Cleveland, Ohio 44106

Dear Rabbi Silver,

This letter is to confirm our desire to have you speak this Sunday, March 7th. Enclosed you will find a schedule and a set of directions to the house. As you will note we have you down for two discussions; (1) The History of Zionist Thought and (2) The Middle East Crisis Viewed from an International Political Perspective. I know I didn't mention the second topic to you over the phone but I think this is an area that has to be covered and I know you're more than qualified to speak on the subject. We expect between twenty and twenty-five students.

If you have any further questions please don't hesitate to call me either at the above number or the Hillel office (231-0040). Unfortunately I have a meeting in Columbus that afternoon and won't be able to attend. However two students from our steering committee will be present to see things run smoothly.

Thank you for taking out this afternoon from what I'm sure is a very busy schedule. The students at Akron University and our steering committee appreciate it.

Yours truly,

Peter Lyman

ZIONISM, ISRAEL, AND THE MIDDLE EAST CONFLICT

This Sunday, March 7th, the Akron Jewish Student Group and NOUJS will be holding an informal workshop on Israel, Zionism, and the Middle East Conflict. The purpose of the afternoon is to give Jewish students a historical background on the conflict. We are honored to have as our main speaker Rabbi Daniel Silver, noted scholar and author, who will lecture on the history of Zionist thought and also present an analysis of the Middle East Conflict from an international political perspective. Also included in the program will be the viewing of an Arab propaganda film followed by discussion. Cost of the afternoon will be $2 which includes a kosher lunch.

Schedule

11-12:30 Propaganda Movie and discussion

12:30-1:15 Lunch

1:15-1:30 Cleanup

1:30-3:00 The History of Zionist Thought with Rabbi Silver
