Dear Mrs Silver -

It is with deep regret that I write this note of sympathy to you and your family on the passing of our beloved Rabbi Silver. We trust that some measure of comfort may be yours in knowing how we feel in this hour of bereavement.

It was my personal good fortune to have had the opportunity to talk with Rabbi Silver at some length at the Men's Club affair on Wednesday evening. This moment shall always be treasured by me.

Mimi and our entire family join with me in this expression of sorrow.

Sincerely,
Bernie Isaacs

Dear Mrs. Silver and Family,

May your heavy burden of the loss of Rabbi Silver be lessened by the knowledge and awareness of the esteemed respect he received and gave,
the peaceful joy
and quietly towering

strength he provided, as well as the multi-numerous beneficial effects

Dear Virginia -

We were all so sorry to learn about your very sad loss. Please know that our thoughts are with you. What wonderful memories of a really great man you must have. Chas and I often speak of our meeting with Abba at Dropsie College in Philadelphia when he received an honorary doctorate.

Helen Davis keeps us informed of your children and grandchildren. (We have one grandchild one year old and another "enroute"). Would love to see you when you come to New York. Will you write us and plan to spend a day here in Yardley. Please do -

Dear Mrs. Silver:

I was deeply shocked and moved when I learned of the sudden passing of our beloved Rabbi Silver. Both my husband and I had profound admiration for the revered Rabbi. I also will always remember your own friendliness and kindness. You will surely receive more adequate words of consolation from many sources, and I am certain that your greatest source of comfort will come from the presence of your sons. I do want you to know though that - from woman to woman - my deeply felt sympathy is with you.

Dear Virginia,

Words cannot express what we feel for you and your wonderful family.

We were privileged to have enjoyed his friendship as well as his outstanding leadership. I, for one, was six years old the day Rabbi Silver came to the Temple at E 55th and Central Ave, and I can see him clearly, standing and speaking to the children gathered to greet him. As if it were yesterday.

The years since have brought me and my family closer to the Temple and to all of you. That is why we find it so very difficult to say. How much we will miss him too.

Marguerite's letter has just reached me. I wish that I could be as much consolation to you as you and Rabbi Silver were to me when I needed it.

I'm sure that your philosophy is sound and deep but it doesn't help too much at this time. I can't even tell you, as the rest of the world does, that time heals. Dear Madam,

"A prince and great man has fallen this day in Israel", and all of us who have known the Rabbi and appreciate all he has done for the liberation of Israel, stand in deep affliction at the grievousness of the loss.

The only consolation I can think of, if consolation there can be, lies in the hope that the great deeds accomplished by your beloved husband, our wise leader and teacher, Rabbi Abba Hillel, of blessed memory, will prompt many more of the sons and daughters of Israel to continue his good work in the same spirit of unceasing devotion and unbounded love for Israel.

I pray and hope that this thought may bring some comfort to you and to your children in these painful hours of your bereavement.

Dear Mrs. Silver and Family:

Our entire family wish to extend their best and sincere sympathy. We wish there were some way we could bring to you a measure of comfort as your dear ones have brought to us in our times of bereavement.

How fortunate and privileged we have been to be associated, even in a small way, with our Rabbi Silver.

For more than four decades, when I entered the first grade, at the old Temple, he was my Rabbi, and thus it shall ever be.

I cannot think of Rabbi Silver in terms of the whole country or the world, that is too broad. I think of him here at home and of our Temple. Thus where I regarded him with awe, yet with reverence and love.

Of all the myriad recollections I have, greatly varied, the one that taught me the mask concerns the opening day of the religious school one beautiful fall morning.

Rabbi Silver was standing nearby greeting and welcoming the children back to The Temple.
He looked so happy, so pleased, and so delighted with each and every little child. I could not help but feel that despite his posse and honors - this - these children coming to our Temple were the most important and wonderful part of being a Rabbi and from this he derived great pleasure.

I always felt Rabbi Silver was truly happy in The Temple. He might have gone just any place in the world and been greatly revered, but here we have loved him and shall always do so.

Please accept these few words as a humble expression of my deeps gratitude in having known this great and wonderful person as my mentor and my Rabbi.

Most sincerely,

Irene J. Heiser

My dear Mrs. Silver,

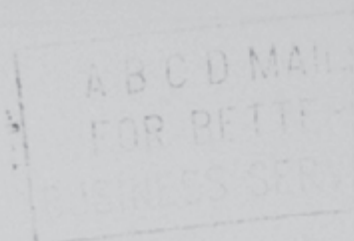

The news about the Rabbi reached the world - and us - at a time when one would have thought that all feelings of grief within one's self were completely spent due to the painful bereavement we all suffered at the passing of the President. However, we here feel a profound sorrow, more than any words can express, that Rabbi Silver, so deeply respected and revered by all, has also been taken from life.

I shall always cherish the memory of the years that I was to spend in close association with him. That period of my life left an indelible impression on me, and it was an indescribable privilege to assist him in his good works and to hear and see his memorable words as they emerged from his lips and pen, so eloquently.

We share with you the grief you are enduring now, and our hearts go out to you, to Raphael, and to Rabbi Dan. Please accept our most sincere expression of sympathy.

Fondly,

Ephraim and Ruth Sparrow

Dear Mrs. Silver,

It was a ~~very~~ ^{WRHS} ~~deep~~ ^{deep} ~~shock~~ ^{shock} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~hear~~ ^{hear} that we read of Dr. Silver's passing.
He seemed so well on the trip, and we were so thrilled to meet him. We shall always treasure his autograph, which is in our cradle book.

On Thanksgiving Eve we were in Baltimore to attend a wedding, and had told
