RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR COMMERCIAL ACCOUNT

1. The Bank, in receiving checks and other items for deposit or for collection, acts only as the collecting agent of the depositor and assumes no responsibility beyond the exercise of due care. The Bank will not be liable for default or negligence of any correspondent nor for losses in transit, and each correspondent shall have no liability except for its own negligence. The Bank or any correspondent may send checks and other items directly or indirectly to any bank, including the payor, and accept its draft, check or credit as conditional payment in lieu of cash; it may charge back to the depositor any check or other item at any time before final payment, whether returned or not, and should any collecting agent convert the proceeds of any item so forwarded for collection, the amount thereof will be charged back to the depositor. Unpaid checks and other items may be returned by mail at depositor's risk.

2. Deposits received during regular banking hours at one office of the Bank for credit at another will be entered on the books of the Bank to the credit of the depositor not later than the close of business on the following legal banking day. Deposits received during regular banking hours at the office in which the account is carried will be entered on the books of the Bank to the credit of the depositor before the Bank opens for business on the following legal banking day. The Bank shall not incur any liability to the depositor or to any other person for failure to pay checks or other items unless drawn against the actual cash balance and collected funds credited, on the books of the bank at the opening of business on the day of presentation, to the account on which such checks or other items are drawn. Checks or other items may be paid without inquiry as to the circumstances of issue or application of proceeds.

3. Checks and all other items drawn on any office of the Bank, or drawn on any other Bank, will be cashed, accepted or credited conditionally and if not found good will be charged back to the depositor.

4. All checks or other items drawn by the depositor must bear the name of the office of the Bank at which the account of the depositor is carried.

5. In case the Bank is requested to stop payment on any item or items the depositor agrees to hold the Bank harmless from all expenses and costs incurred by the Bank on account of refusing payment of any such item. A request for stop-payment shall be effective for 90 days, but renewals may be made from time to time. No stop-payment request, renewal or revocation shall be valid unless in writing and served on the Bank.

6. Each depositor shall be subject to such service charges, including charges for activity, stop-payment orders, the return of checks because of insufficient funds, uncollected funds, or post-dating, as may now or hereafter be established by the Bank or by Clearing House, State or Federal authorities with respect to commercial accounts. Such charges may be deducted from depositor's account, and the Bank shall not be liable for dishonoring checks, or other items because of insufficient funds resulting from deduction of such charges.

7. The Bank reserves the right at any time to terminate any depositor's account or to refuse to accept deposits or credits thereto.

8. In consideration of the surrender of cancelled checks and other data by the Bank, depositors agree to verify their accounts and report forgeries, alterations or errors to Bank's auditor within 10 days from the time such cancelled checks and other data are made available to the depositor by mailing to the last address furnished by him in writing, or by such other method of delivery as may have been designated by the depositor. Failure so to do will exempt the Bank from liability to the depositor on account of any such forgery, alteration or error.

9. The above rules and regulations are subject to change, and the Bank may from time to time adopt new Rules and Regulations. Said changes and new Rules and Regulations shall be binding upon the depositor after notice thereof has been posted in the lobby of the Bank or after such notice has been mailed to the depositor to the last address furnished by him in writing or after such notice has been enclosed with the cancelled checks of the depositor and such checks made available to the depositor in accordance with Rule No. 8 hereof.
