Dr. Herzl Zion Club.

In retrospect.

It is no easy task to write a definitive account of our Dr. Herzl Zion Club. It is a thousand pities that the minutes of the meetings and other records extending over a period of twelve years have been irretrievably lost. No records of any kind are available for the first four years. Such scraps of information as are here given have been made possible by the zeal and enthusiasm of Sol. Cohen. It was he who laboriously had been gathering these many years the clippings, programs and correspondence which constitute the sources of the present inadequate and fragmentary article.

In the summer of 1904, soon after the death of the immortal Herzl, A. H. Silver, his brother Max, and I. S. Chipkin, students then at the Yeshivah Volozhin of New York, met to organize a boys' club whose object shall be the dissemination of the Zionist ideal and self-cultivation in Hebrew among the Jewish youth in this city. Prospective members were recruited among the students of the Yeshivah and on August 28th, 1904, the Dr. Herzl Zion Club was officially formed, with Max Silver as president, S. J. Abrams as treasurer and E. D. Coleman as secretary. Admittance was open to boys from twelve to sixteen years of age, with a knowledge of Hebrew, and the weekly dues were set at five cents, out of which one cent was set aside for the Jewish National Fund. Hitherto, such meetings as were held took place at 360 Madison Street, the home of Mr. Moses Silver, father of A. H. and Max. He was truly a father to the club in its infant days, and has remained its guide and counsellor since. With an increase in our membership came the need for larger meeting rooms and through the intervention of another friend, Mr. Jacob Massel, we secured the quarters of the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, 33 Canal Street, and later those of the United Hebrew Charities, 156 East Broadway. We made our first bow to the Jewish public in the form of an open meeting at the Canal Street quarters, with Dr. Adolph Radin, of blessed memory, as the principal speaker. A more ambitious mass-meeting and concert was held at Apollo Hall, on February 19, 1905, with the Rev. Z. H. Masliansky as the chief speaker in Hebrew.

Towards the end of 1905, Abraham Goldfaden, father of the Yiddish theatre, his imagination fired by the Hebrew-speaking society of youngsters in the New York of that time, offered to write a play to be acted by the members of our Club. Undeterred by failing health, he proceeded not only to write the play and compose the music, but to coach the young thespians in their roles. In March 1906, David bar-Milchomo, in three scenes, based on the episode of David and Goliath and following closely the Biblical narrative, was staged at Clinton Hall with the following cast: Jesse Sobel as David, M. Silver as Eliab, Heckelman as Abinadab, Chipkin as Shammah, S. J. Abrams as Saul, Schwartz as Goliath, Coleman as Jonathan, Seltzer as the old man, I. Port as first commander, Sol. Cohen as second commander, and J. Hurwitz as Achad ha-am. It was the first Hebrew play produced in America, the forerunner of other plays periodically staged by our Club from 1906 to 1916, and was hailed by the Jewish press, both Yiddish and English, with unbounded enthusiasm. Its publicity spread our fame in quarters where we were least known until then, our membership was greatly increased thereby and the proceeds enabled us to install a modest Hebrew library for the use of our members. The play was repeated, with minor changes in cast, at the same place, in March 1907 and April 1908.

On April 7, 1909, Dr. J. M. Salkind's four-act play, The Exodus from Egypt, was produced at the Manhattan Lyceum; Seltzer as Amram, Sarah Friedman as Jochebed, A. H. Silver as Moses, S. J. Abrams as Aaron, Emma Blank as Miriam, Sol. Cohen as Ymuel, A. Feldman as Palu, Louis Blank as Karmi, Schwartz as On ben Pelleth, Chipkin as Pharaoh, Celia Mazo as Bathyo, Heckelman as chief magician and Melicov as the young Levite. B. Kassel directed the play and I. Davidoff was leader of the choir. That year marked the acme of the Club's activities. We had moved into our own quarters at 302 Madison Street, after having been permitted to meet for two years at the Educational Alliance. Our stay there was made possible by the late Dr. David Blaustein, then Superintendent of the Alliance. We had been chartered by the Federation of American Zionists three years previously, the first junior society in America to be so admitted. A. H. Silver was our first delegate at the tenth annual Convention in 1907. That same year, 1909, saw the formation of the Organization of the Dr. Herzl Zion Clubs, with five constituent societies,—the Senior branch composed of the first and older members who met under a "weekly chairman" system; the Junior branch, whose meetings were conducted solely in Hebrew, under the leadership of Louis Hurwich, and, later, Charles Wiesen; the Girls' branch, organized and led first by Sol. Cohen and later by Miss Anna Tekulsky, Sarah Friedman first president and Esther Friedland first secretary; a Harlem branch, organized and led first by A. H. Silver and later by Dr. Israel Efros and Louis Kraft, Sidney M. Coleman first president; Jersey City branch, organized by Sol. Cohen and directed by him for the first two years. The Organization functioned, when first formed, under the following officers: I. S. Chipkin, president; Frances Goodman, vice-president; S. J. Abrams, treasurer; Benjamin Friedman, secretary; A. H. Friedland, head of the education committee; A. J. Feldman, Zionist and Palestinian activities committee; B. Brickner, organization committee and A. H. Silver, propaganda committee. At this point it may proudly be mentioned that our older members were not only the prime movers in the organization of Young Judaea, founded that year, but those responsible for its Zionist character, against the urgings of those who meant to fashion it into a non-partisan Jewish body. Two years later, in 1911, the Club was privileged to act as host to the Young Judaea during the latter's third annual conference. In October 1909, there was issued a thirty-page quarto-size booklet in Hebrew and English, Bsoroh-Hebrew Herald, under the editorship of A. H. Friedland, A. H. Silver and S. J. Abrams. Its contributors were the members of the various clubs and its content, with the exception of a detailed account of the Organization up to that time by I. S. Chipkin, was largely belletristic.

On May 5th, 1910, Salkind's Exodus from Egypt, renamed Moshe Rabbeinu, was staged at the Peoples' Theatre, 201 Bowery. The cast was the same as at the previous year, excepting the feminine parts of Jochebed, Miriam and Bathyo, which were taken by Emma Blank, Fanny Friedland and Bertha Friedberg, respectively. It was the first time for any of our plays to be staged at a regular theatre and was indicative of the popular interest developed by our annual productions. Perlmutter and Wohl composed the music. The eminent actor, Leon Blank, was our regisseur for the first time on that occasion and has remained the dramatic mentor of our later plays. Between the acts brief addresses were delivered by Reuben Brainin and Jacob Barondess. Mr.

Blank was presented by the members of the Club with a beautiful fob, and some years later, in further appreciation of his services, his name was entered by the Club in the golden book of the Jewish National Fund.

On October 27, 1910, in celebration of the sixth anniversary, two one-act comedies,—Abraham Raisen's "Pidzhak" translated into Hebrew by A. H. Friedland, and J. H. Tavirov's "Instead of a Speech"—were produced. In the former, the cast consisted of Schwartz, Seltzer, Sol. Cohen, and M. King as the four jolly brothers, Louis Blank, Holland, and A. H. Silver as the three merchants; in the latter, A. H. Silver as a Hebrew teacher, Melicow as the thirteen years old Ahituv, Fanny Friedland as Sulamith, Feinberg, P. Feldman, Regelson and Eiserike as Ahituv's four younger friends. Mr. Ab. Goldberg delivered an address in Yiddish. On July 30, 1910, appeared vol. one, number one, of our ha-Zafir (Morning Breeze) under the editorship of A. H. Friedland. A second number appeared on Sept. 1, and the third on Nov. 20, 1910.

On April 27th, 1911, Isaac Katzenelson's three-act Biblical drama, Joseph and His Brethren (Mechirath Joseph), was produced at the People's Theatre with the following cast: Seltzer as Jacob, Chipkin as Reuben, Schwartz as Simeon, Louis Blank as Levi, A. H. Silver as Judah, Felshin as Isachar, P. Feldman as Zebulon, Feinberg as Dan, Holland as Naphtali, J. Davidow as Gad, Sonne ischein as Asher, Benjamin Friedman as Joseph when at his father's home, Obadiah Grossman as Joseph, viceroy of Egypt, Ben Saydman as Menasseh, Melicow as Ephraim and Miriam Friedman as Benjamin. Addresses were delivered between the acts by Reuben Brainin, Z. H. Masliansky and Leon Blank, who directed the play. The entire Jewish press of New York were as one in the praise of the production.

The seventh anniversary was celebrated at the Educational Alliance, on October 19, 1911, by the production of David ha-Milchomo, with S. Eiserike as David, M. King as Goliath and Obadiah Grossman as Saul. Leon Zolotkoif delivered an address between the acts.

On April 11, 1912, at the Peoples' Theatre, the Club produced Judas Maccabeus, a four-act historic drama by Isaac Epstein, with Ralph Hershon in the title role, Seltzer as Mattathias the Hasmonaean, Chipkin as Jonathan, Schwartz as Amram and as Menelaus, M. King as Alkimos, P. Feldman as Jochanan, Bertha Friedberg as Rebecca and Celia Mazo as Iphigenia. Others in the cast were M. Davidow, N. Vogel, Sonnenschein, Eiserike, Selkin, Isaac Bloom, Mehlman, Orkin and Teitelman. Leon Blank acted in the same capacity as the year before. Perlmutter and Wohl composed the music. Rev. Masliansky and Joseph Barondess delivered addresses. On October 10, 1912, the celebration of the eighth anniversary took place at Clinton Hall. A Musical program was arranged, addresses were delivered by the members and a Hebrew humorous sketch called "The Anti-Examination Society" by A. H. Friedland was staged, with A. Nathanson as Chonon, M. Kantor as Gad, and S. Eiserike as Dan. Leon Blank gave several Hebrew readings from Sholom Aleichem.

On April 15, 1914 Joseph and His Brethren was repeated at the Harlem Lenox Theatre. On June 15, 1916 the last theatrical effort of the Club was presented at the Educational Alliance. This was David ba Milchomo, with the following cast: Reuben Grossman as David, Zeev Goldberg as Shammah, Lerner as Abinabad, Griefer as Eliab, Lazar as the old man, Scooler as Saul, Levitt as Jonathan, Lippetz as first commander, Gudes as second commander, A. D. Hurwitz as Goliath and Sternberg as his armor bearer.

It should not be inferred from the extended accounts of the various plays produced that the theatrical performances constituted the sole or the main activity of our Club. Just the contrary is the truth. A play was proper enough as a chol-a-moed jollification and much fun was had by our amateur actors, but, during the remainder of the year, the boys, ever true to the aims of the founders of the Club, concerned themselves with more serious affairs. The meetings, every Saturday night, echoed with talks on Jewish questions of the day, Zionist problems, debates, and essays on topics of Jewish history and literature, which necessitated diligent preparation in reading and study during the week. Memorial meetings were held on each annual anniversary of the death of Dr. Herzl. The members busied themselves with financial welfare not only by making their own modest contributions, but also by acting as collectors of funds at synagogues and on the streets, for various Zionist institutions.

We remember with gratitude and affection those who have pleaded our cause in the Jewish press, on the public platform and those who labored with us and for us as counsellors and advisors at a time when we were looked upon with either mild disapproval or patronizingly by some and rabid opposition by others. We herewith testify our friendship to Joshua Bloch, Reuben Brainin, Gedaliah Bublick, Mordecai Danzis, Jacob Fishman, Ab Goldberg, Louis Hurwich, Ephraim Kaplan, Z. Kotler, Jacob Massel, Harry Sackler, Bernard Shelvin, and Zvee Strauss. May they long continue to hold the banner of our people aloft! And we cherish with reverence the memory of the departed Joseph Barondess, Dr. David Blaustein, A. Gonikman, Chayim Malitz, Dr. Adolph Radin, Jacob Saphirstein and G. Zelikovitch. The names of Abraham Goldfaden, Naphtali Herz Imber and Rev. Z. H. Masliansky have been inscribed by us in the golden book of the Jewish National Fund.

In the year 1914 our Organization began to disintegrate. Some of the older members had left New York to pursue their studies at universities in other cities; others left the city because of exigencies of their commercial careers. The entry of our country in the Great War in 1917 completed the break-up and the Dr. Herzl Zion Club ceased to be. There remained but I. S. Chipkin, Sol. Cohen and Jesse Schwartz to hold the fort. Largely through their efforts we met again, for Auld Lang Syne, in the summer of 1912 at Beethoven Hall; on August 12, 1916 at Clinton Hall; on June 28, 1919 at the Juliette, West 117th Street; on June 15, 1920 for a Gculah reunion at West 124th Street; on July 4, 1923 at the Madison, West 24th Street; and the last time on July 7, 1924 at Clinton Hall, the scene of our many early triumphs. We broke bread together, sang the old songs and departed to meet again.

This book is intended to be what we named it—a keepsake, a memento of the golden days of our youth,—the joys that brightened us, the ideals that inspired us. How Fate has fashioned us is made evident in the biographies which follow. Some of us have had an untimely finis written to their lives. Sidney M. Coleman, Samuel Eiserike, Herman Gross, Benjamin S. Neuhasen and Jesse Sobel are no more. Their names are in these pages lovingly recorded.

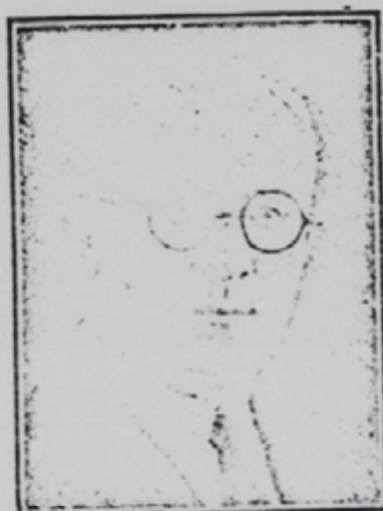

The boys of 1904 are no longer boys. They have passed the period of strength and are now well on the way to understanding. Those whom they call Juniors have ceased to be that long ago. Perchance, in the years to come, these pictures of the past, hallowed by the consecration of time, may bring back to us the days that were and the joys that have been!

המשורר אברהם רגלסון בתל־אביב; מזכיר ההסתדרות הציונית בקאנדה יהושע שווארץ; השחקן מאיר סלצר; העיתונאי אליעזר שיינמארק בשיקאגו; המנהיג הציוני, הרב אבא הלל סילוור בקליבלאנד; חוקר־היהדות, הרב מרדכי טילוור; העיתונאי האמריקני גיאורג סוקולסקי; המוציאה את הירחון לילדים "עדן", בהיסט. גראבלסקי; השחקן צבי סקולר, וכדומה להם.

מייסדי "ד"ר הרצל ציון קלוב" היו שלושה: האחים אבי הלל ומרדכי סילוור וצ'רלס שפיס, שהיו תלמידים בשיבת וואלווין בניו־יורק. מטרת האגודה היתה להסיר את הרעיון הציוני והדיבור העברי בקרב בני־הגעורים בניו־יורק. האספה הראשונה נערכה ביום 28 באוגוסט 1904, כחודש ימים אחרי פטירתו של ד"ר תיאודור הרצל, בביתו של המורה העברי מרדכי סילוור (אביהם של אבא הלל ומרדכי), שנעשה המדריך היועץ של האגודה בשנותיה הראשונות. אחר־כך נתמנה המחנך א. ל. הורוויץ (פעם בבוסטון) למנהל האגודה, ואחריו—צבי שטרויס ודניאל כרס.

זכרני האספות השבועיות ההומיות והנלהבות באחד מהימים "עדיין־שונאל אלליענס" באיסט־ברודוויי. נוסף לפעולות ציוניות ולהסברה עברית, היתה האגודה הזאת החלוצה באמריקה לבני תיאטרון עברי. בחודש מארץ 1906 הציגו את המחזה "דוד במלחמה" שכתב אברהם גולדסמאך בשבילם—ועזריאל טשיפקין מילא תפקיד מרכזי. אחר־כך הציגו "יצאת מצרים" מאת ד"ר י. מ. זאלקין, את הקומדיה "פידואק" מאת אברהם רייזין, "מכירת יוסף" מאת יצחק קצנלסון, "חברת אנטי־בחינות" מאת ת. א. פרידלאנד, וצ'רלס כמה מאנשיהשם, כגון: ראובן בריינין, אבי גולדברג, ד"ר יהושע בלוק, גדליה בובליק וצור עזריאל לאגודה בכל הדרוש.

עוד אגודה רבת־עלילה בניו־יורק, שעשתה היסטוריה, היתה אגודת הנוער הציוני והעברי "ד"ר הרצל ציון קלוב", שהסגיאה לפעול ולהשפיע ושנתקיימה במשך עשר שנים (1904—1914). האגודה המצויינה הזאת הלהיבה את נשמות חבריה וחברותיה עולי־הימים ועיצבה את דמותם הציונית לכל ימי חייהם. משאני עובר כעת על רשימתם של אלה, הייתי עומד תמה על המספר הרב של מנהיגים ציוניים, אנשי־כשרון ועסקנים חינוכיים, שיצאו מתוכה, ושתפסו ועודם תופסים מקום נכבד בחיי היהדות האמריקאית. מתוך מאה וארבעים חברים, שנשתייכו ל"ד"ר הרצל ציון קלוב" בזמן מן הזמנים, יש בדעתי רק למנות עשרים אישים דגולים כאלה, היינו: המנהיג הציוני בקליבלנד, הרב ב. ר. בריקנר; העסקן החינוכי ד"ר עזריאל טשיפקין; העסקן הציוני והתרבותי שלמה כהן בברוקלין; המחנכת המהוללת אסתר פיינשטיין (לבית פרידלאנד); נשיא הרבנים הדיפורמים, ד"ר אברהם פלדמאן בהארטפורד; הרב הידוע בניו־יורק, הרב מרדכי פלשין; המחנך והמשורר ח. א. פרידלאנד; העסקן והמדריך בקהילתו, הרב ברוך פרידמאן בסיראקיוז; המשורר ראובן אבינועם (גרוסמאן) בתל־אביב; הבלשן והמחנך פרופיסור יהושע גיומאן; המנהיג הציוני עמנואל גיומאן;

לקרן-המגן ועם זה ההודעות שהתחילו להגיע לנציגות

רבותי, אין כעת אגודה מרכזית וחיונית כ-"אחיעבר" ואין עוד אפילו הרצון להקים ארגון כזה. חסרים שלושה ארבעה צעירים אנשירים וקנאים עבריים, שיקומו ויארגנו חברה ניוירוקית יסודית ומהדקת, שתעמוד איתן על השקפת-עולמה העברית, ושתפרוש רשת של פעולות ומעשים למען שפתנו והינוכנו, ושתשמש מגדל-אור גם לחברים וגם לציבוריות הלאומית-הדתית. הבול יודעים, כי מספר יודעי עברית בניוירוק לגבי שלושים שנה מלפנים לא רק הוכפל, כי אם גם שולש ורובע. אף-על-פי-כן חסרה כעת אותה האידיאליות הישנה שלנו מימי "אחיעבר". מפני מה? מי יודע! אולי מפני שהנוער העברי, שבא הלום מלפני מלחמת-העולם הראשונה מרוסיה ומאליציה, היה מחוסן ומחוסם יותר ברוחו, מלא יותר התלהבות וחשק העשייה והחובה — כאשר הנוער העברי, שבא הנה אחר מלחמת-העולם השנית, שברובו מיציאי אירופה הנהו רצון-חוויות ורפידות, ומיעוטו מארץ-ישראל אינו רואה כלל את העבודה העברית למשאת-נפש חשובה בתפוצות הגולה. ואולי "יצירה-רע" של החיים הגשמיים והתרבותיים שבסביבה האורחית הפללית — מתגבר יותר בימינו ורוב בנינועורינו מוכרים לו את נשמתם...

אין כעת אגודה כ-"אחיעבר", ולכן תבינו מפני מה אין מקרב אלפי המבקרים בהמוני החוגים העברים אפילו מאתיים קונים קבועים לספרים עבריים חדשים. כל מבקר באספות כאלה הנהו רק אורח נטה לשבת ולהקשיב להרצאה — והריהו בבחינת "בן בליעל", היינו: בן בליעל, פטור מכל החובות וההתחייבויות. הפעם בא ואם יטרידוהו ביותר — לא יבוא הפעם הבאה ואתם לכו והפגינו עליו בלילה... ולמה אני כותב זאת? כדי שנעמוד על טיבה של המחלה — ונחפש לה תרופות. אולי ישוב וירפא להם — לעברים החדשים והפושרים שלנו...

"פנקס של הפלוגה להפצת הספרות העברית שעלייד הכתורג... אחיעבר" בניוירוק. חברי הפלוגה: דניאל פרסקי, מנהל. מ. מיסור, מ. ניימאן, ק. יפה, מ. פיינשטיין — חילים. ראשית אלון תרע"ג."

בתוך רשימת הספרים העבריים, שקיבלנו למכירה, נמנים: הירחון "מולדת", חוברות מדעיות "לעם", הקובץ "בינתים" (בעריכת ר' בנימין), קובצי התרגומים "יפת" (מיסודם של י. ח' ברנר ור' רבינוביץ), הרבעון "החינוך", קובצי "רביבים" (בעריכת י. ח' ברנר), קובץ "ירושלים" (בעריכת ר' בנימין), קונטרסי ש. מ. מקסימון "חלום אביב" ו"שליה וסתירה", "ממראות ארצנו" (ח' א. זוטא), "שמירת הבריאות", "התרבות בארץ-ישראל" ועוד ועוד. בין הקונים הקבועים בניוירוק ובעריה-שדה נמצאים השמות האלה: א. שפיינהולד, מ. מושביצקי, מ. זלדין, ישראל אפרת, אגודה "פרחי ציון" (בהדרכת ש. י. בורובסקי), י. ז. פרישברג, מ. גינזמן.
