WHAT do you really believe about democracy, the church or the teachings of Jesus? Have you a personal philosophy of life? Do you believe you have a definite social responsibility? Do you believe in God? These are questions of major importance in a disturbed world, important to all who have an obligation to themselves to hold intelligent beliefs.

To help answer these questions Central YMCA is sponsoring a series of six talks and discussions by outstanding religious leaders of Cleveland. First, each will tell what he believes about one of these provocative subjects, and why he believes it. Then he will conduct an informal discussion and question period, permitting members of the group to voice their opinions.

The series will be held in the Auditorium of Central YMCA, 2200 Prospect Avenue. There is no admission charge. The general public is cordially invited to attend. Each talk will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m.
