BLACKLIST PARTY

DEAR FELLOW-CONSPIRATOR:

We notice that your name appears on the Foll of Honor drawn up by the Daughters of the American Revolution and their allies, the Key Men of America. Some call this Honor Roll a blacklist. It includes United States Senators, Communists, Ministers, Socialists, Republicans, Editors, Housewives, Lawyers-most of us, in fact, We are giving a party to all our fellow-outcasts, and also to the authors of the Honor Roll. on May 9 at 8:30 P. M., at the Level Club, 253 West 73rd Street, New York City. Admission will be $1.00. Refreshments may be ordered a la carte. Informal, of course. Do come.

It is rumored that the D. A. R. overlooked Heywood Broun in framing their particular list. He will come to the party to protest. He intends to bring suit for libel against the D. A. R. for this outrageous omission. Well-known and dangerous characters will provide entertainment — McAlister Coleman, Clarence Darrow, and others. Parades and poetry, speeches and songs. Souvenirs for all.

If you are too far away to attend the party, will you please send us a friendly letter or telegram? It will be read alcud by the chairman, who will be chosen on the basis of the number of lists his name adorns, as well as the number of crimes he is accused of committing. You may bring a friend if you can prove that his name appears on any blacklist. Otherwise he will not be admitted. Do not blame us. Blame Mrs. Brousseau and Mr. Marvin. The only thing your friend can do is to commit a dangerous or subversive act before next year's party, and thus put himself in a class with Senator Reed. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and Miss Ruth Morgan. For we hope to make this Blacklist Party a permanent institution, and we are drawing up a constitution and by-laws to read to you on May 9. Members of your family may come; we assume them to be at least slightly tinged from association with you.

Blacklisted organizations may send as many of their members as they like provided the letter-head accompanies the check for all desired tickets.

We caution you against showing this invitation to anyone who is not eligible. We anticipate enough trouble, in any case, from indignant applicants. Also, if your name appears on several lists, will you try to refrain from boasting about it? Others may not have had your opportunities or your luck, and there is no use being snotbish.

It is essential that tickets be bought in advance, so please return the enclosed application with your name, addness, and check.

Yours to Make the World Sale for Humor,

CLARENCE DARROW MORRIS ERNST ARTHUR GARFIELD HAYS FREDA KIRCHWEY

Bear Classmate:

Marcia Thomas and I attended Babbie's funeral together and came away so impressed that it occurred to us that each of the girls of 1905 would be glad of a record of this service is memory of our dear elasamate. Mr. Hoeser was pleased to co-operate, and had enough copies of Rabbi Silver's tribute made so that each of us may have one to treasure. He also sent a most unusual tribute written by Miss Mary Adams, when many of us know as a teacher in Central Migh School - she was a lifelong friend of Babbie. Our Alice Dunham Green has also written a metdage.

Bubble's funeral was held on the afternoon of a beautiful, sumshing winter's day. The aircular chapel at Mayfield Covetery was erowded with friends and relatives; there was no music, the chapel is a blocsing in itself; there was a soft light, the odor of many flowers, reverant silence. When all had gathered and the casket was in place, sovered with a beautiful blanket of violets, prayer was offered and Habbi Silver came forward to give his tribute.

Eabli "Elver heis a dear friend of Habbie. He could searcely talk at times, so near wealthe to tearcel Win weige is marvelous, it is like an organ, and his delivery is flow and Harddere. Try to hear the earnest, heartfelt feeling he pat into the giving of this tribute so that as you read it you may approviate the feeture of the corview as Marcin and I heard it.

With love to each of you ----- Bortha Cristy Nord.

A Message to the Class of 1908

thirty of us have been living in Gleveland since our graduating day, twentyseven years ago. Throughout that time we have been excircled by Beatrice"s steadfast loyalty. The hospitality of her home toward us was royal indeed. A luncheon there was a gala affair. But that was not all, - it was always apparent that love prepared the table for us.

Beatrice took endloss pleasure in this home of here, administering it with expert skill and taste. The house continues just as she left it, - located in Bratemahl, near the lake, near the homes of her brother Herman Hoss, her sister Trene Hahn, and her paster Rabbi Silver. Her sister, Hortense, who died several years ago, lived here much of the time, and here har brother Adolf sentinues to make his residence. The husband, Hathan Lonsor, is a leading atterney of Cleveland, a man of wide culture. There are two children, Hary Amn new twelve years old, and Charles Hathan who will be eight in May. Just to mention these loved ones is to invoke the vision of Beatrice and her delight in them.

The home so serupulously kept, did met furnish the boundaries for its presiding spirit. This gentle but powerful influence emanated, embracing the families of her friends, and their friends, ultimately seeking out and finding the needy ones of the city. Her life was consistent to the sore. While she was yet a little girl in Central High School she used to talk about the Council Educational Alliance. During the last days, a parting thought dwelt upon the Alumas Fund of our college. And her charity began at home.

Those in our class who were backward, Beatrice unconsciously championed, because in her presence so one foured criticism, such less ridicule. The self-confident found triumphresector when shared with her. Those too who were fastidious or exclusive were invariably her friends. Fut all this does not even suggest her charming personality, the sparkle and good cheer of her conversation, the confort and warmth of her companionstip.

Her love for her classmates abides, - to each of us a benediction.

Alice Dunham Green.

CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL EDUCATION

THE WHITE HOUSE

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL EDUCATION

THIS CONFERENCE is called to consider a nation-wide program of Social Education on Crime as a Community Problem.

Since Crime is now recognized as a result of deep-rooted social maladjustments, an effective program to cope with it necessarily involves processes of social education.

The personnel of the Conference will include representatives of the major national agencies — civic, educational, religious and social — which carry on educational work through their local units in communities throughout the country.

The educational work of these national agencies makes them one of the major educational forces of the country. Participation in this Conference and in the resulting program is in line with their policies as most, if not all, of them have dealt with other broad social questions. Their participation in setting the project up will make it their own and an undertaking common to all. This will contribute substantially to its strength and to its impact on every community.

It is proposed to adapt the program to meet the educational methods now used by these agencies rather than to urge them to change their methods to fit a particular program. This will involve the formulation of educational materials for study groups, for community and neighborhood forums, and for series of addresses, all adapted to the needs of youth as well as those of mature years.

Representatives of many other national organizations, which do not do educational work but the work of which has clear implications for this program of Social Education, will also be present. The Community is the focal point, as it affords the natural field for individuals to secure a sound understanding of the problem. Again, the Community is the immediate field for translating social understanding into social action. An informed and sustained public opinion is indispensable for

- (a) an effective attack on those maladjusted social conditions in the community which have been demonstrated to be decisive factors in delinquency and crime.
- (b) the development of such agencies and activities as have proved their worth in helping maladjusted individuals adapt themselves to community life before they get over the line into crime, and
- (c) the support of law enforcement agencies.

The Federal Administration showed its concern for more effective law enforcement agencies by convening the Crime Conference sponsored by the Attorney General. This conference focused the attention of the nation on the seriousness of the crime situation, and took steps to strengthen law inforcement agencies.

The Conference on Social Education will concern itself, not with administrative and official matters, but with the building up in the communities of the country of an informed and sustained public opinion which is indispensable both to reducing the incidence of crime, and the maintenance of effective law enforcement.

These objectives have challenged the attention of many national agencies as well as of leaders of public opinion, and have ensured their cooperation in formulating and carrying on the program to be set up by the Conference.

JOINT CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE ON INAUGURAL CEREMONIES ROOM P-36, SENATE WING WASHINGTON, D. C.

December 30, 1952

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver The Temple East 105th Street and Ansel Road Cleveland, Ohio

Dear Dr. Silver:

The Joint Congressional Inaugural Committee is very happy that you have accepted the invitation to participate in the Inaugural Ceremonies at the Capitol on January 20th. The Joint Committee will appreciate it if you will deliver the Prayer on that occasion. I have been asked to request that all members of the participating Clergymen confine their remarks to a period of one minute, or not to exceed 175 words.

The Ceremonies will begin promptly at Noon, January 20th, and we ask that you be present on the immediate Platform at approximately 11:30 c'clock. Your ticket will not be available until January 12th or thereabouts, and it will be delivered to you at that time.

Please advise the Joint Committee of your expenses involved, and I shall be happy to see that you are reimbursed.

Sincerely yours,

Styles Bridges.

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver

F OR THIRTY-FIVE of his sixty years, Alba Hillel Silver has been Rabbi of The Temple. After attending public school and high school in New York City, Dr. Silver was graduated from the University of Cincinnati and the Hebrew Union College, and was ordained Rabbi in 1915. It was in Wheeling, West Virginia, where he had his first congregation, that he met Virginia Horkheimer, and on January 2, 1923, five years after his coming to Cleveland, they were married.

Throughout his rabbinical career, Dr. Silver has been a leader of his faith. Soon after coming to Cleveland, he became identified with many of the progressive social and educational movements in the community. In his book, "Inside U.S.A.", John Gunther speaks of Dr. Silver as "the first citizen of Cleveland".

Dr. Silver served as President of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. For some years he was National Chairman of the United Jewish Appeal and Chairman of the Cleveland Jewish Welfare Fund. He founded the Bureau of Jewish Education of Cleveland.

His full life and active career did not prevent him from devoting time to the writing of important books and the publication of many articles. He has lectured throughout the nation and has appeared on many university campuses and at conventions of educators, social workers and leaders of public opinion. He is the recipient of many degrees and awards attesting to his scholarship, his leadership and his statesmanship.

Dr. Silver has been recognized as the leader of the Zionist Movement in the United States. It was Dr. Silver, as head of the American Section of the Jewish Agen:y, the American Zionist Emergency Council and the Zionist Organization of America, who organized American public sentiment in favor of the Zionist Movement and who led the fight for the establishment of the State of Israel in the Assembly of the United Nations.

Just a week ago additional honor came to Dr. Silver, and through him to The Temple, when he participated in the inaugural ceremonies of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

AMERICA By ABBA HILLEL SILVER

7.5 2. 1 2.44

G OD built Him a continent of glory and filled it with treasures untold;

He carpeted it with soft-rolling prairies and columned it with thundering mountains;

He studded it with sweet-flowing fountains and traced it with long-winding streams;

He planted it with deep-shadowed forests, and filled them with song.

THEN He called unto a thousand peoples and summoned the bravest among them.

They came from the ends of the earth, each bearing a gift and a hope.

The glow of adventure was in their eyes, and in their hearts the glory of hope.

AND out of the bounty of earth and the labor of men,

Out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls,

Out of the memory of ages and the hopes of the world,

Gcd fashioned a nation in love,

blessed it with a purpose sublime-

And called it AMERICA!

Written in 1918 upon the occasion of the first Cleveland Community Fund Victory Dinner, "America" has won international recognition as a graat example of patriotic literature.

About The Seaway Luncheons .

The Seaway Year Foundation expresses its appreciation to The East Ohio Gas Company for making possible these ten Seaway Nations Luncheons in the Community Room of its new building. It is a fine demonstration of the community-consciousness which motivates many Cleveland concerns to participate in civic activities beyond the scope of their own commercial ventures.

With attention focused upon the opening of the St. Lawrence Scaway, the purposes of these luncheons are:

1 — To provide a series of colorful and dramatic events in the Seaway Year Celebration to direct attention to the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway which makes Cleveland truly a World Port.

2 — To salute the Nations whose ships will directly link Cleveland with the Ports of the World.

3 — To publicly recognize some of the Cleveland leaders of the Seaway Nations.

4 — To further a greater public understanding of the Seaway and its impact upon the economy of Cleveland.

5 — To highlight and officially open each week of the Bowntown Cleveland Seaway Celebration.

6 — To bring together various segments of Seaway leadership in Cleveland so that they may know each other better; and, because of this personal relationship, work even more closely together for the development of the Port of Cleveland and the betterment of our community.

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver

FOR FORTY-FIVE of his seventy years Abba Hillel Silver has been Rabbi of The Temple. He has guided The Temple with devotion, built it into preeminence, and established its pulpit as a major force in the social conscience of Cleveland and the nation. As citizen and religious leader Dr. Silver has at all times courageously championed economic justice, the rights and freedom of man, human brotherhood and international reconciliation and peace.

Through the years he has been actively identified with every constructive movement in the life of our community.

His was the voice of leadership which rallied support in our country for the establishment of the State of Israel. He was the chosen spokesman of the Jewish people before the United Nations. His energy and skill made a major contribution towards the establishment of Israel as a free and independent state.

Scholar and author, Dr. Silver has made significant contributions to Jewish learning. Orator without peer, his is the skill which breathes vigor into ancient truths. He has moved and inspired countless audiences throughout the nation.

His counsel and friendship have blessed many lives and made him beloved as well as respected,

His host of friends here and everywhere wish him well on the occasion of his seventieth birthday, and prayerfully hope for his sontinued guidance and inspiration for many years to come.

THE JULIUS ROSENWALD ESSAY CONTEST

September, 1927, "Union Tidings", the monthly publication of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, printed an article by Mr. Elisha M. Friedman of New York entitled "The Functions of the Layman." The article was written in response to a letter sent by Mr. Roger W. Straus, President of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods, to a number of representative Jewish laymen who have rendered distinctive service, in one field or another, to American Jewry. The letter requested a statement as to what, in the opinion of the person addressed, the Jewish laity can do to jurther Judaism in America.

In his reply, Mr. Friedman dealt with some of the symptoms of transition which Judaism, in common with other religions, was manifesting, and suggested some general policies by which the distinctive values of Judaism might be preserved for the next generation of American Jewry. One of his suggestions, addressed specifically to the layman, Mr. Friedman formulated as follows:

"The layman, long of cash and not short of ideals and the will to serve, can set thousands of schelars the world over, thinking on the problem. A $5,000 or $1C,000 prize, open to Jewish scholars the world over, may not solve the problem but will cast light on the following questions:

- How can Judaism be made to function and serve effectively in modern society?
- How can our beliefs be modified to conform to nodern scientific conceptions? and yet
- 3. How can historical contact be maintained with the past?

- 4. How can the experience of the Reform Movement—its contributions and its deficiencies—be brought to bear on the questions?
- What minimum of ceremonial and institutional life is required to maintain Jewish spiritual values?
- 6. What shall be the content of our prayers and how can the services be made more vital and expressive and less passive?
- What sort of an education is needed to perpetuate a living Judaism?"

Not long afterwards Mr. Friedman received a letter from Mr. Julius Rosenwald in which Mr. Rosenwald offered to make available the sum of $10,000 as a prize in accordance with Mr. Friedman's suggestion. Since then, in order to provide the additional prizes which were deemed necessary, Mr. Rosenwald has increased his gift to $15,000.

ON April 7th, 1929, a group of men met at the City Club in New York to consider the conduct of the prize essay contest and to formulate the inquiry. After considerable discussion a sub-committee was appointed to take charge of the contest. The sub-committee, named as an Executive Committee, consists of the following: Dr. Samson Benderly, Chairman, Mr. Elisha M. Friedman, Mr. Maurice J. Karpf, Dr. Solomon Lowenstein, Dr. David de Sola Pool and Dr. Abba Hillel Silver.

The theme of the essay was formulated by the sub-committee in the following terms:

"For the fullest spiritual development of the individual Jew and the most effective functioning of the Jewish Community in America, how can Judaism, without impairing its integrity, best adjust itself to and influence modern life with respect to (a) beliefs and theories; (b) institutions: the home, the Synagogue, the school and other communal agencies; and (c) Jewish education: for the child, the youth and adult?"

After formulating the scope of the inquiry and rules to govern the contest, the Executive Committee felt that it would be highly des rable, in addition to the contest for the general public, to establish a special contest for college students. The suggestion was communicated to Mr. Rosenwald who gave it his approval and provided the necessary additional funds.

The following were asked to serve as judges in the contests and accepted the invitation: Dr. Lee K. Frankel of New York, Dr. Harry Friedenwald of Baltimore, Mr. Elisha M. Friedman of New York, Mr. Leo Huhner of New York, Professor Nathan Isaacs of Harvard University, Judge Irving Lehman of New York, and Judge Horace Stern of Philadelphia.

GREYOND the official formulation D of the scope of the inquiry, it is not the intention of the committee to circumscribe its range or to propose modes of treatment. Within the limits of that formulation every contestant may enjoy the fullest free-lom with respect to content and method. In setting down, therefore, a number of more specific questions suggested by the general inquiry, the intention is rather to stimulate than to prescribe. The questions that follow, without being exhaus-tive, should be helpful as indicating some of the major problems that are believed to be implicit in the general theme.

JULIUS ROSENWALD ESIAY CONTEST

- Can Judaism adjust itself sufficiently to the modern viewpoint and environment without losing its identity? What should be the basic principles of such an adjustment?
- 2. What can we learn for this purpose from the experience of Reform Judaism, Conservative Judaism and Neo-Orthodoxy in this country?
- 3. In the Jewish agencies at our disposal to bring about this desired adjusted American Judaism, what should be the relative tasks, both qualitatively and quantitatively, which we should assign to the home, the synagogue, the school, philanthropy, communal organization and public opinion?
- 4. In view of the great change that has come about in the home life of this generation, and in further consideration of the fact that the bulk of American raised Jewish women are inadequately informed on Jewish matters, how can the Jewish home be re-Judaised in order to carry out the task assigned to it?
- 5. In the task assigned to the synagogue, how is it to reckon, on the one hand, with the fact that prayer in these days has, with most people, become casual or occasional, and, on the other hand, that it is becoming increasingly difficult to have the congregation assemble on the Sabbath day?
- 6. In view of the apparently increasing difficulty that the synagogue has in attracting the younger as well as the more intellectual elements, and in consideration of the additional fact that the raboi's duties are becoming more comprehensive and complex, is there not need for a revision both of the method of selecting the rabbinic personnel is well as the course pursued in their training?
- Shall Jewish life in America be premised on the self-sufficiency of the Diaspona, or is the restoration of Palestine to be an integral part of it?
- If the Palestine idea is to be an integral part of American Judaism, in what way should that relationship be defined?

- There is a common belief that it is 9. impossible to establish an adequate system of Jewish education in this country because the public school absorbs the bulk of the learning time of the child. It is also felt that the present Jewish Sunday school system, which consists of 35 sessions a year, is totally inadequate. Does the solution of the Jewish educational problem, then, lie in the establishment of a Jewish parochial school system, or can we take advantage of the fact that the child attends public school 190 days a year, still leaving available at least 150 days with sufficient free time to make possible an adequate system of Jewish education?
- 10. In view of the totally inadequate provision made for Jewish education during the past 40 years, with the result that we now have a very large number of adults who are largely ignorant on Jewish matters, what system of Jewish education for adults can be devised that will in a measure correct this deficiency and prevent its further extension !
- 11. Shall the evolution and soordination of a system of Jewish education in this country be the charge of the national synagogue organizations, or shall Jewish education be a commural responsibility in view of the varied opinions on Jewish life and the subsidy which each community must give to Jewish educational activities?
- 12. What importance should be attached to the esthetic factor in strengthening Jewish life in America? By what measures should the community encourage distinctively Jewish expressions in the plastic arts, music, literature, the drama, etc.?
- Is it essential for the progress of American Jewry to have a general flexible organization in each community which shall embrace all Jewish activities, philanthropic, educational, synagogual, etc.?

JULIUS ROSENWALD ESSAY CONTEST

DESPITE the many centrifugal forces to which the spiritual life of American Jewry is exposed, there is evidence that a process of crystallization, accelerated by the virtual cessation of immigration, is also in progress. It is a process on which the fate of American Jewry and Judaism depend. To what extent can the process be controlled? Is it possible to plot its course? Is it possible, by organized wisdom and intelligent devotion, to channel it for the greatest enrichment of Jewish life and the creative functioning of the Jewish group in the life of America?

It is the hope of the committee, first that the Julius Rosenwald Prize Essay Contests will act as a leaven upon the intelligent minds in American Jewry, and stir them to think deeply and constructively upon its future. Nor should interest in the subject be confined to scholars or other restricted groups. The winning essays, which it is planned to publish and circulate as widely as possible, should arouse interest in the general public as well. Such interest is very much needed. It is sure to lead to more knowledge and greater loyalty.

Furthermore, the committee entertain the hope that out of this intellectual ferment may emerge something for the constructive guidance of American Jewish leadership. No definite program of action is necessarily looked for, but some investigator, gifted with knowledge, acumen and vision, may succeed in unraveling the tangled threads in the fabric of the future, and produce the synthesis out of which a stronger and nobler and more spiritual American Jewry can come into being.

The University and The Western Reserve

KING CHARLES II of England, pursuing the example of his brother kings, of granting distant and foreign regions to his subjects, granted to the then colony of Connecticut in 1662, a charter right to certain specified bounds."* With later modification those boundaries defined the land area known to this day as The Western Reserve.

The name of the territory became the name of its first institution of higher learning. Western Reserve University was created in the public interest. From its founding it was legally and morally committed to public service and the public we fare. In the intervening one hundred and twentyfour years it has kept faith with its original commitments and the regional responsibility implied in its name.

The University has welcomed students from far places and its research and services have touched the far corners of the earth. Some of its eleven schools and colleges have attained an influence well beyond the limits of the early "specified bounds." Others have purposely narrowed their influence to Greater Cleveland in order that they may better serve in the day-to-day lives of the city's inhabitants. Nevertheless, the University's educational destiny is iraditionally and consciously identified with The Western Reserve.

During the past two years the University's average enrollment has been 18,484 students. In the same period it has awarded 4,113 degrees. For the most part, these new graduates swell the ranks of local alumni who have long since assumed major roles in the professional, business and cultural life of the area.

As trained specialists and educated men and women, their value to the community cannot be estimated. In exact terms the two-year total represents 342 lawyers and legal specialists. 520 teachers and educational ad ninistrators, 152 physicians and medical scientists, 727 experts trained in accounting, management, finance and sales, 150 graduate librarians, 166 nurses prepared for advanced responsibilities in their profession, 155 social workers and social agency administrators, 18 architects, 37 holders of advanced degrees in the field of chemistry, and 28 professional psychologists who are skilled in counseling, personnel management, guidance and clinical analysis.

Lake Erie

In addition to the specialists there were 1,461 men and women who formulated their civic attitudes and cultural ambitions under the influence of the liberal arts colleges of the University and its Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. These are the men and women who will stand beside other alumni in helping to guide the area's elaborate political, welfare, city planning, little theater, music and graphic arts projects. The real evidence of the University's success is the notable record of its alumni as citizens of The Western Reserve and of the nation.

Those earlier mentioned "specified bounds" represent the geographical and spiritual survival of the New England tradition of independence. That tradition was subsequently reinforced by vigorous ethnic groups, characterized by daring and independence, that migrated in large numbers to northcastern Ohio.

The University continues that tradition and prefers to be classified as independent rather than private. It occupies a unique position among institutions of higher learning in an area limited only by Chicago, Rochester and Nashville. Within those limits it is the only university maintaining the usual complement of undergraduate, graduate and professional divisions that remains independent of public appropriations for operating funds.

One hundred and twenty-four years of independence have created an institution free to serve its community, to extend its academic facilities to all qualified individuals, and to expand the challenging offerings in continuing education that have long since come to mean so much in the lives of the general public of The Western Reserve.

One Hundred and Fifty Years of

THE OHIO STORY

T WAS AN ADVENTUEE such as the world has seldom seen. There was was no Alexandrian splendor about it; no grandeur that was Caesar's . . . 00 trumpets blared . . . no cymbals crashed. But for sheer, bold adventure the forty-cight men of the Ohio Company loom in history beside the Holy Crusaders. I In the year 1788, a crude river craft scraped against the Ohio shore. A moment later the boat was abandoned, the men of the Ohio Company had leaped ashore to begin the great adventure. Before them stratched the unbroken wilderness . . . 40,000 square miles of it, from the river at their back north to he Erie Lake. I They had brought with them simple tools . . . a plow fashioned from the crotch of a hickory limb; axes, forged from iron and edged with stone; harness for the beasts they would need to work-and thirty pounds of baggage was the allotment for every man. I But the principal tool had no weight or dimension. It was an idea . . . expressed in twenty prophetic paragraphs. The idea had legal form and it was called The Northwest Ordinance of 1787. Its meaning was clear . . . in those forry thousand square miles of wilderness men would be free ... free to explore, to learn; to seek; to find; to perfect, if they could, a way of life. I The Constitution of the United States had not yet been written and the whole world wondered what would happen there in the wilderness that was to be freedom's proving ground. I Freedom was questioned then, and at high noon on March the first, 1953, when a hundred and fifty years of statehood had passed . . . freedom still was questioned. T But the answer is plain. It is written across the face of this land . . . 40,000 square miles of it, from the river to the Erie Lake. I Would you speak in numbers: 5,000 churches, 18,000 miles of highways, 276 libraries, 500 hospitals, 300 newspapers, 650,-000 hunters, a million fishermen, 1500 trades and skills, 53 inches of rainfall, 300 million dollars worth of hogs? I How would you tail of the accomplishments? The world knows Ohio gave the world flight and ight but it also was the home of the school safety patrol; Boy Scouts; crippled children's society; 4-H clubs; professional baseball; Liederkrantz cheese; tree surgery; cash registers; medical X-rays; hot dogs; and one-third of the atomic energy equation "E equals MC square." " These are a meager handful of the accomplishments of a hundred and fifty years of freedom. A hundred and fifty years of each generation standing in the radiance of the last, leavning what had been accomplished before and adding the chapters of its own to the Panorama of the 17th State.

ILLUSTRIOUS OHIOANS

ROM the Cavalcade of Illustrious Names we select only a few as illustrative of the contributions thousands of Ohioans have made to progress in every field.

Ohio has contributed seven presidents of the United States and three vice presidents. Starting with General William Henry Hatrison in 1840 there have been Ulyases Simpson Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, William McKinley, William Howard Taft and Warren G. Harding, Presidents Harrison and Harding died in office. Presidents Garfield and McKinley were assassinated.

Ohio's contribution to the calinets of the various presidents and the Supreme Court has been considerable. Today Harold H. Burton, former Cleveland mayor, is a member of the Supreme Court. Others from Ohio to serve on the high court were:

John McLean, Warren county, Noah H. Swayne, Franklin county; William B. Woods, Licking county; Salmon P. Chase, Hamilton County; Morrison R. Walte, Lucas county; Stanley Matthews, Hamilton county; W. R. Day, Stark county; John H. Clarke, Trumbull county; William H. Tafr, Hamilton county.

Of the justices, Salmon P. Chase, Morrison Waine and William H. Taft stand out. Chase was one of the loftlest personalizies of his time. He was governor of Ohio and secretary of measury during the Civil Wat.

Taft is remembered for his services as governor general of the Philippine Islandi as much as he is for his term as president.

His son, Robert A. Tafr, extend an enviable record in Ohio and national politics.

Edwin M. Stanton was the first Ohioan to serve at U. S. attorney general. He later became President Lincoln's secretary of war. 'The following other Ohioans have served as attorney general:

Henry Stanbury, Franklin county; Alphonso Taft, Hamilton county; Judson Harmon, Hamilton county; Harry Micajah Daugherty, Fayette county.

Three noted Obioans were secretaries of state: John Sherman, William R. Day and John Hay. George M. Humphrey of Cleveland, President Eisenhower's secretary of the treasury, is in distinguished company, for that post has been held by John Sherman, Thomas Iwing, Thomas Corwin, Salmon P. Chase, William Windom, and Charles Foster.

Thomas Ewing and Themas Corwin were two of Obio's most distinguished sons. Ewing was known as the "Sage of Lancaster." It was in his home that William Tecumseh Sherman was raised. He served two terms as United States Senator and was secretary of interior under President Taylor. Corwin was known as the "Sage of Lebanon" and "The Wagon Boy." He served as governor of Ohio, in the state Legislature, and was minister to Mexico.

Foster, a merchant and banker from Fostoria, was governor of Ohio, and was affectionately known as "Calico Charley."

Secretaries of War

General Grant was socretary of war just before becoming president. Many illustrious men have filled the post, one of the most notable having been Newton D. Baker, of Cleveland, Other Obiotna were Lewis Cass, who later became governor of Michigan; John McLean, Edwin M. Stanton; William Tecumsch Sherman, Alphomo Taft, Russel A. Alger and William Howard Taft.

Thomas Ewing was the first Obioan appointed secretary to the interior. Others to fill the post were Jacob D. Cox, Columbus Delano, John W. Nohle and James R. Garfield.

Charles Sawyer served as secretary of commerce under President Truman, Joshuah W. Alexander was the other Obioan to fill that post.

The Battle of Shiloh, the first big engagement of the Civil War in the west was, in a measure, an Ohio battle as the majority of the troops were from this state and three of the important generals were Ohioans; Generals Grant, and Sherman.

Major generals born in Ohio were: Don Carlos Eucli, born in Lowell, Washington county; George Crook, Montgomery county; George A. Custer, Hatrison county; Quincy A. Gilmore, Lorain county; James A. Gatfield, Coyahoga county; James B. McPherson, Clyde; Irvin McDowell, Columbus; Alexander McD. McCook, Columbiana county; William S. Rosecrans, Delaware county; David S. Stanley, Cedar Valley, Wayne county; Robert C. Schenck, Warren county; Wagter Swayne, Columbus; and Godfrey Weitzel, Cincinnati.

Ohio's contribution to the fighting ferces, both men and officers in the Spanish American Was, and the two world wars, and the present Korean conflict is as impressive as in the Civil War. Many of the officers who served in the Civil War distinguished themselves in the war with Spain.

One Obioan was destined to eclipse them all. He was General Frederick Funston, of New Carlyste, in Clark county, known to history as "Fighting Freddie," He became world famous for the capture of Emilio Aguinaldo, leader of the Philippine revolt.

One of the biggest names to come out of World War 1 was that of an Ohioan, Edward V. Rickenbacker of Columbas. He went to France as General Pershing's chauffeur. He joined the air force and became the greatest American "ACE," having shot down 26 energy planes. He is now chairman of the board of Elattern Airlines.

When Paul Harbor was articled, sending the country into World War II, an Jhio born admiral, Isaac Crmpbell Kidd of Cleveland was killed. Ohioano to distinguish themselves in the conflict were Admiral Ernest J. King of Lorant: General George H. Brett of Cleveland, General Robert J. Eichelberger of Urbans and Admiral J. L. Kaufmann of Miamisburg, and General Curtis Le May of Lakewood, and General Robert S. Beightler of Union county.

Poetsmouth, Irontown and other river towns will show the visitor, with pride, the places julia Marlowe lived as a young girl. She became one of the most famous Shakesperian actresses, whose Portia and Juliet have never been equalled.

Through the years, marquee lights have spelled out the names of such Ohioans as Burr McIntosh of Wellsville; Otto Kruger, of Toledos Marilyn Miller, Eliasbeth Brice and Marie Dressler of Findlay; Charles Grapewin of Xenia; Hobarr Bosworth of Marietta; Chancey Olcott, of Zanesville; Grant Mitchell of Columbus; Elliott Nugent, of Dover; Otis Harlan, of Zanesville; Trixie Fraganci, of Cincinnati; Rae Samuels, of Youngstown; Elsie Janis, of Columbus; Hal LeRoy, of Chevior, Frank Daniels, of Dayton; Ted Lewis, of Circleville

In the cases of many motion pictures have been found the names of Joe E. Brown, of Holgste; Warner Baxter, of Columbus; Clark Gable of Cadiz; Allen Baxter of East Cleveland; Burgess Meredith and Florence Rice of Cleveland; Lonise Beavers, Tyrone Power, Lee Bowman and Thoda Bars of Cincinnati; Lillian Gish and Dorothy Gish, born in Springfield and Dayton respectfully Eleanor Whitney of Cleveland; Dean Jagger of Lima; William Boyd (Hopalong Cassidy), of Cambridge, and Roy Rogers, of Cincinnati; Bob Hape and Adolph Menjou of Cleveland.

A Hallywood Start

One of the greatest Hollywood enterprises, Warner Brothers, got its start in You-agutown. Harry Warner, his brother and sister obtained, in 1905, the first motion pilture produced in America, "The Great Train Robbery," and toured 'Jhio and Pennsylvania, even showing it in barns. This was the start of Warner Buothers.

Among the Ohio dramatists, we find the names of Avery Hopwood and Eugene Walter of Cleveland; Russell Crosse of Findlay, John Golden of Wauseon and Frank Pixley, of Richnield, who wrote the words of the most popular camic opera ever produced in America, "The Prince of Pilsen."

Arthur Hopkins, of Cleveland, of the famous Hopkins family, George C. Tyler of Circleville, Joseph M. Gaises, of Hillsborough and Daniel and Charles Feohman of Sandusky, ware among the theatrical producen sent out from Chio.

Among the dramatic critics, none have excelled Percy Hammond who was been in Cadiz.

In the Ohio list of song writers are found Oley Speaks of Canal Winchester, famod for "Sylvia," and "On the Romi to Mandalay." Tell Taylor, of Findlay, who write "Down by the Old Mill Stream"; Ernest R: Ball, of Cleveland, of "Mother Machieve" fame; Banjamin R. Handy of Westerville, who wrote "Datling Nellie Gray"; Daniel Decame Emmett of Mt. Vernon, the author of "Dixie," and "Old Dan Tucker" William Lamertine Thompson, of East Liverpool who wrote mate hymns and popular ballads than any other Asterican, "Sofdy and Tenderly Jesun Is Calling" having been his best known hymn.

Ohio contributed many stars of grand opera and other forms of music. There was Paul D. Cravath, Oberlin graduate, for many years president of The Metropolitan Opera Company; Blanche Thebom of Canton, Metropolitan Opera star; Evan Williams, tenor of Mineral Ridge; Helen Jepsen of Akron; Rose Bampton of Cleveland; Francis MacMillen, violinist, of Marietta; Howard Barlow, director, of Plain City; Frank Cramit, of Jackson; Margaret Speaks of Columbus.

New Fields Emplored

Ohioans have led the procession in exploring new fields. Thomas A. Edison, bern at Milao, and Charles F. Brush, of Cleveland, probably did more than any other Americans to harness electricity to man's use. Brush invented the arc street light, his home city having been the first to light its streets by electricity. To him, also, we owe the electrically driven street car and the storage battery.

Charles P. Kerrering, of Louisonville, contributed a long list of inventions in the elberrical field, including the self-starter on your automobile. The Wright brothers of Dayton conquered the air. The aluminum process discovered by Charles F. Hall, of Oberlin, and the development of the petroleum industry by John D. Rockefeller, of Cleveland, probably did more than any other two factors to make flight possible and the automobile a form of transportation.

Among other Ohioans who lave contributed to research and development in closurical and industrial field, should be mentioned Ksril T. Compton, of Wooster, Charles R. Hook, of the American Rolling Mills Company of Middlesswn; James F. Lincolo, of the Lincoln Electric Company of Cleveland, Elisha Gray, of Barnesville, who rivaled Alexander Graham Bell in relephone inventions.

Harvey S. Firestone, of Columbiana county, was one of rubber industry pioneers, as was Dr. Benjamin Franklin Goodrich, who made Akron the rubber capital of the world, and Thomas Midgley, of Worthington, research chemist, who took the knock out of gasoline.

The first dental college in the United States was opened at Bainbridge, Ohio, in 1827, by Dr. John Harris, and there have been substantial contributions to dentistry by Ohioans, as there have been to the other branches of science affecting human health. Prof. Richard L. Howard of Columbus, was the first to use chloroform after the gas was discovered in Scotland; Dr. John E. Gillman, of Marietta, performed the first operation in which X-rays were used; Dr. Harvey Cushing; of Cleveland, was noted as a brain surgeon and Da George Crile, of Cleveland, founded the famous clinic bearing his name.

On the side of a building on Euclid avenue, near the public square in Cleveland, is a becaue tablet ennouncing that in a building on that size, Archibald M. Williard, born n Bedford, painted the most famous canvas ever produced by an Ohioan, "The Spirit of 76." Williard was not a trained artist, but a painter of circus wagons, carriages and other vehicles. After the Civil War, he took to painting in earnest and finally executed the best known picture in America.

Thomas Cole, of Steubenville, was the first Obioan to attract national attention. He established an envirely new school of landscape painting. He died in 1848. Frank Daveneck of Cincinnati, won wide recognition, "The Whistling Boy" having been his best known subject. He died in 1919.

Two of the country's greatest illustrators came from Ohio; Howard Chandler Christy, of Zaoesville and Clarence Cole Phillips, of Springfield. Christy is better known around the world than any American painter. His historical canvasoes are found in the capitol at Washington and at Columbus, and his famous Ohio paloting is "The Treasy of Greenville."

George W. Bellows, an OSU baseball star, who played professional baseball to finance his art studies, is best known for his paintings depicting sporting events.

Many Jamous Cartoonists

Ohio produced many famous cartoonists, including Richard F. Outcault of Lancaster, creator of Buster Brown; Frederick B. Opper, of Madison, creator of Happy Hooligas; Gene Ahern, of Cleveland, father of Major Hoople; Milton Caniff, of Hilbboro, creator of "Terry and the Pirates," and James Thurber, of Columbus.

The greatest of all Ohio sculptors was J. Q. A. Ward, who was born in Urbans in 1830. His nature of Washington stands at Broad and Wall attests in New York City, where the first president ook the oath of office. His best known statue is the "Indian Hunter" in Central Park, Elew York. A copy of this piece marks his grave in an Urbana cemesery.

The Perry Statue in Cleveland is the work of William Walcutt, of Cleveland. Several Ohio women won national recognition as sculptors, including Evelyn B. Longman, of Winchester, Frances Grimes, of Trumbull county, and Ruth Mauer Yatus, of Greenville.

First Milestones in Education

The first milestone in Ohio's educational system was planted by Bathsheba Rouse, who, at Belpre in 1789, staght the first school in the buckeye country. Many illustrious names are connected with Ohio education, such as Horace Mann, who founded Antioch College at Yellow Springs, William Holmes McGuffey, of the readers; Thomas W. Harvey, of Lake county, author of grammars, one time superintendent of the Massillon and Painesville schools; Joseph Ray, of Cincinnati, who wrote a series of arithmetics, and Flatt R. Spencer, of Ashtabula county, who devised a system of penmanhip, which almost encircled the globe.

Lincoln Elloworth, of Hudion, explored the Andes and parts of the Antarctia continent; Russell H: Millward, of Cincinnuti, travelled 20,000 miles on foot in Central and South America; Paul A. Siple, of Oxford, chosen from among 600,000 Boy Scouts, accompanied Admiral Byrd on his first Antarctic expedition, winning for himself two Congressional Medals of honor.

William Dean Howells, born at Martina Ferry, has never been excelled as a writer of fiction. He was a newspaper editor, a magazine editor and a diplomat, starting his career as a printer at the age of 14 years on the Ohio State Journal as Columbus. "The Leatherwood God," and "The Rise of Silas Lapham" are his best known works.

Zane Grey born at Zaneaville, a descendant of the famous pioneer Zane family, wrote scores of novels dealing with the west.

Any list of Ohio writers should comain well up in front the names of Hugh Wiley, of Panesville; William Sidney Porter, who wrote as C. Henry; David Graham Phillips, George Randolph Chester, Fannie Hurst, Jim Tully, Sherwood Anderson, Earl Detr Biggers, Louis M. Beomfield, Fred C. Kelly, Charles F. Beowne (Arsemus Ward), Divid Ross Locke (Petroleum V. Nasby), O. O. McIntyre, Hart Crane, and Thomas C. Harbragh, wilo wrote some of the first Nick Carter stories.

Ohio was the starting place of more reform movements affecting all phases of life than any other state. The fight against liquor which resulted eventually in the 18th Amendment which made the United States dry in 1920, had its origin in the Anti-Saloon League which was formed at Oberlin in 1895 and was led by a former Oberlin student, Wayne D, Wheeler,

The daughter of an Ohio governor, was the leader of the Women's Temperance Crusade in 1873 which swept the world. She was Eliza Trimble Thompson.

Ohio women have equally distinguished themselves in many fields, and have brought laster to their state. The first woman elected to Congress from Ohio is Frances Payne Bolton of Cuyaboga County.

Ranking with Mrs. Bolton, is Judge Florence A. Allen of Cleveland, the first woman to serve as a judge in a State Supreme Court in 1922, and the first woman in the world to sit on a high federal court, having been appointed by Pretident Franklin D. Roosevelt to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Charles Merz, a native of Ohio, a Editor of the powerful and conservative New York Times.

Other literary standouts are Lowell Thomas of Woodington and Earl Wilson of Rockford. Dr. John H. Furbay, who has traveled around the world 44 times, makes his contribution toward travel education.

Among the great religious leaders from Obio is Rabbi Abba Hillal Silver, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, and Dr. Homer Rodebesver.

Don C. Miller of Defunce and Harry Sublideher of Massillon were wo of the famous "Four Horsemen" from Notre Jame, who were couched by the great Knute Rockne.

Branch Rickey, baseball impressario, is from Stockdale, and George Trautman of Columbus is President of the Minor League Baseball Clubs.

In the field of ports, Ohio also has produced Harrison Dillard and Jesse Owens, who hold several world's records as Olympic track stars. Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland was a notable world featherweight boxing champion, and Essard Charles of Cincinnati was the heavyweight boxing champion of the world.
