Dear Rabbi Dan:

I was so glad that we had a chance to talk on the phone the other day. The installation that we were talking about has been tentatively set for November 9. Of course, this depends upon your approval.

My guess is that you are going to preach that morning in Cleveland, and would want to fly out of Cleveland Sunday afternoon. The best situation for us is if you could arrive at J.F.Kennedy airport. There is a Trans World Airways flight #800 leaving Cleveland at 3:25 p.m. and arriving at J.F.K. at 5:00 p.m.

Please feel free to make whatever travel plans that make sense to you, and certainly we would be more than delighted to have Adele come for the installation. Moreover, whatever expenses are incurred in bringing both of you to the holy city of Lynbrook would be our honor and our pleasure.

I won't go on in a maudlin mood telling you how much I miss you, but after the Republican convention there was certainly a dearth of interesting conversation in this corner of the world.

If you're coming to New York soon, and you have some time, I would love to come into the city and have lunch with you. We do miss you.

I was sorry to hear that your mother's condition is declining. You know our best wishes and our prayers are for her. Won't you please give her our best wishes and, of course, warm regards from our house to yours.

Dear Stuart:

Thank you for your letter of July 23. I got it on Sunday evening, November 3. I gather that you were in a hurry. How long, etc.? I promise it won't be a long letter, but you might indicate to me those areas where you feel your congregation needs a little bit of help up.

We plan to be in New York on the 18th and 19th of August. I have a wedding in Boston and we are coming down to see the Picasso show. If you are free for breakfast on the 18th, we would love to catch up with you.

Paul Joseph comes in tomorrow and I have a terrible feeling the summer is well over. Keep well.

All our love,

Daniel Jeremy Silver

Dear Stuart:

Thank you for your letter of July 24. Let's settle on Sunday evening, November 9. I gather that you want a speech. How long, etc.? I promise it won't be a premature eulogy, but you might indicate to me those areas in which you feel your congregation needs a little bit of shaping up.

Reception following the service

Dear Stuart,

I enjoyed myself thoroughly. It was good to see how quickly you had established yourself in the lives of so many people. There was a palpable warmth to the evening and it was a pleasure to be part of it and to know that you have done so well for yourself.

I thought your Temple was far more graceful as a building than you had led me to believe. The sanctuary has a nice feeling to it; and though I didn't see the school building, you are well-equipped and well-officed.

I look forward to time with you apart from the noise and the hubbub, but when we talk I'll know that you have made a successful step into maturity.

I had a warm room at LaGuardia and an easy flight back to Cleveland, one which was particularly delightful since it was unexpectedly shared with my niece. The next time we meet in the Big Apple, we'll have a lot to talk about.

Our expenses to New York were $400.

Everyone here sends their congratulations. I had spoken of your installation Sunday morning from the pulpit and so the news was well broadcast.

As always,

Daniel Jeremy Silver

Dear May,

I want to thank you and through you the many members of Temple Emanu-El who made our visit such a pleasant one. It was a lovely service and it made me feel very warm and very much a part of the family.

If there was one refrain to the evening as I stood in line it was, 'your loss is our gain', and I could only acknowledge the truth of the comment. Take good care of Stuart, he is a very special person. Many thanks.

Sincerely,

Daniel Jeremy Silver

Dear Rabbi Silver:

On behalf of our congregation, I want to thank you for your most impressive presentation in honor of Stuart Geller's installation. It was my personal pleasure to have had the opportunity to meet you and your charming wife.

I completely agree that Stuart is a very special person, and we will do our best to create an atmosphere in which he can continue to grow, and find a measure of satisfaction. He and Ellyn are warm, lovely people, and we want them to be happy.

I hope you will be able to visit with us soon again. I look forward to it.

Sincerely,

May Mass
