Refreshing Frankness

There is a feeling too prevalent that newspapers are not always as devoted to the truth in discussing politics as other topics. Perhaps that accounts for a remarkable statement in the Carolina Jeffersonian this week. Announcing a change of editors, it says: "We, therefore, announce that hereafter our policy, politically, shall be independent. On all other questions we will endeavor to print the truth."

Its readers will know what to expect. Such frankness is rare.—Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer.

Statement Not Dr. Silver's.

In an account of the meeting of the Child Welfare Committee of America at the Hotel Commodore Monday night, printed in THE NEW YORK TIMES Feb. 21, Dr. Abba Hillel Silver of the Temple, Cleveland, Ohio, was quoted as saying the home was the best place to bring up a child and that "for every physically sound, mentally sane orphan or dependent child in the country, there are fifty to a hundred homes waiting to receive them," and that this had been determined in a survey conducted by a woman's magazine. These remarks were incorrectly attributed to Dr. Silver. They were made by another speaker.
