Dear Mrs. Silver,

With profound sorrow we heard by radio and read in the newspapers of Rabbi Silver's passing. Our sympathies to you and all his beloved ones.

He affected our lives deeply by the prominent role he played in Jewish life in the last half century. He also played a significant part in our personal lives which we recall with much feeling. I remember with such pleasure the four years that I was a member of the teaching staff at the Temple Religious School where his presence was ever felt. Even more personally, my husband and I look back upon our meaningful wedding ceremony in the intimacy of his study.

We are grieved to think that his physical presence exists no more. However, his glossing spiritual essence will live on for those of us who were privileged to know him and for Jews everywhere by the brilliant chapter he wrote in Jewish history.

Our sincerest wishes for some comfort in your bereavement and strength to sustain your loss.

Cordially.

Dear Virginia - We are shocked and grieved at the tragic news - and want to extend our deepest sympathy to you, Ruth, Dan and Michael.

In enclosing the tributes paid to him by the N. Y. papers, in case you didn't get them -

To each of us, he has left something of himself, so that we all share your grief -

To me personally, he made religion a thing of beauty - and I shall always treasure the memory of him standing on the pulpit, with the light from the stained windows almost touching him.

To me it seemed like Moses on Mt. Sinai, a tower of strength!

It always made me feel so holy and proud of my heritage as I'm sure it did to everyone there -

There's so little we can say, but wanted you to know we too, feel the loss - May the love we all had for him ease the pain you feel -
Love to you, the children and grand children

Dear Silvers:

Sometimes the words - the very ones of which our beloved Rabbi was such a master - are powerless.

Sometimes they cannot provide balm for aching wounds or ease the great pain of loss.

Sometimes all they can do is let you know others are thinking of you. And that in our own stumbling fashion we wish we could somehow by sharing to help lighten the burden of your grief.

Rabbi Trukof observed as a craftsman that the scripture was such an integral part of Rabbi Silver's sermons that it couldn't be separated.

So it is actually that Rabbi Abba himself has been inseparably interwoven into the tapestry of all our lives. From childhood on I cannot recall a single meaningful event of either joy or sorrow in which ~~his~~ counsel, help or presence was not a special family comfort, and source of inspiration and strength.

To the end of my own life I shall remember - not just the magnificent immortal accomplishments of which all society has been the benefactor - but the special warmth of that wonderful little twinkle that would come into his eyes even during a moment of the sternest reprimand.

My deepest heartfelt sympathy.

Thirty years ago Rabbi Silver placed his hand upon my head and invoked the Confirmation blessing upon me. I shall never forget that moment - it has been an eternal, hallowed memory - a gateway into my daily communion with our Maker. The Rabbi has molded literally thousands of such young, seeking souls into goodly human beings. May the Lord send you and yours health and happiness. And peace.
