Guide to the Exhibition

The exhibition consists of a selection of publications in the various areas of Jewish Studies written or edited by Harvard and Radcliffe alumni, i.e., men and women who have studied at and/or earned degrees from Harvard College, Radcliffe College, or the various graduate schools of the University. Included also are selected publications in Jewish Studies by Harvard faculty past and present.

This guide includes the name, Harvard degree(s) and/or years of study at Harvard, and latest academic affiliation (where known) of each author whose publication is exhibited. Titles of articles are enclosed in quotation marks; all other titles are books. An asterisk denotes deceased.

The exhibition and guide were prepared by Charles Berlin, Lee M. Friedman Bibliographer in Judaica in the Harvard College Library, with the assistance of Beverly Sadoff and Leora Zeitlin of the staff of the Library's Judaica Department.

The illustration on the cover is a reduced facsimile of the title-page of a Hebrew grammar by Judah Monis, first instructor of Hebrew at Harvard.
