THE achievements of mankind, worthy of historical record through the ages, have taken place in a comparatively small part of the world. In fact, 90 per cent of all books of history are about Europe, which comprises only 7 per cent of the earth's land area.

BRUNO Lessing, columnist, asked Rod Larocque, motion-picture star, what ten articles he would choose if he were cast away on a desert island. Here is the list: Vilma Banky,* knife, axe, boring tool, home, binoculars, compass, lasso, Bible, and The Winston Simplified Dictionary. What would you choose, besides the W. S. D.?

* Yes, yes, his wife.

THROUGH the ages men have eaten certain parts of animals and human beings in an effort to absorb their admirable qualities. Several centuries ago, however, the Tartars carried this idea further by eating books to acquire the knowledge contained in them.

NOW is the time to order Workbooks. Arithmetic, Reading, Spelling, English—these are just a few subjects covered by Winston Workbooks.

AN interesting excerpt from OUR INDUSTRIAL WORLD, the new J. Russell Smith geography: "The United States Government made an importation of camels for use in our own Southwest, but they arrived just before the Civil War. Because of the war, they were neglected and were probably eaten by wolves." The introduction of unusual and little-known facts such as this is just one of the many devices which Doctor Smith uses to maintain interest.

JOSEPH P. BINNS, Manager

Plan To Attend THE 1934 CONVENTION

By FRANK G. PICKELL, President

I wish it were possible for me to meet every teacher in the State individually and talk about the coming Annual Convention and other matters which are of great importance to the cause of education. I think I would spend my time principally in talking about four important things.

In the very first place, I would encourage every teacher in the state to attend the Convention in Atlantic City, November 9 to 12. The advance program of the Convention will be found elsewhere in this issue of the REVIEW. As President of the Association, I was proud of the 1933 Convention. It was well attended and I believe was much worth while to all those who were present. The 1934 Convention has been planned with great care. Among the speakers are men and women of national reputation. Every one of the speakers will have something significant to say about "Education for the Future," which has been chosen as the Convention theme. There will be numerous group meetings, vital discussions of Association policies for the coming year, proposals for amendments to the constitution, and the election of officers, a proceeding in which every teacher should have a voice.

In the second place, I would pay tribute to the character of the service which the individual teachers of the state have rendered during the past year, often in the face of great adversity. I have been thrilled by the generous responses which the teachers of the state have made to the calls of the Association. We have been able to carry on and finance our expensive program only because the teachers have supported that program both morally and financially.

In the third place, I would encourage every teacher to re-enroll in the Association. The time for paying membership dues has come again. By the time this message reaches you the enrollment committee may have already begun its campaign for memberships. If you have been approached, I hope that you enrolled willingly and gladly. You will spend no dollar this year more wisely than that for membership in the Association. Your enrollment fee is little to pay for the protection of your pension and tenure rights, even though for your membership you should receive only that service. Actually, as you well know, you receive much more than that,—a watchful eye on all school legislation, unremitting effort for the restoration in whole or in part, as soon as financial conditions will permit, of salary reductions, and a continuing struggle for a sound system of state school finance.

The Association is dependent upon your enrollment fee, and that of all of your fellow teachers to finance its activities. Its expenses are greater now than they have ever been before, and will continue to be heavy until the emergency created by the depression shall have passed.

In the fourth place, I would advise every teacher in the state to help the Association by watching during the coming year all legislation affecting the schools. Every teacher in the state should be familiar with the provisions of Assembly Bills Nos. 169 and 404. Assembly Bill No. 169 has been passed by the Assembly by a vote of 42 to 10, and is

N. E. A. IN NEW JERSEY

By RAYMOND B. GURLEY, Newark
State Director

Everyone who attended the N. E. A. Convention in Washington came away with a much clearer idea of what the national association has been doing during the past few years to advance the cause of education and to hold the line against the inroads of depression. There was ample evidence there to show how it had gathered necessary information, scattered such information where it would do the most good; carried on effective nation-wide publicity; played a leading role in the formation of the emergency committees and the development of their programs; pushed emergency legislation; and finally, had secured, in the face of genuine governmental unwillingness, some $40,000,000 federal relief funds for education purposes.

Those New Jersey educators who were in Washington know these things. They know what the N. E. A. has meant and means to education in every state. They know that the work of the N. E. A. must be carried forward. Its emergency program must be completely put over, and it must work toward a long-time program to guard against the recurrence of present conditions.

It cannot do this without the support of teachers throughout the country. For the past few years it has been increasing its services to education, while it sought to balance its budget against a decreasing membership. That cannot continue for long.

I feel justified in asking every member of the State Association to send his or her check for $2.00 to the National Education Association, 1201 Sixteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. While New Jersey has always been high in its percentage of teachers enrolled, it has never been high enough. Last year we set our goal as 15,000 New Jersey members of the N. E. A. We failed to reach it. This year we are setting the same goal. Let us pass it.

N. E. A. IN WASHINGTON

Secretary Crabtree Praises the Activity of New Jersey
Teachers

High praise for the activity of New Jersey teachers and the friends of New Jersey schools was given in the annual report of Secretary J. W. Crabtree, of the National Education Association. The report was made at the seventy-second annual convention of the Association in Washington, June 30-July 6, this year. Several hundred New Jersey teachers found their way to Washington at some time during the week. More than one hundred were present at one of the best New Jersey dinners ever held. Mattie S. Doremus, of Paterson, was re-elected Vice-President of the N. E. A., and Raymond B. Gurley, of Newark, was again chosen to serve as State Director.

The report of the Secretary cited the threat to tenure noted elsewhere in this issue, and the activity of the State Teachers' Association in meeting it.

President Frank G. Pickell, of the State Association, presided at the New Jersey dinner, at which the two leading candidates for the N. E. A. presidency were guests of honor. Speeches were, at the request of the President, "short AND funny." A feature of the dinner was the presentation to President Pickell, N. E. A. State Director Raymond B. Gurley, Secretary Solomon C. Strong, Past-President Chester F. Ogden, and Mrs. Stella S. Applegate of certificates of identification signed by Governor Moore and sealed with the Great Seal of the State.

At the meeting of the New Jersey delegation, at which Miss Doremus was nominated for the vice-presidency and Mr. Gurley was chosen State Director, Lelia O. Brown, of Newark, was elected permanent chairman and Mrs. Applegate secretary. Mrs. Mary D. Barnes, of Elizabeth, was

"Education for Future" is Theme For General Convention Program

Mark Sullivan, Outstanding National Figure, Rabbi Silver, Dr. Oberholtzer, and
All-State Chorus to Appear

With "Education for the Future" as its general theme, the 1934 Convention of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association will get under way on Friday, November 9, at 2:00 P. M. During the four days of the Convention, outstanding speakers, writers, educators will address the teachers of the state, the All-State Chorus will make its first appearance, the numerous departments and allied associations will hold their meetings, and the annual business of the Association will be conducted.

Among the speakers already scheduled to appear on the platform in the ball room of Atlantic City's great Convention Hall are Mark Sullivan, noted journalist, author, and editor; Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, of Cleveland; Dr. E. E. Oberholtzer, President of the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association; Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, of the University of Wisconsin; Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, industrial engineer; Dr. William Mather Lewis, President of Lafayette College; Dr. Frank W. Ballou, Washington's Superintendent of Schools; Frank G. Pickell, President of the Association; and Hon. Harry Bacharach, Atlantic City Mayor.

An outstanding national figure will be added to the program for Saturday afternoon and will be announced later. Negotiations for his appearance are not complete as this is written. Teachers are urged to watch the newspapers for the name of this individual, who will be a tremendous drawing card for the Saturday afternoon meeting.

The general theme of "Education for the Future" will be developed at the various meetings during the week. On Friday afternoon the central thought of the meeting will be that "The Children of the State must be prepared fully to assume their future obligations as citizens." Following the usual opening exercises, Mr. Pickell will deliver the President's Address, which is expected to combine a report of his stewardship and a survey of some of the future problems of the Association.

He will be followed by Dr. Lewis, President of Lafayette, whose address is entitled "Education Faces East." Dr. Lewis is one of the genuinely outstanding college presidents in the country. He is head of the Association of American Colleges, Moderator of the Synod of Pennsylvania, and President of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. As the founder of the first "Alumni College" in the United States, which was inaugurated at Lafayette in 1929, and as sponsor of the free courses for unemployed men now being offered at Lafayette, he is an educator who has already looked into the future and can discuss it ably.

Few men in America are better qualified to speak on "Education and the New Social Order" than the man who served as secretary to the Commission on Social Studies. The report of this Commission last year created a decided furor. Dr. Ballou, the Washington Superintendent, has had nationwide experience in education and has a nationwide reputation as a progressive educator and able speaker.

One of the best arguments for arriving at the Convention early is the appearance on Friday evening of Mark Sullivan, with "The Great Adventure in Washington" as his theme. Mr. Sullivan is best known as the author of "Our Times," one of the most human histories ever written. Its six volumes cover the history of the American people from 1900 to 1925, with emphasis on what the average American was thinking, saying, feeling. His study of the educational forces which made the American of that period should be familiar to every teacher. It is a brilliant, entertaining analysis of what McGuffey's Readers did in the 1880's to mold the Americans of 1900. It appears in the first volume of "Our Times," subtitled "The Turn of the Century." For two years this book found a place on "bestseller" lists.

Mr. Sullivan is internationally famous as an authority and commentator on American national politics. His Washington dispatches are estimated to reach a public of ten million readers daily. His magazine articles are popular features of Collier's, the Saturday Evening Post, and Cosmopolitan. He has been an intimate friend and trusted adviser of President after President, and his comments on the present administration will arouse great interest.

Paired with the speaker of national prominence to be announced later on the Saturday afternoon program will be

Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, whose industrial management work is widely known, especially in New Jersey where it centers. Dr. Gilbreth has recently applied her experience in industrial engineering and psychology to home problems, and is especially anxious to make her work valuable to women, both in industry and the home. Her topic will be "Work and Leisure As Social Problems."

The usual Sunday afternoon concert, one of the most popular of all Convention features, will have a striking new feature this year. The All-State High School Symphony Orchestra, which has become a fixture, will share platform honors with a newcomer, the All-State High School Chorus. Requests that this latter organization be added have been made for years by music teachers in the state especially interested in vocal work. This year therefore will see 200 high school vocalists added to the 250 instrumentalists. The

Group Meetings Saturday Morning Offer Varied Professional Diet

On Saturday morning, November 10, the Annual Convention will take as its motto, "Something for Everybody." The educator who cannot find some group discussing a topic or hearing a speaker on a subject interesting to him is hard to suit indeed.

On that morning, starting at 9:00 or earlier, and lasting until the General Session convenes at 2:00 or later, the various Departments, Associations and groups which are a part of the State Association will hold their meetings. Some few will hold only business sessions. Most, however, have invited speakers, scheduled panels, or made arrangements for old-fashioned discussions with no holds barred.

Outstanding figures to appear on these programs are Walter Prichard Eaton, author and dramatic critic; Rev. Frank Kingdon, who was on the General Program last year; Dr. S. Howard Patterson, Professor of Economics at the University of Pennsylvania; Mrs. T. H. Grimley, President of the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs; Eva G. Pinkston, Executive Secretary of the Department of Elementary School Principals; and Dr. Ernest W. Butterfield, Commissioner of Education in Connecticut.

The English Teachers' Association brings Mr. Eaton to Atlantic City. Mr. Eaton has inherited the mantle of Professor Baker's famous Workshop 47 course in playmaking at Yale University. He was a dramatic critic and is author of several books about the drama as well as about the Berkshire Hills where he makes his home. The English teachers will also take part in a round table discussion of "home study" in which Mrs. William F. Little of Rahway will present the parent's viewpoint.

Dr. Kingdon, Pastor of the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church of East Orange, is a brilliant speaker and a warm friend of Education. His defense of the schools at the hearing on Senate 214 will not soon be forgotten by those who heard it. Dr. Kingdon will address the New Jersey Vocational and Arts Association, in the company of Dr. Butterfield, Dr. Clifford J. Scott of East Orange, Dr. Howard Dare White of the State Department, and Dr. Wesley A. O'Leary of the State Department.

Rev. Frank Kingdon

Dr. Patterson of Penn's famous Wharton School will speak on "Modernizing the Social Studies Curriculum" before the New Jersey Association of Teachers of Social Studies and the New Jersey Council of Geography Teachers. Also on the program will be Professor Harold S. Sloan of Montclair Teachers' College, discussing "A Social Science Laboratory."

Mrs. Grimley, as President of the Federation of Women's Clubs, has interested herself in education, working both through her own organization and through the Citizens' State Committee on Education. She will talk to the Classroom Teachers on "A Co-operative Program in Support of Public Education."

With Miss Pinkston on the program of the Elementary Principals' Association will be Judge Francis A. Stanger of Bridgeton, with "The Challenge of a Hobby" as his topic.

Dr. Butterfield, who is well known in New Jersey, is on the joint program of the Boards of Education and the Department of Superintendence. Dr. Butterfield's theme is the "School-Dall But Life-Bright Child."

Other interesting programs, of which full details are available in the advance program, have been planned by the Department of Music, which hopes to bring to Atlantic City Peter W. Dykema of Teachers College and Dr. Hollis Dann of New York University; the Association of Teacher - Assistants to the Principal, which will use mainly "home talent"; the Special Sub-Normal Class Teachers with Dr. Meta L. Anderson of Newark, and Dr. Charles Scott Berry of Ohio State University.

Also the New Jersey Physical Education Association, with Dr. Allen G. Ireland of the State Department and Agnes R. Wayman of Barnard College, and Dr. William C. Carrington, Atlantic City Kiwanian, as luncheon speaker; the New Jersey Home Economics Association with Mrs. Mary Wentworth McConaughy, mental hygiene consultant at Mount Holyoke, and Gardner Means of the Consumer's Advisory Board; the Kindergarten Teachers' Association with a panel discussion of Kindergarten work in arithmetic; the New Jersey Classical Association, to be addressed by Edna White of Jersey City; the Penmanship Teachers' Association, which will hear Linda S. Weber of Gary, Indiana; the Visual Education Association, featuring John A. Spargo, Nutley's new Superintendent, Dr. James G. Sigman of Philadelphia, and a puppet show and talk by Bobby Fulton's Puppets and their director, G. W. Fulton.

The Mathematics Teachers will have a panel discussion on the "place and teaching of the equation in the elementary and secondary schools." Dr. Roscoe L. West of Trenton State Teachers College will address the Teachers' Association of State Teachers Colleges and Normal Schools. The mental hygienists and psychologists will hold a joint meeting to hear several speakers, among them Dr. L. N. Yepsen of New York University and Dr. Marion Kenworthy of the New York School of Social Work.

The Publications Advisers' Association and the Elementary Press Association will meet together to hear two New Jersey speakers and Captain William E. Haskell of the New York Herald-Tribune.

Grievances and Redress Committee

The Grievances and Redress Committee will sit for conferences with teachers desiring the advice of the Committee, on Saturday, November 10th, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., and again at 2:30 P. M., at the Atlantic City Convention Hall, Room 8.

Award For Distinguished Service Will Feature Convention Banquet

An award for "Distinguished Service to Education" in New Jersey will be made by the Association for the first time this year. It will be given at the Annual Banquet, which will take place at the Ambassador Hotel, Atlantic City, on Saturday, November 10. The name of the individual who is to receive the Award will not be known until the presentation is actually made. The Award is expected to become an annual feature of Association activities.

The Award has been named the "Annual Award for Distinguished Service to Education in New Jersey." Its purpose, as set up by the Executive Committee, is to call public attention to those citizens of the State who, from time to time, shall greatly serve the schools, and through them the children of the State. It is also the purpose of this Award to demonstrate that the Association, and its members as teachers, believe that service to education is one of the highest forms of service that any citizen can give.

It is proposed that the Award be made annually to that citizen of New Jersey who has rendered the most distinguished service to education in the State. This service may have taken any form which most merits the recognition which the Award involves. Officers of the Association are, however, specifically declared ineligible to receive the Award during their term of office.

With the presentation of this Award as its main feature, the Association proposes to make this year's banquet one of the most interesting and colorful events in years, and, so far as possible, one of the most important events of the Convention. Douglas Malloch, poet, and banquet speaker extraordinary, will be the banquet speaker. Mr. Malloch was the speaker at the banquet of the Department of Superintendence at Cleveland last February, and impressed and delighted everyone who heard him there. His invitation to Atlantic City was issued by President Pickell as soon as the Cleveland affair ended.

Mr. Malloch is the author of "Today," the "world's most widely quoted poem by a living American." He is also the author of nine widely quoted volumes of verse. He is, however, a poet of whom some joker said that "it didn't seem to hurt him any." He is one of the country's brightest wits and most entertaining after-dinner speakers.

Music at the Banquet will be provided by Harold M. Augustine, of Montclair, and by the Ambassador Hotel Orchestra. Mr. Augustine, accompanied by Mrs. Harry A. Sprague, of Montclair, will sing "When I Look Upon the Maidens" and "De Glory Road."

Other important social events at the Convention will be the Bookmen's Dance on Friday evening, and the Classroom Teachers' Tea on Sunday afternoon.

Association Business At Convention Demands Attention of All Members

The nomination and election of new officers for the coming year, action on two proposed amendments to the Constitution, and numerous important committee reports will claim the attention of the Association members who attend the annual convention at Atlantic City. In order to participate fully in these vital activities of the Association, members will have to be on hand from Friday afternoon until the Convention is adjourned on Monday.

During the Friday afternoon session, two amendments to the Association's constitution will be introduced. These (for text, see page 56), will propose to change the fiscal year of the Association to facilitate more up-to-date financial reports at future conventions, and to create a non-voting associate membership in the Association for "friends of education in New Jersey."

Every teacher who can be there is urged to help choose representatives on the nominating committee directly after the close of the Friday afternoon session. Association members meet for this purpose by Congressional Districts in scheduled rooms in the Convention Hall. They are entitled to vote in the Congressional District in which they are employed. At the Friday evening session the names of the nominating committee will be announced.

On Saturday afternoon the proposed amendments to the Constitution will be voted on. During that session also the Nominating Committee will organize.

On Sunday evening the Nominating Committee will report the results of its work to the Convention as a whole, and the President will call for independent nominations.

On Sunday morning the Resolutions Committee must, under the constitution, post the resolutions which it will present to the Convention on the following day. Members of the Association will thus have an opportunity to read and discuss these before they are required to vote on them.

On Monday morning, after Rabbi Silver's address, committee reports will be presented. In order to leave time for full discussion of certain vital matters, some of these reports will be handed to the Secretary.

The election of officers will conclude the Convention. In addition to the officers elected annually, the terms of the Secretary and Treasurer expire this year, as do the executive committee terms of Adele Cox, William L. Fidler, and Winton J. White.

INVITES YOU

They Invite You to the Convention

Officials of all departments and associations were asked for a special convention message to the members of their organizations. Because of the late opening of schools, not all had time or opportunity to respond. Most did, however. All who did urge that you attend the Convention, Atlantic City, November 9-12.

Superintendents

We have been very fortunate in securing as the speaker for the Department of Superintendence at the Annual Convention in November Dr. E. W. Butterfield, Commissioner of Education for the State of Connecticut. Dr. Butterfield will speak on the general topic of "The School-Dull But Life-Bright Child." The excellence of this well known educator, his timely topic, and the fact that superintendents are expected to set an example in good attendance should insure a large audience.

ROBERT G. SANFORD, Chairman,
Department of Superintendence.

High School Teachers

It is estimated that we have 7,000,000 young people between the ages of 16 and 25 who are neither at school nor at work. The efficiency in our factories is displacing men at the rate of seven per cent a year. Idleness and instability.

What about the future? Our various departments have secured speakers who will endeavor to give teachers an idea of the kind of education needed for the future. Alert teachers will want to be educated, but co-operation is just as necessary as education. With educated, cooperative teachers, we won't worry about the future. May the attendance at Atlantic City prove that we have this cooperation.

CHARLES H. BEEK, President,
New Jersey Secondary Teachers' Assn.

Elementary Teachers

It is the personal responsibility of every member to make our Annual Convention a success. Your presence will show that you are putting your membership privileges to their highest use. Your presence will be an inspiration and encouragement to the officers and executive board. By large numbers we can command respect and attention from those sources upon which the education of our future citizens depends. The Elementary Department urges all to assume their responsibility.

JULIET M. ROCHE, Chairman,
Department of Elementary Education.

Classroom Teachers

Support your State Convention this year as you have never done before. If you expect the public to take an interest in state education, you must show that you are interested. Go to the Convention, not only to see and hear, but to be seen and heard by those who come to talk, lecture and confer. Let the public know that you are alert and ready to do your share. Do not think, "Oh! There'll be enough without me!" There will not be.

LELIA C. BROWN, President,
Elementary Classroom Teachers of New Jersey.

Kindergarten Teachers

An active participation in all proceedings of an organization naturally builds an active organization. This year an opportunity has been provided for each member to be an active participant in a discussion. A panel meeting has been planned for the Kindergarten Department, and this is an interesting innovation for this Department. We should have a large attendance of all who are interested in early childhood education. The Annual Association Convention is a means by which members may achieve professional improvement and enjoy professional fellowship.

MARCELLA G. MOFFETT, President,
Department of Kindergarten.

Music Teachers

Music in the public schools has had a terrific battle for its very existence. The storm clouds are rapidly disappearing and there is a decided trend in our schools of today to utilize this great subject as one of the essential factors in effecting a satisfactory social change. Are you prepared to meet these new demands?

The general theme of the entire Convention is "Education for the Future." Our own department meeting, headed by two of the recognized leaders of our profession, will point out specifically how the subject of music may successfully meet the demands of this new era. You owe it to your community, school, self, and to the girls and boys in your charge to be present at the Annual State Teachers' Convention.

JOHN H. JAGUSH, President,
Department of Music.

Principals

Dear Fellow-Principals:

If you are planning to be in Atlantic City for November 9-12, fine! If you are not so planning, please accept this personal invitation to be in the Hotel Traymore at 9:30 a. m. on November 10, when Judge Francis A. Stanger discusses "The Challenge of a Hobby"; our national secretary will address us, and at the noon hour we lunch with those of our department.

You owe to self and to community the good cheer, the peaceful relaxation and the abiding inspiration which may thus so surely be yours.

A. VIRGINIA ADAMS, President,
Elementary Principals' Association.

English Teachers

Attend your section meeting if you can—for the classroom teacher that is the heart of the Convention. Hear a speaker who sees your subject with a broad view, and to the discussion of its specific problems contribute from your own experience. Serve your section meeting with your presence, your suggestions, and your dues, in order that it may serve you and become of increasing usefulness to others.

HAZEL B. POOLE, President,
English Teachers' Association.

Household Arts

Atlantic City has been called the Convention City-by-the-Sea. Ideal conditions exist for holding a convention here. Our Household Arts meeting is to be held in a hotel which offers unusually comfortable accommodations.

The program should persuade all to come. It would be well worth coming to Atlantic City just to hear Mrs. Mary Wentworth McConaughy speak on "Those Emotions of Ours." Emotions are the keys which wind our human clocks. You will want to know how we should learn the insight into the reasons for our behavior and our friends' behavior. Mr. Gardner Means will speak on "The Consumer and the New Social Order." This should appeal as an opportunity to become better informed in our field and thus become valuable to the community in which we serve.

Meeting old friends and making new acquaintances in a social atmosphere makes a happy event of the luncheon. Contacts made in this way often prove to be a benefit and inspiration. So let us meet in Atlantic City on November ninth.

ETHEL M. POWELL, Past President,
Home Economics Association.

Modern Language Teachers

The week-end of November 9 will again find us meeting in Atlantic City. We hope you will all be there to renew old acquaintances, make new ones and exchange ideas on the problems now confronting us. You will also want to hear about some present-day tendencies in the literature of the countries you are teaching about. Can you afford not to keep ahead of the times?

NARKA WAED, President,
Modern Language Teachers' Association.

Physical Education Teachers

Every teacher who remains upon the payroll of our public school system should possess an innate desire to manifest his and her professional spirit through attendance at the meetings of the State Association. Each one should ungrudgingly contribute to the financial support of the Association's various activities, should participate in its programs, and should carry back to the schools of the state the enthusiasm and inspiration of rekindled zeal.

The State Association can always count upon the undivided support of the State Physical Education Association.

MARION V. BURNS, President,
New Jersey Physical Education Association.

Science Teachers

The New Jersey Science Teachers' Association will present an especially attractive program at their meeting on November 10. Speakers have been obtained from some of our finest industrial laboratories as well as from a prominent university and from our own teaching ranks. Their addresses will present helpful and interesting material in each of the four major fields of science. It is hoped that as many science teachers as possible will plan to attend this meeting.

R. B. WHITMOYER, Vice President,
New Jersey Science Teachers' Association.

Social Studies

In the May Atlantic Monthly Francis V. Drake said: "We are on the threshold of a new era in flying, for 1935 points inevitably to speeds of 300 and 400 miles an hour."

Some instructors are still teaching the same old history in the same old way that their college professors did,—as though we were living in a static society instead of in a highly dynamic one.

If you are still growing professionally, you will attend the November Convention to learn about what is being done by way of modernization of the curriculum and modernization of methods.

JOHN T. GREENAN, President,
Assn. of Teachers of Social Studies.

Guidance and Personnel

You will receive a list of questions bearing on the subject of our meeting and a group of experts will be there to offer solutions; but the best results, for you and us, can only be achieved if you and YOU and YOU attend and join the discussion. We shall have no speakers.

L. C. WILSEY, President,
Guidance and Personnel Association.

Mental Hygienists

New stimulus and inspiration, new meetings with old friends, valuable professional contacts, new help on every-day problems—in other words, the New Jersey State Teachers' Convention . . .

An every-day problem, "Reading Disabilities", is the topic for the joint program of the New Jersey Mental Hygiene Association and the New Jersey Association of Psychologists. This is a cordial invitation, especially to teachers who are working with a child who cannot learn to read.

Watch for announcement!

LOIS A. MEREDITH, President,
Mental Hygiene Association.

Teachers of the Sub-Normal

Those who found the group meetings sponsored by the teachers of sub-normal children inspiring will want to attend the culminating meeting and luncheon at the Hotel Traymore.

These meetings have been not only of professional interest but highly successful socially. They are only the beginning of what this group hopes to achieve in bringing about a better understanding of their own problems and a more complete unification of their work.

The State Teachers' Association makes this possible and is the integrating factor in the program.

HARRIET N. MULFORD, President,
Special Sub-Normal Class Teachers.

Publications Advisers

After talking with other teachers, I conclude that we should attend the Convention this year for three reasons: (1) to be there to demand that all programs (general and individual) of that Convention deal essentially with concrete teaching experiences and not with the same old educational generalizing year after year; (2) to illustrate to the State at large that New Jersey teachers represent a large group of loyal educationally minded citizens; (3) to see that there are a great many other teachers laboring in the home State for the advancement of adequate civic learning.

LESLIE G. BIRD, Past President,
New Jersey Publications Advisers' Assn.

Editors and Publishers

We want to see you at the Eightieth Convention in Atlantic City, November 9-12. If, because of economic or other reasons, you cannot attend all sessions of this convention, plan at least to attend on Saturday, November 10, the joint meeting of the New Jersey Elementary Press Association and the New Jersey School Publications Advisers' Association. See the advance Program for the speakers.

JULIET V. RODGERS, President,
Elementary Press Association.
THOMAS E. ROBINSON, President,

A Wardrobe for the Convention

By A. ELSIE POST

Assistant Supervisor of Domestic Art, Newark

Many who have decided to attend the convention next month are asking, "What kind of clothes shall I need?" One does not wish to be bothered with unnecessary luggage, yet wishes to have a complete wardrobe consisting of the correct thing for each occasion.

One will find that two kinds of clothes are quite necessary, sport clothes for daytime wear and formal clothes for evening. This season a wardrobe is easily assembled, for there is so great a variety of each type from which to choose. It is possible to find just the right model for one's age and figure, a model which will express and enhance one's personality.

The varieties of sport clothes are legion. One great favorite is the three piece tweed suit consisting of a jacket, skirt and top coat which may be varied and made interesting with different blouses and scarfs of rich autumn colors. The tweed suit with twin sweaters is equally popular and affords the same opportunity for lovely color combinations. The hand knitted suits and dresses which were the vogue last summer, are very smart this season in the darker, grayer shades of green, brown, red and orange. A tweed coat completes this costume. Tailored silk dresses with tweed coats also make a satisfactory outfit. A soft felt hat or a beret with matching gloves and purse and broad heeled walking shoes complete these ensembles.

After spending the day in strictly tailored clothes, it is refreshing to change to the more formal gown in the evening. Here again one finds a wide choice in fabric and design. Velvet, with its deep, rich tones, is suitable for any age and is always flattering. A velvet gown simply made invests the wearer with a quiet dignity. Gowns of metal cloth are suitable for the most formal occasions only. Net, lace and chiffon are flattering because of their transparency, and though made with ruffs, frills and ruffles, they may be worn by the person of large build, as well as by one who is slim.

Taffeta, with its high lights and soft rustle, has newly come into prominence and is exceedingly popular. Dresses made of it have a pertness most suitable for the frivolous mood. Whatever the fabric selected necks continue high in front and low in the back. Sleeves are generally long. Skirts either train or are one inch from the floor. Hair ornaments, earrings and other accessories can be found which accent the costume without

EDITORIAL

THE ANNUAL AWARD

In setting up the Annual Award for Distinguished Service to Education, the Executive Committee of the Association outlined its reasons in a paragraph which every teacher should know.

"The purpose of the Award," says the Committee, "is to call public attention to those citizens of the State who, from time to time, shall greatly serve the schools, and through them the children of the State. It is also the purpose of this Award to demonstrate that the Association, and its members as teachers, believe that service to education is one of the highest forms of service any citizen can give."

Teachers have been, in the past, almost humble about their calling. They have been grateful when they were spoken of as members of a profession. They have never cultivated the pride in the classroom which ministers feel in the pulpit, doctors in medicine, lawyers in the bar. Rarely have those who achieved most in school work been honored as they deserve. Rarely has service to education by those outside the profession been recognized as "one of the highest forms of service any citizen can give."

The Annual Award is a major step by our Association in altering this attitude. If it is to have the success it deserves, the presentation of the Award must have the prestige of teacher support. Talk about it to your friends, arouse public interest in it, urge your newspaper editors to look for information about it, and above all, attend the Banquet at which the Award will be made.

From a social event this year's Banquet in Atlantic City becomes a solemn recognition of services greatly rendered to us, to our profession, and to the children of New Jersey. To give it this significance in the eyes of the public, we must show that it has this importance in our own eyes. We can do that only by being on hand when the Award is made.

Attend the Convention, of course, but especially attend the Banquet, which this year, and for years to come, takes on a new importance in the Association's work.

Concerning Advertising

Readers of the Review will note in this issue a number of new advertisers. Most of our former advertisers are with us again, some taking more space than usual to bring their message to your attention. Perhaps this is a symptom of better times and renewed confidence in the buying power of teachers and school districts; partly it may be due to approval of the changes which the Association has made in the Review.

At all events, this is a good time for us to consider the Review advertisers as a group. They are important to us as members of the Association since advertising revenue pays nearly two-thirds of the cost of printing the Review. Frankly they make it financially possible for each member of the Association to receive a copy of the magazine.

These advertisers are honestly seeking the business—it runs into millions of dollars—which New Jersey teachers can give to book companies, supply dealers, hotels, travel agencies, teachers' agencies, etc. They want New Jersey teachers to be familiar with what they have to sell, and they want New Jersey teachers to look kindly on their offerings.

We, as Association members, can profitably patronize Review advertisers, in preference to those companies which do not advertise in the Review. If you owned a part-interest in a store, you would patronize that store in preference to some other. Your membership in the Association gives you a part interest in the Review, and patronage of its advertisers is good business.

We can also profitably let them know that it is Review advertising, rather than advertising elsewhere, that is bringing them business. Return postcards, coupons, offers to send sample textbooks are intended for your convenience, of course; but they are also expressions of a very human desire on the part of the advertiser to know what he is getting for his money. Use of these and mention of the Review wherever we have contact with advertisers gratifies that curiosity and strengthens our position with them.

Certification Requirements In New Jersey Are Increased

Changes in the rules governing state certificates to teach have been made by the State Board of Examiners and approved by the State Board of Education. These changes extend by four years the time required for obtaining a permanent state license and increase the requirements for such a license by providing for additional study and for six years of successful service in New Jersey schools. They make permanent certificates somewhat less "permanent" by declaring them invalid after six consecutive years of disuse.

The most significant portions of the new regulations are the following:

"The initial certificate issued to a candidate in any department of school work will be valid for a limited time. Unless otherwise indicated in these rules all limited certificates will expire in three years from the first day of January or the first day of July next following the date of issuance.

"A limited certificate in any department of school work granted after July 1, 1935, may at the time of expiration be renewed for a period of four years on evidence of three years of successful experience in New Jersey in the type of public school work for which the certificate was issued. A permanent certificate will then be granted upon evidence satisfactory to the State Board of Examiners that the applicant—

1. Has served successfully in New Jersey public schools for a total of at least six years.
2. In the case of a certificate issued for teaching has completed twelve credits of approved study beyond the requirements for the limited certificate, at least eight of which credits must have been earned during the last four years.

"The permanent certificate is valid during the life of the holder; provided that a permanent certificate that has not been used during six or more consecutive years shall be invalid and may have its validity restored on evidence of completion of approved studies in education representing six credits."

Also of importance in the regulations is the fact that eligibility for certificates lapses after six years. The regulation governing this follows:

"Except as otherwise provided in rules of the State Board of Education, a certificate will not be issued unless the applicant holds a position for which the certificate is required. A New Jersey resident or a graduate of a New Jersey college who satisfies the requirements of these rules for a certificate which his position does not require will receive a statement of eligibility, which during a period of six years will maintain his right to the certificate when needed."

The state law concerning certificates is as follows:

"No teacher shall be entitled to any salary unless such teacher shall be the holder of an appropriate teacher's certificate."

"Any contract or engagement between a board of education and a teacher shall cease and determine and be of no effect against said board whenever said board shall ascertain by notice in writing received from the county or city superintendent, or otherwise, that said teacher is not in possession of a proper teacher's certificate in full force and effect, notwithstanding the term of engagement for which such contract shall have been made may not then have expired."

Teachers in South Orange and Maplewood, through their local association, are sponsoring a series of ten lectures on international affairs this winter. The lectures, which will be given in Columbia High School, are open to the public. Season tickets cost $1.50. The list of speakers includes Dr. Frank Kingdon, Major James Sawders, Allan Monkhouse, Dr. Parker Thomas Moon, George E. Sokolsky, Nicholas Roosevelt, Ernest Guening, John Strachey, John C. deWilde and Struthers Burt. The series opens October 8.

American Education Week

An Opportunity for 1934 and An Account of What One New Jersey City Did in 1933

By E. WALLIS MCKENDREE, Camden

The week of November 5-11, 1934, will mark the fourteenth annual observance of American Education Week under the sponsorship of the American Legion, the National Education Association and the United States Office of Education. The purpose of the week is to stimulate public interest in the work of the schools and to emphasize education as a means of promoting the progress of the individual and of society. It offers a challenge to the professional responsibility of one million educators throughout the nation. It is the educational profession's call to arms, and New Jersey's quota is 28,000.

American Education Week offers untold values to those who will take advantage of them. It is a most opportune time to launch that school interpretation program which should make for an enlightened and interested citizenry. It is an excellent chance to strengthen the cooperation between home, school and community. It can foster active participation on the part of the public in the new educational developments and its sympathetic evaluation of educational achievements.

In hopes that it will offer suggestions to others in formulating plans to meet the special needs of their communities, the writer submits a resume of the American Education Week organization and proceedings in Camden in 1933.

The object of the effort was to interpret the schools to the citizens of Camden, in line with the nation-wide theme, "Know Your Schools."

A school interpretation committee of ten members was organized to cover the fields of newspaper publicity, radio, motion pictures, posters, and contacts with the public. This committee sought to draw into its work Camden's 36 schools, 750 teachers, and 21,000 children.

The achievements of the committee can be best summed up as follows:

1. Newspaper Publicity—through local press
 - a. All radio addresses
 - b. P. T. A. meetings
 - c. American Legion School Visitation Contest
 - d. Mayor's proclamation
 - e. Two editorials on American Education Week

Approximate space, 150 inches—circulation 420,000

2. Radio Programs

The local station, WCAM, gave free time for a speaker each day of the week. The speakers were the Superintendent of Schools, the president of a local P. T. A., a prominent civic worker, the President of the American Legion Auxiliary, a prominent attorney, and a member of the Board of Education.

The radio programs were sent in advance to every school with instructions to have pupils ask their parents to "listen in." They were announced in the local papers and over the local radio station each day. The addresses were published in the local papers on the following day.

3. Motion Pictures

Ten motion picture theatres in the city carried invitations, announcements and cartoons on the necessity and value of providing education. Four "trailers" were used

The Simplest Adequate Treatment Ever Offered!

The new LENNES algebra is directed to the pupil who is studying this, to him, strange subject for the first time. The transition from arithmetic to algebra is natural, even obvious. At every step the cue has been taken from the ordinary student, or from those below the median, rather than from the exceptionally bright. By ingenious provision, it offers a core course for minimum requirements, and a second-cycle expansion for pupils of more than average ability.

Something New in the Teaching of English

MR. SHERWIN CODY, nationally known teacher of English, has just written two small volumes that are sure to mark a new era in the teaching of seventh and eighth grade English.

Each booklet contains two interesting letter-writing projects—one project for the fall term, and one for the spring term. Each project contains sufficient material for a six weeks' course. The work may be done during consecutive weeks, or may be spread out over the entire term.

These highly realistic letter-writing projects are packed full of human interest, and are designed to develop fluent, natural expression, both oral and written.

What Prominent English Teachers Say About "Interesting Letters"

They give English study a background of realism.

Strong social appeal. Phrased in attractive style.

Almost an English course complete in themselves.

Unusual type material, not the trite old suggestions previously offered in letter writing.

Use of these projects should make for naturalness, spontaneity, and individuality of expression.

I think the books will hold the interest of Junior High students more than any similar books I have seen.

I should like to be able to put over the spirit of composition in the classroom as Mr. Cody has in his books and teacher's manual.

in announcing and inviting patrons to visit schools, fifteen cartoon slides and six local interest slides.

4. Posters

Posters made by the art department were displayed in local business houses.

5. Contacts

Letters were written to the Service Clubs of Camden calling attention to the week and asking their cooperation. Similar letters were written to members of the Board of Education, inviting them to participate in the program.

The local post of the American Legion sponsored a school visitation contest. An honor plaque was awarded to the school having the highest percentage of patrons visiting it during the week. The school winning this award for three consecutive years will be the permanent holder of it. The award was presented at a special P. T. A. meeting by the Commander of the American Legion Post.

Each school kept a record of visiting patrons and made a final report to the committee.

The following summary of the activities in the various schools is based on their reports to the committee in charge:

(a) Invitations were extended to all parents to visit the schools. Announcements were made by principals and teachers in 36 schools.

(b) Approximately 20 schools sent written or mimeographed invitations and announcements to parents urging them to visit schools during American Education Week.

(c) Educational programs were presented by the faculty and pupils of a colored school in one of the largest colored churches in the school district.

(d) One colored school served free luncheon to visitors. Food, donated, was prepared by children under the direction of the domestic science teacher. A lecture and demonstration followed, teaching the mothers how to prepare inexpensive and properly balanced meals.

(c) "Stay in School Party" was given in one colored school. Addresses were given by successful graduates of the Camden High School.

(f) American Education Week addresses were given at P. T. A. meetings by President of Board of Education; Member of Teachers' Committee of Board of Education; County Superintendent of Schools; Director of Physical Education, State Department, Trenton, N. PENSION FUND PAYMENTS

The first of four payments of $1,067,000 to the Teachers' Pension and Annuity Fund has been made by the State on the amount due for 1934-35, and the fund is, according to Samuel H. McIlroy, Chairman of the Board, "in fine shape." Mr. McIlroy sees no indications that the next quarterly payment will not be made early in October, and hopes that the remaining money due the fund this year will be made available.

A full report on the condition of the fund will be published soon, and every teacher-member is urged to study it carefully. The annual meeting of delegates will be held October 13. A trustee will be elected from the Central District. The term of Fred Cook, Superintendent of Schools in Plainfield, expires this year.

When you teach the children GUM MASSAGE you reach the Parents, too

● MARVELOUS RESULTS GAINED BY GUM MASSAGE DRILL: With the addition of this new exercise in class curricula, children are more easily persuaded to take proper care of their teeth and gums.

● At home, children show their parents how gum massage is taught at school, thus spreading the ever-growing crusade for healthy teeth and gums.

MOTHERS AND FATHERS today are doubly grateful for the modern health regimes of the classroom. For they, as well as their children, often benefit by the precepts of oral health advocated by American teachers.

Among the many achievements to the credit of teachers must be counted the practice of gum massage. Children now learn that gums kept firm with massage will be better able to resist disease.

With most foods cooked to a soft and creamy tenderness, the gums must rely upon other means of stimulation. For inactive gums tend to become weak and flabby—to bleed easily.

And weak, bleeding gums need massage to strengthen them before "pink tooth brush" may lead to gingivitis, Vincent's disease or pyorrhea—possibly endangering sound teeth.

Class drills in gum massage are encouraging daily practice at home, report many teachers.

Pressing the gums lightly before a mirror will show how massage arouses the blood stream. The gums whiten as sluggish blood is driven out, then glow again as fresh blood replaces it.

You may well be proud of your inspiring example, the advances you make possible through regular health programs in the curriculum.

Massage with Ipana Tooth Paste is an important step toward glowingly firm and healthy gums. Dentists recommend it for toning the gum wall, as well as cleaning the teeth. And its refreshing flavor wins even children to its use.

Ipana's ziratol content makes it valuable for tender or bleeding gums. Try it yourself, if your tooth brush occasionally shows "pink." Each time you clean your teeth, put a little extra Ipana on your brush, and massage it lightly into your gums. But Ipana or no, every educator now has an opportunity to spread the doctrine of better teeth and gums by teaching children the twice-a-day habit of gum massage.

program will be of the highest quality. Orchestra conductors will be Virgil W. Bork of Roselle, C. Paul Herfurth of East Orange, A. Dwight Brown of Plainfield, and R. W. Winthrop of Asbury Park. R. A. Laslett Smith of Newark and Mabel E. Bray of Trenton State Teachers College will direct the chorus, of which K. Elizabeth Ingalls of Westfield has acted as manager and chairman.

The Sunday evening meeting will be addressed by two distinguished educators, Dr. Fowlkes and Dr. Oberholtzer. Dr. Fowlkes, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, is a practical educator with experience in teaching, executive work, and school surveys. He has written on textbook evaluation, school finances, and pupil accounting.

Dr. Oberholtzer, whom New Jersey supported for the presidency of the Department of Superintendence and who will return here with his Department for its February convention, will discuss "The Challenge of Young America." Dr. Oberholtzer has made interesting studies of youth problems in Houston, Texas, where he is Superintendent, and is an able and interesting speaker.

Like Douglas Malloch, the Banquet speaker, Rabbi Silver, who will address the Monday morning and final meeting of the Convention, owes his invitation to Atlantic City to a speech before the Cleveland Convention last February. Dr. Silver, whose home is in Cleveland, is spiritual leader of one of the largest liberal Jewish congregations in America. He has been actively identified with the great social movements of our day. He was a member of President Hoover's Unemployment Relief Commission and was one of the framers of the Unemployment Insurance Bill of Ohio. He is the author of "Religion in a Changing World." His Atlantic City topic is "Educating Our Children for the New Deal."

Legislature Acts Quickly In Crisis On Tenure Act

The tenure rights of several thousand teachers were seriously jeopardized on June 2 by a decision of the State Board of Education on a case involving the Board of Education of Wildwood vs. Lydia J. Meech.

The principle on which the case turned was the distinction between the calendar year and the school year. The Board held that the law specifying three years' consecutive service meant three consecutive calendar years. The teacher had been given three contracts covering ten-month school terms, and therefore, in the eyes of the Board, had not been employed by the school district during the summer months. This interrupted the consecutiveness of her service, and the Board held, deprived her of tenure protection.

Even more important, the Board ruled that the terms of these contracts determined her status even after she was no longer given a contract. Under this ruling a teacher might teach for twenty years and never come under tenure, if her original appointments had been for ten-month terms.

The decision was made on Saturday. Monday evening the Legislature met, and the first bill introduced was designed to remedy the situation. It was passed without reference to committee, and was taken to the Assembly. There, too, a little later in the evening, it was passed without reference, and the following day it was signed by the Governor. A number of teacher-representatives, headed by W. Burton Patrick, Legislative Chairman, were present to give the bill their blessing.

At its August meeting the State Board of Education took action to establish four year courses in the normal schools at Jersey City, Newark and Glassboro, and to give these institutions the right to grant degrees. These courses will be optional with students at these schools and will be given by the present faculties, which will not have to be enlarged for the purpose.

Biography of Alcott Wins Newbery Award

A biography of Louisa M. Alcott by Cornelia Lynde Meigs won the 1934 Newbery Medal Award. This is the first biography to win the award. Interest in the Newbery Medal list of books is rapidly spreading among children of the elementary school. The Newbery Medal is awarded annually by the Children's Librarians' Section of the American Library Association, for the "most distinguished contribution to American literature for children, original in conception, fine in workmanship and artistically true." The author must be a citizen or resident of the United States. Frederic G. Melcher, editor of the Publishers' Weekly, established and endowed the medal in 1921.

The medal is named in honor of the philanthropic John Newbery (1713-1767), who established a Bookshop and Publishing House in Saint Paul's Churchyard, London, in 1744. He was one of the first publishers to recognize the importance of books for children. John Newbery has become renowned as the first collector of Mother Goose rhymes in England and as the publisher of Goody Two Shoes.

now before the Senate for action. Assembly Bill No. 404 has been introduced into the Assembly, but has not yet been voted upon. I think it well to advise the teachers that there are still certain groups in the state which are desirous of preparing and presenting bills as inimical to the interests of education as Senate Bill No. 214 ever was, and some of these bills may be introduced when the legislature reconvenes the early part of December.

Notwithstanding the attitude of these certain groups, I think I can say by way of encouragement that there is more and better public support for education than existed a year ago, and there is a more general determination on the part of all thinking citizens that education shall not be needlessly curtailed. Since July, some very constructive accomplishments have resulted from the work and efforts of your officers.

It may be pardonable to emphasize that the school people alone cannot carry the whole of the fight. I wish to call attention to the invaluable work already done by the Citizens' State Committee on Education and the lay organizations which have supported it. It is fitting that we should strive constantly to repay such assistance in kind, to lend such lay organizations a hand whenever possible, and to build up new friends for the schools as we go along. We can do this best by individually rendering the best service to the children of which we are capable, and by recognizing frankly that the solution of our problems calls for a type of leadership in every part of the state which takes due cognizance of the arguments both for and against the cause of public education and has the courage to speak out frankly in behalf of the children of the state.

The eyes of New Jersey will be on us as we are assembled in our 1934 Convention. We have not been content to accept whatever came along, and we have rightly not sought to return to things as they were. We can never return to the system of education which we enjoyed in 1929, not even if there be as much money to spend on education as there was in 1929. We have made progress since that year, and the educational program of 1929 would be out of date for 1934. We have been and still are fighting for a new deal for education in New Jersey. We are asking the state to reconsider and modify its financial policies for the schools.

The work and the challenges which lie ahead are so great and so pressing that every teacher in the state can well afford to come to Atlantic City November 9 to 12 and lend his assistance in the accomplishment of the things hoped for. In the name of the children of the state, in the name of justice to education, in the name of a new financial deal for education, I am calling upon every one of you to attend the Convention if at all possible. Your presence will be a great help and inspiration to us all.

A GREAT NEW

EDUCATIONAL AID

BRITANNICA ★ JR.

Edited and published by Encyclopaedia Britannica—not an abridgment, not a single line taken from the adult work

Makes classes more interested, simplifies your work, saves your time. Entirely new in plan—following modern functional method—shows use of subjects and describes them in fascinating narrative form. Includes Ready Reference Fact Book, and a Study Guide Volume. Prepared by 200 eminent educators. Winnetka mental age text test proves it most comprehensible set for children. Graphic and absorbing to children from 4 to 14.

CHILDREN read Britannica Jr. for sheer pleasure and they learn while they read. It makes dull facts inspiring, hard problems thrilling, a complete comprehension of life and the world easier. Every subject is covered adequately, every statement is accurate. For the first time a great work of this kind is prepared by highest authorities in the encyclopaedic field using the approved modern functional method.

LOOK AT THESE EXTRA ADVANTAGES

1 Ready Reference Fact Volume. This volume offers important information on 20,000 subjects with 50,000 references to where further information may be found in the set.

2 Study Guide Volume. A step-by-step, year-by-year home course of mental stimulation and development. Teachers can now direct children's mental training background easily under the guiding hand of Mr. Frederick L. Rederer and 20 other prominent educators.

3 Graphic Picturizations.

Fascinating end-papers, 24 of them, in color. Twelve are illustrated maps and twelve show complete picture plans and instructions on how to make beautiful and useful things.

4 Entirely New—Not an Abridgment. Although edited and published by Encyclopaedia Britannica with all its authority and experience, the resemblance ends there. Not a single sentence is taken from Encyclopaedia Britannica.

5 Handsome Bindings.

Novel Container—Even the bindings are a compelling invitation to sit right down and read Britannica Jr. They are washable and durable and come in red or blue.

6 Surprisingly Low Price —Monthly Payments.

Paper and bindings were contracted for at 1933 figures, making present prices of Britannica Jr. surprisingly low. Small initial payment and reasonable monthly terms.

GIVE YOUR PUPILS THE CHANCE THAT OTHERS HAVE

You will want to recommend that Britannica Jr. be added to your classroom library. You will want to recommend it to parents. Consider it for your own use! Here is your opportunity to help children in your care to progress. Investigate at once! Send coupon for 24-page book describing Britannica Jr., with specimen pages.

PANEL DISCUSSION—

Issues—

What number concepts do we want children to have?

What is the Kindergarten's part in the preparation for number concepts?

What are the number concepts children need outside of school and how can we prepare them for this need?

What are the situations in school which naturally lend themselves to an understanding of number concepts?

What are the situations and activities which can be created in the school room which will bring out real needs for number concept and practice?

What practice and drill will be needed in carrying out these situations?

What type of further drill will be needed and what principles will guide in this further practice?

How will this drill and practice be differentiated to meet the needs of the individual child?

Honorary Members shall enjoy all the privileges of the Association except that of voting and holding office, and shall be exempt from the payment of dues. All persons who are members of this Association on the 28th day of December, 1900, without the right to vote, shall be Honorary Members under this Constitution and By-Laws.

Railroad Information

Suggested advice to members of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association respecting reduction authorized on the IDENTIFICATION CERTIFICATE PLAN for the benefit of members and dependent members of their families.

The following reduced fares and arrangements have been authorized on Identification Certificates from points in New Jersey, also New York, N. Y., and Philadelphia and Easton, Pa.

When presenting the Identification Certificates to Ticket Agents, state which class of ticket is desired.

Going and returning via same route:

Fare and one-third with minimum of $1.00 for the round trip; tickets to be sold November 6 to 12, 1934, with final return limit 30 days in addition to date of sale.

Going via one authorized route and returning via another authorized route:

One-half of the one and one-third fare applying from starting point to destination via route traveled on going trip plus one-half of the one and one-third fare applying from starting point via route traveled on return trip; tickets to be sold November 6-12, 1934, with final return limit 30 days in addition to date of sale.

One Identification Certificate will suffice for each member, including dependent members of his or her family, and it will not be necessary to furnish separate Certificates for dependent members of the family.

The round-trip tickets will be sold to members of the organization and dependent members of their families only.

Children of 5 and under 12 years of age, when accompanied by parent or guardian will, under like conditions, be charged one-half of the fares for adults.

Tickets before being honored for return passage must be validated at Atlantic City, N. J., by Agents at the regular ticket offices of the lines over which the tickets read from destination and will be validated on any date after the arrival, but must be used returning to reach original starting point within the final return limit.

RAILROAD CERTIFICATES are now ready for distribution, and members of the Association are requested to obtain same from the Railroad Secretary, Miss Sarah O. Whitlock, 88 Lawrence Avenue, New Brunswick, N. J., in order to enable them to purchase tickets for the Convention at reduced rates.

CENTRAL RAILROAD

Many of our members found it convenient to take advantage of the excellent train service furnished by THE CENTRAL RAILROAD OF NEW JERSEY to our previous conventions.

We therefore arranged for a special train on Friday, November 9th, which, we are pleased to announce, will be equipped with "THE BLUE COMET" de luxe type cars.

The schedule of this train will be as follows:

Returning, SPECIAL TRAIN will leave Atlantic City, Monday, November 12th, at 3:30 P. M.

The above schedules are subject to change.

For information regarding regular trains, consult local ticket agents.

In addition to the usual convention fares, four-day, round-trip excursion tickets at $6.00, requiring no Certificates at time of purchase, will be available for transportation on the above SPECIAL or any regular trains from Newark, Jersey City, New York, Elizabeth and tributary points.

Teachers are requested to procure individual seat reservations (without extra charge) in advance on the SPECIAL or regular CENTRAL RAILROAD OF NEW JERSEY trains, going and returning, from Alfred Kubli, District Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Newark, N. J.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Many of our members prefer the schedules of the Pennsylvania Railroad, leaving at the following convenient hours, in traveling to Atlantic City.

Latest type roller-bearing, up-to-date, wash-stand coaches are operated on these fast flyers; also broiler-buffet parlor cars and coaches, with dining car on the Friday Only afternoon train:

Extra cars will be on these trains for the accommodation of our members and special arrangements may be made for clubs by applying to Mr. I. W. MacMullin, District Passenger Agent, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 31 Clinton Street, Newark, N. J.

In addition to the usual Convention Fare, this year an extraordinary offer is the Ten-Day Round-Trip tickets, expected to be on sale at $6.00, which will not require a Certificate and are good on all Pennsylvania Railroad trains, either via the "Nellie Bly" Route, or the wealth of additional direct connections at North Philadelphia. Also inquire if any Saturday two-day excursion fares are in effect.

We are listing below the advance fares in effect to Atlantic City from principal stations in Northern New Jersey (proportionate rates applicable from other points):
