Dear Mrs. Silver

The tragic news of Rabbi Silver's death was just announced on television, and I wanted you and your family to know our thoughts are with you.

Rabbi played a very important part in the lives of my family - from the marriage of my parents through my Confirmation. I was 16 when my father passed away, and I shall never forget his personal words of wisdom and comfort during that difficult period.

Rabbi Silver was always so inspirational, which I know, greatly influenced my life as a youngster and today. Whenever he conducted the service, he made me feel I was in God's presence. I am grateful and proud to have known him.

Although my husband, Shelton only had the opportunity to have met Rabbi once, he joins me in expressing to you and your family our most sincere sympathy.

Travely

Dear Mrs. Silver and family-

Even though Rabbi Silver was a "loved and world-wide noted figure," to Mr. Haas and myself he was a "dear friend," who helped us through a period of tragedy and stress.

Our hearts are so very heavy with the thought of our fine Rabbi being taken from our midst.

Kindly except our deepest sympathy during this difficult period.

Dear Virginia -
A flash on the radio last night
telling of your beloved Abba's sudden illness and passing was a great shock, and my thoughts turned immediately to you in your sorrow, - the awful moment when all the wonderful, intimate companionship of the many years has suddenly come to an end. Side by side for this long time you have shared the greatness that was his.

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver has left his mark on this age of Judaism. His influence is not only of this day but is an active agent in Jewish history. For you and your sons this must be inspiration
and consolation -

I know your strength Virginia. You will hold up. You have been blessed with two fine sons and a treasure
of rare fine memories -

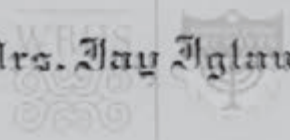

May God give you and your

Sons the strength and wisdom
to carry on in the tradition of your devoted husband.

sympathy I am

How accustomed

We shall miss him
as a person whose

We all loved

are with you, and

At a time like this there is really very little which I can add to the beautiful and eloquent words of truth uttered by so many of our leaders to describe the magnificent life and accomplishments of Rabbi Silver. His passing is a great loss to us all.

Yet at the same time I realize that for each of you there is an intensely personal loss which only you can feel and understand. Alice and I extend to each of you our heartfelt sympathy.

Dear Virginia and Family -

Ruth and I want to add our drop
to the oceans of sympathy and sorrow
that comes to you and the family.

While there cannot be any individual measurement of sorrow, we have felt exceptionally close to him who saved us in marriage  20 years ago, who
confined  our children,
who confined  our grandchildren,
and gave the word of consolation
at funerals of our loved ones.

We all know the pride you justly had in the Rabbi - shared by not only his everywhere.

Dear Mrs. Silver:-

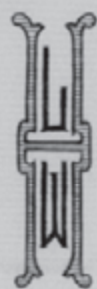

Forty three years ago Abba Hillel married us in his study at the old Temple on E. 55 and since then we and our friends and children came to Temple where we gathered knowledge and inspiration from a great man, year after year. At the Tuesday evening I would wait for his smile and greeting which would revive my spirit. Ill health prevents me from expressing my sympathy in person so I'm taking this means of saying that he was one of God's chosen and my family and I hope that his memory will be sweet and help you bear your terrible loss. God bless and keep you and your dear ones safe.

Dear Virginia:

I know the deep personal anguish which you are feeling now. All I can say at the present time is that I understand what abba's passing means to you and to the family.

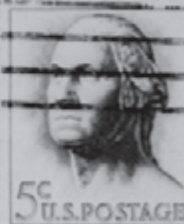

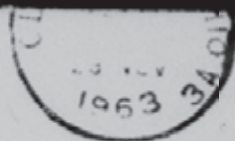

abba, who with all the Herzl Club "boys" was part of my own life from the age of 11, was there and always ^{was} our leader. He never swerved an iota from his life's purpose to restore the children of Israel to the land of Israel.

You and abba were part of our own life, with Mary who died, but esteemed him, with Grace and Ray Unger and with me.

Dear Mrs. Silver:

I can find no appropriate words to write, for I am grieving with you. The few short years I spent as secretary to Abba Hillel Silver were among the most memorable of my life. It was an inspiration and an enriching experience - never a chore, as most jobs are at times. It was always a privilege for me to be associated with him, and I shall always count myself among the fortunate whose lives touched his.

I cannot tell you how happy we are that we saw him so recently - looking well and in the pulpit. To be taken as he was, still enjoying life, contributing to it so richly, and seeing his family happily settled, surely must have been his wish. For I remember how intolerant he was of illness in himself.

While I know how you will miss him, it is you who will have the richest memories of a

Dear Mrs Silver and family,

Rabbi Silver was the warmest, most God-like man I've ever known. His brilliance, wit, and deep religious dignity combine to make a man always remembered. The shock of his passing must be softened by his indelible mark on the hearts and minds of all those privileged to know and love him. I consider myself among those so privileged.

my sympathies are with you at this sorrowful time.

Hape Abramson Capeland.

My dear Mrs Silver,

I read of your husband's passing in today's N.Y. Times. May I extend my sympathy to you and your family and add the hope that yours may be the strength to bear this loss with fortitude.

His mother & my father were sister and brother. They came to our house the day they arrived in this country and we saw them often as he was young. Later I followed his career with great interest and met him several times in New York.

All his works were good and great. May he rest in peace.

Sincerely

Markus Seamon

Dear Mrs. Silver;

A few minutes ago on television I learned of your dear husband's glorious exit from a long life of distinguished service to mankind in this and many lands.

May I congratulate you upon your association with this great man, and upon the fact that you did not have to watch him suffer a long time before taking his departure.

You will find comfort as hundreds of your friends pour out their love, prayers and sympathy in your behalf.

Sincerely, Ben P. Forbes
