Dear Danny:

Morris Kertzer and I have agreed on a series of four lectures to be presented in our respective congregations.

The overall title is "Re-discovering Judaism."

We should like you to join in the series in much the same vein as you spoke at the Union Biennial. (I was not at the session but have heard enthusiastic comments.)

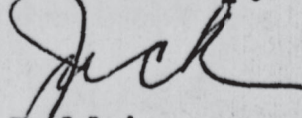

The dates which we have selected are March 15, for the Larchmont Congregation and March 16, for ours. You will be preceded the week before by Arnie Wolf and succeeded in the weeks following by Martin Rozenberg and Jack Rudin.

This will be the first joint venture of our two congregations and we are excited about the prospect.

Each temple would contribute $200.00 towards your lecture so that your fee including expenses would be $400.00. We are looking forward to a favorable reply, after which time we shall discuss specifics.

With best regards in which Morris joins, I am,

Sincerely,

Rabbi

Dear Jack:

I will be pleased to be with you on March 16 and at Larchmont Congregation the night before. You mentioned my talk in San Francisco. I spoke there on liturgy and I presume that you want this evening to be devoted to this theme? Tell me something of its format. How much time you want for the lecture and how much time you would like for discussion. I am pleased with the invitation and looking forward to being with you.

To take advantage of this letter, may I remind you of our correspondence of last June and the desire of our Journal to publish an issue in June, 1966 devoted entirely to the theme of Shabuot - Confirmation - Revelation. We corresponded then about an article by you dealing with Confirmation curricula. I hope for something more than an analysis of current practices. The questions which suggested themselves were these: What curricula do you think lead spiritually and psychologically to the Confirmation service? In what areas do the congregations fail to raise relevant issues - spiritual and temporal, with the youngsters? What is the effectiveness and limitation of the rabbi as a teacher? What do you suggest as a standard for curriculum strengthening?

I have high hopes that our June issue will make as useful a contribution as did our single theme issue of last year on Prayer. With all good wishes for a happy Chanukah, I remain, as always,

Dear Rabbi Silver,

Larchmont Temple is very happy that you will be one of the speakers in our exciting adult education program.

I would very much like to have you have dinner with us on Tuesday evening, March 15 before your lecture at our Temple. I do not know what plans you have made since you will have to be in Scarsdale on Wednesday - but I do hope that dinner here on Tuesday will be possible for you.

If you will let me know where you will be or when you expect to get to Larchmont,
we can make the necessary arrangements.

I hope to see you then.

Sincerely,
Louis P. Braun

Dear Mrs. Braun:

I should be happy to have dinner with you before the Tuesday evening meeting. I trust that your table can accommodate two of us. My wife is planning to accompany me to New York on this trip and I had planned to bring her to this meeting.

Sincerely,

WRHS

Dear Daniel:

We are looking forward to your visit next week
and are awaiting word of your travel plans.
Would you please let us know by return mail
when you expect to arrive in the New York area.
Will Mrs. Silver be with you?

No doubt you have heard from our Adult Education
Chairman, Mr. Julian Braun, about dinner plans.

With warmest regards,

Sincerely yours,

Dear Morris:

Adele and I are coming into New York late Sunday evening. We will be staying at the Westbury Hotel. I have already heard from Mrs. Braun and we have been invited to dinner.

I have a meeting of the Journal Board on Tuesday afternoon and I would like to know the best way to get to Larchmont and to dinner.

Looking forward to seeing you,

Dear Morris:

I just want to tell you what a pleasure it was being with you. You have a lovely Temple and your people were most hospitable. You were interested in the comparisons of the two groups. If you won't tell Jack - - I found greater interest in Larchmont.

I am looking forward to the completion of your book so that I can tie you down for some work for the Journal.

With all good wishes, and many thanks, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
