the regular ticket office in depots. It is suggested that teachers may save much time by going to the down-town ticket offices any time Friday or Saturday during office hours for validation of certificates.

Preserve this program and bring it to the meeting

OUR SPEAKERS

Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, Professor of Education, Columbia University, addressed the Northwestern Ohio Teachers' Association in 1927 and our program of that year characterized him as follows:

"Dr. Fretwell has made a contribution to national education in doing research work in his own department and in promoting extra curricular activities throughout the nation. He is a man of very rare personality, a painstaking scholar and a brilliant speaker."

Mr. Robert C. Moore addressed the Ohio Educational Association at Cedar Point in June, 1934 and also the N. E. A. at Washington, D. C. in July and his addresses were of such high order that the committee decided to invite him to address the Northwestern Ohio teachers this year. His experience is listed as follows: Reared on a farm; taught country school, village grades, and high school; has been village principal, city superintendent, and county superintendent of schools; has been Secretary of the Illinois State Teachers' Association, Editor of the "Illinois Teacher", and Legislative Representative for the teachers of Illinois since 1915.

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, is spiritual leader of one of the largest liberal Jewish congregations in America. He has been actively identified with the great social movements of our day. He was a member of President Hoover's Unemployment Relief Commission and was one of the framers of the Unemployment Insurance Bill of Ohio. He is on the National Child Labor Commission, the commission on Militarism in Education, the American Civil Liberties Union and the National World Court Committee.

Dr. Silver has recently returned from an eight months tour of study of the countries of Europe during which time he interviewed Mussolini, President Masaryk and many other political leaders in Europe.

Dr. Silver is the author of "Religion in a Changing World" and other works of religious and sociological interest.

Dr. Glenn Frank has lectured in the United States and Canada since 1912 and he was a member of a group headed by Ex-President Taft that drafted a covenant for the League of Nations, which was considered by the Peace Conference at Paris in 1918-19.

He has written many articles in the fields of politics, business, education and religion—some of which are: The Politics of Industry, An American looks at His world, The League of Nations—The Principle and the Practice.

In 1931 MacMillan Company published his latest book, "Thunder and Dawn—Studies in the Outlook for Western Civilization." Mr. Frank's latest book, AMERICA'S HOUR OF DECISION, will be published by McGraw-Hill sometime in October, 1934.

Topics for round-table discussion:

1. Judging the future by the present and the past, what assurance do we have of adequate financial support for our public schools of Ohio.
2. To what extent is the adverse criticism of education based on actual and fundamental deficiencies in the policies of educators.
3. Could it be possible that public school policies need an impartial analysis? If so, who should make this analysis?
4. How can we best secure an expression from our candidates for the legislature on financial relief for the public schools?
5. What means can we use to stimulate those people interested in the public school to a realization of our financial difficulties?
6. In what ways can we convince teachers and other school employees that our professional teachers' organizations are indispensable?
7. What position should we take in the larger cities on the matter of the consolidation of City and County government as it affects schools.
8. What should be our policies and attitude toward the re-organization of the County educational units?
9. Should we definitely align ourselves with a specific taxation program for the financial relief of public schools?
10. What should be the attitude of public school people toward the attempt to use public funds for private school purposes?
11. We are greatly concerned with financial problems. Are we neglecting the real educational problems?
12. What districts have definitely decided to close schools when their available funds are spent?
13. What has been the reaction of the communities where schools have been closed because of lack of funds?
14. Can we educate the pupils now in school so that they can successfully meet the problems that are now upon us?

RESOLUTIONS

Proposed by the Committee for Adoption at the Business Session

The teachers of the First District Association assembled in annual meeting, as an expression of their attitudes and judgments relative to the matters presented, do resolve:

I. That the Association express appreciation to Superintendent Wirt and the school people of Gary for the courtesies extended in entertaining its meetings;

II. That the Association gratefully acknowledge the faithful and effective service rendered by its officers and executive committee in behalf of the public schools and the teaching profession;

III. That special recognition be given to the members of its Committee on Professional Relations, working as First District representatives to the Joint Commission on Coordination or Unification of Teachers Associations—Mrs. Catherine Greenwald, Miss Marie Landon, and Mr. Homer Reeves—for the generous expenditure of time and labor in promoting a consolidation throughout the state of teacher interest and effort;

IV. That the Association continue for another year its committee, as authorized in 1934 "to study ways and means of creating a closer integration and more effective coordination of the existing educational agencies in Indiana," including in the duties of this committee a study of the amendments proposed in October, 1935, to the Constitution of the Indiana State Teachers Association in so far as these proposed amendments relate to the original problem of the committee;

V. That the Association, through its legislative committee, participate with other Indiana associations of teachers in a study during the ensuing year of the educational needs of the state, in order that the findings may be presented to the 1936 meeting of the Association and to the General Assembly of 1937, and

That this committee, in order to bring about desirable changes in the practice of unjust dismissal of teachers, should include as a part of its work the study of teacher-turnover;

VI. That the Association commend the legislation whereby the state-support of a minimum of $400 per teaching unit is guaranteed, but urge the payment of a larger amount whenever the state's finances will permit it;

VII. That the Association condemn any and all efforts which may retard or interfere with the basic purposes of the public schools, and especially any efforts, legislative or otherwise, which tend to subject the schools to political interferences;

VIII. That the Association, realizing that the best security to democratic government is a well-educated citizenship, act to effect an increase in the present standards with respect to the qualification of teachers and to the length of the school term;

IX. That the Association assist in efforts which may be initiated to bring about the restoration of teachers' salaries to the former higher levels, in order that the teacher may be paid a wage commensurate with the returning higher cost of living;

X. Finally, that copies of these resolutions be sent to the Governor of our State, to the Superintendent of the State Department of Education, to the members of the General Assembly from this District, and to the presidents of other Indiana associations of teachers.

Margaret E. Canine, Whiting
Maida Northrup, Hammond
Donald L. Simon, Griffith.

General Information

Registration

The Constitution provides for a registration fee of 50 cents. All teachers who have paid the enrollment fee of $1.50, upon presentation of their membership card, and the payment of 50 cents registration fee, will be entitled to the badge which admits to all meetings of the Convention.

Pre-Convention Registration

Teachers who desire may register prior to the convention upon presentation of their membership card and payment of the 50-cent registration fee. The card and the fee, together with the registration blank, should be sent to the office of the Iowa State Teachers Association, 415 Shops Building, Des Moines, Iowa. Just prior to the convention you will receive badges which admit you to all meetings, the detailed program of the convention, and other convention material. This is the first time that this pre-convention registration has been permitted. It is suggested that superintendents of schools send pre-convention registrations for their entire corps of teachers, where convenient, simplifying matters for the registration office and relieving teachers of this detail.

Enrollment

Those teachers who have not paid their enrollment fee for the year 1934-35 will of course be required to enroll. The fee is $1.50. An additional fifty cents will be required as a registration fee for this Convention. Upon payment of this amount the teacher will receive the badge which has been provided for this convention and it will admit her to all meetings. The enrollment officers will be in the Shrine Temple Thursday, October 31, at 8:00 A. M. Enroll as early as possible to prevent congestion and confusion. Prior enrollment can be secured by sending in your membership fee to the Iowa State Teachers' Association, 415 Shops Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa.

Business Meetings

The attention of all electors is called to the first regular business session to be held Thursday morning, November 1, at 10:00 o'clock in the ballroom of the Shrine Temple. The second meeting of the Delegate Assembly will be held Saturday, November 3, at 12:00 o'clock in the ballroom of the Shrine Temple.

In each phase a progressive development is shown from the beginner through to the adult or the expert. Every teacher can make a start with the simpler types of activity, even in the smaller rural schools. Technical training is helpful, of course, and is essential for progress into the more advanced work. Every school in the state can and should use at least the simpler activities of the type demonstrated here in the regular physical education program

HOME ON THE RANGE

(American Cowboy Song)

Oh, give me a home where the buffalo roam,
Where the deer and the antelope play
Where never is heard a discouraging word,
And the skies are not cloudy all day.

Refrain

Home, home on the range
Where the deer and the antelope play,
Where never is heard a discouraging word,
And the skies are not cloudy all day.

Where the air is so pure, and the zephyrs so free,
The breezes so balmy and light,
That I would not exchange my home on the range
For all of the cities so bright.

How often at night when the heavens are bright
With the light from the glittering stars,
Have I stood there amazed and asked as I gazed
If their glory exceeds that of ours.

Oh, give me a land where the bright diamond sand
Flows leisurely down the stream;
Where the graceful white swans go gliding along
Like a maid in a heavenly dream.

ANNIE LAURIE

Maxwellton's braes are bonnie,
Where early fa's the dew,
And 'twas there that Annie Laurie
Gave me her promise true;
Gave me her promise true,
Which ne'er forgot will be,
And for bonnie Annie Laurie,
I'd lay me down and dee.

Her brow is like the snowdrift,
Her throat is like the swan;
Her face it is the fairest
That e'er the sun shone on;
That e'er the sun shone on,
And dark blue is her e'e,
And for bonnie Annie Laurie,
I'd lay me down and dee.

—William Douglass

OLD FOLKS AT HOME

'Way down upon de Swanee River,
Far, far away,
Dere's wha my heart is turning ever,
Dere's wha de old folks stay.
All up and down de whole creation,
Sadly I roam,
Still longing for de old plantation,
And for de old folks at home.

Refrain

All de world am sad and dreary,
Everywhere I roam,
Oh! darkeys, how my heart grows weary,
Far from de old folks at home.

All roun' de little farm I wandered,
When I was young;
Den many happy days I squander'd,
Many de songs I sung.
When I was playing with my brother,
Happy was I;
Oh! take me to my kind old mother,
Tare let me live and die.

One little hut among de bushes,
One that I love,
Still sadly to my mem'ry rushes,
No matter where I rove,
When will I see de bees a'humming
All roun' de comb?
When will I hear de banjo tumming,
Down in my good old home?

—Stephen Foster

AMERICA, THE BEAUTIFUL.

O, beautiful for spacious skies,
 For amber waves of grain,
 For purple mountain majesties
 Above the fruited plain.
 America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
 And crown thy good with brotherhood
 From sea to shining sea.

O, beautiful for patriot dream
 That sees beyond the years
 Thine alabaster cities gleam
 Undimmed by human tears.
 America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
 And crown thy good with brotherhood
 From sea to shining sea.
